A schooner bound from Port Johnson for Eastport, with coal, was run into in the lower harbor about midnight Monday night, and had her jibboom carried away. She was towed up the river Tuesday forenoon, and berthed at Haven's wharf.

The schooner Lucy Amelia, which brought a load of potatoes here from eastern Maine, is still lying at Spring market wharf, loading apples to take east.

It is reported that Capt. Frank P. Coleman, of the schooner Emily C. Dennison, and for whom that vessel was built, is to have a new schooner constructed for him this winter, with a capacity of 160,000 bricks.

AN ODD CIRCUMSTANCE.

A correspondent of the Lawrence American, writing from Andover, Mass., pays a high compliment to Mr. Carter, for twenty years past landlord of the Mansion house "on the hill" in that town, on the occasion of his retirement, and adds: "But if he must leave, it is a great pleasure that we are to have the genial and manly office-clerk, Mr. W. C. Walker, as our host and caterer. He will do his utmost to make his guests comfortable and happy, to meet all reasonable claims upon his time and attention, and to serve visitors to their entire satisfaction. There need be no uneasiness as to the future reputation of this famous resort—the Mansion house—as in the past, so in the time to come, it will strive to merit the patronage of visitors, and furnish a quiet, pleasant, and attractive home for all who would avail themselves of its ample accommodations." The new landlord is our former valued correspondent "Nat," of Rye; he is an experienced hotel man, as well as a gentleman, and will fill the bill.

The foregoing was put in type Tuesday forenoon, and several hours later the following was received from Lawrence: "Another old landmark of the town of Andover is gone. At 2:45 this morning fire was discovered issuing from both roof and cellar of the Mansion house. An alarm was rung and the Andover department promptly responded, but found it impossible to save any portion of the property, which was burned to the ground. The house was built over 100 years ago, and has been a tavern and hotel since. It was owned by the trustees of Phillips academy, and situated in the square in the centre of the town. It is the second large fire in the property of the academy within a few months, and was undoubtedly incendiary. Loss $20,000; partially insured." We regret that our friend Walker should so soon be turned out of a place he would have filled so well; and what we said of him holds good, even if the hotel has gone.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Nov. 29th; Bufford J.

George W. T. Brown was up on a complaint charging him with drunkenness. There was no doubt of his having been drunk, and having rolled in the mud; but he was let off on probation, on condition of ridding the city of his presence. About two hours after he was released, his mother made complaint at the police station that he had come home roaring drunk, and behaved very badly. He will go up this time, as he has before.

In the annual report of the superintendent of the life-saving service, new stations are recommended to be established at Wallis sands, Rye, and Plum Island, Mass. The new stations at North Scituate, Mass., and Cape Elizabeth, Me., are completed, and the one at Jerry's point is approaching completion.

There were eleven tramps in the police station Monday night, but they were all "fired out" witout trial Tuesday morning.

The weather for the past few weeks has been very mild, and consequently on woolen goods there has been a slow sale; but now the time has come for everybody to visit Foye's and make themselves comfortable for the winter by purchasing from his stock. Advertisement in another column.

Richard Fitzgerald, whose death on Sunday night has been reported, was a member of Storer Post, G. A. R., and his funeral on Tuesday afternoon was attended by that organization; interment was at the Catholic cemetery.

Those who want seats at Lotta's entertainment in Music hall on Thursday evening, should secure tickets at Goodrich's immediately. The sale commenced Tuesday morning, and before noon the plan was marked up to a very great degree.

ELIOT ITEMS.

ELIOT, ME., Nov. 29th.

The weather for Thanksgiving was quite favorable, and here, as over the entire state—over New England—over a large part of the country, in fact—it was a day of reunions and quiet joys to many families; yet on the other hand many family gatherings were saddened by the absence of members who, present in health and strength and joyousness at the meetings a year ago, have since gone from the places which once knew them, not to return. Even in the festive scenes of Thanksgiving there is a lesson for all to be prepared for the time when life's work shall cease.

Melville Staples, son of William A. Staples, is suffering severely from a wound caused by a dirk-knife on the night of Thanksgiving day. He accidentally fell, and the dirk, being open, wounded him in the bowels, inflicting a painful, and serious injury, which may have the gravest result.

The Eliot Band of Kindness give a supper on Monday evening, the 28th, in Brooks hall, with good success, a large number of persons attending; the affair was such a pleasant one that it is hoped they will give another in the not far distant future.

Dr. J. L. M. Willis, wife and daughter, passed Thanksgiving in Massachusetts; also Dr. C. H. Guptill and daughter, Mrs. Leander Brooks, who spent the day in Charlestown with the doctor's son, Dr. L. H. Guptill.

Master Willie Fernald returned home on Thursday, the 24th, from Lewiston, where he has been attending school.

Mrs. Edgar S. Nowell, of York, has been passing a few days with her brother, J. W. Nowell, who is slowly recovering from a spell of sickness, which, though not very long as yet, is probably long enough to satisfy him.

Mr. E. H. Dixon is visiting friends in Boston for a week.

The Advent society have started a sewing circle for the purpose of procuring an organ for the new chapel which has recently been built; we wish them much success in their undertaking.

There is to be a Sunday school concert in the Methodist church at South Eliot on Sunday next, Dec. 4th.

George E. Ireland is adding a great improvement to his house by having a piazza constructed at the southern end.

The store of J. W. Nowell at South Eliot, in which is also kept the post-office, was broken into on Monday night, the 28th. Entrance was effected by boring through the back door with a bit. The thief (or thieves) did not get any money, though they stove things up quite badly. They broke open the money drawer and got some coppers—about two dollars—but left them behind. They got nothing in the post-office. HARRY.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., Nov. 29th.

We have received an anonymous communication requesting notice of a concert by the Fisk Jubilee singers, and a supper; tickets fifty cents, children under twelve years half-price. This is all right, but the sender of the note forgot to enclose any admission tickets, although the announcement asked for was distinctly an advertisement; without having the least intention of attending the concert, still a recognition of the fact that a favor was asked might be pleasant,—and would be proper in all cases.

Rev. H. S. Ives, late pastor of the First Christian society at Kittery Point, left town to-day for Milton Mills, N. H., where he is to assume charge of the Congregational church of that place.

Our roads are now in a splendid condition, and it is a pleasure to ride over them.

Mr. T. Jackson Pettigrew, of Washington, D. C., who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Thomas Pettigrew, at North Kittery, the past week, started on his return to Washington last Sunday afternoon; his mother, who is a lady of advanced age and has been very ill of late, is now thought to be much better.

Miss M. Maude Walker, the valedictorian of the Free High school class of '87, has entered the State Normal school at Gorham.

Quite a number of the parishioners of Rev. Otis Holmes gave a tea party at his home on Tuesday evening of last week, and passed a few hours very pleasantly and agreeably.

It is said that one of the out-of-town daughters of Kittery Point came home to pass Thanksgiving, arriving the afternoon before the holiday, but when she reached the Point she thought she had not had her money's worth out of the new railroad, so she kept right on and went to York beach, where she passed the night, arriving at home next morning in time for the Thanksgiving turkey. SUB ROSA.

The first New England supper given by the Ladies' Aid society of York was held on Tuesday evening, Nov. 29th, at the Sea Cottage, York beach.

Mr. Daniel Cook of Kittery, who is eighty-two years old, is quite ill, and confined to the house. Mrs. Cook, who is about ten years his senior, is still quite smart, and able to attend to her housework.

"The Humorous Speaker," by George M. Baker; a series of popular recitations and readings, in Yankee, English, Irish, Scotch, Negro and "mixed" dialects. Lee & Shepard, Boston, publishers; for sale by M. Goodrich; boards, price $1.00.

These selections are taken from "the Reading Club and Handy Speaker," edited by Mr. Baker, of which No. 18 has just been issued; and are published in this form to aid specialty readers in selecting pieces in their favorite dialects without having to search through miscellaneous collections, in this book each "dialect" having a section to itself. There are a few pathetic pieces in the volume, but not enough to make the title a misnomer.

History of the Finger Ring.

Of all the ornaments with which vanity, superstition and affection have decorated the human form, few have more curious bits of history than the finger ring. From, the earliest times the ring has been a favorite ornament, and the reasons for this general preference shown for it over other articles of jewelry are numerous and cogent. Ornaments whose place is on some portion of the apparel, or in the hair, must be laid aside with the clothing or head dress; are thus easily lost and often not at once missed. Pins, brooches, buckles, clasps, buttons, all sooner or later become defective in some part, and are liable to escape from an owner unconscious of the defect in the mechanism. The links of a necklace in time become worn, and the article is taken off to be mended; the spring or other fastening of a bracelet is easily broken, and the bracelet vanishes. With regard to ornaments fastened to parts of the savage body, mutilation is necessary, the ear must be bored, the nose be pierced, the cheeks or lips be slit, and, even after these surgical operations are completed, the articles used for adornment are generally inconvenient, and sometimes, by their weight or construction, are extremely painful.

In striking contrast with decorations worn on the clothing, in the hair, round the neck and arms, or pendant from the ears, lips and nose, is the finger ring, the model of convenience. It is seldom lost, for it need not be taken off; requires no preparatory mutilation of the body, is not painful, is always in view, a perpetual reminder, either of the giver, or of the purpose for which it is worn. The popularity of the ring must, therefore, be in large measure due to its convenience, and that this good quality was early learned may be inferred from the Hebrew tradition, which attributes the invention of this ornament to Tubal-Cain, the "instructor of every artifice in brass and iron."—D. R. McAnally in Popular Science Monthly.

Oil on the Ocean's Waves.

In Ciel et Terre is an article in which are detailed the conclusions of Admiral Cloue based upon the British and American official experiments, and others non-official. Admiral Cloue has no hesitation in affirming that the problem appears to him to be practically solved. The quantity required to protect a ship during a storm varies from about two to three quarts per hour, dropped from perforated bags hanging over the sides of the ship in positions varying with the direction of the wind.

The rapidity and extent of the outspreading of the oil are marvelous. The film, by its own outspreading, reduces itself to a thickness of only one-ninety-thousandth of a millimeter—i. e., less than two-and-a-half-millionth part of an inch. This inconceivably thin film reduces the broken crested waves and dangerous "rollers" to unbroken undulations that are practically harmless, as as they merely lift and roll the vessel without breaking over it. The oils which have been found the most effective are seal, porpoise and fish oils. The latter are very cheap, their chief present use being for the dressing of leather. Mineral oils are reported as too light. It is evident from this that the gentlemen engaged in these experiments have only tried those which are in common use for burning in lamps. There is another series of oils distilled from the same crude material, i. e. from natural petroleum and from shale oils, which are much heavier, are used for lubricating purposes, may be had of any density from that of the common lamp oil to a crude dead oil that sinks in water.—W. Mattieu Williams in The Gentleman's Magazine.

xtent of Experimental Surgery.

I was walking the other day with a young physician, who, after graduating, spent a couple of years attached to the staff of a big city hospital. This is quite a common practice with our developing doctors, the posts furnishing them with ample opportunity for experience, and affording them a living though they gain no money by them. My acquaintance in this instance remarked:

"It would make your eyes open to witness the extent to which experimental surgery and medicine are carried in hospitals. Since I have been practicing for myself I have often wondered what luck a physician would have who risked such chances as we used to take at the Saw-Your-Leg-Off hospital. The cases are safe enough when they get into the hands of the older physicians, but the youngsters rarely halt at any experiment, however alarming it may be, if they conceive it to be possible of accomplishment. That they do not more damage is to be ascribed rather to their patients' luck than their own credit. I don't mean to say that they are cruelly reckless. They simply look on the hard work of the hospital as an excuse for accumulating knowledge and gaining skill, and they work it out on this basis, with only a second thought for the patients themselves."

Considering how often charges of needless mutilation and surgical violence have been brought against the hospitals and denied, this testimony from one who has been there ought to be of interest.—Alfred Trumble in New York News.

Fruit of the Sand Box Tree.

The woody, melon shaped fruit of the sand box tree of the West Indies is made into a neat box by sawing off the top and scooping out the seeds, and is used in Barbadoes for holding sand. When, however, the fruit is allowed to ripen on the tree, it bursts explosively, scattering the seeds over the ground. An experimenting naturalist recently sought to preserve a specimen of the fruit by drying carefully, but it exploded with such violence as to destroy the box containing it.—Boston Budget.

SKIN SCALP BLOOD

Having been a sufferer for two years and a half from a disease caused by a bruise on the leg, and having been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES when all other methods and remedies failed, I deem it my duty to recommend them. I visited Hot Springs to no avail, and tried several doctors without success, and at last our principal druggist, Mr. John P. Finley (to whom I shall ever feel grateful), spoke to me about CUTICURA, and I consented to give them a trial with the result that I am perfectly cured. There is now no sore about me. I think I can show the largest surface where my sufferings sprang from of any one in the State. The CUTICURA REMEDIES are the best blood and skin cures manufactured. I refer to Druggist John P. Finley and Dr. D. C. Montgomery, both of this place, and to Dr. Smith, of Lake Lee, Miss.

ALEXANDER BEACH, Greenville, Miss.

Mr. Beach used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, at our request, with results as above stated.

SAVED MY MOTHER'S LIFE.

Ever since I can remember, my mother has suffered from a milk leg. Nothing would do her any good. She had the best medical talent, but they all did her no good. She suffered with her leg for thirty years and never knew a well day. She would have to sit up half the night, holding up her leg and moaning. She had no peace. She used all the best-known remedies in the country without effect. I asked her to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES. Got her a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and she took it, and has taken in all about six or seven bottles, and now she is a well woman to-day. Her leg is entirely healed, and her health was never better. She can go out every day, something she has not done in ten years, so you see I cannot help stating to you about your wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES. You have saved my mother's life. I cannot find words to express my gratitude. I have advertised your CUTICURA REMEDIES far and near.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually fastening itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative power of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Cure begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet were found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters, which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism.—Exchange.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

"Dan," exclaimed the president, "Clifford of Portland, to whom we have just given a post-office appointment, says that the democrats of Maine were never more hopeful than at present. What does that mean? Is there anything the matter with Blaine in that state?" "Your excellency," returned the cautious Daniel, "the gentleman referred to a hopefulness in regard to the offices since we have recovered from our mugwump infection." "Ah," remarked the executive, "I see it now."

Thanks For So Much.

The coal agents of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and the officials of the Reading Coal & Iron company held meetings in Philadelphia, Nov. 29th, and decided that no advances should be made in the price of coal for the month of December.

Dastardly Crimes.

On Monday evening, at Haverhill, Mass., a young woman named Meehan was called to the door of her boarding house, and vitriol dashed in her face by some unknown miscreant, destroying the sight of one eye and possibly of both, and disfiguring her features terribly. No motive for the cowardly crime is known.

At Turner's Falls, Mass., on the evening of Nov. 29th, while David M. Randall, an elderly and respected citizen, was sitting in a room of his house conversing with his wife's mother and sister, a gun was fired through a window about three feet behind him, and the back of his head blown to pieces. He died without a word or a groan, and retained his sitting posture. His son, seventeen years old, was arrested on the 30th on suspicion of having committed the crime.

Might Have Ended Worse.

A Raymond excursion train of vestibuled cars containing passengers homeward bound from Los Angeles, Cal., left Fitchburg early in the morning on Nov. 30th for Boston, and after running two miles struck the rear end of a freight train which was going on a siding. The caboose car was smashed to fragments, then a car loaded with cotton, and then one loaded with kerosene; the passenger engine was wrecked. The kerosene took fired, and burned the wrecked cars and the baggage car of the passenger train, but all the baggage was saved. A drover in the caboose was badly injured, as was the fireman of the passenger train, but both will recover; none of the excursionists were hurt, and the train was so little damaged that it went on to Boston with another engine.

Mr. Nath'l J. Bradlee of Boston was one of the candidates mentioned as likely to be a good man to run against Mayor O'Brien of Boston. Mr. Bradlee voted for Mr. Cleveland, and is an independent. The citizens' convention, however, excused him from serving as a candidate. Boston is a democratic city, and the idea of running an independent against the regular democratic nominee is certainly very fresh. The O'Briens have a strong hold upon Boston, and it is not likely the grip will be loosed in the coming election. It is far easier to put the democracy in power by aid of the Boston independents than it will be to wrest that power by means of the same assistance.

The Biddeford papers say that of late there has been considerable talk among the business men of Sanford regarding the construction of a branch line of railroad to connect Sanford with the Portland & Rochester railroad at Springvale. The cost of constructing this branch would be very small, compared with what the building of the oft-proposed Kennebunk valley road would entail. It is well known that there is more freight received at the Springvale depot for Sanford than is received at any other station between the terminal points of the Portland & Rochester railroad, unless it be Saccarappa. From 10,000 to 15,000 tons of coal alone are freighted over that road for Sanford parties annually, which have to be trucked from Springvale to Sanford. The proposed route has twice been surveyed.

In discussions within a few years past, in legislative contests over proposals to limit and regulate the lobster fishery along the coasts of the New England states, so as to prevent the rapidly-diminishing supply of food from that source being entirely cut off, the opponents of such restrictions have asserted that they were needless, the bottom of the provincial waters, from the bay of Fundy to the gulf of St. Lawrence, being literally paved with lobsters. But the provincial catch has been diminishing as rapidly as that of Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Maine, and the Dominion government appointed a commission to enquire into the matter, along the coasts of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward island. This commission has reported, favoring the absolute shutting down of the lobster-canning business for three years, as the only means of saving the lobster from practical extinction as an article of commerce and food.

The Norfolk (Va.) Virginian, referring to the navy yard there, says: "A damper will be thrown over the men employed in the steam engineering department when it is learned that there is an act of Congress which requires that all engines and boilers for new ships must be built under contract, unless the estimates in government yards are less than that of the contractors. An estimate has been made for the work at this yard, and it is hoped that it will be below that of private contractors. The amount to be expenped on the engine and boilers will amount to near $250,000, and if this is taken out of our midst it will be greatly missed. It was the intention of the commandant to begin work immediately on the engine and boilers, which would have taken nearly eighteen months to build, but under the act nothing can be done for the present. We can only hope for the best."

The republican convention of Boston on the evening of Nov. 29th nominated Thomas N. Hart for mayor.

John C. Gerton, gate tender at a railroad crossing in Randolph, Mass., was found dead in his room in the depot, Nov. 29th. A revolver lay by his side on the bed.

A girl three years old, child of French parents, was left alone for two hours, locked in the house with a younger brother, in Lowell. The mother returned to find the girl dead on the floor, burned to death.

The First Symptoms

Of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be worn with Pneumonia or "galloping consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

PERSONAL.

Harvey Jenness, Esq., and Mr. C. Perkins Wendell, left Rye on the 29th ult. for Florida and Texas.

Rev. A. J. Patterson, D. D., formerly of this city, now pastor of the Roxbury (Mass.) Universalist church, has been granted a vacation of six months by his parish.

MASONIC ELECTION.

At the annual communication of St. Andrew's lodge, held on Wednesday evening, Nov. 30th, the following officers were elected:

Walter H. Page, W. M.;
Richard I. Walden, S. W.;
John H. Rose, J. W.;
Wingate N. Ilsley, treasurer;
Samuel M. Joy, secretary;
John Tanton, representative to Grand Lodge;
John Christie, John Pender, standing committee.

LOTTA AT MUSIC HALL.

Music hall will be occupied this evening by one of the largest audiences of the season, if the much marked up condition of the plan at Goodrich's is anything to judge by. And it will be a highly pleased audience, too, for Lotta is unequalled in her especial line, and has a strong company.

THE EASTERN DECLARES A DIVIDEND.

On Tuesday, Nov. 29th, common stock of the Eastern railroad was quoted in Boston at 120 asked. That was a red-letter day in the history of the Eastern railroad. Eastern is again a dividend-payer for the first time in fifteen years. The directors met on that day, and declared a dividend of 4 1-2 per cent, payable Dec. 15th to stockholders of record of Dec. 3d.

In July, 1873, the Eastern paid its last dividend ($3 per share.) In 1872 none was paid; but previous to 1872 it ranked as an eight per cent stock for a number of years. In July, 1873, Eastern sold as high as 109; in April, 1877, it sold at 2 1-2; March 17th, 1887, it sold at 142 1-2; Nov. 30th, 1887, it sold at 120.

For the year which will end Sept. 30th, 1888, the Eastern is expected to earn seven per cent on the common stock, by the operation of the sinking fund, which adds to the amount applicable to the common stock, as does also the funding of the debt at a lower rate of interest, as it matures. The estimated reduction on interest and all other expenses for 1888 over those of the year ended Sept. 30th, 1887, is $52,838.

NEW STORM SIGNALS.

Gen. A. W. Greely, chief signal officer of the United States army, has recently made a change in the warning signals displayed at seaports for the benefit of navigation, the new signals being as follows:

A square flag, red with a black centre, is not merely "cautionary," but indicates that a storm of dangerous violence is expected.

A square flag, yellow with a white centre, is "cautionary;" that is, while strong winds may be expected, they will probably not be strong enough to endanger well found and seaworthy vessels.

Red and white pennants, hoisted in conjunction with the flags, indicate the direction the wind is expected to blow from. A red pennant above the square flag signifies a northeasterly wind; below the flag, southeasterly. A white pennant above the flag, northwesterly; below the flag, southwesterly.

By night a red light indicates strong easterly winds; a white light above a red one, strong westerly winds.

These signals are much simpler and easier to remember than those superceded by them.

The great society drama by Henry Guy Carlton, Esq., "Victor Durand," will be presented in Music hall on Saturday evening by James F. Crossen's company, which has the exclusive right to its production, with the magnificent costumes, gorgeous properties and original music which aided in giving it its great success at Wallack's theatre. The sale of tickets will commence to-day at Goodrich's bookstore.

Ice formed to the thickness of an inch and a half on shallow pools of fresh water, on Tuesday night of this week. The miliponds were skimmed over on Wednesday morning, and on Wednesday night Jack Frost figured the window panes in a style not previously attempted by him in this section since last spring.

A large number of people went from this city to Rye on Wednesday evening, the 30th ult., to attend an entertainment given by local talent in the town hall.

The reading of "Othello" by Mr. Hannibal Williams this evening, in the Congregational chapel on Middle street, will be one of the finest entertainments that will be given in this city this winter, and all who propose attending should call at Montgomery's music store and secure reserved seats. The reading will commence at eight o'clock.

The letter carriers bent their winter uniform caps on Wednesday, Nov. 30th, the weather that day being regarded as a sufficiently-good imitation of the genuine winter article to warrant its being so considered, officially.

The Granite State Fire Ins. Co. of this city had a $1300 risk on Barnum's menagerie, burned at Bridgeport, Conn., the other day.

The widening of the bridges at Newburyport on the eastern division of the Boston & Maine railroad, and at Rowley, would seem to indicate that ere long a double track would be put down between Ipswich and Greenlond.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern Railroad Co. will be held Wednesday, Dec. 14th, at Boston. The stockholders of the Boston & Maine road meet the same day at Lawrence.

The taking of testimony in the case of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad, pending in the United States court, has been postponed until Friday.

The schooner Mary Willey, Capt. Williams, with lumber to John H. Broughton, and the schooner Loella, Capt. Amee, with lumber to T. E. Call & Son, both from Bangor, arrived at this port on Wednesday.

The four-masted schooner Eva B. Douglass, Letts master, from Baltimore with a cargo of coal, arrived in the lower harbor on Wednesday.

The schooner Hattie Lewis, Capt. Lowe, has made her last trip between this port and Boston for this season, and has hauled through the draw of the Noble's island bridge to lie up inside during the winter.

The following revenue marine vessels have been designated to perform special winter cruising: The Woodbury, now stationed at Eastport; the Dallas, at Portland; the Gallatin, at Boston; the Dexter, at Newport, R. I.; the Grant, at New York; the Hamilton, at Philadelphia; the Ewing, at Baltimore; the Colfax, at Wilmington, N. C.

Sullivan, Boston's pet bruiser, and Charley Mitchell, of England, have been matched to fight to a finish with bare knuckles for $2500 a side, in England. It would be a calamity should each kill the other.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

For the cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of consumptive persons in advanced stages of the Disease. For Sale by all Druggists. Twenty-five cents.

A GREAT TREAT.

Burton & Burke's Consolidated Minstrels at Franklin theatre to-morrow night, Friday, Dec. 2d. This company is a good one, composed of first-class artists, a brass band and orchestra, and Prof. J. H. Burton's $10,000 dog circus; this act is well worth the price of admission. There will be a grand street parade to-morrow about noon, with the brass band and the twenty acting dogs, and the zouave boys—a great treat. Admission twenty-five cents; reserved seats thirty-five and fifty. Watch for the grand parade.

The debris has been cleared from the side track of the Eastern railroad at North Hampton, and new ties have been put in where the old ones were burned out at the time of the fire on Monday morning, Nov. 28th. The trucks of the two burned cars have also been removed. It was reported on Wednesday, the 30th, that a large quantity of grain was still burning in the cellar of the store, and would probably continue to burn for many days. Mr. Jonathan Rollins, the keeper of the store and postmaster of the town, is to resume business at once, and the town has granted him the use of the town hall until his store can be rebuilt.

The Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York paid during the week ending Nov. 25th, death claims amounting to $127,643.22, and endowments amounting to $21,084.17.

A large elm tree in the garden of Mr. M. H. Wentworth on Pleasant street was taken down on Wednesday.

MARRIED.

THE outline illustrations of the Ivory Soap advertisements have created so much favorable comment, and the requests for copies been so numerous, we have, to meet the demand, bound in the form of a Drawing and Painting Book (size 6 x 9 inches) twenty-four of the most spirited and pleasing of the advertisements. We will send one of these books with a pad of twenty-four sheets of drawing paper, post-paid, to any one who will mail us fifteen Ivory Soap wrappers. Put only your name and address on package and then write us on a postal card, stating what you want.

PROCTER & GAMBLE, Cincinnati, Ohio.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS.

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with the best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin's Piano Stringer was introduced by them in 1882, and has been pronounced by experts the "greatest improvement in pianos in half a century."

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.

OLIVER DITSON & CO., BOSTON.

Rear Admiral James A. Greer, commanding the European station, reports to the navy department from Constantinople, Nov. 8th, that on Nov. 6th he shifted his flag to the Quinnebaug for the purpose of visiting Constantinople. He arrived there on the morning of Nov. 8th, and in the afternoon received a naval aide-de-camp of the sultan. Admiral Greer, together with his staff, paid a visit to the United States minister, the minister of marine and port admiral. He expected to return with the Quinnebaug to Smyrna about Nov. 16th, when he would again hoist his flag on board the Pensacola.

Capt. James Fyffe is detached from duty as captain of the Boston navy yard, and placed on waiting orders. Capt. E. O. Matthews is ordered as captain of the yard.

Students of Co-Educational Schools.

"Hotbeds of flirtation," expresses a very usual opinion of co-educational schools. As a matter of fact it is curious to note the wide differences in the relation of the sexes that exist in different institutions. There may be or may not be schools where the students flirt; there certainly are schools where it is not at all unusual for them to fall in love, contract engagements and in due time get married. I have in mind instances where as many as 40 per cent. of a certain class paired off to make life's journey together after passing the preliminary barriers of differential and integral calculus in company, and I am bound to add that these marriages, so far as I have been informed of them, have turned out most excellently well. The mingled rivalry and good fellowship of the class room seem to give good opportunity for that full and fair acquaintance which ought to precede matrimony, better opportunities, probably, than are offered by the more guarded intercourse which society sanctions. Young men and young women students become good comrades, and they stay good comrades, understanding one another thoroughly, after they have settled down to life's business together.

Such cases as these are not, however, typical. A great majority of the co-educational colleges are more after the pattern of Boston university where, as one might expect, perhaps, from the non-marrying reputation of the Hub, no attachment, no especially intimate intercourse, not the faintest suspicion of a flirtation between students and opposite sexes has been known since the foundation of the school. The after fortune of every student is accurately known through the full records kept by the graduating classes, and a year or two ago, when I last gave my attention to the matter, the only marriage that had within the annals of the colleges taken place between ex-students, was that of a daughter of the late Bishop Gilbert Haven, whose acquaintance with the man who became her husband was formed after her successful graduation. —"E. P. H." in Kansas City Journal.

The Air of Colorado.

All the resorts in Colorado known to me where one can obtain the comforts of life essential to improvement are at an altitude of several thousand feet, and this fact or some other unexplained cause seems to create a necessity requiring those who improve or recover there to continue their residence in order to maintain their improvement. I cannot claim that this theory has been proven, but it is sufficiently believed to demand consideration. So many invalids have been sent to Colorado only to die, being beyond the possibility of recovery anywhere, that I think additional knowledge from careful observation of results is essential to the formation of a satisfactory opinion in regard to the effects upon those seriously diseased.

For those slightly diseased, or with a delicacy arising from hereditary tendency, Colorado seemingly ought to be one of the best resorts. It has one marked advantage in having its mountain resorts and high altitudes for summer within a few hours from Denver. The air of Colorado is exceptionally fine and bracing both in summer and winter, and very comfortable places to reside may be found for both seasons. For such as have seated throat or lung disease life may be prolonged and made more comfortable, if the case be not already too serious for such a result to be attained anywhere; but beyond that Colorado does not, so far as I can learn, offer any reasonable hope.—William Smith Brown in Harper's Magazine.

An Invention for Windmills.

Windmills are a very ancient invention, but are not of much practical value in a country where fuel is cheap, from the extreme irregularity of the wind upon which they depend. It is hoped that a remedy for this defect has been found by the Duc De Feltre in the transformation of the surplus energy of windy weather by causing it to drive a dynamo, thus converting it into electricity, with which he charges batteries of storage cells. These in turn can be utilized to drive the machinery in time of calm. Any such plan is, of course, attended by a very large waste of power, but when the original quantity is so enormous as it is in a gale of wind, waste is a matter of very little moment. Before the world is many generations older more attention will have to be given to the question of yoking the great forces of nature to our machinery and utilizing the enormous energy of the winds, waves and tides, not to mention water power and the direct radiation from the sun. Our store of coal will doubtless last for many a long day to come, but we ought not to forget that we are a race of spendthrifts, living on our capital, and that we must not miss any opportunity of economizing the limited resources of our estate.—London News.

Advice to Invalids.

I think that no medical man should send a patient to any place with which he is not personally familiar. He ought to know just what hotels are in good sanitary condition, and the many little things that make up such a mighty muckle to his sick client, who, in default of such qualified advice, is quite as likely to come back to a home under ground as to gain substantial benefit. There is sufficient evidence now that Florida, and, indeed, any damp, warm country, is not a fit place for consumptives. What I have said before is worth repeating here: Broadly speaking, go inland for suffering lungs; to the sea for troublesome nerves. But make sure that your doctor has himself visited the place to which he consigns you, else the journey may prove unfortunate.—William F. Hutchinson, M. D., in American Magazine.

SKIN SCALP BLOOD

Having been a sufferer for two years and a half from a disease caused by a bruise on the leg, and having been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES when all other methods and remedies failed, I deem it my duty to recommend them. I visited Hot Springs to no avail, and tried several doctors without success, and at last our principal druggist, Mr. John P. Finlay (to whom I shall ever feel grateful), spoke to me about CUTICURA, and I consented to give them a trial with the result that I am perfectly cured. There is now no sore about me. I think I can show the largest surface where my sufferings sprang from of any one in the State. The CUTICURA REMEDIES are the best blood and skin cures many actuated. I refer to Druggist John P. Finlay and Dr. D. C. Montgomery, both of this place, and to Dr. Smith, of Lake Lee, Miss.

ALEXANDER BEACH, Greenville, Miss.

Mr. Beach used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, at our request, with results as above stated.

SAVED MY MOTHER'S LIFE.

Ever since I can remember, my mother has suffered from a milk leg. Nothing would do her any good. She had the best medical talent, but they all did her no good. She suffered with her leg for thirty years and never knew a well day. She would have to sit up half the night, holding up her leg and moaning. She had no peace. She used all the best-known remedies in the country without effect. I asked her to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES. Got her a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and she took it, and has taken in all about six or seven bottles, and now she is a well woman to-day. Her leg is entirely healed, and her health was never better. She can go out every day, something she has not done in ten years, so you see I cannot help stating to you about your wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES. You have saved my mother's life. I cannot find words to express my gratitude. I have advertised your CUTICURA REMEDIES far and near.

EDWARD LUEDER, 1505 Broadway, N. Y.

Sneezing Catarrh.

The distressing sneeze, sneeze, sneeze, the acrid, watery discharges from the eyes and nose, the painful inflammation extending to the throat, the swelling of the mucous lining, causing choking sensations, cough, ringing noises in the head and splitting headaches,—how familiar these symptoms are to thousands who suffer periodically from head colds or influenza, and who live in ignorance of the fact that a single application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH will afford instantaneous relief.

But this treatment in cases of simple Catarrh gives but a faint idea of what this remedy will do in the chronic forms, where the breathing is obstructed by choking, putrid mucous accumulations, the hearing affected, smell and taste gone, throat ulcerated and hacking cough gradually wrecking itself upon the debilitated system. Then it is that the marvellous curative power of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE manifests itself in instantaneous and grateful relief. Only begins from the first application. It is rapid, radical, permanent, economical, safe.

A Different Ox Gored This Time.

The prohibitionists of Atlanta, Ga., were defeated but not vanquished in the election that was held there recently. They have filed articles of protest on the ground that more than two thousand negroes were illegally registered, and they claim to have the names of two thousand illegal voters in their possession, which they propose to lay before the grand jury. The announcement of their intention to carry the matter into the courts has served to renew excitement, and many negroes are leaving the city with the greatest celerity. An indignation meeting was held Nov. 28th by the white ministers of the city, thirty-five in number, and resolutions were adopted demanding a purification of the ballot box, and opposing compromise or affiliation with the whiskey element.

There is no record, that we are aware of, of an indignation meeting having ever been held by the white ministers of any southern city to protest against ballot-box stuffing, illegal voting, illegal counting, illegal registration, intimidation or murder, done in the interest of the democratic party against the republican. Then what in the name of common sense could be expected, when a question came up in which the democratic "fine workers" were part on each side?

The cashier of the German bank of Baltimore, August Weber, Esq., says: "Having used Salvation Oil for some time I find it a sure cure for headache, sprains, neuralgia, etc., and take great pleasure in recommending it."

The mayor and city councilmen of Lincoln, Neb., were all in jail at Omaha for contempt of the federal court, at last accounts. It is not an unusual thing for mayors and councilmen to be in contempt, but it is something unusual for an entire municipal outfit to be in jail at the same time.

Do you suffer from indigestion, or loss of appetite? Are you troubled with liver, or kidney complaint? Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation purifies and vitalizes the blood, thus restoring health and strength to the digestive and assimilative organs. Try it.

A reporter's testimony that he did not take notes at the anarchists' meeting addressed by Herr Most "because he did not want to be carried out dead," is a keen commentary on the free speech demanded by that class of people.

All cases of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladona Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

Columbia, S. C., ministers denounce a club of which many public men, including the governor and the United States senators, are members, as a gambling hell.

A startling truth!—Thousands die annually from neglected coughs and colds, which soon ripen into consumption, or other equally fatal diseases of the lungs; when, by the timely use of a single bottle of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, their lives could have been preserved to a green old age.

Two men were shot in a New York bar-room one evening recently by an avowed anarchist, during a discussion about anarchism.

If you are tired taking the large old-fashioned griping pills, and are satified that purging yourself till you are weak and sick is not good common sense, then try Carter's Little Liver Pills and learn how easy it is to be free from Biliousness, Headache, Constipation, and all liver troubles. These little pills are smaller, easier to take and give quicker relief than any pill in use. One a dose. Price 25 cents.

At Oxford Junction, Iowa, Nov. 29th, a strange tragedy occurred. Ben Cusley and Charles A. Logan, two prominent young men, were rival suitors for the hand of Elizabeth Waterman, seventeen years old, the daughter of a well-known farmer. The two young men met at the girl's home on the 29th, when a desperate encounter ensued, the victor to have the prize. Cusley was finally successful, driving his rival off at the point of a revolver. Logan was the favorite with the girl, and during the afternoon she sent a bullet through her heart.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet were found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters, which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism.—Exchange.

Its Grand Single Number Drawings take place monthly, and the Semi-Annual Drawings regularly every six months (June and December).

"We do hereby certify that we supervise the arrangements for all the Monthly and Semi-Annual Drawings of The Louisiana State Lottery Company, and in person manage and control the Drawings themselves, and that the same are conducted with honesty, fairness, and in good faith toward all parties, and we authorize the Company to use this certificate, with fac-similes of our signatures attached, in its advertisements.

Commissioners.

We the undersigned Banks and Bankers will pay all Prizes drawn in The Louisiana State Lotteries which may be presented at our counters.

J. H. OGLESBY, Pres. Louisiana National Bank.

PIERRE LANAUX, Pres. State National Bank.

A. BALDWIN, Pres. New Orleans National Bank.

I desire of my own free will to testify to the merits and great virtues of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It will break up a cold quicker than anything I know of, is always reliable, perfectly harmless, and I have no hesitancy in always recommending it to any one, young or old, suffering with a cough or cold. I would as soon thing of being without bread in my house as without a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. John H. Francis, 22 Park Place, N. Y.

The trowsers manufactory owned by Joseph Cook in Campton was burned on the night of Nov. 29th, and four thousand pairs of trowsers were consumed. They were owned by Boston parties. Loss about $12,000; insurance not stated.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

The American vessels W. S. Moore and Merida are reported to have been seized in Nicaraugua by an armed force wearing the uniform of the Nicaraugua army. They made no charge, and when asked for their authority displayed their rifles.

For Scrofula, Impoverished Blood and General Debility,

For Children and Pulmonary Troubles.

Dr. W. S. Hoy, Point Pleasant, W. Va., says: "I have made a thorough test with Scott's Emulsion in pulmonary troubles and general debility, and have been astonished at the good results; for children with rickets or marasmus is unequalled."

SAILING OF GOLD SEEKERS.

From the Daily New Hampshire Gazette of Nov. 27th, 1849, we copy the following account of an incident which occasioned great local interest at the time:

FOR CALIFORNIA.—The Bark Martha sailed yesterday (Monday) afternoon, about three o'clock. She is the first vessel which has left Portsmouth for the gold regions, and a large crowd of spectators covered the wharves to see her off. The number of officers and crew is 16, and her passengers 62, one of whom is the wife of the Steward. The following is a list of the names:

Joseph Grace, Master; Thomas M. Drown, 1st Mate; Oliver P. Philbrick, 2d Mate; John F. Brown, 1st Cook; Andrew Davis, 2d Cook; James W. Pettigrew, 1st Steward; Freeman Peverly, 2d Steward; Albert S. Marden, 3d Steward; Charles T. Clapham, John W. Kelly, Joseph E. Laighton, Charles E. Coffin, Edward Furniss, James O. Trefethen, G. B. French, Seamen.

David Moulton, J. H. Goodrich, Jr., Joseph J. Cate, Augustus Morrison, George Rogers, Francis B. Harrington, John Trefethen, John Goodrich, Jr., Edward T. Huntress, Wm. Clugston, Wm. Holmes, Edward A. Ham, Charles W. Clark, Charles Boardman, Oliver Donnell, Thomas S. Hoyt, D. Edward Whidden, Nath. Parsons, Charles B. Pillow, David Patterson, John Moulton, Wm. P. Moulton, Wm. Goodrich, Jr., from Portsmouth; Ephraim Low, Perley Low, Waterville, Me.; Wm. H. Sawyer, Danvers, Mass.; Samuel N. Douglass, Joseph Simpson, York; Columbus Harpard, Franklin W. Neal, George Hilsbey, John Card, John Vennard, New Castle; Joseph S. Demeritt, Lee, N. H.; Edwin J. Hobbs, Hampton; Augustus Stacy, Joseph Kennison, Thomas Hammond, Elliot; Geo. H. Wiggin, Nath. Paul, Wakefield; David Stevens, David A. Demeritt, Henry B. Davis, Durham; Wm. K. Briard, Abram Seawards, Charles G. Davis, Kittery, Me.; Elijah Lord, South Berwick; Wm. T. Willey, Northwood; Thomas Libbey, Dan'l Thompson, J. M. York, Dover; Timothy J. Badger, Henry Weatherby, New Market; G. H. Harvey, Francis P. Harvey, Wm. P. Watson, Sam'l McDonnell, Nottingham; Bradbury Plumer, Joseph P. Dow, Epping; Sam'l Stark, Concord; Edwin C. Piper, George A. Piper, Stratham; Dr. George H. Smart, physician of the Bark.

Of the crew of the barque there are still living two, Mr. James O. Trefethen, postmaster at Kittery, and Mr. George B. French of this city; and possibly others. Capt. Grace and Mr. Freeman Peverly, the second steward, have died within recent years. Of the passengers a number still survive, but the majority have gone on a longer voyage than the one they started on thirty-eight years ago last month.

Daring Robbery.

George Bradford, an elderly man who keeps a saloon in Rochester, was brutally assaulted in his place, and robbed of $180, about three o'clock in the afternoon of Nov. 30th, by two men who were chased a long distance across the fields, but escaped.

A Democratic View.

Mr. William R. Morrison, otherwise known as "horizontal reduction" Morrison, though no longer a member of Congress is very much interested in what its action on the tariff will be at the coming session. In an interview with a Washington reporter he "expressed grave doubts that any bill which proposes a systematic and symmetrical reduction of the tariff can become a law. The house, he believed, after a good deal of difficulty, would send some sort of a bill to the senate. Then the republicans would have their opportunity, and they would make good use of it. The republican drift is to unite upon tobacco and sugar. Some of them wish to abolish all the internal revenue taxes, and save the tariff that way. The abolition of all the internal taxes would reduce the surplus to the desired limit; but that would leave the machinery of the internal revenue bureau without an excuse for its existence, and the internal revenue force will not be abolished just now. Besides, the republicans are not agreed as to the whiskey tax, and could not force the repeal of that tax through the house. They more nearly approach unity on the subject of the repeal of the tobacco tax, and of the reduction, or the abolition, of the duty on sugar. And it is very possible that when the house bill gets to the senate the republican senators will send it back to the house with the ultimatum that the surplus shall be reduced by the abolition of the tobacco tax and the abolition of the sugar duty, and if the democratic house does not care to accept that proposition it may assume the responsibility for the failure of all legislation to reduce the surplus. By that time the session and possibly the Congress will be well advanced. Such a plan would place the democrats of the house in a very embarrassing position."

Lovering, who was not elected governor of Massachusetts, and Pratt of Greenfield, ex-collector of internal revenue, who was consolidated out of office, are the prominent candidates for Gen. Banks' place as United States marshal for the district of Massachussetts.

May do for a stupid boy's excuse, but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reëstablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

The Springfield Republican asks: "How is it that regularly year by year, about this time, coal famines prevail and prices are forced up, and the miners never seem to share in the advance? Various sections of the country have been reporting a scarcity of coal and exorbitant prices for some time, but it has not been because of any strike of miners, nor has there been any indication that they have profited in the least by the high prices. The way these coal rings do business was well illustrated the other day by a Pennsylvania company. They raised the price of their coal fifty cents a ton, because of a strike among the miners. The strikers got an advance of 2 1-2 cents a ton, and the company pocketed the other 47 1-2 cents."

One of the contributors to the Newton Graphic was so ardent an admirer of Ivory soap pictures that he "wreaked his thoughts upon expression," and sent the following lines to the proprietors:

Messrs. Procter & Gamble, out there in the West,
In the Ivory Soap business,—give us a rest,
We've saved all your pictures, and the best are the last,
Though coming every week for many months past,
There are no two alike, save in subject and scope,
Every fresh as a daisy, and all about soap.
But it can not last always! This merciless strain
Will bring on something, somehow, we dare not explain.
By the way, there are widowers pining to know
Which ladies are single, whose attractions you show?
Such a house-keeping, heart-breaking, sensible lot!
Pray tell us, where they live, if you can well as not?
When there's enough to go round, and any to spare,
You might send us on a cake, or even a pair.
And the Graphic of Newton will do all it can,
To make it the soap for the family of Man.

The question whether the president must, in duty bound, give the marshalship of Massachusetts to Mr. Lovering, simply on the ground that he has been an unsuccessful democratic candidate for governor, is by no means finally solved. The experiment was tried in the instance when Secretary of War Endicott was appointed. To establish this rule as a precedent it is conceded is not good politics.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Dec. 1st, Mayor Hodgdon in the chair:

Present the full board.

Oliver Manson's request for leave to remove a tree on Cabot street was referred to the committee on streets, with power.

Request of George A. Jackson for a naphtha light at the corner of Maplewood avenue and Dearborn street, was referred to the committee on street lights, with power.

Petitions for two naphtha lights on Woodbury street and one on Pray street, were referred to the same committee.

Parties who at a previous meeting petitioned for an electric light on Islington street, were granted leave to withdraw, the committee on street lights approving a naphtha light on Spinney road in its stead. Petitioners for other lights on Spinney road were granted leave to withdraw; and two lights were granted on Wibird street.

Favorable report was made on the petition for an electric light at Commercial wharf; accepted and adopted.

Favorable report was made on the request of Mrs. H. L. Bates for a gaslight at Cabot and Austin streets, but it was not granted, an oil lamp being ordered instead.

Ald. Seymour reported the step-iron of the electric light pole corner of Deer and Market streets to be an obstruction; referred.

The electric light at the foot of Daniel street was ordered to be re-located, so as to light both steamboat landings.

The city solicitor was instructed to bring suit against George A. Jackson, unless the obstructions on Dearborn street are removed within ten days.

Remarks were made in regard to the school regulations, some of which were spoken of as being insisted on regardless of the public benefit; and it was suggested that the appropriations should be cut down to the minimum.

A representative of the telephone company appeared before the board in regard to the action taken at the previous meeting. He said he had supposed all the work done had been done in accordance with the agreement; the wires could not be put under ground, but the company would do all that was proper.

Bills amounting to $2175.75 were ordered paid.

Adjourned for two weeks.

AT FRANKLIN THEATRE TO-NIGHT.

Burton & Burke's consolidated minstrels, with Prof. J. H. Burton's $10,000 Dog Circus, will cause great excitement among the boys and girls to-day at noon with their street parade of a band, the trained dogs and zouave boys, and members of the combination. Band concert at 7:00 P. M. in front of Franklin theatre. Admission to the entertainment, 25 cts.; reserved seats 35 and 50 cents.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

A memorial service in honor of the late John B. Finch, R. G. T., will be held on Sunday evening, Dec. 4th, in the Universalist church at 7:30 o'clock, under the auspices of Strawberry Bank Lodge, I. O. G. T. Address by Rev. Lee H. Fisher, F. C. T. of the order; subject, "The Life and Work of John B. Finch as a Good Templar and Prohibitionist." Singing will be furnished by the P. A. C. male quartette; music by the Music Hall orchestra, assisted by Mr. A. N. Labrie at the organ. All Temperance organizations, and the public, are cordially invited to attend.

A GOOD RECORD.

The schooner Mary Willey, Capt. Zachariah Williams of Kittery Point master, which arrived at this port on Wednesday, Nov. 30th, from Bangor, with her 10th load of lumber this year to John H. Broughton, after discharging her cargo will be laid up in winter quarters.

She has brought here this season 715,000 feet of long lumber, 2,100,000 shingles and 390,000 laths, besides smaller lots of pickets, clapboards, gutters, cedar posts, etc; and has among her cargoes landed ten house-frames for buildings that have been erected in this city. She has on her return trips taken from Portland to Bangor ten cargoes of grain, aggregating about 50,000 bushels.

Capt. Williams is a veteran in the lumber business, having been employed in the trade about forty years, and has landed the firms of Barker & Adams, Samuel Adams & Co., and John H. Broughton, over three hundred cargoes of lumber during that time, in a satisfactory manner to his employers, and without loss or damage to a single cargo,—a record of efficiency which any one might be excused for being proud of.

PLEASANT AFFAIR AT YORK.

The New England supper given by the Ladies' Aid society of the First Christian church of York on Tuesday evening, Nov. 29th, at the Sea Cottage, York beach, was attended by fully 250 persons, including a large number of the best people of the town. The tables were abundantly provided with most appetizing viands in generous variety, and although ample justice was done the feast by all present, there was enough left to have fed another large company. Landlord Grant and his wife were everywhere in attendance on the guests, and everything passed off merrily and pleasantly. There were over fifty teams at the gathering, and every horse was warmly sheltered under cover—a good example of Christian charity. Some excellent vocal music was given by the Keen family, assisted by members of the party, Miss Esther Mitchell presiding at the piano with her usual skill and good judgment; Miss Mitchell also sang several solos. Mr. Emery, a commercial traveller, well known in York, toward the close of the evening highly entertained all who remained by singing a number of comic songs, to his own accompaniment. The supper was one of the most successful in every way ever given by the society. It took place a little earlier this year than usual, on account of Landlord Grant and wife desiring to go on their annual vacation.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner whose bowsprit was carried away by a collision in the lower harbor Nov. 29th was the Vicia May, Fisher master; the vessel with which she was in collision was a schooner hailing from Machias.

The British schooner Alta, of and for St. John, N. B., from Boston, sailed from Portsmouth lower harbor, where she had put in for shelter, at eight o'clock Wednesday morning, Nov. 30th, and proceeded until about eight miles east of Portland light, when her foremast head was carried away and she was obliged to bear up for this port, where she arrived Thursday morning, and was picked up by the tug Clara Bateman off Whale's-back and towed up to a berth at C. E. Walker & Co.'s wharf, to effect repairs. She was well sheathed in ice when she came in, having had a rather rough night of it.

"Victor Durand," the highly successful society drama of Wallack's theatre, at Music hall to-morrow evening; tickets at Goodrich's.

"My Aunt Bridget," a new musical comedy, will be played in Music hall Monday evening by Monroe & Rice's company, with George W. Monroe and John C. Rice in the leading parts. See advertisement.

December started in well, for cold. The thermometer was down to two degrees above zero at the Eldredge brewery, Thursday morning at sunrise, and stood at from four to six degrees above in other localities about the city.

The boys in considerable numbers were skating on the north pond on Thursday; the ice seemed pretty thick, but cannot be very strong as yet, and caution should be exercised for a while.

The north clock knocked off work about one o'clock Thursday morning, on account of the cold.

Where are the toboggan chutes? Gone to join the skating rinks, probably.

The Boston Post says of the popular little actress who played in Music hall on the evening of the 1st inst. that "The plucky conduct of the unapproachable Miss Lotta in stopping a runaway one day last week and insisting that the weak and overdriven horse should be taken to a stable, has involved her in a suit of $10,000 damages brought by the occupant of the cab, who asserts that the delay was responsible for his missing the train. Miss Lotta's act was little less than heroic, and deserves the hearty sympathy of everyone who has a particle of feeling for abused and long-suffering animals. The society of which Mr. Angell is president ought to express its admiration in some suitable public manner."

Dover held a town meeting on Wednesday, the 30th ult., to take the sense of the legal voters on the question of the city introducing an increased supply of water. The vote was: Yes, 1334; no, 347; majority in favor of city water works, 987. The anti-water men of Dover made a showing something like that of the Portsmouth republicans at the late municipal election.

The Penny Post announces that after Jan. 1st, 1888, the price of the paper will be two cents a copy.

The fire alarm was subjected to the regular monthly test on Thursday forenoon, the 1st inst.

The wooden coverings of the post-office steps were put in place on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 30th, and the building is now in winter trim, the screen doors having previously been hung. A number of loads of coal were put in the bins in the cellar this week, and men who were on the way to the coal wharves to purchase a ton for seven dollars and a half, groaned in spirit on being informed that the government paid four dollars a ton for the precious article.

A large and fashionable audience greeted Lotta on Thursday night at Music hall.

The Press and Printer, the only weekly journal devoted to the printing trade, has reached us from Keene, dated Dec. 3d. It is a very handsome sheet, well printed and edited, and is a credit to the publishers.

We acknowledge the receipt of valuable public documents from Hon. Martin A. Haynes.

Subsisting Upon Potatoes.

The only people in the world who have fallen into the grievous error of striving to subsist almost entirely upon potatoes are the Irish. It cannot be doubted that nearly or quite all the ills that trouble unhappy Ireland are due to the humble potato. The Irish are the meanest fed people living in a civilized land of which we have any knowledge; they are in a condition of semi-starvation, even when in their highest prosperity.

Every visitor in Ireland is struck with the "pot bellied" appearance of the natives, men and women. This abnormal distention of the abdominal walls is due to the enormous amount of potatoes they are compelled to consume, in order to maintain a tolerable degree of health. If this people would quit the cultivation of the potato, and supply its place with cereal grains, Ireland would soon become a happy and prosperous nation.—Popular Science News.

Inhale warm salt water through your nose if you wish to cure your cold, says an eastern doctor.

The Face of Russia.

The face of Russia is like Wisconsin, less the lakes and beautiful streams; northern Michigan, without the largest pine trees, and New Mexico, with the absence of warmth. The pineries are stunted, the fields covered with wheat—in harvest during August—and the villages are of small wooden buildings, covered with straw. Nowhere is there architecture, taste or cleanliness displayed. The advancement of the country may be illustrated in the statement that though Russia is one of the greatest in wheat producing, the cereal is sown broadcast, harvested with the sickle, threshed with the flail, and three-fourths of the work is done by the women. The forests are infested with wolves and other wild animals; the fields, when not covered with wheat, are carpeted with Jean-Marie, with a yellow rattle and a plume of blue leaves at the top. Mushrooms and all the fungi of a cold climate are seen, and one's bewilderment increases as the slow train goes further and further into the empire.—New York Sun.

A Deluge of New Elements.

Rapid as has been the increase in the number of supposed elementary substances during the last few years, sober scientific men have hardly been prepared for the addition of more than a dozen new elements to the list in a single announcement, yet the discovery is reported on the authority of Messrs. Kruss and Nilson, Swedish chemists of highest repute. Their researches have been carried out upon the nitrates of the rare earths contained in thorite, wohlerite, cerite, fergusonite and euxenite, and have been long and laborious. The spectroscopic evidence presented by these investigations has made the conclusion inevitable that didymium consists of not less than nine distinct elements, holmium of seven, erbium of two and samarium of two.—Arkansaw Traveler.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cures both.

SAVED HIS LEG!

SCROFULA OF THE BONE CURED!

LITHONIA, GA., August 11, 1887.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.:

Gentlemen—I have been afflicted with ulceration of the legs ever since I was a child, the disease undoubtedly being hereditary, as my mother suffered from scrofulous symptoms. As I advanced to manhood my affliction increased until the malady became harrassing and painful beyond the power of words to describe. My right leg particularly became fearfully involved, the left leg being less painfully affected. Finally, about fourteen years ago, the ulcers on my right leg had eaten through the flesh into the bone. In order to save my life the doctors determined to amputate my leg below the knee. The operation was successfully performed by Dr. E. V. M. Miller, of Atlanta, and Dr. W. F. Bond, of Lithonia. But the loss of my leg gave me only temporary relief. The poison was still in my system and soon began to show itself again, in a short time after large ulcers appeared on my left leg, covering it from the knee to the instep. Frequently while at work I could be tracked by the blood which oozed from the huge ulcers, and the sores and rotting bones were so offensive that my fellow-workmen could not stand the stench and would move away from me.

Last winter I was persuaded to try S. S. S. As a last effort I consented to do so, and about seven months ago I began taking the Specific. I soon began to feel the good effects of the medicine, the offensive running began to grow less and less and finally ceased, the ulcers healed, my flesh became firm and solid, and to-day, after using twenty-one bottles, I am as hale and stout a man of my age as there is in Georgia. I am seventy-one years old, but feel now younger and stronger than I did when I was twenty-five. I weigh about 150 pounds. Nothing is to be seen of the terrible disease, or to remind me of the torture I suffered for so many years, except the scars of the perfectly healed ulcers.

I want the world to know of the almost miraculous cure effected on me by S. S. S., and I call upon those who wish to know the particulars directly from me to write, and I will consider it a pleasure as well as a duty to answer their letters. I refer to Dr. W. F. Bond, of Lithonia, as to the truth of my statement. Very gratefully yours,

B. DRAKE.

JERSEY CRANBERRY MARSHES.

The Thrifty Bush's Three Enemies—Flooding the Bog—Pickers at Work.

There are between 5,000 and 6,000 acres of New Jersey marsh under cranberry cultivation to-day, which is about one-quarter of the cranberry growing area of the United States, Massachusetts and Wisconsin being the other principal growers of the fruit. A cranberry marsh of the present day is as handsome a plat of green things growing as the eye could rest upon, but the rearing of the bushes on a new bog to the age of fruit bearing is attended with no end of care and toil, to say nothing of the expense. Since the cultivation of cranberries assumed the proportions of a large and important agricultural pursuit in New Jersey, three enemies, not one of which assailed the bush in its wild state, have arisen up against it—a grass, a bulrush and an insect. After a new marsh or swamp has been cleared, ditched and sanded, it is planted by takings or slips from old bushes and inserting one end of them in the layer of sand on the peat soil, which is pushed closely about the slips. Cranberry slips soon take root in the generous peat, and begin to grow almost immediately. They spread rapidly over the marsh, but before they have reached out their branches many days the planter finds them surrounded and choked by the sharp edged, stiff leaved, three square grass, and its inevitable coadjutor, the hardy and persistent bulrush.

The grass and the rushes must be removed root and branch, for which purpose curious gouges and peculiar hoes and other implements have been devised. These pestiferous weeds have to be constantly watched, and uprooted every week or so for two seasons, so thoroughly impregnated does the soil seem to be with their germs and so rapidly do they develop. At the end of the second year the cranberry bushes have obtained such strength and headway that they cover the ground all over the bog like an immense velvety mat of emerald and have choked the enterprising grass and rushes out of existence. It is estimated that to foster a cranberry bog to this state of its existence costs the owner $100 an acre. If a man should want to buy a 2-year-old bog, thrifty and in perfect condition, he would be lucky if he could obtain it for less than $600 an acre.

Cranberry bushes blossom at the beginning of the third season, and from that time on the grower may expect a visit from the webworm, the most dreaded enemy of the bog. A singular characteristic of this insect is that it never gives warning of its coming on a marsh. The cranberry grower may go to bed at night without having been able to discover a sign of a webworm on his bushes, and get up next morning to see the marsh look as if it were covered with miniature banks of fog, and the tops of the bushes drawn together so tightly that a twine tied around them could hardly make them any closer. The light banks of fog are the webs of the worm, which have been constructed during the night, and are what pulls the tops of the vines together. In a day or so the vines turn yellow, and the blossoms drop to the ground, and the owner of that marsh does not make any very large calculations on profits that year. About the first of November they are submerged under five or six feet of water with which the bogs are artificially flooded. This water is drawn off about the middle of May, and the bushes come to view as fresh and green as a June clover field.

There were picked last year in the New Jersey marshes nearly 200,000 bushels of cranberries, which were sold at an average price of $2 a bushel. The yield this year will not be more than two-thirds of last year's, but it is expected that the price will be high enough to insure as large a return to the growers as they had from the crop of 1886.

The inventive genius not only of Jersey, but of the whole country, has taxed itself annually in vain for ever so many years to provide an automatic berry picker. The harvesting of the cranberry crop of New Jersey, and of all other places where the berry is grown, is virtually in the hands of the people the grower is forced to employ as pickers. They bully and harass and boycott and strike under the slightest provocation of their employers. The cranberry grower has to walk humbly and circumspectly about his bogs or be disciplined roundly by the gatherers of his crop. The owners of cranberry marshes in New Jersey distribute over $5,000 a day for two or three weeks during the picking season alone to the people, many of whom would be otherwise seeking aid from the town before spring, but for some reason the pickers regard the growers as their natural enemies, and act toward them accordingly.—New York Mail and Express.

Stock of Street Fakirs.

It is a subject of much speculation to the general public as to how street fakirs are supplied with their stocks. At a national political convention, after three days' balloting, a candidate for president is chosen. As the delegates file out of the hall they are offered badges with the portrait of the candidate. A great body of men assembles in a town, and the rain falls. With the first drops the streets and the hotels are thronged with umbrella peddlers. If it is hot, the same men are selling fans. If it is damp, they have cough drops, or, if it is bright, they offer canes. I'll tell you about this business. The fakir never carries a stock. He buys and sells the same day. Every large city has what is known as "peddlers' supply houses." On the outside you will see that they deal in "notions" or "counter goods." These stores have everything from a can opener to a camp ax for sale, and are prepared to supply the street merchants with anything from "pain killer" to "smoked glass" for an eclipse. —Thomas Haggerty in Globe-Democrat.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some excruciating affection, such as milk crust, scall head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which makes life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence a mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance,—a skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston, Mass.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and efficacious method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instaneous in affording relief to all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1.

Awful Result.

During the recent contest in Atlanta, Ga., over the prohibition question, the colored voters were assiduously courted by the wire-pullers of both parties, and prominent white politicians could be seen at any time in company with "niggers." One effect of this is causing some consternation, a despatch from Atlanta saying:

The prominent recognition given the negroes during the prohibition campaign has inspired their leaders to essay roles of more distinction in local politics. They harkened to the orators of the respective sides, who took occasion to impress them with the importance of their position, and before the question has been officially settled several negroes have announced themselves as candidates for the city council. This is but the outgrowth of the assurances given them by the anti-prohibitionists in return for their support of the "ballot; at least this is what the "prohibs" are claiming. The movement has created considerable feeling among the white people, and especially among the prohibitionists, who attribute this extraordinary step on the part of the negroes to the encouragement given them by the "antis." The negroes will vote solidly for the candidates of their color, and it would not be surprising to see one, at least, elected to the city council, which is composed of but six members.

A Chronic Tendency Overcome.

Many persons are troubled with a chronic tendency to constipation. They are of bilious temperament. The complaint to which they are subject, though easily remediable by judicious treatment, is in many cases aggravated by a resort to drastic purgatives and cholagogues. As the human stomach and bowels are lined with a delicate membrane, and not of with vulcanite, they cannot stand prolonged drenching with such medicines without serious injury. Nothing restores and counteracts an habitual tendency to constipation so effectually as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Its laxative effect is gentle and progressive. It neither convulses nor weakens the intestines, and its effects are unaccompanied by griping pains. It arouses the liver when the organ is sluggish, promotes digestion, and encourages appetite and sleep. For fever and ague, kidney troubles, nervous complaints and incipient rheumatism, it is incomparable. Take a wineglass before meals and see how soon you will relish them.

—It is impossible to put electric wires under ground in New Orleans because the water level is but three feet below the surface. So strong towers, 150 feet high, are erected, and on these telegraph and telephone wires are carried above the public streets.

Do you suffer from indigestion, or loss of appetite? Are you troubled with liver, or kidney complaint? Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This preparation purifies and vitalizes the blood, thus restoring health and strength to the digestive and assimilative organs. Try it.

—A travelling man in London from this country, went into what the signboard indicated was an American restaurant. During the meal he asked for a glass of water. "Beg pawding, sir," said the waiter, "very sorry, hi assure you; since Buffalo Bill has been 'ere we honly serves Hamerican drinks."

All cases of weak or lame back, backache, rheumatism, will find relief by wearing one of Carter's Smart Weed and Belladona Backache Plasters. Price 25 cents. Try them.

—"George," she said, and her manner betrayed anxiety, "what has come over papa of late? He treats you coldly and evidently tries to avoid you." "He borrowed $10 of me a couple of weeks ago," explained George.

A startling truth!—Thousands die annually from neglected coughs and colds, which soon ripen into consumption, or other equally fatal diseases of the lungs; when, by the timely use of a single bottle of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, their lives could have been preserved to a green old age.

—Mrs. DeHobson (the hostess) "Do you dance, Mr. Lillie?" Mr. Lillie: "Oh dear, naw. I cawn't dance." "Shall I present you to Miss Literati?" "Thanks, naw, I never talk." "I am afraid you are finding it rather dull, but (happy thought) supper will be served shortly."

If you are tired taking the large old-fashioned griping pills, and are satisfied that purging yourself till you are weak and sick is not good common sense, then try Carter's Little Liver Pills and learn how easy it is to be free from Biliousness, Headache, Constipation, and all liver troubles. These little pills are smaller, easier to take and give quicker relief than any pill in use. One a dose. Price 25 cents.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. mon,wed,sat,ly

It is asserted that the Reading railroad is unable to move coal, owing to interference of striking miners; the matter is to go to the supreme court on the common carrier law.

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring, buzzing sound, are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

An explosion of choke damp occurred Dec. 1st, in a colliery in Horemba, Silesia, killing thirteen miners and wounding several others.

President Grevy Resigns.

President Grevy's resignation of the presidency of the French republic was read in the senate and chamber of deputies on Friday afternoon, Dec. 2d. The president of the senate summoned a meeting of the two chambers on the 3d to elect a new president. The police and military were on the alert to quell any disturbance in Paris.

A Possible Result.

The almost universal impression which prevails that the scarcity of coal, and consequent sharp advance in prices, is due to schemes of the great coal corporations—which impression is not shaken in the least by stories of strikes, refusals of union men to handle "scab" coal, etc., as these affairs are believed to be instigated and manipulated by the coal barons themselves, for their own speculative purposes and not at all for the benefit of miners—may have an unexpected result, and one which is not at all desired by the great coal rings. Not a few papers which are strudy supporters of the doctrine of protection to American labor, hint that the duty on coal merely protects the coal speculators in the successful prosecution of their plans, and does not in the least protect the miners from tyranny nor the public from extortion; and that the readiest means of placing labor and capital in this instance on an equality is to get rid of this sort of protection altogether. The representative of the Executive Association of Engineers who has been delegated to try to secure a settlement of the difficulty is quoted as saying:

There will probably be another result, unforeseen by the operators at present, if the strike is not soon settled. It is this: The duty will be removed from coal. That duty does not now benefit anybody but the operators, and under it our men work for starvation wages. If it were removed they could not be in a worse condition. The ports, however, would be open to Canada, and we should soon see the operators coming to terms. The Canadian coal is soft, but could be used, as in the west, for every purpose—even for steam-making. If once we get into the habit of using it we would ask nothing better. It may come to that.

New Hampshire Congressmen.

For the past thirty-two years only five democrats have held seats in Congress from New Hampshire, and all of them are still living. Since the republican party first came into power, nineteen republicans have been sent to Congress from this state. These are James Pike, Mason W. Tappan, Aaron H. Cragin, Gilman Marston, Thomas M. Edwards, Edward H. Rollins, James W. Patterson, Jacob H. Ela, Aaron F. Stevens, Jacob Benton, William B. Small, Austin F. Pike, Henry W. Blair, James F. Briggs, Joshua G. Hall, Evarts W. Farr, Ossian Ray, Martin A. Haynes and Jacob H. Gallinger. Of these, seven—Messrs. Tappan, Edwards, Ela, Stevens, Small, Pike and Farr—have deceased. Aside from the five democrats—Messrs. Hibbard, Bell, Parker, and Jones and Marcy of this city, who have been in Congress since the days of republican ascendancy, there are two other democratic ex-congressmen living in the state, John R. Reding of this city and George W. Morrison of Manchester, the former a member of the twenty-seventh and twenty-eighth Congresses, and the latter of the thirty-first and thirty-third.

Life-Saving Service.

The annual report of General Superintendent Kimball of the life-saving service shows that at the close of the last fiscal year there were 218 stations, as follows: 166 on the Atlantic, forty-four on the lakes, seven on the Pacific and one at the Falls of the Ohio, Louisville, Ky. The number of disasters reported within the field of station operations during the year was 382. On board these vessels were 6327 persons, of whom 6272 were saved and fifty-five lost. The value of the vessels involved in the disasters is estimated at $4,786,925 and that of their cargoes at $2,288,775, making total value of property $7,075,700, of which $5,788,820 was saved, and $1,286,880 lost. The number of vessels totally lost were seventy-two. Besides the foregoing there were, during the year, 135 casualties to smaller craft, such as sailboats, rowboats, etc., on which there were 274 persons, 271 of whom were saved and three lost. The property involved in these instances is estimated at $96,830, of which $92,915 was saved and $3915 lost.

In addition to persons saved from vessels, there were twenty-three others rescued, who had fallen from wharves, piers, etc., and who would have perished without the aid of the life-saving crews. In rendering assistance in saving vessels and cargoes more work was accomplished than in any previous year, except the one immediately preceding, 393 vessels having been floated off when stranded, repaired when damaged, and piloted out of dangerous places, and similarly assisted by the station crews. There were besides 210 instances where vessels running into dangers of stranding were warned off by the signals of the patrols, most of them thus being probably saved from partial or total destruction.

In every case of loss of life investigations were made which showed that there was no failure in duty on the part of the station force engaged. The sorrowful sacrifice during the year of eight members of life-saving crews at scenes of shipwreck expresses the habitual devotion which the men bring to efforts at rescue. The report gives full and specific accounts of all the circumstances connected with the loss of these persons. An unusual number of snow storms and the prevalence of fogs made the operations of the service more than commonly difficult and dangerous, but nevertheless the station crews succeeded in saving a much greater number of lives and a larger amount of property than ever before, in some instances performing feats of unparalleled enterprise and daring. On one occasion a lifeboat crew went 110 miles to rescue, and brought ashore, twenty-four persons, the crews of two wrecked vessels. On several occasions the station men went from ten to twenty miles and wrought similar deliverances.

COUNTERFEIT DIMES.

A western detective has in his possession several three-cent pieces which have been tampered with and passed as ten-cent pieces. The modus operandi of making seven cents on each piece is to place a dime on each side of a three-cent piece, and by squeezing them in a vise, slightly flatten the three-cent piece and leave a dim outline of the dime on either side. The coin, after the defacement, very much resembles a ten-cent piece which has seen considerable service. There are not many of the deceptive-looking three-cent pieces now in circulation, and it is to be hoped that all of them will soon disappear. They were a nuisance from the start, as they were so near in size and general appearance to a dime that the swindler when making change quickly or in a dim light had little difficulty in passing them off for dimes on the honest man, while the honest man invariably got caught when he attempted to pass them off at ten cents each on somebody else.

A reward of $300 is offered in Kentucky for the arrest of the notorious Arthur A. Waite, the "chalk-talk" man and fakir, who is wanted in that state for forgery. He is as smart as a steel trap in many ways, but his smartness is likely to land him in the penitentiary before he gets through.

Henry James Ten Eyck, city editor of the Albany Journal, is dead.

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Safe, pleasant, and certain in their action," is the concise testimony of Dr. George E. Walker, of Martinsville, Virginia.

Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

Catarrh in the Head

Catarrh is inflammation of the mucous membrane, attended with increased secretion. Thus catarrh may affect the head, throat, stomach, bowels, or any part of the body where the mucous membrane is found. But catarrh of the head is by far the most common, coming on so gradually that often its presence is not suspected till it has obtained a firm hold on its victim. It is caused by a cold, or a succession of colds, combined with Impure Blood.

When firmly established the disease is exceedingly disagreeable, causing flow from the nose, dryness of the throat, headache, loss of appetite, roaring and buzzing noises in the ears, etc. In Hood's Sarsaparilla may be found a prompt and permanent cure for catarrh. It purifies and enriches the blood, soothes and rebuilds the diseased membrane, and thus soon cures the disease. At the same time it refreshes and tones the whole system. The remarkable success of this peculiar medicine entitles it to your confidence. Give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial.

"I am happy to state that I used Hood's Sarsaparilla for catarrh, with which I have been troubled many years, and received great relief and benefit from it. The catarrh was very disagreeable, especially in the winter, causing constant discharge from my nose, ringing noises in my ears, and pains in the back of my head. The effort to clear my head in the morning by hawking and spitting was painful. My grocer advised me to try and it gave me relief immediately, while in time I was entirely cured. I am never without the medicine in my house, as I think it is worth its weight in gold." MRS. G. B. GINN, 1029 Eighth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

"I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla for catarrh with very satisfactory results. I have received more permanent benefit from it than from any other remedy I have ever tried." M. E. READ, of A. Read & Son, Wauseon, Ohio.

USE

Horsford's

BREAD PREPARATION.

The acid phosphate in this preparation supplies the vital phosphates essential to the system, and assists digestion. No other baking powder does this.

Dr. M. B. Sullivan, of Dover, says:

"I endorse the correctness of the scientific principles involved in the use of Horsford's Bread Preparation."

Dr. C. W. Hutchings, of Dover, says:

"The vitalized principles contained in Horsford's Bread Preparation I cheerfully endorse. Ill-nourished children fed upon brown bread made with it would be greatly benefited."

Dr. Paul A. Stackpole, of Dover, says:

"I have examined Horsford's Bread Preparation. It restores the phosphates removed from flour in milling. The phosphates are important nutritive principles, and this preparation amply supplies them."

Dr. E. W. Hodsden, of Dover, says:

"I endorse the correctness of the scientific principles involved in the use of Horsford's Bread Preparation, which restores to superfine wheat flour the phosphates removed in milling."

Dr. S. J. Bassford, of Biddeford, says:

"I have examined Horsford's Bread Preparation, and believe the theory presented by the manufacturers to be true. That we lose very much that is nutritious in the wheat, by the mode of manufacturing fine flour, there can be no doubt. The object gained by using the Bread Preparation is to restore those nutritive principles to the flour, and thus render it more wholesome, and cause it to contain the same elements for nutrition that are found in the wheat berry."

Dr. E. J. Emery, of Biddeford, says:

"We have used Horsford's Bread Preparation, and consider it superior to others."

Rev. Thomas Hill, of Portland, says:

"For many years I have used Horsford's Bread Preparation for raising bread. It is particularly agreeable to my palate, agrees well with me, and I have thought that when I have ommitted it for some time and then returned to it, I found it improved my health."

Dr. Wm. Rynne, of Portland, says:

"In my opinion, Horsford's Bread Preparation must be a valuable baking powder, and superior to all others for the purpose of bread-making.

Dr. A. V. Thompson, of Portland, says:

"I have used Horsford's Bread Preparation for fifteen years. It is a very valuable agent in bread-making. From its peculiar property, which I believe no other baking powder possesses—namely, of restoring the phosphates to white flour, I esteem it the best that can be used."

Dr. S. P. Getchell, of Portland, says:

"My practical test of Horsford's Bread Preparation in the kitchen, was very satisfactory. The bread made by its use was light, sweet and palatable. One member of my family, who has had indigestion for years, partook freely of it while it was hot, without inconvenience, while as a rule he cannot eat either new or hot bread without paying the penalty."

Dr. Geo. W. May, of Portland, says:

"The theory of the preparation of Prof. Horsford's powder is good, and should be productive of the best results, especially to dyspeptics, and those with similar troubles."

This evening James F. Crossen's company will present in Music hall, for the first time in this city, the great society drama and Wallack's theatre success "Victor Durand," with a strong cast, splendid costumes and properties, and the original music. This company, now in its 5th year, is the only one having a right to present this play. Tickets at Goodrich's.

THE DAILY EVENING GAZETTE.

In looking over the Daily New Hampshire Gazette of Nov. 27th, 1849, from which was taken the account of the sailing of the barque Martha, Capt. Grace, published in the Chronicle of the 2d inst., we noticed several items of interest to us, and which may be of interest to our readers. Witness the following:

TWO LAUNCHES.—The ship Western World was launched in fine style from the yard of Messrs. Fernald & Pettigrew at 8 o'clock this morning. She is a little larger than anything yet out, being 1903 tons carpenter's measurement, is owned by the Messrs. Kingsland of New York, and is to be commanded by Capt. Cheever.

About the same time, another fine ship was launched from the yard of Mr. Badger, to be called the Albert Gallatin. We are unable to state her tonnage, or give particulars, none having been furnished us.

Fancy two such ships as the Western World and the Albert Gallatin—or two such ships, relatively, as those ships were in '49—being launched on the Piscataqua within an hour or less of each other, and the local papers dishing the affair up in eleven lines, which was the number taken up in the Evening Gazette's wide columns! Nowadays such an occurrence would call for at least two columns, with roosters at the top, and pictures of the ships halfway down.

Another river item is as follows:

☞ Ship Arabella, on a rock in this harbor, has not yet been got off. A small steam tug would probably do the business for her directly, had some of our large capitalists enterprise enough to sustain one here. But "there's a good time a coming boys, wait a little longer." That's what we say to the real business men of Portsmouth—not to money lenders in State street, who only have their dwellings here.

In one respect at least the old-time daily was up to the Boston Globe and New York World; it had a "circulation editor," and this was the way he talked:

The circulation of the Gazette, for six days, last week, in Portsmouth alone was 1769, more than four times that of any other paper. In Kittery it was 350. In Concord 600. In New Market 300. In Dover 150. In Exeter 150. In the Eastern Railroad Cars about 500. In other places about 1500. Our aggregate circulation for the week ending Saturday, Nov. 24, was a little over 6300, more than that of any other paper printed in the State, full five times as large as any other paper printed in Rockingham county, and nearly twice as large as the aggregate circulations of all other papers in the county put together.

☞ Advertisers will please take notice.

That was a good showing for those days, certainly, and an excellent specimen of "blowing," but for all that the paper could not have existed a great while, as few persons have now any distinct recollection of it. It was a four-page paper, twelve by seventeen inches in size, with four wide columns to a page; was "published every afternoon at No. 31 Daniel St., Portsmouth, N. H., by Wm. P. Hill, at 1 o'clock;" and was sold for one cent per copy at the counting room, and at the news rooms of J. P. Morse and J. F. Adams on Congress street.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Dec. 2d; Bufford J.

There were three lodgers and three drunks in the police station Thursday night; the lodgers were allowed to depart—glad to get rid of them—and the drunks disposed of as follows.

George W. T. Brown, who was released a few days ago on permission to leave the city for six months, but got drunk instead, will leave it this time for sure, being sentenced to six months at the county farm, and to pay costs.

Andrew Alison and Otis P. Chapman, for drunkenness were fined $3, costs $6.90, each.

"MY AUNT BRIDGET."

Of this new musical comedy, which is to be performed in Music hall next Monday evening by Monroe & Rice's company, the Boston Herald says: "From rise to fall of curtain the interest never flags, and the various devices adopted by a couple of impecunious scapegraces to wheedle money out of the newly-arrived Aunt Bridget elicited roars of laughter. Of the company one can only speak in commendation." The Traveller says it is "a rollicking comedy which overflows with mirth, music and scintillating humor," and that the company "does excellent justice to the piece." Tickets at Goodrich's.

MARITIME NOTES.

The floating stage of the steamboat landing at Appledore, now hauled up for the winter at Appledore wharf at the north end, is being newly decked and receiving other needed repairs.

An associated press despatch says the schooner D. W. Hammond, Flanders master, of and for Rockland from this port with a miscellaneous cargo, went ashore Wednesday night, Nov. 30th, near Portland head light, and was afterwards got off the rocks, and towed into Portland, having lost anchors and chain.

A telegram was on the 2d inst. received by Mr. John H. Broughton from the owners of the British schooner Alta, Capt. Harrington, which came into this port on the 1st in distress, to have the vessel repeired, after which she will proceed to St. John, N. B., her home port. Mr. Daniel Littlefield has been engaged to make the necessary repairs.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Henry L. Harlow, who has been visiting relatives in Plymouth, Mass., and vicinity, for about a month past, was in this city this week for a brief stay before starting for the west.

Col. Jno. J. Foster, the advance business manager of the great Janauschek, arrived at the Rockingham last night. He remains over to-day to perfect details for Madame Janauschek's appearance at Music hall next Saturday.

At the evening services in the Unitarian church on the first two Sundays in December, Rev. Alfred Gooding will read brief papers on "Two English Cathedral Towns." Dec. 4th (to-morrow) the subject will be "Chester;" Dec. 11th, "York."

In the suit of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad against the Boston & Lowell railroad, the counsel met on Friday, to proceed with the testimony before Mr. Hackett, the examiner. President Rollins of the Boston, Concord & Montreal road was in attendance, prepared to testify. Mr. Benton, one of the defendant's counsel, was engaged in the trial of a case in court. The taking of testimony was postponed until the 30th instant. Some of the counsel have engagements at the law term of the supreme court on Tuesday, the 6th, and Ex-Senator Rollins has an appointment at Washington on Thursday, consequently the testimony could not be begun till the latter part of next week. Messrs. Bingham and Mitchell were present for the B., C. & M. R. R. Messrs. A. A. Strout and Chas. H. Burns represented the Boston & Lowell railroad.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

A memorial service in honor of the late John B. Finch, R. G. T., will be held on Sunday evening, Dec. 4th, in the Universalist church at 7:30 o'clock, under the auspices of Strawberry Bank Lodge, I. O. G. T. Address by Rev. Lee H. Fisher, P. C. T. of the order; subject, "The Life and Work of John B. Finch as a Good Templar and Prohibitionist." Singing will be furnished by the F. A. G. male quartette; music by the Music Hall orchestra, assisted by Mr. A. N. Labrie at the organ. All Temperance organizations, and the public, are cordially invited to attend.

Though there was very good if not very safe skating for the boys on the north pond Thursday, the 1st inst., and a big crowd of them enjoyed themselves there on the 2d, the south pond had not at that time offered any facilities for the exhilarating sport. It was covered with fairly smooth ice Friday morning, but a brick thrown in the air would go plump though it as it fell. The difference was probably not caused by difference in the degrees of cold at the two ponds, so much as by the larger amount of fresh water flowing into the north pond.

Under the heading "Beware of brewery milk," the Dover Democrat sounds the following alarm: "A large amount of refuse malt from the Portsmouth breweries is being brought to this city, and used by farmers to feed their stock with. It ruins the milk of cows, and is disgusting stuff to give them anyway."

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the York Harbor & Beach railroad, for the election of officers, will be held at the town house, York, on Wednesday, Dec. 7th.

Counterfeit half-dollars are in circulation throughout the city. One was handed up to the station agent to-day, and he promptly refused it. The man who tendered it got out of the depot as quickly as possible.—Dover Democrat.

FINGER-MARKS and dust on chairs, etc., cannot be removed by the use of a chamois alone, so if your furniture has a dingy appearance you can easily restore its freshness by washing with IVORY SOAP and luke-warm water (under no circumstances should hot water be used); use a soft brush to wash out the carving, etc. Dry with a soft cloth and then rub well with a chamois, and your furniture will "look like new."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS.

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin's Piano Stringer was introduced by them in 1882, and has been pronounced by experts the "greatest improvement in pianos in half a century."

Internal Revenue Collector Troup has ordered the seizure of the What Cheer Dairy company's oleomargarine factory in Providence, R. I., which was detected in sending out "oleo" in unstamped packages in violation of the law. Prosecutions were ordered, on the evidence secured upon an examination of the company's business.

The American Copyright league condemns the proposition for a stamp system of copyright.

George J. Dunham of Kensington, Conn, tried to murder his sister, and then killed himself with paris green, Nov. 30th.

The matter for wonder and astonishment is this: When Remus jumped over his brother's little city walls how were his sprains and bruises cured without Salvation Oil?

The insurance commissioner of Connecticut has asked the courts to appoint a receiver for the Continental Life Insurance company of Hartford.

After trying all the other plasters, salves, lotions, got relief and cure by using a Hop Plaster.

Col. Lamont says the president hasn't yet decided about the United States marshalship for Massachusetts.

Ayer's Pills are always ready for use. They are sugar-coated, easy to take, and sure to bring relief and cure. They are effectual in all diseases caused by disorders of the stomach and digestive organs.

A general reduction of wages has been posted in the Para Rubber Shoe company's shops at South Framingham, Mass.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one renders you miserable, and these little pills cures both.

Mrs. Margaret Fahey, aged sixty-five years, was run over and killed by a hose carriage in Manchester on the night of Nov. 30th.

The marks of prematore age may be effectually obliterated by using Buckingham's Dye for the whiskers. It colors uniformly, and always gives satisfaction.

Senator Gorman of Maryland urges that it would be wise for Mr. Carlisle to abandon the speakership, and take the floor of the house as a leader of his party, which is sadly in need of one, but Carlisle calls the suggestion ridiculous.

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous your wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

—Demagogues should consider this saying of Lincoln: "You can fool some of the people all the time, and you can fool all of the people some of the time, but you cannot fool all the people all the time."

The worst feature about catarrh is its dangerous tendency to consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarrh by purifying the blood.

—"Robert, dear, how do you suppose those dozens and dozens of empty bottles ever got into our cellar?" "Why, I don't know, my dear. I never bought an empty bottle in my life."

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," so they all say, and their husbands say so too!

—Dr. Schaeffer, of Washington, asserts solemnly that walking on railroad ties is fine exercise and conducive to health. This will lighten the hearts of many theatrical people.

Will be found an excellent remedy for sick headache. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

THE CENTURY MAGAZINE.

WITH the November, 1887, issue THE CENTURY commences its thirty-fifth volume with a regular circulation of almost 250,000. The War Papers and the Life of Lincoln increased its monthly edition by 100,000. The latter history having recounted the events of Lincoln's early years, and given the necessary survey of the political condition of the country, reaches a new period, with which his secretaries were most intimately acquainted. Under the caption

Lincoln in the War,

the writers now enter on the more important part of their narrative, viz: the early years of the War and President Lincoln's part therein.

Supplementary War Papers,

following the "battle series" by distinguished generals, will describe interesting features of army life, tunneling from Libby Prison, narratives of personal adventuae, etc. General Sherman will write on "The Grand Strategy of the War."

Kennan on Siberia.

Except the Life of Lincoln and the War Articles, no more important series has ever been undertaken by THE CENTURY than this of Mr Kennan's. With the previous preparation of four years' travel and study in Russia and Siberia, the author undertook a journey of 15,000 miles for the special investigation here required. An introduction from the Russian Minister of the Interior admitted him to the principal mines and prisons, where he became acquainted with some three hundred State exiles,—Liberals, Nihilists, and others,—and the series will be a startling as well as accurate revelation of the exile system. The many illustrations by the artist and photographer, Mr. George A. Frost, who accompanied the author, will add greatly to the value of the articles.

A Novel by Eggleston

with illustrations, will run through the year. Shorter novels will follow by Cable and Stockton. Shorter fictions will appear every month.

Miscellaneous Features

will comprise several illustrated articles on Ireland, by Charles DeKay; papers touching the field of the Sunday-School Lessons, illustrated by E. L. Wilson; wild Western life, by Theodore Roosevelt; the English Cathedrals, by Mrs. van Rensselaer, with illustrations by Pennell; Dr. Buckley's valuable papers on Dreams, Spiritualism, and Clairvoyance; essays in criticism, art, travel, and biography; poems: cartoons; etc.

By a special offer the numbers for the past year (containing the Lincoln history) may be secured with the year's subscription from November, 1887, twenty-four issues in all, for $6.00, or, with the last year's numbers handsomely bound, $7.50.

AS DAYS GO DOWN THE WEST.

As days go down the west, and tender stars
All rimmed about with heavens blue come forth
And set their lightships in the trackless sea
Whose highways stretch away from south to north,
I think how days have risen in the east
And flashed like meteors from hill to hill,
Set full of sunny hours, till evening came
To close them like rose petals soft and still.

And that my work but poorly hath been done,
And that my day in idleness hath set,
With saddened eyes I look into the west
And watch it pass away with keen regret.
Those precious moments lost in dreaming mood,
Those perfect hours forever past me by!
Small wonder that new stars are blurred with tears,
And old days wafted heavenward with a sigh.

DIFFERENT KINDS OF ATHLETICS.

What the Gymnasium is Doing—Reducing One Sided Development.

What the gymnasium is doing for the strength and vigor of the masses in some of our institutions of learning may be inferred from a single illustration taken from the records at Harvard university.

In the year 1880, 776 men were physically examined. The strongest man out of this number showed in strength of lungs, back, legs, chest and arms, as indicated on the chart, a grand total of 675.2. At the close of the summer term of the present year the highest strength test recorded was 1,272.8, and there were over 200 men in college whose total strength test surpassed the highest test of 1880. This general gymnasium work is therefore reducing the one sided development once so common with athletic specialists.

It must not be forgotten, however, that there is a development peculiar to the runner, jumper, wrestler, oarsman, gymnast, ball player, heavy lifter, etc., and any one familiar with athletics at the present day can easily recognize one of these specialists. The same training that produced those matchless specimens of human development embodied in the statues of the Gladiator, the Athlete, Hercules, Apollo and Mercury of old, would produce the same results under similar circumstances at the present time.

With every kind of physical exercise, the qualities at first required are the qualities at length developed. Speed and endurance are required of the runner, and these are the qualities that come to him by practice. In a like manner, skill and activity come to the gymnast and ball player; and strength and stability to the oarsman and weight thrower. Most of these qualities are accompanied by physical characteristics. If it were not for the recognized tendency of certain exercises to produce certain results, it would be impossible to prescribe special work for individual cases. All men, however, who practice athletics for the same length of time and under similar conditions do not attain identical results in their physical proportions or the same degree of success in their athletic achievements.

In order to illustrate some of the distinguishing features that characterize the development of successful athletes, I have selected representative members of the different athletic organizations in the universities of Yale and Harvard, a few of whom distinguished themselves, within the last two years, by breaking all previous college records for certain events. The photographs of these men, in spite of their dissimilarity, show us certain characteristics common to certain figures, and marked peculiarities of another kind will accompany others. Some of these characteristics are not readily detected by the eye, but appear distinctly in the charts.—D. A. Sargent, M. D., in Scribner's Magazine.

Irish Pest Bogs and Beggars.

A tourist correspondent writes as follows concerning the peat bogs of Ireland: "There are low lying fields where the turf has been compacted by time until the best or blackest peat is well along toward a coal formation. This substance is cut with a long, sharp spade into little blocks that are left to dry in the sun; and the present drought has given the best season for curing peat that this land has had for a score of years. Each little cabin has its pile of peat as symmetrically arranged as a New England wood pile. The tenants of the estates are permitted to cut peat sufficient for their own modest wants. We saw the inside of several cabins, with their turf fire, the little black pot, the table, a chair or two, and the dresser or shelves, with the pathetically small, carefully cherished array of china. There is one room or mote, with the contracted loft above, the pigs, the chickens and cow in the front yard—and here Patrick or Michael rears his sturdy brood. These are the 'bog trotters.' The mother will gladly sell you a glass of milk with a dash of whisky or 'potheen' in it—drink fit for a king. The children—well, they will probably run tirelessly after the traveler, holding out appealingly little bunches of wild flowers, and the mongrel dog of the family races in the midst of the group, barking and taking the liveliest general interest in the proceedings. The little beggars are rosy, quick witted and very ragged, but the neat national school houses that stand at fixed intervals along the way are teaching these children how to read."—Springfield Republican.

Civil Service Reform Abroad.

During a recent sitting of the council general of the Bouches du Rhone, a committee appointed to examine the finances found that 800 francs a year was paid to the "guardians of the tower." Investigation showed that the tower had been suppressed since 1867; a total, therefore, of 16,000 francs having been paid for guarding nothing for twenty years. At St. Cloud an employe of the palace still received a salary for waxing the floor. The palace was bombarded into ruins in 1870.—New York Sun.

Waste of Tissue Without Repair.

Vigor begins to decline when dyspepsia invades the stomach. The disease, prolonged through neglect, entails grievous loss of flesh and serious waste of the muscular tissue. To invigorate thoroughly and speedily, a sound stomachic is required. There is none comparable to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, since they institutes, and if continued, perpetuates a repair of the tissues, which have declined in bulk, vigor and elasticity in consequence of non-assimilation of the food. No time should be lost in beginning the reparative process, nor should there be any delay in removing those ailments of frequent occurrence, which contribute to and foster an enfeebled condition of the stomach and nerves, viz.: constipation and liver complaint, disorders which the bitters will assuredly extinguish. It also remedies and prevents malaria and kidney troubles, and is a prime auxiliary in the recovery of strength for convalescents from wasting disease.

James E. Quinn, the notorious master workman of the notorious district assembly Forty-nine, Knights of Labor, of New York, has been arrested for assaulting a Tribune reporter. Ex-members of the assembly say it is ruled by roughs and desperadoes.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

It is reported that the British consul at Genoa has received instructions to rent a villa at San Remo for Queen Victoria, from the month of January. San Remo is where the crown prince of Germany, her son-in-law, is living.

There is no doubt about the honest worth of Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Thousands, who have been benefitted by its use, will attest its virtues. This remedy cures liver and kidney complaint, and eradicates every trace of disease from the system.

A serious accident occurred at Wilton on the 1st inst., caused by the breaking of an elevator, instantly killing a young lad by the name of Levine, and seriously injuring another named Poro.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet were found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters, which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism.—Exchange.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. mon,wed,satu.

I give honor to whom it is due. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me of Bright's Disease and Gravel. Four of the best physicians had failed to relieve me. ST. NICHOLAS

For Young Folks.

SINCE its first issue, in 1873, this magazine has maintained, with undisputed recognition, the position it took at the beginning,—that of being the most excellent juvenile periodical ever printed. The best known names in literature were on its list of contributors from the start,—Bryant, Longfellow, Thomas Hughes, George MacDonald, Bret Harte, Bayard Taylor, Frances Hodgson Burnett, James T. Fields, John G. Whittier; indeed the list is so long that it would be easier to tell the few authors of note who have not contributed to "the world's child magazine."

The Editor, Mary Mapes Dodge,

Author of "Hans Brinker; or, The Silver Skates," and other popular books for young folks,—and for grown-up folks,—too, has a remarkable faculty for knowing and entertaining children. Under her skillful leadership, ST. NICHOLAS brings to thousands of homes on both sides of the water knowledge and delight.

St. Nicholas in England.

It is not alone in America that ST. NICHOLAS has made its great success. The London Times says: "It is above anything we produce in the same line." The Scotsman says: "There is no magazine that can successfully compete with it."

The Coming Year of St. Nicholas.

The fifteenth year begins with the number for November, 1887, and the publishers can announce: Serial and Short Stories by Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, Frank R. Stockton, H. H. Boyesen, Joel Chandler Harris, J. T. Trowbridge, Col. Richard M. Johnston, Louisa M. Alcott, Professor Alfred Church, William H. Rideing, Washington Gladden, Harriet Prescott Spofford, Amelia E. Barr, Frances Courtenay Baylor, Harriet Upton, and many others. Edmund Alton will write a series of papers on the "Routine of the Republic,"—how the President works at the White House, and how the affairs of the Treasury, the State and War Departments, etc., are conducted; Joseph O'Brien, a well-known Australian journalist, will describe "The Great Island Continent"; Elizabeth Robins Pennell will tell of "London Christmas Pantomimes" (Alice in Wonderland, etc.); John Burroughs will write "Meadow and Woodland Talks with Young Folk," etc., etc. Mrs. Burnett's short serial will be, the editor says, a worthy successor to her famous "Little Lord Fauntleroy," which appeared in ST. NICHOLAS.

Why not try St. Nicholas this year for the young people in the house? Begin with the November number. Send us $3.00, or subscribe through booksellers and newsdealers. The Century Co. 33 East 17th St. New-York.

If you have abused your Stomach by eating or drinking too much, or of the wrong kind of food or liquid, you will suffer because your Stomach is angry. Now beware of all temporary expedients. TRY that never-failing, safe Remedy, Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

For Sale by all Druggists. Price 25 cts. per box; 3 boxes for 65 cts.; or sent by mail, postage free, on receipt of price. Dr. J. H. Schenck & Son, Philad'a.

"He that lacks time to mourn, lacks time to mend." The better way is to take a pain in time, fight it daily and hourly with Salvation Oil, and not have any time to mourn about. You can buy this splendid remedy for twenty-five cents a bottle at any drug store.

The combined freight and passenger station of the White Mountain division of the Boston & Lowell railroad at Woodsville was burned last Friday morning, with its contents, consisting of freight and express matter. Assistant Superintendent Mann had an office in the building, and all his books and papers are destroyed. The loss on building is small, but is quite heavy on freight and express matter. Many valuable records and papers were burned.

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring, buzzing sound, are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

MONDAY DECEMBER 5, 1887.

Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N. H. as second-class matter.

☞ Copies of the GAZETTE and of the DAILY CHRONICLE can be had of Moses Brothers, at their Newspaper Store in Congress Block.

A Doubtful Statement.

In the financial column of the Boston Advertiser, a director of the Boston & Lowell railroad is quoted as saying in regard to the recent contention in our legislature, "Gov. Sawyer had all along been counted upon as the surest factor in the desired legislation, having personally encouraged the Maine people."

We incline to think the latter part of the paragraph is incorrect. All the encouragement on the part of the Maine people, as generally conceded, was the fact that the governor was a director in three of the railroad corporations leased to the Boston & Maine road, and was a large shareholders in one of these roads. We have heard it affirmed that upon the question of approving the act the Boston & Maine managers, with a regard for the proprieties of the situation and the dignity of the office, in no manner conferred with the executive.

Not so with their rivals in the contest. As the decisive vote in the senate was nearing, the Concord interest secured the services of the strongest men who were thought to be able to influence the governor. The arguments urged were political, legal and personal. More than one of these picked men had an ulterior object in the result of the veto, the effects of which it was foreseen would remove any possibility of the commander-in-chief appearing as a formidable rival in future political nominations in his part of the state. The pressure was intense. The retainers were of the highest order. Indeed, as Mr. Pearson remarked, "They come high, but we must have them." And it was by means of their efforts that the desired result was achieved. The governor may in a general way have given a favorable opinion as to the necessity of such a law as the Hazen bill would have been had it received his signature, but the personal "encouragement" was implied, not expressed.

President Sadi-Carnot.

M. Grevy's resignation of the presidency of the French republic on the 2d inst., forced by the disgraceful disclosures of corruption in high places and among his friends, has not turned out to be the serious blow to republicanism in France which friends of the republic feared it might prove. Great excitement existed in Paris during the week, increasing hour by hour, but the police and military were able to prevent any serious outbreaks.

On Saturday afternoon, the 3d, at 2:15 o'clock, the first ballot for a new president was taken in the assembly, and resulted as follows: M. Sadi-Carnot, 303; M. Ferry, 212; General Saussier, 149; M. Freycinet, 75; General Appert, 72; M. Brisson, 26; other candidates, 26.

On the second ballot M. Freycinet and M. Ferry withdrew in favor of M. Sadi-Carnot, and he was elected by the following vote: M. Pyat 1, Gen. Appert 5, M. Freycinet 5, M. Ferry 11, Gen. Saussier 186, M. Sadi-Carnot 616.

The election of M. Sadi-Carnot without any disturbance worth mentioning, affords a most gratifying proof of the innate strength of the republic, and the confidence of the French people therein.

The Prohibition Vote.

The Providence Journal says: "A short time ago much the same uncertainty was felt with regard to the future of the prohibitory vote as with regard to the possibilities of the labor party. But the breaking up of the latter now seems assured, while the former, despite many roseate predictions, is unquestionably on the decline. The Indianapolis Journal has taken the trouble to collect and tabulate the exact figures in this regard, setting forth the gains and losses of the distinctively prohibition vote in the chief elections of this autumn. From these figures it appears that though the prohibitory party has made some marked increase, as in New York and Nebraska, yet the total gain throughout the country is only 8357, as against a total loss of 55,765. The net loss of 47,408 seems clearly to indicate that the belief in the necessity of a third party to restrict the liquor traffic by a specific method is losing ground. It is worthy of note, too, that the vanishing of the prohibitory vote is most conspicuous in those states where the republican party, without going to the length of the prohibitionists' demands, has taken open and decided ground against the liquor evil. The meaning of these facts is obvious. A third party, devoted exclusively to the suppression of intemperance, and that, too, by the least successful method, can only hold together until one of the regular parties shows itself willing to undertake the needed reform by practical and efficient methods of regulation."

The 50th Congress assembles to-day.

The first number of The Press, a new one-cent daily paper of New York, was issued Dec. 1st. It is very similar to the Sun in size and appearance, but not in politics, being squarely republican. The first issue gives good promise of the addition of an able advocate of the republican cause to the journals of New York city.

The Season for January contains a review of novelties and fancy work, richly illustrated; three colored plates; national costume pictures; 179 illustrations of dress and needlework; twenty-six flat paper patterns; nine embroidery designs, and five initial letters; all of the newest fashion and most elegant design. The Season is published by the International News Company, No. 31 Beekman street, New York, and for sale by all news dealers, price thirty cents per number.

The Scientific American, published by the great patent agency firm of Munn & Co., New York, is the most practically useful publication of its kind in the country. Indeed, it occupies a field distinctively its own. Not alone for the machinist, manufacturer, or scientist, but it is a journal for popular perusal and study. It is standard authority on scientific and mechanical subjects. It is placed at a very low rate of subscription, $3 per annum, which places it within the reach of all. Subscriptions will be received at the office of this paper.

Elvin Newton received on Saturday from Eastport twenty barrels of frozen herring, and from Cape Cod thirty barrels. On Sunday the Northern Eagle brought in 5000 lbs. of fish, and the Rising Star 10,000 lbs.; bought by Newton at $2.25 per hundred lbs.

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Barroughs, of 348 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

AT MUSIC HALL TO-NIGHT.

This evening, at Music hall, George W. Monroe and John C. Rice, assisted by competent support, will present the musical farce-comedy "My Aunt Bridget." Mr. Monroe is excellent as an Irish comedian, and Mr. Rice as a dancer and in light comedy, and with their superior company have been everywhere well received in their new and amusing piece. Tickets at Goodrich's bookstore.

PROBATE COURT.

The probate court was in session at the court house in this city on Saturday, Judge Leavitt presiding. A decree was made putting Downs & Co. of this city into insolvency, and Sheriff Coffin was appointed messenger to take charge of the property. The counsel for Downs & Co. made an appeal from the judge's decision.

Lizzie Murphy, drunk, fine $3, costs $6.90; county farm.

Julia Carey, drunk, fine $3, costs $6.90; jail.

A REALLY GOOD SHOW.

Burton & Burke's minstrels, with Prof. Burton's $10,000 dog circus, had but a small audience at Franklin theatre on Friday evening, although a full house was deserved, for the combination gave an excellent entertainment, and went honestly through the programme notwithstanding the meagerness of the attendance. Prof. Burton's dog show had been here before, when it was very fine; this time it was still better. The music by the orchestra was very pleasing, there was some good singing and excellent clog-dancing, and the contortion act was never excelled here. Every one of the performers added merit to the performance, which as a whole was first class.

BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATIONS.

At the recent annual meeting of the Portsmouth Howard Benevolent society the officers of last year were re-elected, as follows: President, Edward P. Kimball; secretary, Lewis W. Brewster; treasurer, George Annable; directors, Benjamin Cheever, Samuel S. Green, John H. Broughton, J. Chaplin Carr, Wm. D. Fernald, John S. Rand, T. E. O. Marvin, Charles H. Mendum, John T. French, Charles E. Batchelder, Wm. G. Billings, Joseph H. Thacher. The disbursements for charity during the past year amounted to $1466.25.

The annual election of the trustees and officers of Faith Home was held Friday evening, Nov. 18th, and resulted in the re-election of the old board, as follows: Cornell S. Franklin, Esq., C. E. Myers, Esq., Mrs. Dr. Ryder, Miss Cutter, Mrs. Knight, Rev. Henry E. Hovey and Rev. Alfred Elwyn. Mr. Franklin was re-elected president, Mr. Myers treasurer, and Mrs. Ryder secretary. The institution is on a firm basis, out of debt, and without solicitation, continues to find help and supporters, relying wholly upon a Providence that never deserts it. A resolution of thanks and a gift of $20 was presented to Mrs. Abbott, the present efficient governess, who will soon resign.—Journal.

Some of the ladies interested in the Children's Home are to give an entertainment at Franklin hall on Monday evening, Jan. 2d, for the benefit of the home. The entertainment will consist of vocal and instrumental music, recitations and tableaux, after which there will be dancing for all who wish. Supper will be served during the evening.

"VICTOR DURAND."

The audience at Music hall on Saturday evening, when the James F. Crossen Co. presented the romantic drama "Victor Durand," was about as small as it could be, and be called an audience at all. Saturday night and a play of which little was known, added to the fact that shows have been coming along pretty thickly of late, account for the very light attendance. The piece is something after the "Banker's Daughter" or "Galley Slave" style, with a plot not too intricate to be easily followed and seen through. There is an escaped convict, innocent of the murderous assault and robbery of which he was convicted, and married under an assumed name to the betrothed of the victim; a successful rascal, the real criminal; a bluff doctor, etc., and an English swell with a diary and a terrible drawl, who furnishes the comedy element, and makes things come out all right at the end. The ladies' toilettes were very handsome, and the play was well acted, and well received by the few who saw it; and with even a fair audience in the hall we think it would have been highly successful.

PERSONAL.

In the list of United States pensions granted Dec. 3d is the name of Edwin A. Tilton, Portsmouth. Glad of it. We supposed Bro. Tilton had a pension long ago; should have had, anyway.

The marriage of Miss Jeanne Appleton Stott, daughter of Major Charles A. Stott, to Mr. Frank Whitehouse Howe, is announced to take place at St. Anne's church in Lowell on the 14th inst.

The Boston Sunday Globe of the 4th inst. says: "Miss Edith Wendell, pupil of Mme. Edna Hall, sang at Salem with Max Heinrich last Tuesday evening, with marked success. She has a very clear, high soprano voice and sings with wonderful ease. Her success was very marked."

MARITIME NOTES.

Schooner Kolen, Libby master, hence for Machias, was run into off Seguin on the night of the 30th ult. by a lumber laden schooner, and had her starboard bow badly stove, head gear carried away, and cathead and windlass broken; arrived at Portland on the 1st inst.

The schooner Lucy Amelia, which brought a cargo of potatoes to this port, and has been lying at the Spring market wharf several weeks, sailed for Eastport, Me., Dec. 3d, with a load of apples.

The schooner Lizzie J. Call, Call master, arrived in New York on the 1st inst. after a good run of forty-seven hours from the Kennebec.

Steamer Harrisburg, Albertson master, arrived on Saturday from Philadelphia with 1666 tons coal to J. Albert Walker.

The small schooner D. W. Hammond, of Rockland, Flanders master, before reported as having arrived at Portland with loss of anchors and chains, after being ashore, had a very narrow escape. She left this port on the 30th ult. for Rockland with twenty barrels of flour, twenty barrels of fire clay, 500 fire brick, a quantity of sugar and some other articles; and that night, as the wind was blowing a gale, attempted to make Portland harbor. The mainsail soon split, and next the jib was blown from the boltropes, making the schooner unmanageable; the anchors were let go, but the chains parted, and the vessel went ashore bow on between two big rocks which kept her upright, and so near Portland light that the lightkeeper threw them a rope from shore, by means of which they landed their effects and themselves in safety. She was pulled off next day by a tug, and towed into Portland harbor, very little damaged.

The lumber laden schooner which was in collision off Seguin with the schooner Kolon, from this port for Machias, and which it was feared had gone down with all hands, was the Palestine, bound from Calais for New York, and was towed into Portland on the 3d inst. by a fishing schooner, having lost bowsprit and all headgear.

The vestry of St. John's church, as recently enlarged by the efforts of some of the ladies of the parish, was occupied for the first time last Sunday. It is very greatly improved over what it was formerly.

The Universalist church was filled on Sunday evening, when a memorial service was held in honor of the late John B. Finch, R. G. T., under the auspices of Strawberry Bank Lodge, I. O. G. T., of this city. There was a large attendance of members of the various temperance organizations, and the services were very interesting. The pastor, Rev. Lee H. Fisher, P. C. T. of the order, delivered an address on "The life and work of John B. Finch as a Good Templar and prohibitionist;" there was singing by the P. J. C. male quartette; and the Music Hall orchestra, assisted by Mr. A. N. LaBrie at the organ, furnished instrumental music.

At the service in the Unitarian church, Sunday evening, Rev. Alfred Gooding, the pastor, read a very interesting paper on the ancient cathedral town of Chester, England. Next Sunday evening he will read a similar paper on the cathedral town of York.

Madame Janauschek is to-day without question, the greatest tragic actress upon the American stage and the only confessed legitimate successor of Rachel and Ristori. Although she has been extolled almost beyond precedent by even the most conservative papers of the larger cities, the very perfection of her forcible impersonations disarm criticism and leaves her standing alone and imperious, without a peer, without a rival, without even an attempt to imitate her emotional methods in the impersonations of the various characters which she assumes. Her recent engagements in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago were of such a successful nature as to rise to the dignity of an ovation. During her serson at Washington, the National Intelligencer said:

The week at the Opera House has been rendered memorable by the farewell engagement of Madame Janaushek. For many years she has been in our midst, the most powerful and impressive exponent of legitimate tragedy since Charlotte Cushman. The melancholy fire of those mysterious eyes, the low and awe compelling tones of that deep and vibrant voice, grandiose and imperious poise and gesture will long remain in our memories as a noble and ideal embodiment of lofty tragical conception. So too the beneficence of her work will long survive her departure, for the influence she has exercised upon our dramatic art has been wholly good and elevating, at a time when such influence was most needed. The first four nights of the week were devoted to "Meg Merrilies," in a version somewhat differing from that of Miss Cushman and Miss Anderson, yet in some respects an improvement. From the effective tableau of her entrance to the awful climax of her death she holds the audience spell-bound with all her old time powerr

The tug-of-war team of the Portsmouth Athletic club went to Cambridge, Mass., last Friday, to contest for prizes in a tournament with ten other teams. We believe they did not capture any prize.

A horse recently changed owners four times in one day in this city, and yet sometimes we hear of people who call Portsmouth a dull place for trade. They belong to the class who do not advertise.

A flock of fifty or more wild geese, flying very low, passed over this city Sunday morning, going south. The weather in the high northern latitudes must have been unusually mild this fall.

Mr. George W. Hersey thinks his pig, which was killed on Saturday, will stand comparison with others in the city. It was littered on May 16th, and dressed 310 lbs.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some scaly manifestation of such a skin disease, that, if not treated properly, often develops into a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to cut short the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence it is a mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance,—a skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston, Mass.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently treated by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the entire approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and preventing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1.

They say these pretty new traveling satchels provide every thing a tourist could want, but thoughtful people consider them very incomplete, inasmuch as there is no space allowed for a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

In Darlington county, S. C., Dec. 1st, Fred Edwards was whipping one of his children when his wife interfered, and he began beating her. John Edwards, his son, sixteen years old, took a gun and fired, intending to shoot his father. He killed his mother and fatally injured his sister, while the brute of a father escaped with slight wounds.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness and give strength and rest. Try them.

All members of the Austrian Reichsrath who are school teachers have been ordered to give up their school duties for the whole period for which they have been elected, on the ground that education and politics should be kept separate.

I have been afflicted with catarrh for 20 years. It became chronic and there was a constant dropping of mucous matter. It extended to my throat, causing hoarseness and great difficulty in speaking, indeed for years I was not able to speak more than thirty minutes, and often this with great difficulty. I also, to a great extent, lost the sense of hearing in the left ear, and of taste. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm all dropping of mucous has ceased and my voice and hearing has greatly improved.—Jas. W. Davidson, Attorney at law, Monmouth, Ill.

Arthur O'Keefe, of Philadelphia, surrendered himself to the police last week, and confessed that he was the murderer of Octavius Cate, one of the most prominent colored men of that city, who was killed sixteen years ago during an election excitement.

A woman who is weak, nervous and sleepless, and who has cold hands and feet, cannot feel and act like a well person. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness, and give strength and rest.

The national committee of the prohibition party met at Chicago last week, and Samuel Dickey, of Albion, Michigan, was elected chairman to succeed the late John B. Finch. It was decided to hold the national convention the first Wednesday in June, in Indianapolis.

The strike against the Philadelphia & Reading railroad is declared off, and the difficulty is to be settled by arbitation.

The President

Of the Bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: "Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from catarrh and liver complaint. I lost forty-five pounds, and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine; but hearing your bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me." —Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

William H. Dorsey, the colored thief who stole diamonds from two houses in New York, has been sent to prison for nineteen years.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK HEADACHE, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD ACHE they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

"Get the Best" HOP PLASTERS

A Custom in Somerset.

By a farmer's door I found a tall branch of oak lying against the porch. The bark was dry, and the leaves were shriveled, but the bough had been originally taken green from the tree. These boughs are discovered against the door on the morning of the 29th of May, and are in memory of the escape of King Charles from his enemies by hiding in an oak. The village ringers leave them, and then go the church and ring a peal, for which they expect cider or small coin from each loyal person honored with an oak branch. Another custom, infinitely more ancient, is that of singing to the apple trees in early spring, so that the orchards may be induced to bear a good crop. The singers come round and visit each orchard; they have a rhyme specially for the purpose, part of the refrain of which is that a cup of good cider cannot do any one harm, a hint which brings out a canful.—Richard Jefferies in English Illustrated Magazine.

The Chewing Gum Habit.

Victims of the chewing gum habit—a most detestable one, by the way—sometimes apologize for the practice by asserting that it is wholesome, and is an actual aid to digestion. Any well informed physiologist will deny this at once. Chewing gum produces a flow of saliva into the stomach at a time when it is not needed by that organ. This saliva burdens the stomach and forces it to abnormal action to get rid of it, and at the same time the salivary glands are robbed of the secretion, and obliged to do double work to produce the saliva necessary for mastication and digestion. So far as the stomach is concerned, chewing gum is as injurious as chewing tobacco.—Globe Democrat.

Freight from California.

During August there were 2,000 freight cars required to carry California shipments to the east. The amount carried, in pounds, was 40,000,000, and of that enormous quantity over one-half, 20,500,000 pounds, consisted of green, dried and canned fruit. The railroads carried 10,000,000 pounds of sugar and 5,000,000 pounds of the tea. The last article was imported, of course, and transhipped, as was also part of the remainder of the 40,000,000 pounds.—San Francisco Examiner.

The Magician on the Corner.

Jones—I say, Smith, I saw a great magician last night. He could give you lemonade, or any drink you wanted, out of a white high hat.

Smith—That's nothing; we've got a grocer on our corner who can give you thirty-five, forty, and forty-five cent butter out of the same tub.—Harper's Bazar.

The Clerk Had Been There.

Experienced Drygoods Clerk—Ladies, have you seen this pattern elsewhere?

Ladies—No; we came to you first of all.

E. D. C.—Then you will pardon me if I decline to show it to you, for if you have just begun shopping you will not buy here.—Fliegende Blaetter.

Skating Rinks in Australia.

With $30,000 capital a Connecticut man went to Australia a year and a half ago and put his money into skating rinks. It is said that he now owns fourteen, and that they net him $75,000 a year.—Chicago Herald.

Our Women Workers.

Three million women in the United States work for money. Of these 600,000 are agricultural laborers, mainly in the cotton fields of the south; 640,000 are employed in the manufactories of various kinds, while 530,000 in the laundries of the country insist that the "Chinese must go;" 280,000 are milliners, and 200,000 find employment as dressmakers; 69,000 earn their bread in the tailor shops, and 690,000 are saleswomen, teachers, telegraph operators, typewriters, bookkeepers, typesetters and nurses, and many other occupations find small numbers a living. There are in round numbers 2,500 female physicians.—Chicago News.

Glassblowers' Checks.

Glassblowers' checks become thin and lose their elasticity by the continued blowing. They hang down like inverted pockets and grow useless. It is a matter of record, it is said, that both here and in Europe glass workers have blown holes through their cheeks.—New York Sun.

A Stream of Logs.

Homestake mine, near Deadwood, has a railroad twenty-two miles long to the pineries where fuel is obtained, and the road ends at the top of a high hill just above the mill. Here the wood is dumped into a chute made of heavy logs lined with iron. The logs descend with tremendous velocity and on reaching the mouth of the chute leap out into the air, pass over the mill, and land some 250 feet from the foot of the bluff. For hours a perfect stream of logs passes over the heads of the men at work below, and to a newcomer it seems sufficiently dangerous, but no accident ever occurred and one soon gets over the nervous feeling. Five thousand cords of wood are piled at a time by this arrangement, which saves tens of thousands of dollars annually to the company, disposing of 80,000 cords a year without any cost for piling.—Chicago News.

It Cured His Deafness.

The newest patent cure is that of deafness by means of the balloon. Capt. Jovis, of Brussels, Belgium, having been deaf in his right ear for upward of fifteen years, made a balloon ascent a few weeks ago and pretends to be cured of deafness since then. One Dr. Chabot is engaged upon writing a report on the case, regarding which there does not seem to be room for the slightest doubt.—Chicago Herald.

The Retail Dealers' Coal Exchange of New York city on Friday night reduced the price of coal to consumers twenty-five cents per ton all round.

George A. Hoyt, president of the Pennsylvania Coal Co., was found dead in bed at Stamford, Conn., Dec. 4th.

Captain Howes of the bark Freeman, from Yokohama, which arrived at Boston on Saturday, was arrested, charged with killing one of his crew on the high seas. Captain Howes admitted the charge, but claimed that the act was done in self-defence.

Jumping Dog, an Indian who burned the Cheyenne agency a few days ago, was captured last Thursday night. Friday morning he attacked his guard and stabbed two of them to death with a pair of shears, and then committed suicide.

Negro disturbances continue in Atlanta, Georgia, with no apparent prospect of cessation. Shooting and stabbing melees are becoming mere details in daily history. The late liquor agitation has this for one of its unfortunate results.

Roman senators, Roman temples, Roman gods have all engaged the world's attention, but the nineteenth century has provided the greatest Roman of them all, Salvation Oil; it kills pain.

The English foreign office contradicts the statement that the queen intends to visit San Remo.

The favorite washing compound of the day is James Pyle's Pearline. It cleanses fabrics without injury and without laborious scrubbing necessary with ordinary soap. For sale by grocers.

Rev. R. K. Manaton, pastor of the Washington street Methodist church in Newburyport, has resigned in consequence of charges against him relative to a young lady of the congregation; both deny the story, and it is not generally believed.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

Col. Arthur L. Tottenham, member of the British parliament, died in New York on the 4th inst.

There is no doubt about the honest worth of Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Thousands, who have been benefitted by its use, will attest its virtues. This remedy cures liver and kidney complaint, and eradicates every trace of disease from the system.

Forty years ago James McIntire, then a young man, left his home in Newgarden township, Pa., and went to Mexico to participate in the Mexican war. A few days ago he reappeared at his old home, and was gratifyingly surprised on learning that he is heir to considerable money and an estate of 400 acres. He is seventy years old.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet were found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters, which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism.—Exchange.

Charles Seaman, aged fourteen, of Baltimore, started out with $80, a rifle, revolver and no end of cartridges, to kill buffalo on the plains. He reached Pueblo, Col., with all his outfit, but hungry and without money. Now he is willing to defer his hunting trip, and will be sent home to his mamma.

Lost and found. Found—That pain quickly disappears when a Hop Plaster is applied. Besides, they strengthen weak parts and do more good in one-quarter the time than any salve or lotion. Hop Plasters sold by druggists. 25 cents.

Lord Lyons, late British minister to France, is dead.

I give honor to whom it is due. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me of Bright's Disease and Gravel. Four of the best physicians had failed to relieve me. If your neighbor is selfish, hard, grasping, and suffering from a cold, don't waste words on him, but heap coals of fire on his head, by sending him a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

The statement that the Allan and Dominion lines of steamers are to make Baltimore their winter port instead of Portland, is pronounced untrue.

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring, buzzing sound, are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

TUESDAY DECEMBER 6, 1887.

The Fiftieth Congress.

The republican congressional caucus on Saturday evening nominated Thomas B. Reed of Maine for speaker of the house. The democratic caucus nominated John G. Carlisle of Kentucky for speaker, by acclamation, and A. B. Hart of Mississippi for doorkeeper, after a sharp contest.

On Monday, Dec. 5th, promptly at noon, both houses were called to order, the senate by President pro tem. Ingalls, the house by Clerk Clark. The vote for speaker of the house was—Reed 148, Carlisle 163. In the senate, the only papers objected to were those of Faulkner of West Virginia, which were referred; all the other senators were sworn in, including Turpie of Indiana, making the senate stand, for the present, thirty-eight republicans to thirty-six democrats, and one independent, Riddleberger. It was announced that the president's message would not be sent in until Tuesday.

Some of the democratic congressmen have reached Washington full of the determination that all internal revenue taxes shall be at once abolished.

Collector Saltonstall wants the Boston custom house enlarged. The democratic congressmen, however, contend that we are soon to have free trade, and custom houses will be full large enough for all that may be required of such relics of an unprogressive age.

The indications are that Mr. Samuel J. Randall, who has for some years past controlled the democratic party in the house of representatives at Washington, will continue the business at the old stand, and that any attempt to enact tariff legislation hostile to his views will prove utterly abortive.

It is said that some attempt will be made at the session of Congress just commenced to have our defenceless coast ports in some manner put in a condition of at least warlike aspect. The present administration it is understood, in case a foreign foe should seek to invade our shores, is in favor of a project to send out the collectors of customs to propose settlement of any international controversy by a commission. But even if Mr. Cleveland should be re-elected we might have a more belligerent secretary than Bayard or a better organizer than Endicott, and it is thought that a few dogs of war would not be amiss in any event.

The Concord correspondent of the Boston Advertiser regards the chances of the advocates of either the Colby or the Atherton measures, in the legislature or outside of it, as likely not to be heard of in the next gubernatorial or congressional nominations. He affirms that six months ago the republicans would have nominated Ex-Naval Officer Daniel Hall for Congress. But they dare not now. He was a Concord railroad agent. We doubt if Mr. Hall could have been nominated six months ago, had there been a convention then held. It would have been too much for Dover to have had at the same time a candidate for governor, United States senator and representative in Congress. Mr. Hall we believe is not desirous of running for Congress. He gave up that idea when he entered the railroad contest, a protracted combat which will for a long while prove a political cemetery of the hopes of many an ambitious patriot.

Naval Intelligence.

Boatswain J. B. F. Langton is ordered to the receiving ship Dale.

Lieut. Hobart L. Tremain is ordered to the New York navy yard.

Chief Engineer, W. S. Stamm was placed on the retired list Dec. 1st.

Passed Asst. Engr. W. M. Parks is ordered from the Richmond to the Atlanta.

Lieut. George C. Foulk is ordered from special duty in the navy department to the Asiatic squadron.

Commodore Schley, chief of the naval bureau of equipment, has reason to think that at last an anchor has been invented against which no objection can be offered. The principal feature of it is that its fluke revolves on the shank. On deck it will be stowed away in a comparatively small space, and when on the bottom it will hold where the anchor now in use could not. One of these anchors will be manufactured at the Boston equipment yard, and given a trial.

THE BELL ROPE'S OCCUPATION GONE.

The old-fashioned bell rope on passenger trains has outlived its usefulness as a means of communication from the conductor to the engineer. During the summer the Boston & Maine railroad company made tests of several electrical devices. Saturday afternoon a number of prominent men in railroad circles, those interested in electricity and representatives of the press, witnessed the practical workings of the electric train signal made by the Acme Railway Appliance Company of 12 Pearl street, Boston.

The party was given a special car on the Salem train that leaves the Haymarket Square station at 11.30 o'clock. Two wires run from a gong in the cab of the locomotive the length of the train, which form an open circuit. By closing the circuit by means of an electric button, located at either end of the cars, the conductor can give any desired signal to the engineer, and the coupling of the wires between the cars is so made that in case the train should break apart the engineer is at once notified of the accident by the continued ringing of the gong. The trial was a complete success.

RAILROAD ITEMS.

President Lowe, in his report of the board of directors of the Boston & Maine railroad, speaks of the bridge over "Sagamore creek" in this city, meaning the overhead bridge near Islington creek. The new manager should come this way oftener, and become more familiar with names of localities.

The Boston & Maine directors are moving in the matter of a new union station in Boston. There is need enough of it. The parcels room and ladies' waiting room at the Causeway street station are not half large enough for the wants of patrons. In the parcels room many articles are overlooked for want of a proper place for classification. By all means hasten the construction of the new edifice.

The York County Agricultural Society have voted to permanently locate the annual cattle show and fair at the grounds of the Saco & Biddeford Trotting Association in Saco. By this action the society has secured a gift of a thousand dollars' worth of stock from the citizens of Saco and owners of the land. The society will also subscribe an additional thousand dollars for stock. The Saco & Biddeford Trotting Association has stock subscriptions to the amount of $7000 with which to purchase land, and build a track and building. The grounds will be located on Worth street, Saco, on the line of the eastern division of the Boston & Maine railroad, and will be ready for holding the fair next fall.

The prohibitionists of the third congressional district have been called to meet in Waterville, Me., Jan. 3d, 1888, for the purpose of determining the time and place for holding the congressional convention; also to take steps to thoroughly organize the district.

It is now asserted that several attempts have been made to buy young Stain to keep him from testyfying against his father and Cromwell in the Dexter, (Me.) bank robbery case. The elder Stain, whose hair and beard are red, has used hair dye for a long time, and was quite dark when arrested; the law officers have ordered that he be allowed no hair dye while in jail, and his hair is beginning to show red, as it was at the time the robbery was committed. He complains bitterly of this as an outrage.

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well call'd "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Safe, pleasant, and certain in their action," is the concise testimony of Dr. George E. Walker, of Martinsville, Virginia.

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

All the negroes near Little Rock, Arkansas, have been warned to leave the district or suffer the penalty of dynamite. The trouble grew out of an altercation between a white man and a negro. The whites have threatened vengeance against the whole negro race in the vicinity. A negro church was recently burned, and it is believed that whites were the incendiaries. Twelve affrays have occurred, four of which ended fatally.

BURGLARS CAUGHT.

About midnight on last evening an attempt was made to enter the store of Edward S. Fay, by breaking the glass in one of the windows in the shoe store of Sylvester Wright, which is connected with Mr. Fay's store, and trying to open the window. Failing in this they next placed a board against the main store and attempted to gain an entrance through one of the windows there. It was discovered shortly after the attempt was made and officers started on the track of the thieves. They were arrested at the boarding house of Mrs. John Dwyer, on Market street, and brought to the station house, where they gave names of Edward Ricks and Patrick Carr. They are both young men one being about twenty, and the other twenty-eight. Capt. Hobbs thinks from the description of the men, that they are wanted in Massachusetts. We learn of this as we are going to press, and unable to give further particulars.

WASHINGTON'S PISCATAQUA RIVER EXCURSION.

The following is an extract from a letter dated Portsmouth, Nov. 5, 1789, written by Col. Cogswell, who was one of the thirteen gentlemen who, "dressed in the uniform of federal sailors," rowed the barge bearing President Washington around Portsmouth harbor and down the river at the time of his visit to New England in 1789. The letter, which was addressed to Col. Cogswell's wife, was never published until a short time since, when the following portion of it appeared in the New York Sun:

I had the high honor, with twelve others from neighbor towns, to be one who rowed the great red-and-white-and-blue striped barge around the harbor. Nature lent its best day for the occasion, said our town poet, though the wind came heavy out from the northeast before we got ashore again. We left the little wharf amid the acclaim of hundreds, who had stretched themselves, hand in hand, along the shore to honor the greatest and most beloved of mortal men. Old and young wept with joy and thankfulness as they looked at their grand deliverer.

As Gen. Sullivan had proposed that we should pass over our fishing grounds in our sail, hooks and lines were taken with us. Col. Hackett and I dug the clams after we were dressed in our uniforms, and it was fortunate we didn't dirty ourselves, but we didn't. After we passed the line of townspeople along the shore, in which I saw your uncle Ebenezer a waving his hat and hollowing like mad, we struck off to the big ledge and laid on our oars to fish. 'Squire Langdon got in the first line, as President Washington, God bless him and all of us, declined to let anybody bait his hook for him. Gen. Sullivan didn't fish, as something of a swell came up just as he had clammed his hook, and 'Squire Langdon pulled in a windfish, deprecating his luck as deacons do when they don't catch anything. Washington then had a jerk that almost upset the barge, and made a French officer who had come with us awful sick. But as soon as the hook got unhitched from the rocks it let go so sudden that Gen. Washington sat violently down, and upon the bait pipkin, happily without injury. He smiled as he rose.

The next fish was a pollak. General Washington caught it. There didn't seem to be any cod in the neighborhood. Mr. Nathaniel Stevens, of Boston, who managed the oar in front of me, vowed aloud enough for all on board to hear him that he believed the music in the boat that followed us and laid on their oars about 100 feet astern scared the fish, and if it would stop a playing we could catch something. It seemed that Elnathan Brown, who blowed the recorder, was trying to attract the attention of the distinguished passenger in our barge. He ought to have been spoken to before we started, for I do believe he really did frighten off all the fish that were worth the bait. I was a little mistaken, however, for just as we were asked to resume our oars something took the clam of Washington, and he lifted a half pound codfish into the boat, smiling as he took the barb out of its ear. Was it not too bad that he didn't hook a halibut?

So many got sick that we had to cut for Kittery. Joe, who was in the barge with the band, will tell you how he fared. Every one of the musicians except Brown was puking sick from the time we left the ledge for Kittery till we landed. I noticed that when President Washington bid us adieu on the shore at Kittery, that one of his eyes was bunged black and blue, and that he held his kerchief to it most of the time. Prescott thinks he jabbed a corner of 'Squire Langdon's hat into it when he was precipitated on the bait pipkin.

TOO BAD.

The Continental Life Ins. Co., of Hartford, Conn., for which the insurance commissioner of Connecticut has demanded that a receiver be appointed, is said to be even a worse wreck than was the Charter Oak Co. at the time of its collapse. Among the holders of policies in the Continental is Storer E. Stiles of this city, whose policy is an endowment one for $1000, on which he has paid over $700, and had but $74 more to pay, it maturing next year. This case is one of especial hardship, Mr. Stiles being a crippled veteran with a family to support, and unable to do manual labor.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Clara B. Kennard, Kennard master, of the brick fleet, arrived at this port on Saturday from Boston, and on Monday, while hauling into her winter berth, got foul with the four-masted schooner Eva B. Douglass, at Concord railroad wharf, and had her foremast head carried away.

The schooner Vicksburg, Kendall master, from New York for Bangor, put into the lower harbor on the 3d inst. in tow of tug Howell, having been in collision at Gloucester with schooner E. C. Babson. After remaining a few hours she proceeded for her destination.

The Knights of Pythias of Newington give grand entertainments in the town hall on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week, with ample refreshments, vocal and instrumental music, and other attractions, including readings by Mrs. G. H. Jenness.

The adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Machine company will be held at three o'clock this afternoon, at which time a report is expected from the committee of stockholders appointed at the last meeting.

Rev. D. P. Pike of Newburyport, the oldest pastor in that city, died Sunday morning, Dec. 4th, at the age of seventy-three years. He was born in Hampton, and educated at Hampton and Exeter academies; and his first sermon was preached in 1836. He was first settled in Hampton, then at Salisbury Point, Mass., and on Nov. 1st, 1840, in Newburyport, where he has ever since been an active preacher. He was several times candidate for mayor of Newburyport; served a term as member of the governor's council of Massachusetts, and for twenty-six years was deputy collector of customs at Newburyport. Besides his pastoral duties, he was for many years editor of the Herald of Gospel Liberty, and was also for a time editor and proprietor of the Christian Herald. He leaves a wife and three children.

A pamphlet giving simple, easily understood directions for the employment of easily applied and not costly measures for the restriction and prevention of diphtheria, has been issued by the state board of health for gratuitous distribution, and a copy will be sent to any person on application to the secretary of state at Concord by mail.

Landlord Safford of the Pepperell house, Kittery Point, is reported to have offered the Boston & Maine railroad one thousand dollars if that corporation will fill in its Spruce creek bridges, leaving a lock with which to control the tide. The idea is to control the water in Spruce creek for boating and sailing purposes. It is probable that parties owning property higher up the creek, and possibly others, might object to having the stream transformed into a boating pond.

PERSONAL.

Boatswain Isaac T. Choate, U. S. N., returns to his residence on Chapel street to-day after a long visit at Washington.

The marriage of Chief Constructor Theodore D. Wilson, U. S. N., and Miss Cora S. Hubbard, takes place on Wednesday, Dec, 7th.

The marriage of Miss Florence E. Mudge, daughter of Mr. George A. Mudge, to Mr. Daniel B. Cook of Kittery, is announced to take place Dec. 28th.

The sentence of the court martial in the case of Lieut. Emory H. Taunt, U. S. N., who was lately tried at New York on charges of absence without leave and other conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman, is understood to be dismissal, with a recommendation to mercy. The case has not yet been acted upon by the president. Those who have interested themselves in Lieut. Taunt's behalf since the papers reached Washington confidently expect that the court's recommendation to mercy will bring about a mitigation of sentence to a short suspension.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

The U. S. S. Constellation was hauled out on the ways at the head of the dry dock at this navy yard on Saturday.

A naval court martial was in session at the navy yard on Monday, trying a marine charged with permitting the escape of Richard D. Paine, the embezzling paymaster's clerk.

Lewis E. Staples is showing a full line of Stamped Linen goods, in Tidies, Splashers, Table Scarfs, etc., at low prices.

A new sidewalk approaching and over the south millbridge has recently been laid, and is a decided improvement.

CASABIANCA.

THE boy stood on the burning deck,
Whence all but he had fled;
He saw amid the cargo's wreck
A box, and, calling, said:

"Say, father, say if I may sit Upon this box and wait?"
And then without his sire's permit,
Down on that box he sate.

"Say, father," once again he cried,
"My patience is clean gone!"
And but the booming shots replied,
And fast the flames rolled on.

Then came a burst of thunder-sound—
The boy, oh! where was he?
Upon the box, high did he bound,
Then floated on the sea.

For 'twas a box of IVORY SOAP,
And buoyantly it bore
That gallant child, who ne'er lost hope,
Safe to the sandy shore.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Corticelli Wash Silk.
SOLD ONLY ON SPOOLS.
Color warranted not to "run," or to injure in any way the most delicate material in washing. For heavy outline embroidery use two threads, for lighter work use the thread singly. These goods are adapted to a wider range of art work than any yet offered for this purpose. The convenience of having this reliable brand on spools, rather than doubtful goods in skeins which tangle and become quickly shopworn, will be apparent to dealers and consumers. Sold by enterprising merchants, who can be supplied at our Agency, No. 18 Summer Street, Boston.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS.

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequaled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin's Piano Stringer was introduced by them in 1882, and has been pronounced by experts the "greatest improvement in pianos in half a century."

Can Pull Some, Too.

A decisive as well as amusing test of the relative towing power of two different types of steam launches was lately made at Newport, R. I. Commander W. B. Hoff, in command of the U. S. S. Ossipee, in a discussion at the naval war college recently, took occasion to criticise the Herreshoff steam launches, saying they were incapable of towing, and not as serviceable for this purpose as the old type of navy launch; that they were race horses only, while the old type were draught horses. A few days ago, however, Captain Bunce, commanding the U. S. S. Atlanta, ordered Commander Hoff to send down to the Atlanta the Ossipee's launch, which is the old navy type. The Atlanta's launch, a special make, being higher built all around, and with engines capable of developing about twice the pressure of the Ossipee's, was also brought out; and the two launches, being connected by a heavy hawser, stern to stern, and parting company, steamed away from each other, slowly at first, and then at full speed. As soon as the hawser tightened and the boats began to work against each other it was evident that the Atlanta's launch was to get the better of the Ossipee's, and her crew, perceiving their advantage, turned toward Rose Island at full steam, and the Ossipee's launch, being completely at the mercy of the Atlanta's, was drawn through the water as if she had no engine at all. In fact, the pressure against the screw of the Ossipee's launch as the boat was drawn backward through the water caused it to turn against its own direction, completely stopping the engines. Commander Hoff, who had been following in another old-style steam launch, was unable to keep up with the Atlanta's launch, even handicapped as the latter was. The result of this test shows not only that the Herreshoff launch can tow as well as race, but that a naval officer of long experience and high rank may be mistaken on a point in the direct line of his business.

"Mingo, and Other Sketches;" by Joel Chandler Harris, Boston: Ticknor & Co.

All the papers in this volume are compounded of laughter and sentiment, the latter element somewhat predominating. "Mingo" is an exquisite little sketch in which the poor whites, the quality, and the faithful old negro are finely contrasted. Mr. Harris' feeling for the negro character, beautifully exhibited in "Mingo," is shown again in the sketch of "Blue Dave." These two short pieces are most perfectly finished. "At Teague Poteet's" is a more elaborate story, dealing with the moonshiners of the Georgia mountains, and embracing an interesting dialect study as well as a striking picture of character.

George Bradford, who was knocked down and robbed in his saloon at Rochester on the 30th ult., had his saloon robbed of money and cigars on the night of the 1st inst.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness and give strength and rest. Try them.

Wallace Ross, the oarsman, sailed last week for London to row Bubear for $1,000 a side and the Sportsman challenge cup of England, in January.

J. B. Mason, Providence, R. I., suffered with pneumonia, accompanied with a dry cough, hoarseness and entire loss of voice. Physicians afforded him no relief. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry cured him, and he says it saved his life.

Bosch, the Australian oarsman, has resigned the championship and will retire from aquatics.

The President

Of the Bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: "Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from catarrh and liver complaint. I lost forty-five pounds, and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine; but hearing your bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me."—Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

T. S. Arthur's Method of Writing.

Mr. Arthur said of his manner of writing: "I do not construct a story. My plots and characters are not prearranged and individualized. I take one or two characters at some point in life, with the end but dimly foreshadowed—often not seen at all—and move forward with them. After that all is simply development, or simply living; nothing comes out as it seems to promise at any single point in the story, but everything is subject to unlooked for modifications and new relations, as if an intelligence more far seeing than my own was directing the issues of the lives I am portraying. New characters suddenly present themselves and take their places in the story, and become often the strongest and most influential. Frequently I do not see the outcome of my stories until near the close, and am often as curious to know what is to be the future of the characters as any reader can be, but rarely, if ever, am I disappointed in the final outcome of the story.

"My work—if I may use the word work—is always a growth. This being so, I have no abiding sense of skill. I never feel as if I had any power with my pen—never feel as if I could write anything. I often begin in weakness, forcing myself to take up my pen, while some dim ideal floats in my mind. To fix this and bring it down into living action seems an almost impossible thing; but as soon as I fix and localize, touch human life in its outward action somewhere, a sense of power is felt, and I seem to become the subject of new influences, and am often as much surprised at the result as any of my readers can possibly be."—D. L. Milliken in The Writer.

Sending Bivalves Over the Sea.

"Send oysters to England? I guess we do. We shipped 600 barrels last week and 1,000 barrels this week, and the season is only just opening," said an old oysterman to a reporter. "Last year we sent 103,000 barrels to Liverpool and Glasgow, and expect to send more than that number this year."

"How are they packed?"

"In barrels. Each one contains from 1,200 to 1,500 oysters, placed on edge and packed solidly, so that they cannot shift. We export Blue Points, Sounds and Rockaways mostly. They don't seem to have any preference on the other side, but take anything we choose to send them. It is only ten years since the export oyster trade began, and it has grown rapidly. Our oysters pay no duties on the other side, but have to compete with the native English oysters and also those imported from France."

"Are the English as fond of oysters as we are?"

"Bless you, no. At least, they don't eat them as we do. This city alone consumes more oysters than England, Scotland and Ireland, and nearly as many as the whole of Europe. The laboring classes over there scarcely know the taste of an oyster, and the middle classes only eat them on rare occasions, for they are considered a luxury. The aristocratic and wealthy classes are the only consumers."—New York Mail and Express.

An Englishman dressed in the height of fashion descended from a street car in Paris and inquired of a gentleman just passing the way to the Pantheon. "I am going there myself," was the response, "and shall be happy to show you the sights." His service was gladly accepted. Having done the Pantheon, the Englishman invited his French guide to settle accounts by accepting a lunch at the nearest cafe. Having eaten and drank his fill, the Frenchman took his departure and the Englishman called for the waiter to settle his account. The reckoning made, he put his hand into his pocket and uttered a terrible cry, screwed up a grimace yet more terrible, jumped up and upset half a dozen chairs and two tables, and, brushing past the guests and waiters, all dumb with astonishment, ran out into the street and cried at the top of his voice: "Stop, thief!" Thanks to the extraordinary development of his legs, he overtook his guide and grabbed him. Police enough had already been attracted to the spot, and they both were taken to the station. There a most amusing discovery was made. The French guide, it is true, had the Englishman's purse in his pocket, but his own was gone, and that was found in the Englishman's pocket. The two polite friends had been picking each other's pocket.—Chicago Herald.

The Bridge of Love.

The female barber, with a pair of tweezers, removes every outlying hair from the region of the lady's eyebrows. It is the ambition of every Persian woman that her eyebrows shall meet, or at least appear to do so. So attractive are eyebrows that meet that they are called the "bridge of love." The first care, then, of the Persian beauty is with a little pencil of antimony to unite her eyebrows, and then she proceeds to make them appear of unnatural thickness. Her eyelashes are penciled, too, in a manner not unknown to our countrywomen.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Our Indians Not Dying Out.

The Indians who still live on reservations in the state of New York are increasing in number. The popular impression that our Indians are dying out seems to be incorrect so far as it relates to Indians who have abandoned migratory life and become partly or wholly civilized. The Cherokees of the Indian territory have nearly doubled in number since 1810, and the remnant of the Six Nations, now settled on farms in Canada, numbers 8,000 souls.—Home Journal.

Artificial Rubber.

A St. Petersburg correspondent of an English paper calls attention to a new industry in that city—the manufacture of artificial caoutchouc. It is made of hare skins, rabbit skins, etc., which are cleansed and boiled down with 5 per cent. of glycerine.—New York Tribune.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some excoriating affection, such as milk crust, scall head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which makes life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence a mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance—skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty support of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

Waste of Tissue Without Repair.

Vigor begins to decline when dyspepsia invades the stomach. The disease, prolonged through neglect, entails grievous loss of flesh and serious waste of the muscular tissue. To invigorate thoroughly and speedily, a sound stomachic is required. There is none comparable to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, since they institutes, and if continued, perpetuates a repair of the tissues, which have declined in bulk, vigor and elasticity in consequence of non-assimilation of the food. No time should be lost in beginning the reparative process, nor should there be any delay in removing those ailments of frequent occurrence, which contribute to and foster an enfeebled condition of the stomach and nerves, viz.: constipation and liver complaint, disorders which the bitters will assuredly extinguish. Its also remedies and prevents malarial and kidney troubles, and is a prime auxiliary in the recovery of strength for convalescents from wasting disease.

James P. Cloggett of Nashua was knocked out of his wagon by a locomotive, Nov. 30th, and rendered insensible but not dangerously hurt. The wagon was ruined.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

Lively skirmishes have occurred between armed police boats and oyster pirates in Chespeake bay.

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, biliousness or constipation, you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable; small and easy to take. Don't forget this.

A man named Forgaty, prominent in the recent riots at Limerick, Ireland, was arrested while embarking for America.

There is no doubt about the honest worth of Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Thousands, who have been benefited by its use, will attest its virtues. This remedy cures liver and kidney complaint, and eradicates every trace of disease from the system.

A successful trial has been made of Lieut. Graydon's method of firing dynamite shells from service guns, at Sandy Hook.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet were found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters, which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism.—Exchange.

He is a young man who has followed coal mining for a living, but he intends to invest this money in a farm and establish himself for life.—Pueblo (Col.) Chieftain, Sept. 20th.

I give honor to whom it is due. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me of Bright's Disease and Gravel. Four of the best physicians had failed to relieve me. Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring, buzzing sound, are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

The Fiftieth Congress.

On Tuesday no business of importance was done in either house, both adjouring as soon as the president's message was read. The message is much shorter than is usual, and deals solely with the financial condition of the country, and the tariff.

The president sent the following nominations to the senate:

Lucius Q. C. Lamar of Mississippi, to be associate justice of the supreme court of the United States;

William F. Vilas of Wisconsin, to be secretary of the interior;

Don M. Dickinson of Michigan, to be postmaster-general;

Charles S. Fairchild of New York, to be secretary of the treasury;

George L. Rives of New York, to be assistant secretary of state;

Isaac H. Maynard of New York, to be assistant secretary of the treasury;

Sigourney Butler of Massachusetts, to be second comptroller of the treasury;

James W. Hyatt of Connecticut, to be treasurer of the United States.

A Good Shot.

Thousands of copies of an illustrated paper called the Christian Safeguard are being distributed about Boston in the interests of those who object to the regulations of the present authorities of that city in regard to preaching on the Common. They are being circulated by about 150 volunteers under the direction of Mr. H. L. Hastings, and the agitation, it is said, is neither controlled by nor connected with any political organization.

The latest issue shows on the first page two companion pairs of pictures. The first shows a brutal prize fight in progress, and the public presentation of a belt to the champion; while the second shows Rev. Mr. Davis preaching to a crowd on the Common, while its companion shows him seated in prison, the latter of each of the pairs bearing the inscriptions, "A belt for the champion," and "Charles-street jail for the Evangelist," respectively. Under the whole runs the legend, "How Boston honors prize fighters and preachers."

The children of darkness may be wiser in their generation than the children of light, but they do not often make a better pictorial hit than this.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY POINT, ME., Dec. 5th.

We had a beautiful sunset to-night, after the pouring rain storm of to-day. As the sun shone out from behind the clouds it illuminated the sails of three large vessels off the light, just making the harbor, and the picture was one of rare beauty.

The sea was quite rough this morning, and the constant roar of the waves on the beaches of Cutts' and Gerrish's islands could be plainly and incessantly heard; but the rain cut down the chop so it is now comparatively smooth.

Rev. Manning P. Tobey preached at the Christian chapel Sunday afternoon. His discourse was both instructive and interesting. He is very earnest in his work, and we wish him all success.

Mr. George H. Williams has returned to Great Falls, N. H., after a brief vacation.

The fish firm are very busy now. Two lots of fish are to be sent off to-day. The side track is now completed, and work has begun on the road that will connect the side track with the main road.

Mr. Albert Fernald is suffering from a severe attack of pleurisy.

The singing school was well attended to-night, considering the state of the roads. One young lady who supposed she was walking along safely by the side of a friendly stone wall, received quite a shock when she found herself seated in the road, with her book about three yards away in another direction. But thanks to the darkness no one saw her downfall, and she recovered her book and self-possession in time to reach school in due season. AUNT MOLLY.

The Portland Advertiser says that "McNeally's defalcation, to which attention is called by a passage in the bank examiner's report, is the only breach of trust that has occurred in any financial institution of Maine during the year. The theft gave the Saco & Biddeford Savings Institution a severe blow, but it still has a surplus above liabilities of nearly half a million, and is one of the strongest and soundest banks in the state. McNeally's disappearance is one of the most mysterious that ever occurred. He ran away in the latter part of August, and covered his tracks so well that detective skill has been completely baffled. It is as if he had been shot from Biddeford into some other planet."

A Portland despatch of the 5th inst. to the Boston Post says: "One of the managers of the Portland Young Men's Republican club denies that any attempt is being made to oust the Hon. T. B. Reed from his position as congressman from the first Maine district. He says that while Mr. Reed has been in the office for a long time, and while a few ambitious men are jealous of his power, they will not dare to make any open fight against him in 1888. This gentleman predicts that Mr. Reed will get the nomination again next year. But there are indications that Mr. Reed has several bitter enemies and that he will be obliged to look after his fences in old York sharper than ever before."

It is said that an attempt will be made in this Congress to amend the interstate commerce law so as to affect the Canadian roads running through the United States territory.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Price $1; six bottles, $5. Worth $5 a bottle.

William Roberts, employed by the Boston & Maine railroad as a brakeman on the freight train that runs between North Berwick and Portland, daily, was badly hurt while shackling cars at Pine Point last Monday. He attempted to shackle the first car of the train and the tender of the engine, when the bunters slipped by each other, and he was caught and one of his hips fearfully crushed. He was taken to Biddeford on the train which was bound west, and Dr. F. G. Warren attended him, after which he was taken to his home in North Berwick.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

A meeting of the Board of Instruction was held on Tuesday evening; present Mrs. Knight and Messrs. Gooding, Goodrich, Hovey, Cotton, Laskey and Walden. In the absence of Mayor Hodgdon, Mr. Goodrich was voted to the chair.

It was voted that the Christmas vacation commence on Saturday, Dec. 17th, and that the winter term commence on Monday, Jan. 2d.

Voted to introduce Meservey's single-entry book-keeping into the grammar schools.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Dec. 6th; Bufford J.

Edward Rix and Patrick Carr, charged with attempting to break and enter the store of E. S. Fay, pleaded not guilty, and the case was continued to Wednesday forenoon at eleven o'clock.

OBITUARY.

Nathaniel S. Davis died in Wilmington, Mass., Dec. 1st, at the age of sixty-four years. He was a native of Kittery, and formerly worked as a ship carpenter in that town, Eliot and this city, his father, the late Capt. John C. Davis, having built a number of the vessels on which he worked; for the last twenty-five years he has kept a store at North Conway, in this state, to which place his remains were taken for interment, the funeral being held last Sunday.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah T. Seed, many years a resident of this city, and an exemplary Christian woman, whose death occurred recently at the residence of her son-in-law, Hon. J. J. Donovan of Lowell, Mass., took place in that city at nine o'clock Tuesday morning, the 6th inst., high mass being said in St. Patrick's church. Eight relatives from this city attended the obsequies.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. George M. Ayers is visiting Mr. Henry Gray and wife of the Great Falls house, Great Falls.

Messrs. John Scotchler and John Scotchler, Jr., of San Francisco, Cal., and Mrs. John Manning of Cambridgeport, Mass., are visiting Mrs. John H. Bailey and family, on Middle street. The Californians have not visited the east before for about twenty years.

John S. Davis, Esq., of Springfield, Ill., was in this city on Tuesday.

Mr. Edwin L. Berry, of the Somerville (Mass.) Journal force, arrived in town on Monday for a brief stay.

Hon. Charles H. Bartlett of Manchester, ex-president of the New Hampshire senate, was in town on Tuesday.

ENTERTAINMENT AT HAMPTON.

On Tuesday evening next, Dec. 13th, in the town hall at Hampton, an entertainment will be given, to consist of legerdemain and slight-of-hand performances by Prof. Smada, and diversified musical performances by William H. Campbell and Miss Emma F. Campbell, the whole to conclude with a social dance. Tickets twenty cents, reserved seats twenty-five cents; children under twelve years of age, fifteen cents. Gentlemen taking part in the dance, twenty-five cents. Performance to commence at 7:30. If very stormy Tuesday evening, the entertainment will be postponed to the following evening.

Prof. Smada is a very skillful illusionist, and his stage always presents a handsome appearance, all his apparatus being of the finest finish. The Campbells will perform both classical and popular music upon a large variety of instruments, including their "jingle bells," a set of sleigh bells of different tones which take immensely everywhere. They have given a number of parlor entertainments for the G. A. R. of Newburyport, and have appeared at several church fairs, which is a guarantee of the high character of their performance.

There were four tramps and one drunk in the police station Monday night, but all were turned adrift Tuesday morning. Tuesday afternoon two of the tramps were arrested for making a disturbance at the Creek. If some of the Creek Indians got after them once, they would select some other locality in which to raise a row in future.

"My Aunt Bridget," as presented to a large audience at Music hall on Monday evening by George W. Monroe and John C. Rich, aided by a company each member of which was a real "support," was one of the most laughable performances ever given in the house. It was written to enable Monroe and Rice to amuse an audience, and fully answers its purpose. It is uproariously comical.

The house of Mr. Warburton, on Sherburne road, was broken into a few nights ago, and some clothing and a pocket-book containing $18 stolen.

Mrs. Scott Siddons is to appear in Music hall on Tuesday evening of next week, reading the same programme as in Boston a few nights since.

In Manchester, last Saturday night, an attempt was made to cut an aperture in the show window of the jewelry store of Mr. Stephen W. Clarke, formerly of this city, but though the glass was badly defaced by scratches it was too strong, being extra heavy triple plate, for the thief to cut a hole through. The same night a saloon window was cut out, and several bottles of liquor stolen.

Ladies buy the dog skin kid gloves advertised by Foye in another column.

The cooking matinee will continue at John Laighton's, Market square, to-day and to-morrow. Every lady should visit this store and see the fine cooking produced with Horsford's Bread Preparation.

Lewis E. Staples is showing a full line of Stamped Linen goods, in Tidies, Splashers, Table Scarfs, etc., at low prices.

Coal freights at Baltimore were on Saturday quoted at $1.60 to Boston, $1.70 to this city, $1.60 to Portland, and $1.70 to Bath.

Says the New York Tribune of recent date: "The farewell tour of Mme. Janauschek has been made the occasion in this city of an outpouring of lovers of the higher forms of the drama, eager to do honor to an artist who is easily first among tragic actresses. To witness Mm. Janauschek's acting is to be brought face to face and made acquainted with the loftiest possibilities of histrionic art. Her retirement from the American stage will be a great loss to the world of drama." This great artist will be at Music hall on Saturday evening next; tickets at Goodrich's, on and after Thursday.

The work of putting in place the new lock-boxes at the post-office was commenced on Tuesday. The new boxes are in every way better than the old ones; they are larger, for one thing, and then each one has in the door a pane of glass big enough to see through, and having painted on it the number of the box, so that it can be easily discerned at night when the lamps are lighted inside the office.

It is reported that a literary and debating society under the direction of a competent teacher will be formed here as soon as a suitable room can be secured for that purpose. The membership will consist of young working men, and will be limited in numbers. A janitor will be appointed, and proceedings conducted according to parliamentary usages. No person will be admitted except by vote of the originators, or visitors introduced except by a member.

Edward C. Mitchell, twenty-one years old, station agent at Faulkner's, on the Saugus branch of the Boston & Maine railroad, left the office in charge of the gateman at five o'clock Sunday evening, and did not return. An expert was sent next morning to open the safe and see if any railroad funds had departed too, but after six hours work he gave it up. It is said there is a woman in the case.

The Biddeford churches and the Young Men's Christian Association of that city are raising funds to establish a local mission there, and have invited Captain Bill Dean, of the Portland Salvation Army, to settle in Biddeford as city missionary. Capt. Dean has resigned his commission in the Salvation Army, and will begin his labors in Biddeford this month.

BOSTON & MAINE RAILROAD.

The annual report of the directors of the Boston & Maine railroad for the year ending Sept. 30th, 1887, is issued. The financial standing has already been published. From the report we take the following additional particulars:

During the year sixteen locomotives have been purchased; 108 locomotives have been in the repair shops for general repairs, and 170 for light repairs, at a cost of $191,991.83. Three combination cars, three baggage cars, three milk cars, nineteen box cars, fifty-six platform cars, one coal dump car, five gravel cars, one derrick car and one ice scraper car have been built in the road's shops. These all, except the three combination cars and one baggage car, take the place of others. Fifteen passenger cars, two baggage and express cars, twenty-five gondola cars, 1·0 standard dump cars and 100 long platform cars have been purchased. Of these, four passenger cars, the baggage and express cars, sixty-four standard dump cars and fifty long platform cars take the place of old ones. The others are additional to the equipment. Contracts have been made for a new double track and iron bridge over the Merrimac river at Newburyport, and six of the piers have been extended for the second track. It is expected that the bridge will be completed in season for next summer's travel. Amesbury pile bridge has been rebuilt, and the abutments of Creek bridge at Portsmouth have been rebuilt with a new plate-girder double-track bridge.

Mr. J. Fred Goldthwaite, deputy sheriff of York county, and wife, were surprised at their home in Biddeford on the evening of the 3d inst. by seventy-five of their friends and neighbors, the occasion being the twenty-fifth anniversary of the couple's marriage. The intruders smuggled into the house with them a large number of bundles and boxes containing silver and choice glass ware, a French clock, and many other valuable and beautiful articles, which they left behind on their departure after a delightful evening.

Whipple Lodge of Good Templars at Kittery village will hold a memorial service on Wednesday evening, the 7th, for the late John B. Finch, who was at the time of his death at the head of the Right Worthy Grand Lodge of the World. Rev. E. E. Colburn will deliver the address.

From the 8th day of August to the 30th day of September, the York Harbor & Beach railroad transported 18,000 passengers, and cleared over $3200 above all expenses.

In the savings banks of Boston there are deposits amounting to half a million dollars which nobody claims. The money was deposited twenty years ago. In the list are depositors from Bangor, Hope, Solon, Union, East Corinth, Eliot, Kittery and Wells, Me.

After Forty years' experience in the preparation of more than One Hundred Thousand applications for patents in the United States and Foreign countries, the publishers of the Scientific American continue to act as solicitors for patents, caveats, trade-marks, copyrights, etc., for the United States, and to obtain patents in Canada, England, France, Germany, and all other countries. Their experience is unequaled, and their facilities are unsurpassed.

Drawings and specifications prepared and filed in the Patent Office on short notice. Terms very reasonable. No charge for examination of models or drawings. Advice by mail free.

Patents obtained through Munn & Co. are noticed in the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, which has the largest circulation and is the most influential newspaper of its kind published in the world. The advantages of such a notice every patentee understands.

This large and splendidly illustrated newspaper is published WEEKLY at $3.00 a year, and is admitted to be the best paper devoted to science, mechanics, inventions, engineering works, and other departments of industrial progress, published in any country. It contains the names of all patentees and title of every invention patented each week. Try it four months for one dollar. Sold by all newsdealers.

If you have an invention to patent write to Munn & Co., publishers of Scientific American, 361 Broadway, New York.

Handbook about patents mailed free.

Corticelli Wash Silk.

SOLD ONLY ON SPOOLS.

Color warranted not to "run," or to injure in any way the most delicate material in washing. For heavy outline embroidery use two threads, for lighter work use the thread singly. These goods are adapted to a wider range of art work than any yet offered for this purpose. The convenience of having this reliable brand on spools, rather than double goods in skeins which tangle and become quickly shop-worn, will be apparent to dealers and consumers. Sold by enterprising merchants, who can be supplied at our Agency, No. 18 Summer Street, Boston.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS. The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS. Mason & Hamlin's Piano Stringer was introduced by them in 1882, and has been announced by experts the "greatest improvement in pianos in half a century."

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.

They Agree on One Point.

The Coreans having positively refused to pay further tribute to China, the emperor of China has magnanimously proclaimed that he will exact no more tribute from Corea.

Mr. Henry Mylander, a well known tailor of Baltimore, writes: "I have been suffering for some time with a severe pain in my back from which I was unable to obtain relief. I gave Salvation Oil a trial, and less than a bottle entirely cured me. I do not hesitate to pronounce it a most excellent liniment."

A meeting of District Assembly 30, Knights of Labor, was held Sunday. It is reported that there are at present 15,000 members of the order in the district. The largest membership ever had was 85,000. They are losing members every day.

THE CENTURY MAGAZINE.

WITH the November, 1887, issue THE CENTURY commences its thirty-fifth volume with a regular circulation of almost 250,000. The War Papers and the Life of Lincoln increased its monthly edition by 100,000. The latter history having recounted the events of Lincoln's early years, and given the necessary survey of the political condition of the country, reaches a new period, with which his secretaries were most intimately acquainted. Under the caption

Lincoln in the War,

the writers now enter on the more important part of their narrative, viz: the early years of the War and President Lincoln's part therein.

Supplementary War Papers,

following the "battle series" by distinguished generals, will describe interesting features of army life, tunneling from Libby Prison, narratives of personal adventure, etc. General Sherman will write on "The Grand Strategy of the War."

Kennan on Siberia.

Except the Life of Lincoln and the War Articles, no more important series has ever been undertaken by THE CENTURY than this of Mr Kennan's. With the previous preparation of four years' travel and study in Russia and Siberia, the author undertook a journey of 15,000 miles for the special investigation here required. An introduction from the Russian Minister of the Interior admitted him to the principal mines and prisons, where he became acquainted with some three hundred State exiles,—Liberals, Nihilists, and others,—and the series will be a startling as well as accurate revelation of the exile system. The many illustrations by the artist and photographer, Mr. George A. Frost, who accompanied the author, will add greatly to the value of the articles.

A Novel by Eggleston

with illustrations, will run through the year. Shorter novels will follow by Cable and Stockton. Shorter fictions will appear every month.

Miscellaneous Features

will comprise several illustrated articles on Ireland, by Ceharles DeKay; papers touching the field of the Sunday-School Lessons, illustrated by E. L. Wilson; wild Western life, by Theodore Roosevelt; the English Cathedrals, by Mrs. van Rensselaer, with illustrations by Pennell; Dr. Buckley's valuable papers on Dreams, Spiritualism, and Clairvoyance; essays in criticism, art, travel, and biography; poems; cartoons; etc.

By a special offer the numbers for the past year (containing the Lincoln history) may be secured with the year's subscription from November, 1887, twenty-four issues in all, for $6.00, or, with the last year's numbers handsomely bound, $7.50.

DANIEL LITTLEFIELD, Green Street, Portsmouth, N H

THIS PAPER may be found in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

Kansas owes in farm mortgages only $235,000,000, while Illinois has a hundred millions, Indiana $635,000,000, etc. Kansas is not so heavily in debt as some of her rivals would have us think. The proportion of her indebtedness to the value of the land is, it is contended, far less than in other western states. The Kansas farmers pay their interest with great promptitude, and never abandon their farms as is the case in some of the more northerly states, where the cost of a foreclosure which the local lawyers figure up exceeds sometimes the value of the property.

"Vocal and Action Language," by E. N. Kirby, instructor in elocution at Harvard university, is a book of 230 pages, published by Lee & Shepard, Boston, and for sale in this city by M. Goodrich; price, in boards, $1.25. It is a revised and improved edition, the work having been first published in 1884; it is a concise and practical hand book on elocution, and of great value to persons without a teacher.

"Only a Year and What it Brought," is a very pleasingly written story for children, by Jane Andrews, author of "Seven Little Sisters." It is published by Lee & Shepard; is illustrated, printed in large type, and handsomely bound. For sale by M. Goodrich; price $1.00.

"The Fortunes of the Faradays," published by Lee & Shepard, sold in Portsmouth by M. Goodrich, price $1.50, is a "society" novel from the prolific pen of Miss Amanda M. Douglas. It deals with the fortunes of a family of girls, "hopeless, helpless, middle-class folks," who by their beauty, aided by favoring chance, soar into the realms of "the elite;" point lace and diamonds abound; there is a mystery, and a bit of scandal, and some true love. It is on the same plane as the author's previous works, and will delight many.

"My Kingdom for a Horse."

But if he suffers from scratches, cracks, cuts, galls or wounds of any kind, Veterinary Hoop Ointment is warranted to cure. Never fails. $1.00 a box. At all druggists.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness and give strength and rest. Try them.

The Baroness Burdett-Coutts has just received a bequest of $9,000,000 from a relative.

A woman who is weak, nervous and sleepless, and who has cold hands and feet, cannot feel and act like a well person. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness, and give strength and rest.

J. W. Gale & Co., wholesale dry goods merchants of Toronto, Can., have failed for $150,000.

J. B. Mason, Providence, R. I., suffered with pneumonia, accompanied with a dry cough, hoarseness and entire loss of voice. Physicians afforded him no relief. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry cured him, and he says it saved his life.

A bill will be introduced early in the session of congress to regulate and restrict immigration.

The President

Of the Bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: "Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from catarrh and liver complaint. I lost forty-five pounds, and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine; but hearing your bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me."—Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

The striking Lehigh coal miners have issued an appeal to the public reciting their pitiable condition, and flatly denying the statements of the mine owners that they could make good living wages at the rates prevailing before the strike.

We take pleasure in recommending the use of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer as safe and reliable for restoring gray hair to its natural color.

All Austrians and Hungarians employed in Russian provinces bordering on Austria, have been ordered to leave before Jan. 13th.

It is wise to provide against emergencies which are liable to arise in every family. In sudden attacks of cold, croup, asthma, etc., a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will prove a never failing remedy.

At Charleston, Miss., Dec. 5th, a mob of masked men took from jail three negroes charged with the murder of a white man, and shot them to death.

I have been afflicted with catarrh for 20 years. It became chronic and there was a constant dropping of mucuous matter. It extended to my throat, causing hoarseness and great difficulty in speaking, indeed for years I was not able to speak more than thirty minutes, and often this with great difficulty. I also, to a great extent, lost the sense of hearing in the left ear, and of taste. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm all dropping of mucous has ceased and my voice and hearing has greatly improved.—Jas. W. Davidson, Attorney at law, Monmouth, Ill.

THE DIDLINGTON ESTATE.

An English Land Owner and His People. A Lively Scene.

This same Mr. Tyssen Amherst, who derives from the unfashionable but productive northern suburb of Hackney, which he owns almost in its entirety, an income sufficient to enable him to bear the expenses of keeping up the nine square miles of his Didlington estate, was, so to speak, obliged to give his people a jubilee fete, and to do so on a large scale. Nine parishes sent their contingents in 700 vehicles of every description, which from the early forenoon discharged their freight of men, women and children within the gates of his park; his flag bearing his coat of arms fluttered from the top of the hall tower. Free access was given to the grounds, the gardens, the heronry, the deer inclosure, the conservatories, the plantations, and the lake with its bridges, summer and boat houses and many islands. On a meadow between the house and church eleven or twelve large marquees were erected; one devoted to a horticultural exhibition of fruit, vegetables and flowers where the cottagers won prizes; three to refreshments, and the rest to substantial spreads of dinners and teas served at different times to men, women and children.

Nearly 8,000 people were Mr. Amherst's special guests, amused and fed during twelve hours at his expense; 4,000 more had been admitted to his park, and were free to enjoy the various phases of the fete, the merry-go-rounds and swings, the ventriloquists, jugglers, and excellent military bands, as well as the elaborate illuminations and fireworks which at dusk converted many acres of lake and grounds into a fairy scene. Looking into the tents set apart for the tenants, you saw almost interminable tables laden with such rounds and sirloins of beef as seem to appertain essentially to England, with rows of beer tankards, and other edibles and drinkables. Bailiffs and land agents who have been for fifty years on the estate presided over the tables and carved the mighty joints; the giver of the feast made an appropriate speech in each tent, and was never more lustily cheered in the house of commons than by the school children who had partaken of the tea and cake in quantities which would have astonished a regiment of hungry soldiers. The ladies of the family waited on them, as also on the women, and saw that none rose till they were fully satiated. A cricket match between two parishes was a great feature of the entertainment, the captain of one eleven being Lord William Cecil, son of the Marquis of Exeter, playing with gardeners, keepers and laborers against a team in which social ranks were equally confounded.

Hogsheads of beer, tons of beef, gallons of tea were consumed at what must have been an enormous expense; and if the host allowed, in some tents set apart for that purpose, refreshments to be sold at a merely nominal price by previous arrangements made with the caterers, it was for a reason which probably would never have occurred to a stranger. By all established canons he was, as lord of the manor, perfectly justified in inviting and treating his tenants and people living on his land; as a member of parliament had he treated and fed the outlying inhabitants he would have laid himself open to the imputation of bribery and corruption, and of attempting to tamper with and win over the votes of the free born electors.

On the day of the fete, for many miles around the country side presented a singular aspect. It seemed as if a deep silence and lifelessness had suddenly fallen over the land. Horses and cattle were no longer visible in the fields, all labor was suspended, the villages, farms and cottages were deserted alike by young and old, the doors were bolted, the windows shut down, and the wayfarer would knock in vain if he wanted to ask what road to take; there was not a living creature anywhere to give him the desired answer. Every human soul was at Didlington, and many came from such a distance that it was late into the following night when they regained their homes, carrying with them the jubilee cup and saucer, which was one of the most cherished souvenirs of the celebration.

To the credit of the much abused British agricultural population be it said that there was no evidence of the roughness, rudeness and inebriety which are supposed to be their characteristics; there was not a single instance of drunkenness, no noise, no horse play. A more respectable, orderly, well to do crowd could not easily be matched anywhere; on pleasure bent, they took their pleasure neither sadly nor riotously, and strange to say there was more genuine gratitude and satisfaction in their hearty and unanimous farewell cheers to their hosts than the lower classes of England are popularly supposed to feel for favors conferred. On the morrow it was found that not a flower had been taken or flower bed trampled, not a fruit picked; the herons, fancy fowls, fallow deer and caged eagle had not been molested; no vestige of the passage and sojourn of nearly 7,000 people remained save the marquees in process of removal, and dotted on the roads countless baby socks and shoes dropped like the white pebbles of Hop o' My Thumb, and telling of mothers trudging patiently home with their little burdens.
—M. De S. in New York Sun.

Wagner's Defective Voice.

Frau Materna once told me that Wagner's own singing of passages in the "Nibelungen" and "Parsifal," when he showed his singers how this or that phrase ought to go, as he often had occasion to do at the Bayreuth rehearsals, was literally the despair of all the artists present. She said that his voice was bad and his vocalization very defective, but that the lyric purity, perfection and poignant expressiveness of his musical phrasing were simply astounding.—William F. Apthorp in Scribner's Magazine.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some eczematous affection, such as milk crust, scald head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which makes life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence o mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance,—a skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved or it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the heartfelt approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief to all head colds, sneezing, snuffling and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

Waste of Tissue Without Repair.

Vigor begins to decline when dyspepsia invades the stomach. The disease, prolonged through neglect, entails grievous loss of flesh and serious waste of the muscular tissue. To invigorate thoroughly and speedily, a sound stomachic is required. There is none comparable to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, since they institutes, and if continued, perpetuates a repair of the tissues, which have declined in bulk, vigor and elasticity in consequence of non-assimilation of the food. No time should be lost in beginning the reparative process, nor should there be any delay in removing those ailments of frequent occurrence, which contribute to and foster an enfeebled condition of the stomach and nerves, viz.: constipation and liver complaint, disorders which the bitters will assuredly extinguish. It also remedies and prevents malarial and kidney troubles, and is a prime auxiliary in the recovery of strength for convalescents from wasting disease.

Evidence has been found that the first will of W. F. Storey, proprietor of the Chicago Times, bore the indorsement, "Revoked by a later will. W. F. S." This indorsement was erased with acids. The later will is the one which the courts have overthrown on the ground of insanity, and if this will is declared void the estate must be distributed by probate.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

The manufacturers of Northampton, Eng., have locked out 15,000 operatives.

Lost and found. Found—That pain quickly disappears when a Hop Plaster is applied. Besides, they strengthen weak parts and do more good in one-quarter the time than any salve or lotion. Hop Plasters sold by druggists. 25 cents.

Gov. Bodwell of Maine was reported on the 7th inst. to be critically ill.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

—"I'm surprised that you should remember me, Mr. Dumley," said Mrs. Hobson, "since it is so long ago that we met." "Oh," replied Dumley, with profuse gallantry, "the is nothing remarkable about it. I assure you, my dear madam. I can remember anybody."

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, billiousness or constipation, you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable; small and easy to take. Don't forget this.

—"Will you give me some cold vittuals," asked a mendicant, "We have none," was the reply. "Oh, well, hot ones 'll do," said the beggar briskly.

There is no doubt about the honest worth of Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Thousands, who have been benefitted by its use, will attest its virtues. This remedy cures liver and kidney complaint, and eradicates every trace of disease from the system.

—A denizen of Ontonagon county, Michigan, while chopping a hollow tree, was surprised to find blood on his axe and to hear growls issuing from the trunk. A moment later he saw the head of a large bear coming out of the opening. He quickly killed the annimal with his axe.

It is wise to provide against emergencies which are liable to arise in every family. In sudden attacks of cold, croup, asthma, etc., a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will prove a never failing remedy.

—"How many birthdays do you think I have had?" one person was heard to say to another in the horse car. "Oh, about forty-seven," hazarded the person addressed. "Only one birthday. The rest have been anniversaries," was the explanation, and the car suddenly stopped.

The President

Of the Bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: "Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from catarrh and liver complaint. I lost forty-five pounds, and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine; but hearing your bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me."—Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

Mr. Henry Mylander, a well known tailor of Baltimore, writes: "I have been suffering for some time with a severe pain in my back from which I was unable to obtain relief. I gave Salvation Oil a trial, and less than a bottle entirely cured me. I do not hesitate to pronounce it a most excellent liniment."

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring, buzzing sound, are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

The President's Message.

The president in announcing the platform upon which he is to stand as a candidate for re-election, undertakes to account for the immense surplus in the treasury. He does not refer to the numerous vetoes of pension bills, nor in direct terms to the niggardly policy of his party in the matter of appropriations for needed coast defences, the army and navy, the care and preservation of public buildings, or the necessary outlay of a public nature which has been so crippled and compressed by the paring down of appropriations for legitimate purposes, simply to make party capital for the democracy. It is not this which fills the treasury too full. It is not the internal revenue which cause such a flow of funds to the coffers of the country. It is the oppressive protective tariff over which the president prates, preaches and straddles.

The message shows the absence of the master hand of Manning, but at the same time displays the finger marks of the free trade advocates. It is welcomed by friend and foe. The former are glad to see the candidate cut loose alike from Randall and his theories, as from Curtis and his civil service reform ideas. The republicans on the other hand are glad to find the coming candidate standing in advance upon a platform where the issues of the campaign can be properly outlined and discussed.

For all information as to our foreign relations, the condition of the army and navy, postal affairs, etc., we are referred to the reports of the cabinet members. In fine, the whole message is a free trade speech, with one patronizing remark which resembles one of Sunset Cox's jokes, where his excellency, after going over the ground as if talking to a set of school children, catches his breath and says apologetically:

This reference to the operation of our tariff laws is not made by way of instruction, but in order that we may be constantly reminded of the manner in which they dispose a burden upon those who consume domestic products, as well as those who consume imported articles, and thus create a tax upon all our people.

The president's message stirs up every interest in the country which relies in any way upon the tariff to shape its business. The lecture to congressmen may be deserved, but how to accomplish the reduction with a due regard to the various conflicting interests represented in Congress will take a greater than Cleveland to indicate.

How They Like It.

President Cleveland's message gives marked satisfaction to the free traders in Congress, to the New York Times and Herald, and to the British press.

Mills of Texas says it could not possibly be better; Mc Creary of Kentucky is in hearty sympathy with its sentiments, as is Russell of Massachusetts. Senator Reagan likes and endorses it. Senator Gray says Cleveland is the strongest president since Jackson; Senator Eustis says it is an admirable document; Senator Blackburn "don't want to be quoted on this message;" Senator Call says it is a very able document.

The republican congressmen and senators are also pleased. McKinley of Ohio says it is as good a free trade document as though written at the Cobden club; Reed of Maine calls it a free trade argument which "strikes fell and fair at American industries;" Senator Hiscock says "We can carry New York by the biggest majority it was ever carried by if they will give us that platform;" Senator Teller says it is very weak, and Senator Paddock that "it is a big card for the republicans;" Senator Frye says "it's a good enough platform for the republicans;" Senator Chandler is only afraid the democrats will go back on it, as the republicans want nothing better with which to sweep the country; Senator Spooner is glad the democrats have shown their hand.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, ME., Dec. 6th.

The examination of candidates for the Free High school took place Saturday last; fifteen were examined, of whom six passed a successful examination to enter.

D. M. Shapleigh has returned to the work of his youth "befo' de wah," at which time he won the reputation of being a thorough and practical teacher; he has been teaching in district three the past two weeks.

Miss Florence E. Sanderson has resigned her position as teacher in district one, to accept a position as teacher in the training school at Portsmouth, N. H. We regret to loose so efficient an instructor from our now well-selected corps, but trust she will gain favor in her new field of labor.

We understand that several of the teachers attended the association at South Berwick on Friday last, and among them the High school teacher, who expressed himself highly gratified with the exercises he witnessed. It is to be presumed that there were none of them members of the association, for the reason that none of the Kittery teachers were consigned parts, which otherwise certainly would have been the case, as we have as large a school population as any town in the county excepting the two cities, and probably as practical teachers.

Rev. L. E. Hall, pastor of the Free Baptist church at the Point, has tendered his resignation, to take effect in three months. It must be a hard place for ministers at Kittery Point, judging from the numerous changes in the different churches there.

Mr. George Lambert starts for California on Tuesday next.

We notice in a late issue of the Chronicle an article relating to the bark Martha, which sailed for the gold fields of California in '49. The Martha was built at Spruce creek, near the old mill bridge, in 1849, by Hanson H. Adams, a well known business man at that time. Dennis Shapleigh, Thomas Pettigrew and Joseph Shaw cut and hauled the masts of this vessel from Eliot. All of the above named persons are long since dead. There are many traditions existing of the building and sailing of the Martha. Previous to this, Capt. John C. Davis, another well know man of his day, built several vessels at the same place, among which (and the last) were the George and the Jerome, named for his youngest two sons. There were two other vessels launched from Orchard point, farther up the creek, near Pierce's bridge, that were built in Eliot nearly a century ago, of which we are unable at this time to give the exact data or name; one was built near Capt. Elisha Goodwin's, and the other near Mr. Jonathan Hammond's, and both were hauled to the launching place by oxen.

At a late meeting of Riverside Lodge, No. 72, I. O. O. F., the following resolutions were passed relative to the late William M. Otis:

Whereas, in the providence of God, our beloved brother William M. Otis has been summoned to the other life, after a long and eventful seige of sickness, and

Whereas, he was for many years a trusted official of this lodge, and ever a faithful and devoted member; therefore,

Resolved, That we recognized in our brother's life those sublime principles of our Order which make for peace and love in human society. We regret his departure from our midst, but bow in submission to the divine will, feeling that he has but preceded us to the better land, that is, an heavenly.

Resolved, That we extend our sympathy to the family of our deceased brother; assuring them of our friendship and love; forever hoping and expecting that at last, these pleasant ties so rudely severed may again be united in the eternal home of Friendship, Love and Truth.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our lodge, and also sent by the secretary to the family of our deceased brother; also sent to papers in this immediate vicinity for publication.

SUB ROSA.

Seventeen cities in Massachusetts held elections on the 6th inst. Somerville, Chelsea, Malden, Fitchburg, Lawrence, Newton and Brockton voted "no license;" Waltham, Gloucester, Haverhill, Taunton, Fall River, Northampton, Holyoke, Springfield and New Bedford, voted for license. In Lawrence there was a complete overturn, the republicans electing the mayor, all the aldermen, and ten of the eighteen councilmen; and the city voted "no license" for the first time in thirteen years.

Dunlap's block, a barn in the rear of Eaton block, and Perham's block, Nashua, were all set on fire between ten and twelve o'clock Tuesday night, Dec. 6th, but the fires were discovered before much headway was gained. Much alarm exists in the city.

What a Time

People formerly had, trying to swallow the old-fashioned pill with its film of magnesia vainly disguising its bitterness; and what a contrast to Ayer's Pills, that have been well called "medicated sugar-plums"—the only fear being that patients may be tempted into taking too many at a dose. But the directions are plain and should be strictly followed.

J. T. Teller, M. D., of Chittenango, N. Y., expresses exactly what hundreds have written at greater length. He says: "Ayer's Cathartic Pills are highly appreciated. They are perfect in form and coating, and their effects are all that the most careful physician could desire. They have supplanted all the Pills formerly popular here, and I think it must be long before any other can be made that will at all compare with them. Those who buy your pills get full value for their money."

"Safe, pleasant, and certain in their action," is the concise testimony of Dr. George E. Walker, of Martinsville, Virginia.

"Ayer's Pills outsell all similar preparations. The public having once used them, will have no others."—Berry, Venable & Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the York Harbor & Beach railroad, for the choice of directors, was held at York on the 7th inst., and the following-named-gentlemen were elected: Henry E. Evans, Edward S. Marshall, J. E. Staples, Samuel C. Lawrence, George C. Lord, Frank Jones and J. S. Ricker. The board of directors have not yet organized.

PORTSMOUTH MACHINE CO.

According to the annual returns of corporations made to the secretary of state, the Portsmouth Machine Co.'s authorized capital is $180,000; amount of capital paid in, $128,000; par value of shares, $100; debts due the corporation, $15,612.12; debts due from the corporation, $105,266.92; assets, $196,301.85.

An adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the company was held on the 6th inst., to receive the report of a committee appointed at a previous meeting, as to the condition of the company. From the report it appeared that the corporation was between $70,000 and $80,000 in arrears; and a committee was appointed to report on the 19th as to what disposition shall be made of the property. One proposition is to issue new stock to the amount of the indebtedness, with a guarantee of six per cent, and another is to sell to the Boston & Maine railroad, which is reported to have made an offer to purchase.

SUPREME COURT, LAW TERM.

At the session of the supreme court, law term, in Concord on the 6th inst., the cases of DeRochemont vs. Boston & Maine railroad, for obstructing a navigable creek, State vs. C. D. Hinman, for practising dentistry without a license, and State vs. D. Pennoyer, for practising medicine without a license, were heard. No decision was announced in either case.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 7th; Bufford J.

John McCue, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90.

Edward Rix and Patrick Carr, case continued from previous day, were held in $300 each for the grand jury on a charge of attempting to break and enter a store, and in default of sureties were committed to jail.

George Paine, one of the tramps arrested at the Creek on Tuesday for creating a disturbance, pleaded not guilty to a charge of vagrancy, and was held in $100 for his appearance at ten o'clock Thursday forenoon.

MASONIC ELECTION.

At the annual meeting of St. John's Lodge, No. 1, held at Masonic hall on Wednesday evening, Dec. 7th, the following were elected officers for the ensuing year:

Albert R. Junkins, W. M.;
Fred H. Ward, S. W.;
John D. Randall, J. W.;
Oliver G. Fernald, treasurer;
John H. Cheever, secretary;
Benj. F. Webster, William G. Dillings, standing committee;
Representative to Grand Lodge, Edward W. Riley.

ANTI-COERCION FUND.

A gentleman in this city has received a number of anci-coercion fund certificates, for sale here at $1.00 each, and purchasers of the same can be assured that they are giving material aid to the Irish home rule cause. Some of these certificates have been left at the stores of the following-named persons, where citizens can procure them: Andrew P. Preston, Wm. D. Grace, John Griffin, John Conlon, Boyle & Norton, George Scott, Condon house, T. J. Sheehan.

PERSONAL.

Gov. Sawyer was in town on Wednesday.

Mr. E. H. Winchester, 2d, has accepted a situation in the office of the American Express company at Springfield, Mass.

Rev. James DeNormandie of Boston was in this city on Wednesday.

Mr. Daniel Mason and wife, of Green street, have gone to Springfield, Ohio, to visit Mrs. Mason's sister. How Bro. Mason will be able to get on in idleness for so long a time is a matter of some speculation, for when at home he is one of our busiest citizens, always working at something, and does not know how to keep still.

Madam Janauschek travels in her personal palace car, has thirty-four people with her, and carries two carloads of scenery gotten up expressly for her appearance in the great play of Meg Merrilies. Next Saturday evening will positively be the last opportunity to see the world's famous tragedienne in Music hall, as this is her farewell tour.

As a lady drove up Congress street, about five o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the 7th inst., a wheel of the buggy struck the hinder part of J. R. Yeaton & Co.'s store wagon, which was standing in front of the store, and knocked it fairly upside down. Mr. Yeaton's horse started to run, but was stopped before getting up much speed. The shafts of the wagon were broken, but no other damage was done.

The naval court martial at the navy yard closed its labors on the 6th inst., having tried three marines charged with desertion, one for refusing to do duty, and one for alleged complicity in the escape of Richard D. Paine.

The Penny Post says "New Year's day and Christmas day both fall on Sunday this year." Not so. Christmas day this year falls on Sunday, but New Year's day on Saturday.

A meeting of the holders of Des Moines & Osceola railroad bonds was held in this city on Wednesday, the 7th, to take a look at the situation.

The Young People's Literary society connected with the Unitarian Sunday school had their first meeting this season on Monday evening of this week, at the chapel on Court street, and elected officers as follows: President, Rev. Alfred Gooding; vice president, James Sise; secretary, Miss Mabel Cotton; treasurer, Miss Helen Pearson. There was a large attendance, and several new members were admitted. The amusements of the evening were a wish-bone party, and a supper.

There is an adage that "nothing is freer than water," but that is not always certain. In evidence of this may be cited the attempts of so many towns and cities to procure a bountiful supply of a clear and pure aqueous fluid, even at a great expense. A weary pedestrian walking from Brentwood a few days ago arrived at the South Newmarket Junction railroad station. He was quite thirsty, and attracted in consequence toward a bucket of water sitting in the waiting room. But he could find no cup with which to drink. Behind the refreshment tables were a bevy of pretty young female servitors, serving beer at five cents a glass, with plenty of glasses standing on the wire rack, inverted. As he did not wish for beer he asked for a glass of water, whereupon he was informed that there was a pump outside the door in the yard. It being quite dark he could not find the pump, nor could any of the adjacent stores give him a drink, which he finally procured at a distant house. Paraphrasing the scriptures, "Blessed are those who give a thirsty traveller a drink of water in my name, the same shall be rewarded in the kingdom of heaven." VIATOR.

Lewis E. Staples is showing a full line of Stamped Linen goods, in Tidies, Splashers, Table Scarfs, etc., at low prices.

The celebrated picture by Cameron of "Niagara Falls in Winter," which was valued at $30,000, has been totally destroyed by fire in London.

Fish fares were brought in to E. Newton & Co. on the 7th inst. as follows: Schooner Abbie A. Snow, 5000 lbs.; Rising Star, 4500; Northern Eagle, 6000; Cosmos, 13,000; Agnes E Downs, 8500; Defiance, 4000. Several fares were bought by other dealers up town, and a number by the parties at Kittery Point. Newton & Co. ship 150 boxes this week. Bait is reported as very scarce, and prices rule high.

"THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST."

MANY persons are under the impression that Ivory Soap is expensive, and intended for the use of the wealthy only. The fact is, the price is lower than for ordinary soaps, quality considered, for in the "Ivory" no "cheapeners" or "makeweights" are used, so the buyer gets all "true soap" for her money. Its harmlessness, durability and efficiency admit of its being used for all purposes with equal satisfaction and economy in the families of the rich or poor.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

SOLD ONLY ON SPOOLS

Color warranted not to "run," or to injure in any way the most delicate material in washing. For heavy outline embroidery use two threads, for lighter work use the thread singly. These goods are adapted to a wider range of art work than any yet offered for this purpose. The convenience of having this reliable brand on spools, rather than doubtful goods in skeins which tangle and become quickly shopworn, will be apparent to dealers and consumers. A Careless Fisherman.

After the trout fishing season closed in lake Winnipisaogee there were found one morning on the bank of the lake eleven heads of trout, and every indication pointed to John Taber as being the man who caught them. There were witnesses to the fact, and Taber, hearing that the authorities were going to push the case, cleared out, and for a month nothing was heard of him until the 5th inst., when he was arrested at Exeter. If the law is fully applied to his case it will cost him $50 apiece for his trout, or $550 for the lot, besides a snug little term in the county jail. He should have been more careful, and not left the fishes' heads lying around loose.

—"Pa," said little Johnny, "teacher is thinking about promoting me." "How do you know?" "From what she said to-day." "And what was that?" "She said that if I kept on I'd soon belong to the criminal class."

THE CENTURY MAGAZINE.

WITH the November, 1887, issue THE CENTURY commences its thirty-fifth volume with a regular circulation of almost 250,000. The War Papers and the Life of Lincoln increased its monthly edition by 100,000. The latter history having recounted the events of Lincoln's early years, and given the necessary survey of the political conditions of the country, reaches a new period, with which his secretaries were most intimately acquainted. Under the caption

Lincoln in the War,

the writers now enter on the more important part of their narrative, viz: the early years of the War and President Lincoln's part therein.

Supplementary War Papers,

following the "battle series" by distinguished generals, will describe interesting features of army life, tunneling from Libby Prison, narratives of personal adventure, etc. General Sherman will write on "The Grand Strategy of the War."

Kennan on Siberia.

Except the Life of Lincoln and the War Articles, no more important series has ever been undertaken by THE CENTURY than this of Mr Kennan's. With the previous preparation of four years' travel and study in Russia and Siberia, the author undertook a journey of 15,000 miles for the special investigation here required. An introduction from the Russian Minister of the Interior admitted him to the principal mines and prisons, where he became acquainted with some three hundred State exiles,—Liberals, Nihilists, and others,—and the series will be a startling as well as accurate revelation of the exile system. The many illustrations by the artist and photographer, Mr. George A. Frost, who accompanied the author, will add greatly to the value of the articles.

A Novel by Eggleston

with illustrations, will run through the year. Shorter novels will follow by Cable and Stockton. Shorter fictions will appear every month.

Miscellaneous Features

will comprise several illustrated articles on Ireland, by Cehariles DeKay; papers touching the field of the Sunday-School Lessons, illustrated by E. L. Wilson; wild Western life, by Theodore Roosevelt; the English Cathedrals, by Mrs. van Rensselaer, with illustrations by Pennell; Dr. Buckley's valuable papers on Dreams, Spiritualism, and Clairvoyance; essays in criticism, art, travel, and biography; poems: cartoons; etc.

By a special offer the numbers for the past year (containing the Lincoln history) may be secured with the year's subscription from November, 1887, twenty-four issues in all, for $6.00, or, with the last year's numbers handsomely bound, $7.50.

DANIEL LITTLEFIELD,

Green Street, Portsmouth, N. H

THIS PAPER is on file in Philadelphia at the Newspaper Advertising Agency of Messrs. N. W. AYER & SON, our authorized agents.

They were buying Christmas presents, when little Johnny remarked: "Now buy something more, mamma, you've got one quarter left." "Yes, dear, and I'm going to purchase something you and sister can't live without." "Is it a talking doll, mamma?" "No indeed, it's a nice bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup."

The Gilbert Opera company, under the management of M. N. Myers, will do "Boccaccio," "Mikado" and "Iolanthe" on the New England circuit, beginning Dec. 12th. They have special orchestration rights from D'Oyley Carte for "Mikado" and "Iolanthe." Miss Florence Bates is leading soprano, and Alfred Wilkie tenor.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "quite like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness and give strength and rest. Try them.

Mr. Most, who knows what he is talking about, says that the jail accommodations of this country are nothing compared to those in European prisons.

A woman who is weak, nervous and sleepless, and who has cold hands and feet, cannot feel and act like a well person. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness, and give strength and rest.

Among the gifts presented to Pope Leo XIII during the recent jubilee, was some lace from the school of lacemakers at Burano, Italy, which is valued at $1,800 per yard.

J. B. Mason, Providence, R. I., suffered with pneumonia, accompanied with a dry cough., hoarsness and entire loss of voice. Physicians afforded him no relief. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry cured him, and he says it saved his life.

The forged letters which nearly caused war between Russia and Germany, have been traced to the Countess Wolkenstain-Trostberg of Austria.

I have been afflicted with catarrh for 20 years. It became chronic and there was a constant dropping of mucuos matter. It extended to my throat, causing hoarsness and great difficulty in speaking, indeed for years I was not able to speak more than thirty minutes, and often this with great difficulty. I also, to a great extent, lost the sense of hearing in the left ear, and of taste. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm all dropping of mucous has ceased and my voice and hearing has greatly improved.—Jas. W. Davidson, Attorney at law, Monmouth, Ill.

Ex-Senator Jones' sons have abandoned all hope of inducing their father to return to Florida.

We take pleasure in recommending the use of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer as safe and reliable for restoring gray hair to its natural color.

Eight persons have been sentenced to various terms of imprisonment for attending the midnight meeting of nationalists at Woodford, Ireland.

For Scrofula, Impoverished Blood and General Debility,

For Children and Pulmonary Troubles.

Dr. W. S. Hoy, Point Pleasant, W. Va., says: "I have made a thorough test with Scott's Emulsion in pulmonary troubles and general debility, and have been astonished at the good results; for children with rickets or marasmus is unequalled."

Henry Smith, the experienced journal clerk of the national house of representatives, has been removed.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet were found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters, which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism.—Exchange.

I give honor to whom it is due. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me of Bright's Disease and Gravel. Four of the best physicians had failed to relieve me. I have recommended it to scores of people with like success, and know it will cure all who try it.—Mrs. E. J. Milner, Rose Hill, O. Send 2-c. stamp to Dr. Kennedy, Rondout, N. WASHINGTON'S CHAPERONS.

How Some "Leaders" of Society in the Capital Replenish Their Finances.

The wives and daughters of new congressmen and officers are frequently thrown into society without any previous preparation. From the quiet of a country home there is a terrible transition. There are ladies here in Washington whose husbands have been army or navy officers. They have spent years in society, and have held, and still hold, high rank. The mysteries of form and usage are familiar to them, but the death or retirement of their husbands has reduced their finances below the figures of their extravagant tastes. These ladies now sustain their position in society by leading the uninitiated through the mysterious mazes. They teach the wives of new senators and members from the back districts the polite forms, and pilot them safely through a winter in Washington.

The relation they hold to the novice is that of a superior, who condescends to take the part of a friendly adviser or chaperon. They are courted, followed—and paid! They are women who have been belles in society in the past, and who dictate its forms now. They now make a business of pleasure. They advise their patrons what to wear, how to furnish their houses, how to talk and act, how to set their tables, how to receive callers and who to receive; when to call, how to call and who to call on. They tell them the difference between an ordinary tea and a high tea; between a dinner party and a luncheon. They rub the dust off their dialect and teach them polite forms of speech, and tell them what to talk about. They lead them around the circle and teach by example. These chaperons are not known as such except to those who employ them, and they are the most courted of all society. They are experts in Washington life.

In the morning, when they are not circling the rounds of society, they act the part of private conversationalists. There are always a number of wealthy ladies, who, on account of not yet knowing the ways of society, or of ill health, or, perhaps, because they are in mourning, are not in the social swim.

As conversationalists, these queens and factotums of society bring all the gossip and goings on in society in a morning call upon these wealthy victims of seclusion. They tell them who held receptions last night and who was there; what they wore, what they said, and what was said about them. They relate the latest private scandal; tell what different people think of each other, and how each is measured up by the whole of society. They report how long Mr. —— talked with Miss Millions, and repeat what "society" thought of it. They discuss the engagements made, to be made, and broken off. All the little bits of gossip, small talk and scandal they carry with exact memory as to all the interesting details, and keep their secluded patrons as well posted as if they were among the most gay. They lighten up a melancholy morning.

Some of the most fashionable women who have long been the "leaders" of society earn in this way the means to keep up their establishments and to maintain themselves in fashionable luxury. The wives and daughters of some famous men, now dead, are professional leaders of society, and live by their profession.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Pasteur's Rival in Ireland.

M. Pasteur has a rival in Ireland, who is said to have cured many bad cases of hydrophobia. This person, hitherto "to fame unknown," is one Philip McGovern, of Bawnboy, County Cavan. His secret remedy, it appears, has been handed down to him from a long line of illustrious progenitors—for, like many Irishmen, his ancestry is of the most respectable and remote antiquity—and he has never failed to effect a cure in the most serious cases. Letters published in the Dublin papers, from highly respectable people, cite many instances, well authenticated, of his successful treatment of infected persons. Moreover, Mr. McGovern's treatment is said to last only three days, and to consist of the administration of a decoction of "herbs and simples" and a regulated dietary.—Chicago Times.

A Famous Floating Island.

The famous floating island of the Derwentwater, England, has come to the surface again after a long disappearance. This is a mass of decaying vegetation forming a layer of peat, on top of which is a thin covering of clay bound together by the roots of vegetation. It rests on the clay bottom of the lake, but sometimes some force, supposed to be in the gases generated by the decaying matter, causes it to rise to the surface. Its extent sometimes reaches half an acre, and it rises and falls with the water, until finally it sinks out of sight again, to be gone probably for several years.—New York Sun.

Progress in Japan.

In Tokio, Japan, there is a handsome and commodious railway station. There are a number of street car lines, and the streets are lighted with gas. Telegraph lines stretch in all directions; high schools and common schools are being established, and the university will compare favorably with many in this country. There are many flourishing factories already established, and altogether the city is more like an American than an Oriental town.—New York Tribune.

Whole Wheat Flour.

Within a few years improved methods of manufacture have secured an article of flour greatly superior to the Graham, called whole wheat flour. It reduces the bull to very fine particles, retains all the constituents of the flour, and, by the cold blast process, guards against all heating.—Youth's Companion.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some eczematous affection, such as milk crust, scald head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfigurement of which makes life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence do mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance,—a skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 35c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston, Mass.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and inductive nasal method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty support of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief to all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1.

A Triple Alliance.

Unhappily for the wretched victim of their assaults, dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness are faithful allies. When one of these foes attacks the system, the other two speedily follow in its wake, and successively make their onslaught. Successively, but not successfully, if Hostetter's Stomach Bitters be used to repel the onset. The Bitters as easily extirpates these monsters as St. George is depicted in the act of doing to the dragon in the steel vignette upon the glass bottles which contain the medicine. Their flight, like their advance, is nearly simultaneous. Their mutuality destroyed, they precipitately retreat, leaving health master of the position and strongly entrenched by the Bitters. This grand fortifier is also a reliable bulward against the insidious assaults of malarial disease, and stops the approach of rheumatism. It, moreover, relieves nervous complaints, and imparts vigor to the weak.

Grant Garrett and Cul Wagoner met on the highway in Pole township, Arkansas, Dec. 6th, and opened fire on each other. Garrett being killed and Wagoner mortally wounded. The fight was due to a family feud which has already cost four lives.

"I would say to my friends, and who chance to read this, that I have used Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam in my family for a long time, and consider it a very valuable medicine. It cures when all other remedies fail; and I would cheerfully recommend it to those afflicted with coughs, colds, asthma, etc."
E. S. Getchell, Boston.

The United States marshal of Utah on the 7th inst. seized the office of the president of the Mormon church at Salt Lake City, taking the ledgers, books, etc.

"My Kingdom for a Horse."

But if he suffers from scratches, cracks, cuts, galls or wounds of any kind, Veterinary Hop Ointment is warranted to cure. Never fails. $1.00 a box. At all druggists.

The following patents were granted to citizens of New Hampshire on Tuesday, Dec. 6th: George Geer, Peterboro, door check; James H. Hinckliffe, Meredith, stocking, and knitting same; W. G. Kimball, Concord, photograph burnisher; Charles Twombly, Dover, thill coupler.

If sick headache is misery, what are Carter's Little Liver Pills if they will positively cure it? People who have used them speak frankly of their worth. They are small and easy to take.

John Taber of Wolfeboro, arrested for catching eleven trout in lake Winnipesaukie during the close season, settled the case without a legal contest, and was glad to get off as well as he did.

If you once try Carter's Little Liver Pills for sick headache, billiousness or constipation, you will never be without them. They are purely vegetable; small and easy to take. Don't forget this.

The selectmen of Durham, acting under orders from the state board of health, have closed the schools of the town on account of diphtheria, there being five cases of the disease among the children of the place.

Lost and found. Found—That pain quickly disappears when a Hop Plaster is applied. Besides, they strengthen weak parts and do more good in one-quarter the time than any salve or lotion. Hop Plasters sold by druggists. 25 cents.

At Great Falls, on the evening of the 7th inst., William H. Card of Nashua, aged twenty-seven years, jumped from a moving train, fell beneath the wheels and was killed. He leaves a wife and two children.

There is no doubt about the honest worth of Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Thousands, who have been benefitted by its use, will attest its virtues. This remedy cures liver and kidney complaint, and eradicates every trace of disease from the system.

Another incendiary fire was discovered in a barn at Nashua on the evening of Dec. 7th, making the fourth incendiary attempt in the city inside of twenty-four hours.

It is wise to provide against emergencies which are liable to arise in every family. In sudden attacks of cold, croup, asthma, etc., a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will prove a never failing remedy.

Alderman Michael Leonard, of Biddeford, with a boon companion drove to Old Orchard on Wednesday, the 7th inst, and got so hilarious that he tumbled down a flight of stairs, receiving a number of bad bruises and a bunged eye, requiring the attention of a doctor when he reached home.

The President

Of the Bank of Waverly, Iowa, says: "Sulphur Bitters saved my life. For ten years I suffered from catarrh and liver complaint. I lost forty-five pounds, and was growing worse rapidly. I had lost all faith in medicine; but hearing your bitters so well recommended, I gave them a trial. Six bottles cured me."—Smith P. Hunt, Waverly, Iowa.

I give honor to whom it is due. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me of Bright's Disease and Gravel. Four of the best physicians had failed to relieve me. I have recommended it to scores of people with like success, and know it will cure all who try it.—Mrs. E. P. Mixner, Burg Hill, O. Send 2-c. stamp to Dr. Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., for book how to cure Kidney, Liver and Blood Diseases. Mention this paper. dec2

Harness and Trunk Repairer.

NO. 18 CONGRESS STREET

If your best girl is cold, if your tailor is persistent, if your English collar is too stiff, if your friends prove false, don't you care, so long as you can cure your cold with Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

John Brown, employed by the Exeter Manufacturing Co., had one thigh broken and was otherwise injured, Dec. 6th, by the breaking loose of a car loaded with bricks.

Positively Ugly Faces

Can be made clear and attractive. Those horrid pimples and blotches can be removed by one application of Hop Ointment. Never fails. Take no other. Twenty-five cents, at druggists, or mail stamps to the Hop Co., New London, Conn.

The lasters in the shoe shop at Hampton Falls went out on a strike, Dec. 6th; cause, dissatisfaction with the sole tacks.

Ringing Noises

In the ears, sometimes a roaring, buzzing sound, are caused by catarrh, that exceedingly disagreeable and very common disease. Loss of smell or hearing also result from catarrh. Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, is a peculiarly successful remedy for this disease, which it cures by purifying the blood. If you suffer from catarrh, try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the peculiar medicine.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

THURSDAY DECEMBER 9, 1887.

☞ Copies of the GAZETTE and of the DAILY CHRONICLE can be had of Moses Brothers, at their Newspaper Store in Congress Block.

It Pleases the British.

The president's message receives universal and unqualified endorsement from the British newspapers. They generously applaud his free trade sentiments, as they commend his pacific and do-nothing policy in regard to the fishery dispute. Mr. John Bull is entirely satisfied with Mr. Cleveland. "He is so much better than Mr. Blaine, you know."

The London Morning Post says the message "will strengthen the free traders' case throughout the world." The London News says "the stone now set rolling will not stop until the idol of protection is broken in pieces." The London Standard says it "is based on financial principles the soundness of which it is impossible successfully to dispute," and "marks the revolution by starting point in the fiscal controversies of the United States." The London Times says that even with free trade "it is questionable whether American industry will not confront us in formidable rivalry in both home and foreign markets. We have confidence, however, in the laws by which, when trade is free, every nation discovers its fittest work and turns its advantages to best account."

The president in his message seems to have shown more zeal than discretion. He assumes that the surplus comes from duties on imports, and appears to ignore the receipts from internal revenue taxes, which have been $118,823,291, against $217,286,893 from customs.

The president says: "While comparatively a few use the imported articles, millions of our people, who never use and never saw any of the foreign products, purchase and use things of the same kind made in this country, and pay therefore nearly or quite the same enhanced price which the duty adds to the imported articles." If this be true, it knocks the bottom right out of his whole message. If the tariff creates the surplus and "comparatively a few" people pay the tariff, then it is the money not of the whole population but only of a small minority that lies in the treasury. If the surplus is derived from the few, of course the many are not injured by the tariff. The result of the president's theory would be to lower the price of labor, carry down the receipts of the farmers, flood the country with cheaply made fabrics of foreign nations, and close many of our factories and workshops. The issue is one the democrats have frequently avoided. They have announced it where it would not harm their party in manufacturing regions, but have been discreetly silent where the utterance would be impolitic. The republicans more than the democrats, welcome the new programme. The democracy are under great obligations to foreign manufacturers. When it comes election day, however, the intelligent voters of the country will be found on the other tack.

The message will prove a lively incentive towards the repeal of the internal revenue taxes, even though the subject of such taxation is declared to be a class of luxuries.

Midwinter Trips to California.

While New England is encased in ice and snow, Californians are revelling amid flowers, and feasting on freshly ripened oranges. The winter climate on the Pacific coast, from San Diego to San Francisco, is delightful; and now that transcontinental travel has been made so easy and luxurious by that enterprising firm of excursion managers, Messrs. Raymond & Whitcomb, eastern people can readily exchange their frigid surroundings for something more congenial. A journey across the continent is much less of an undertaking than was a trip to Chicago a dozen years ago, especially when one can step on board a "hotel on wheels" in Boston, and make no change of cars until the train is drawn up at the doors of The Raymond, the Hotel del Monte, or some other of the great winter resorts of the Pacific coast. There are to be four different trips in January by three different routes, each of which has its special features of attraction. Pullman palace dining-cars or hotel cars are attached to all the four trains, so that the passengers are sure of having their meals at regular hours throughout the journey. The dates of departure are the 2d, 12th, 16th and 23d. The first of the two Mexican tourist parties will also leave Boston on the 16th of January. Descriptive circulars, either of the winter tours or of the Mexican trips, may be obtained of W. Raymond, 296 Washington street, opposite School street, Boston.

RAILROAD ITEMS

The Boston & Maine railroad having secured legislation uniting the stock and bonded indebtedness of the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire and the Boston & Maine in New Hampshire, to the amount of $16,000,000, on the 6th inst. paid to State Treasurer Carter the sum of $8,000, the same being the fee of fifty cents on every $1000 as required by law. The sum was paid under protest, the Boston & Maine road holding that the legislation did not involve increase of stock, but only a transfer.

The gravel train which has been at work on the Boston & Maine lines near Dover for some time has been taken off for the winter, and the crew of fifty men discharged.

The annual meeting of the Portland & Rochester railroad was held in Portland on the 7th inst. The annual report shows the road to be in a prosperous condition. The total transportation earnings for the past year were $196,-995; total gross earnings, $197,597; operating expenses, $153,995; net earnings, $43,621. The old board of directors were re-elected, with the exception that L. P. Baxter of Portland was chosen in place of Richard Olney of Boston.

It is Absurd

For people to expect a cure for Indigestion, unless they refrain from eating what is unwholesome; but if anything will sharpen the appetite and give tone to the digestive organs, it is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Thousands all over the land testify to the merits of this medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, of 248 Eighth street, South Boston, writes: "My husband has taken Ayer's Sarsaparilla, for Dyspepsia and torpid liver, and has been greatly benefited."

A Confirmed Dyspeptic.

C. Canterbury, of 141 Franklin st., Boston, Mass., writes, that, suffering for years from Indigestion, he was at last induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla and, by its use, was entirely cured.

Mrs. Joseph Aubin, of High street, Holyoke, Mass., suffered for over a year from Dyspepsia, so that she could not eat substantial food, became very weak, and was unable to care for her family. Neither the medicines prescribed by physicians, nor any of the remedies advertised for the cure of Dyspepsia, helped her, until she commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "Three bottles of this medicine," she writes, "cured me."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

PREPARED BY

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Price $1; six bottles, $5. Worth $5 a bottle.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and vigor to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. mon,w1,sa28

Says the Dover Democrat; "The deep impression which the late legislative contest made upon the mind of the average member is startlingly illustrated when one who was active on the Concord side, speaking in prayer meeting, draws a comparison between the avidity with which passes were sought last summer by the general public and the indifference of the same public to the blessings of the gospel—each being apparently, in his estimation, equally free."

JANAUSCHEK.

During the past week the greatest of living tragediennes has been playing an engagement in this city, which has been heralded as Janauschek's farewell to the Philadelphia stage. It is insisted by the great actress' manager that after this season she will play no more, yet this will seem almost incredible to those who but yesterday witnessed Janauschek's superb acting. Tragic actresses are not to be had upon call—least all of those who, like Janauschek, join to magnificent natural gifts the serene poise, technical quality and absolute mastery of expression that follow only upon a long and varied experience. Unless physically unable to act, an artiste so richly endowed should not leave the stage until the sacred fire of inspiration shall begin to burn dull and low. And Mme. Janauschek has never manifested a fuller and more complete grasp of the resources of her art than during her engagement at the opera house this week.—Philadelphia Record.

This great actress will tomorrow evening make last appearance in this city, in "Meg Merrilies." Tickets went on sale yesterday morning at eight o'clock, and before noon the plan of Music hall gave evidence that a great audience will be present. An early call at Goodrich's is advisable for those who would secure seats.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, Dec. 8th; Bufford J.

William Stover was before the court on a charge preferred by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, of neglecting to provide suitable food and clothing for his two minor children. Col. Marvin represented the society, the defendant having no counsel. The children were placed in charge of the society for a term of forty days, and Stover was required to pay $9 18 costs.

STORER POST ELECTION.

At a very largely attended meeting of Storer Post, G. A. R., held on the evening of Dec. 7th, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Commander, Marcus M. Collis;
S. V. C., B. Stowe Laskey;
J. V. C., Meshach H. Bell;
Q. M., John H. Locke;
O. D., Thomas Tredick, Jr.;
Surgeon, Daniel W. Jones;
Chaplain, Oren W. Bartlett;
O. G., Joseph F. Moore;
Delegates to Department Encampment, J. Horace Kent, James A. Waterhouse, James A. Rand, Joseph R. Curtis, Chas. L. Hoyt, George W. Williams, Thomas Tredick, Jr.;
Alternates, Isaac Choate, Jas. F. Snow, Joseph F. Moore, W. H. Lear, Charles N. Osgood, Meshach H. Bell, B. Stowe Laskey;
Auditing Committee, James A. Waterhouse, Daniel J. Vaughan, Henry S. Paul.

Lorenzo T. Burnham, the retiring post commander, during the evening mustered in five recruits, making the membership 186. After the meeting a collation was served in the hall by Quartermaster Locke, who was that evening elected to the position for the tenth year.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Celia P. Foster, president of the Woman's Relief Corps of New Hampshire, was in this city on the 8th inst., on her way to Seabrook, where she was to be the guest of the local relief corps during the evening.

A party of 140 excursionists started from the Fitchburg railroad station in Boston on the 7th inst. for California, in a vestibule train provided by Raymond & Whitcomb. In the list of passengers is the name of Miss C. L. Wentworth of this city.

Hon. Martin A. Haynes was in town on Thursday, and stopped over a few hours on his way to a town in the southern part of Rockingham county. He looks to be in the best of health, and is certainly in the best of spirits.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons is to appear in Music hall next Tuesday evening. She has recently returned from a successful European tour, and was greeted most heartily in Boston last week. Her beauty and elegance of costume brought much favorable comment from the ladies, and her reading was, as formerly, most heartily applauded. Her coming assures our people a rare treat. See announcement in this paper.

The presence of Amos Paul, Esq., of South Newmarket, in town on Wednesday of this week, probably gave rise to the report that the Boston & Maine railroad intended to purchase the plant of the Portsmouth Machine Shop. It is true Mr. Paul looked at the property, but he viewed it only from his seat in the car as he rode by. We are informed by a stockholder who was present at the meeting that day, that there has been no proposition to purchase the property by the Boston & Maine road. The statement perhaps arose from the fact that at the meeting a shareholder enquired "Why can't the Boston & Maine buy this property?" The answer would probably be, because the railroad has no especial use for it, and just at the present time is more interested in acquiring railroads than machine shops. The proposition as to stock we are informed is not to issue a guaranteed six per cent stock, but to reduce the par value and create new shares sufficient to afford working capital in place of that absorbed by the cost of real estate and machinery.

The railroad commissioners of New Hampshire were in this city on Thursday, having been engaged that day and the previous one in inspecting the lines and station facilities of the Concord railroad and its branches.

A delegation of members of Storer Post, G. A. R., of this city, went to Seabrook on Thursday evening in barges, to visit John A. Logan Post of that town. Dept. Comdr. Wyatt and members of his staff visited the Seabrook post that evening.

The work of putting in the new letter-boxes in the post-office was completed on Thursday. The new boxes are a vast improvement upon the old style, as the holder can easily see if his box has anything in it. The boxes are also large. There are 1357 of these. There is a slight inconvenience in changing keys, and perhaps in hunting up old duplicate keys. A deposit is required of box holders now as security for the return of the keys when the box may be surrendered. When a person keeps his box for a long period this deposit becomes like a loan without interest to our opulent country.

A state exchange says: "It used to cost the farmers one per cent for insurance for four years on their buildings. It now costs them one and a quarter per cent for three years, and yet none of them want to go back to the old way of insurance." The reason is that now they can tell exactly what their insurance is worth, while under the old system they could only guess at it.

Mr. Reuben Snow of Winterport, Me., who was born in Bucksport nearly seventy-six years ago, has a record of 117 double-runner horse-sleds which he has ironed, he being a blacksmith by trade. During the past season, at Mr. Daniel Mason's planing mill in this city, he made nineteen of these sleds, doing all the work himself—woodwork, ironwork and painting—and is still engaged at the same business. All but four of them have been sold, the city purchasing one, and Hon. F. Jones another.

The Bush house on State street, recently purchased by Mrs. Plaisted, has been much improved in appearance by a handsome coat of paint; and the building next it, occupied on the lower floor by Mr. James Sanborn as a shoemaker's shop, has also been treated to a new coat, with manifest benefit to its looks.

The Nonpareil club has recently received a large and handsome oil painting of Seneca lake, New York, a gift from Mr. Thomas E. O'Kelley, a member of the club who is now travelling for a New York firm of picture dealers.

MARITIME NOTES.

Schooner S. S. Bickmore, Fullet master, arrived on the 8th from Hoboken with coal to E. F. Sise & Co., and will discharge at the Boston & Maine railroad wharf.

The schooner Chillon, Perkins master, arrived from Boston on the 8th inst.; she will carry no more bricks this season, having hauled up for the winter at the south end.

Ten or more fishing schooners, all with good fares, arrived at Commercial wharf on Thursday last, among them being the Lady Lincoln, Gillis master, with 10,000 lbs., which she sold to David Clark. In this lot was one codfish caught by Mr. Jim Hobbs, alleged to weigh 127 lbs. That fish must have been "very like a whale."

POST-OFFICE BOX KEYS.

Mr. Editor: How is it about the giving out of keys to the new lock-boxes in the post-office? I had one of the old boxes, and of course had a key to it; and I had the box-rent paid up to Jan. 1st. My old box is taken out, and when I return my now useless key, expecting of course to receive another fitted to the new box assigned me, I am told I must deposit fifty cents as security for the return of the key whenever the box may be given up. I have a box, which is paid for up to Jan. 1st, but am not allowed the means of opening it unless I pay fifty cents more! Just now (Thursday evening) I am informed that the tariff on keys is reduced to twenty-five cents; whether this is so or not I am not positive, but think likely it is, the administration being so eager to have the surplus in the treasury reduced. Will those who have paid fifty cents already, get twenty-five back? What kind of business is this, anyhow?

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS.

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin's Piano Stringer was introduced by them in 1882, and has been pronounced by experts the greatest improvement in pianos in half a century.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.

Prohibition Not Unconstitutional.

The United States supreme court has decided, in the Kansas prohibition case, that compensation is not due to distillers and brewers for their property which is not useful for legal purposes. The court holds that the law is within the "police power" of the states, and is not repugnant to the constitution, which forbids taking property without compensation and without due process of law. The property is not taken. The state simply declares that making liquor for other than medicinal and like purposes is injurious to the welfare of the people, and must be prohibited. On the question of the right to make intoxicants to sell outside the state, the court holds that it cannot be done to the danger of others. A man may make a drink for his own use, but society can protect itself when it is made for sale. In fine, prohibition is fully sustained by the court of last resort.

An Irregular Purchase.

A coal famine in Kansas is causing great distress in some localities, and people are becoming desperate in their efforts to secure a supply. On a recent night a coal train, when near Syracuse, was stopped by a party of farmers who placed a guard over the train hands, and then loaded their wagons with coal. After securing fuel they paid the conductor for it, and drove off.

Attorney General Garland recommends the building of a federal penitentiary for confinement of prisoners convicted in the United States courts, instead of having them kept in prisons of the different states at the expense of the general government. Mr. Garland doubtless foresees that by the time Mr. Cleveland gets his political friends into office, there will be a sufficient number of breaches of public trust to require a good-sized penitentiary to contain the federal convicts. Garland is for once far seeing and progressive.

At the Eastern railway station in Saco, on the night of Dec. 6th, Officer John Buck seized five ten-gallon kegs of liquor, and Sheriff Hamilton seized the same quantity; the latter also captured one five-gallon keg at the Boston & Maine station. Great drouth in Saco, in consequence.

Capt. Thomas Symonds of Leomister, Mass., who has for a number of weeks been engaged in dredging operations in the river at Saco, will winter his dredging flotilla at Factory island wharf, Saco, instead of at this port, as he has done for several winters.

Miss Lizzie Nason, a Saco girl af twenty years, and Frank Durgin, a Saco youth of twenty-two, went before the city clerk of that place on the 28th day of November last, and published their marriage intention. Their parents objected. Miss Nason has been working out as a domestic, and Bean reports to the Saco police that she has been kidnapped.

"Cowards are cruel"—but the brave man won't drive a suffering horse. He will buy a bottle of Salvation Oil and invariably cure his animal.

President Sadi-Carnot of France has requested M. Goblet to form a ministry, and he has consented.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness and give strength and rest. Try them.

Montgomery, Ala., had a $250,000 fire Dec. 7th.

A woman who is weak, nervous and sleepless, and who has cold hands and feet, cannot feel and act like a well person. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness, and give strength and rest.

Johan Most, the anarchist, was on the 8th inst. sentenced to one year in the penitentiary by Judge Cowing of New York.

J. B. Mason, Providence, R. I., suffered with pneumonia, accompanied with a dry cough,, hoarseness and entire loss of voice. Physicians afforded him no relief. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry cured him, and he says it saved his life.

One white man and three negroes were killed, and three other men badly hurt, by the fall of a water tower at Thomasville, Ga., Dec. 6th.

We take pleasure in recommending the use of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer as safe and reliable for restoring gray hair to its natural color.

Frank Patten, who lived with old man Bennett, who was robbed of $32,000 at East Newport, Me., has been arrested on suspicion. Patten is the husband of Bennett's granddaughter, who also has been arrested.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet were found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters, which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism.—Exchange.

How a Dying Child Was Saved!

CICERO, HAMILTON CO., IND., Sept. 19, 1887.—The following is a true account of what your S. S. S. has done for our little daughter, Hazel, now four years old. When 12 months old a lump appeared on her heel, which slowly grew larger. The family physician thought it was caused by a piece of broken glass or needle, but failed to bring any thing to light. The child became feebler all the time, seeming to lose the use of her leg, and finally quit walking entirely. The middle finger and thumb of either hand became enlarged, the flesh becoming hard. The hip joints became involved, so that when seventeen months old she could not stand, having lost the use of leg and arm. Partial curvature of the spine also followed. The nervous system was wrecked, muscles contracted, and there was general wasting of flesh and muscle. At eighteen months of age she was placed under the treatment of a prominent physician of Boston, Mass., but at the end of ten months she had declined to such a degree that she was in a dying condition. This was in April, 1886. We took the child away not knowing what to do. In this dreadful dilemma we were over-persuaded by friends to try "one bottle" of Swift's Specific, which we did, and before it had all been taken we saw a change for the better in her symptoms. We kept it up, and have done so to this day, and will keep it up, if the Lord wills, for many days to come, for it has brought our dying Hazel to life, to vigor, to strength and health again. The ashen hue of her cheeks has changed to a rosy tint. She is able to walk anywhere, her languor and melancholy have passed away, and she is now a blithe, cheerful, happy romping child. Should you wish to increase your testimonials of proof of the virtue of S. S. S., our names and what we have said is but a portion of what we owe to you, should you wish to use them.

Kindly yours,
REV. F. SWIFT.

THE JUDGMENT OF PARIS.

Three spectres floating in the pallid light
That renders visible the endless night
Of the Hereafter, chatted, half in mirth
And half in musing, of their lives on earth.

The first with wrinkled face this story told,
In tones that sounded like the clink of gold:
"One day Love, Wealth and Wisdom came to me,
And bade me choose the fairest of the three.
I jeered at Wisdom and at sweet Love sneered,
The prize awarding when fair Wealth appeared.
The flying years brought opulence untold
Until in priceless luxury I rolled;
But with each treasure was some trouble wed
Until such counted trouble filled my bed
That Hell was Heaven to the life I led."

The second ghost, whose eyes were filled with doubt
And long denying, slowly murmured out:
"Your allegory fits my life if I Am I or ever had reality.
Impelled by fate, I chose great Wisdom's self
In preference to passion or to pelf.
I grew the mental monarch of an age,
And left my double to man as heritage.
Hell is not; nor is Heaven. But instead
Are phantom dreams of baseless hope or dread,
Dreamed by the dead who know not they are dead."

The third a smiling specter, o'er whose head
A radiance shone, unto the others said:
"And I chose Love. Through mortal years that choice
Made every fiber of my heart rejoice;
And through the gates of death a splendor cast
That makes the future beauteous as the past.
I knew the Lord was love; but now I see
That love is lord throughout eternity.
In earthly life it breaks the primal curse;
In heaven it blazes never to disperse,
Irradiating all the universe."

UNITED STATES AND EUROPE.

Fixed Habits and Old Methods of Workmen in the Old World.

Here we've prospered in everything that we have undertaken, and today we stand at least 100 years ahead of the countries of continental Europe, not only in our improvement in telegraphy and all the mechanical arts, but in everything that goes to make a nation eminently great, prosperous and permanent. Whilst they have held on with a strange and viselike tenacity to their old habits and old ways of work, we've gone on changing, altering, amending, always improving. With them it seems almost a crime to step aside from the beaten track that their forefathers followed.

There the workmen of today use the crude implements and machinery of years ago, things which we have long since discarded and replaced with improved tools and machinery capable of doing infinitely more and better work, and producing larger and more profitable returns. Again, they rarely, if ever, change their patterns, and some of them call this conservatism. Is it any wonder, then, that the workman who clings to his old fashioned patterns, looms and tools is badly left in the march of progress and of civilization? Or that the number of his patrons and the prices of his goods are constantly lessening?

Don't forget another point—while he gets less for the products of his skill, we get considerably more, and we pay about the same amount, possibly very much less, for the crude article than he does. Take it any way you like, view it in any phase that you please, your conclusion will undoubtedly be that the country in which such a state of things exists cannot keep pace with a nation whose citizens are more enlightened and more enterprising.

Of the great nations of Europe, Germany is, to my mind, far ahead of all others, and under the admirable and wise measures proposed and fostered by Bismarck it is rapidly leaving France and England behind. Its industries are great, multiplying and progressive, both in their number, character and capacity. So much have I been struck with these facts that I have started a large factory there, and although only a twelve month old, it is producing very satisfactory returns. Germany is taking away much of the French trade, and is continually on the lookout for improvements in the methods of manufacturing her stuffs and fabrics and in her designs.—Interview with Merchant Wanamaker.

The "Dug-Out" of the West.

The dug-out, in which the hostlers of these western buckboard lines live, is a peculiar and primitive dwelling made by digging a hole in the ground, laying logs across this hole, and heaping on top of the logs, to a depth of three or four feet, the earth excavated from beneath. The door consists of a canvas flap. You lift this flap, duck your head until you are not more than four feet tall, and enter the hostler's home. At one end is a log bedstead with a mattress of straw. A hole in the center of the dirt floor serves as stove and fireplace; a stool and rough board table complete the furnishings.—Lee Meriwether in The Cosmopolitan.

Climate of India.

Meteorological reports from the Punjab province of British India give a mean rainfall of 29.1 inches for 1886, ranging from 53.3 inches at Abbottabad to 4.3 inches at Muzaffargarh, not including the extraordinary fall of 127.5 inches at Dharmsala. The highest temperature in the sun's rays was 183 deg. at Lahore on April 28, and it ranged from 172 to 175 deg. in the five succeeding months. The greatest maximum in the shade was 118 deg. at two stations on April 13, and the absolute minimum in the shade was 59 deg. at Rawalpindi in February.—Arkansaw Traveler.

Home, Sweet Home, in Dakota.

A gentleman hunting for land in Dakota came across a boarded up claim shanty with half a dozen boards across the door, upon which were the following touching inscriptions: "Four miles from a nayber." Sixty miles from a postofis. Twenty-five miles from a raleroad. A hundred and atety from timber. 250 feet from water. God bless our home. We have gone east to spend the winter with my wife's folks."—New York Graphic.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and inflamed. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some eczematous affection, such as milk crust, scall head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which makes life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence a mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and is desirous of entailing upon them a child's greatest inheritance,—a skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston, Mass.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief! all head colds, sneezing, snuffling and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

I have been afflicted with catarrh for 20 years. It became chronic and there was a constant dropping of mucuos matter. It extended to my throat, causing hoarsness and great difficulty in speaking, indeed for years I was not able to speak more than thirty minutes, and often this with great difficulty. I also, to a great extent, lost the sense of hearing in the left ear, and of taste. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm all dropping of mucous has ceased and my voice and hearing has greatly improved.—Jas. W. Davidson, Attorney at law, Monmouth, Ill.

Republican National Convention.

The republican national committee met in Washington on the 8th inst., and voted to hold the next republican national convention in Chicago, June 19th, 1888.

A Big Scheme.

The New York Times says that an underground four-track railroad is to be built from the post-office in New York through Elm street and Fourth avenue to 42d street. The Times says that among those interested are W. K. Vanderbilt, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Chauncy Depew, John Jacob Astor and W. W. Astor. The enterprise now depends solely upon the adoption by the common council of the plans.

The Restriction of Immigration.

The anarchist murders in Chicago, and the anarchist talk consequent on the trial and execution of some of the murderers, have roused a strong and rapidly-growing sentiment that it is high time the unrestricted influx of foreigners into this country was checked, at least to the extent that European criminals who come here avowing their hatred of our institutions and form of government, and their intention to use all means in their power to destroy them, shall be rigidly excluded.

At the session of the Evangelical Alliance in Washington, on the 8th inst., Professor Hjalmar H. Boyesen of Columbia college made a short address upon the subject of immigration. The constitution of the United States, he said, was framed by men of Anglo-Saxon origin for their own government, and presupposed the long political evolution to which that race has been subjected. To presuppose such Anglo-Saxon virtues as moderation, self restraint and sense of fair play, of those not having such antecedents, is absurd. Immigration which draws from the lower strata of Europe, is changing the character of the people and gradually eliminating the virtues which are indispensable to successful self-government. A change has come over the spirit of the emigrant, owing to the fact that he does not improve his lot as much as formerly by immigration. The socialist and anarchist come to avenge here what they suffered in Europe. By their disloyal sentiments and hostility to American institutions they disorganize and weaken the state. The third estate (the industrial class) is the governing class in this country. But now the fourth estate—the manual laborers who formerly framed no political demands—has raised its head and has begun to contest with the third estate the directing power in the country. Hence arise discontent and social and economic convulsions. The speaker though regretting this transfer of power, did not see how with universal suffrage and unrestricted immigration, it was to be averted. He believed that the time had arrived when our policy of indiscriminate absorption of foreign elements of population would result in a serious crisis. The nation is no longer able to assimilate the alien elements with sufficient rapidity. The children of aliens make a terrible exhibit in the statistics of pauperism and crime. They constitute largely the hoodlums and roughs of our cities. The public schools have intoxicated them with a sense of independence, without impressing upon them the responsibilities of liberty. The employers of labor, he said, are able to defeat strikes, by means of immigration. More competition with American labor enters in a week through Castle Garden than the prisons turn out in a year. Protection to American labor is a farce as long as this unbarred flood-gate remains open. Immigration has the effect of lowering the grade of American civilization by introducing an undue competition with people who demand less of it. He had known Hungarians who saved money on wages of $1 a day. They changed their linen once a month, and picked their dinners out of ash barrels. Competition with such people was impossible for self-respecting laborers. People who live like pigs will also presently behave like pigs. Professor Boyesen said in conclusion that he was in favor of a law which would make consular inspection and a certificate of good character indispensable prerequisites to immigration.

A general discussion of the subject followed, in the course of which S. L. Baldwin of Boston said that a law requiring consuls to certify to the good character of immigrants might be a very good thing, but the exclusion of a Chinaman as a Chinaman is an abomination. He did not believe in the free admission of such foreigners as those who robbed the Chinese at Rock Springs, and the exclusion of such foreigners as the Chinese who were the victims of that outrage.

Bishop J. F. Hurst, LL. D., of Buffalo, addressed the members of the alliance upon "The Estrangement of the Masses from the Church." The cause of the estrangement of the people is the antagonism of the foreigners to our evangelical life. We committed a crime when we prohibited the immigration of the Chinaman, and only did it because he had no vote. The Sunday newspaper aids in the alienation of the people, because the latter imagine they have in it a substitute for the gospel. Through our spiritual neglect of the foreigner, we ground out the anarchist. Sabbath desecration is also powerful in alienating the people, and the curse of the saloon is, perhaps, the most potent of all.

Gov. Sawyer is reported as saying that his first choice af a presidential candidate for the republican party is Edmunds.

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 424 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

USE

Horsford's

BREAD PREPARATION

IF YOU WANT

Delicious Biscuit, Cakes, Etc., that can be eaten hot without detriment,

The acid phosphate in this preparation supplies the vital phosphates essential to the system, and assists digestion. No other baking powder does this.

Dr. F. L. Benedict, of Portsmouth, says:

"I am satisfied that Horsford's Bread Preparation does increase the nutritive value of flour, and renders the bread more digestible. Brain workers especially are greatly indebted to you for this valuable preparation."

Dr. John J. Berry, of Portsmouth, says:

"Horsford's Bread Preparation has come under my observation, and I am familiar with the testimonials of its efficiency submitted. If it really supplies to the blood and tissues the necessary salts as claimed, it is worthy of commendation and general use."

Dr. H. F. Clark, of Portsmouth, says:

"We consider Horsford's Bread Preparation far superior to any baking powder in use, as it supplies the phosphates that are lost in making fine flour. We recommend it to all who appreciate good bread, and want the best."

Dr. S. C. Whittier, of Portsmouth, says:

"The theory of combining the phosphates in Horsford's Bread Preparation with the flour, thereby producing a flour similar to that of our grandfathers' days, is a correct one, and should be endorsed by every practioner, in the interests of good health."

Dr. H. R. Parker, of Dover, says:

"Endorsing the theory, and owing to the presence of the phosphates therein, I give the preference to Horsford's Bread Preparation over all others for making bread."

Dr. J. H. Wheeler, of Dover, says:

"From what is known of the loss in phosphates in milling wheat, I am of the opinion that Horsford's Bread Preparation supplies a want which is not supplied bw any other preparation, and is, therefore, in many cases conducive to health."

Dr. A. J. Young, of Dover, says:

"The dentist is often asked why the teeth do not last as long as the rest of the body. There is no doubt that in separating the coarse, outer portion of the grain from the fine flour, the necessary tooth and bone nutritives are sacrificed, and thus the most essential life-sustaining elements which make and feed the bones, muscles and teeth are lost. Nature never intended this, but science comes to the rescue. In a great measure, Horsford's Bread Preparation supplies the deficiency by increasing the nutritive value of fine flour.

Dr. L. Chesley, of Exeter, says:

"I believe Prof. Horsford's baking powder a superior preparation, and worthy of universal patronage. We have long used it."

Dr. Wm. G. Perry, of Exeter, says:

"I have not tested practically Horoford's Bread Preparation, though intending so to do Theoretically I have no doubt that it is all that is claimed for it."

Dr. A. H. Varney, of South Newmarket, says:

"My wife has used Horsford's Bread Preparation for several years with excellent results. It far excels any other baking powder she ever used. I can recommend it to all lovers of good and healthful food."

Dr. Charles A. Morse, of Newmarket, says:

"Horsford's Bread Preparation is undoubtedly the best baking powder in the market. Years of of observation add experience have taught me this."

Dr. J. Low Elkins, of Newmarket, says:

"Horsford's Bread Preparation is scientifically correct, and must supply a long needed addition to the economy of bread making."

JANAUSCHEK.

This evening in Music hall the greatest tragedienne now on the stage will appear in one of her greatest impersonations, "Meg Merrilies," supported by a company most of whose members have been associated with her for the past eight years. The plan of the house is at Goodrich's, and keen eyes can pick out here and there a chance for a pencil mark; but an early call to-day is advisable for those who do not wish to stand all the evening.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION.

The sixtieth anniversary of the dedication of the Methodist church in this city is to be observed Sunday, Jan. 1st, 1888. A programme of exercises will be issued soon. Sermons are to be preached by Rev. J. M. Buckley, D. D., editor of the Christian Advocate of New York, and Rev. C. B. Pitblado of Brockton, Mass., a former pastor of the church. Mr. Pitblado will also lecture Monday evening, Jan 2d.

MRS. SCOTT-SIDDONS' DRAMATIC RECITALS.

The tickets for the dramatic recitals in Music hall next Tuesday evening by Mrs. Scott-Siddons go on sale at Goodrich's this morning; prices, 75, 50 and 35 cts. The programme for the evening is as follows:

1. Scenes from "Much Ado About Nothing"—Shakespeare.
2. Death of Constance, from "Marmion"—Sir Walter Scott.
3. "Father Phil's Collection"—Samuel Lover.
4. Sleep-walking scene from "Macbeth"—Shakespeare.

Forty minutes intermission.

5. Selected.
6. "The Swineherd"—Hans Christian Anderson.
7. "The Revenge—a Ballad of the Fleet"—Tennyson.
8. The Courtship of King Henry, from "Henry V."—Shakespeare.

An orchestra of ten pieces, under direction of Mr. A. N. La Brie, will perform choice selections between the numbers, and at intermission.

FREE TRADE.

The democrats propose to give us free trade. Let us see how it would affect one or two of our local industries. The duty on ale and beer is twenty cents a gallon. The revenue tax on the article brewed in Portsmouth is a dollar on the barrel of thirty-one gallons, and on distilled liquors seventy-five cents a gallon. Now with free trade, our brewers and distillers having to pay a tax on their products in competition with the foreign articles which come here produced by labor at a less cost than can be afforded here, would have a sorry time in their business. It would be done up in far less time than would be the result under stringent prohibition, thoroughly enforced. Verily, the brewers and distillers who have paid so liberally into the democratic treasury, have more to fear from the erratic course of their political friends than from the alleged "fanatical" ideas of the prohibition and anti-saloon party. Between these two millstones, the future of the domestic brewer and distiller is indeed precarious. It looks as if the democracy will have to be placed under republican guidance in this matter of proposed legislation, which seems either the veriest buncombe or the biggest blunder the party has attempted in all its career of inefficient attempts to conduct the affairs of this great country.

The candid reader who goes through the president's message and reads Mr. Blaine's interview at Paris, will at once conclude that the former knows but little of what he attempts to discuss, while the latter knows it all.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

A meeting of the common council was held Thursday evening, Dec. 8th.

The committee on school houses, to whom the school house bill was referred, made an extended report, which was accepted. No decisive action on the bill was taken, although it was discussed at considerable length.

Adjourned.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Hilton, widow of Col. Frank W. Hilton, is passing a few days with friends in this city.

Geo. W. Fernald, editor of the Farmington News, left Boston on the 8th inst. with the Raymond party for Los Angeles, Cal., where he will remain six months for his health. During his absence Mr. Small will have charge of the News.

MARITIME NOTES.

Five schooners and one gondola and one pile driver are laid up inside the Noble's island bridge at present.

The schooner Viola May, recently disabled in the lower harbor and towed up to this city for repairs, was on Friday reported to be again ready for sea.

There was a large fleet of vessels in the lower harbor on Friday, including a brig, the barque Wheatland, bound from Boston to Portland, and the tugs L. A. Belknap and Clara Clarita, with tows. The latter left her tow, the schooner Susan Stetson, Frisbee master, bound from Wiscasset for Boston, and came up to Jones' wharf for supplies.

The barque Norah, of Boston, bound from Port-de-Paix to New York with a cargo of logwood, went ashore Nov. 28th on the south side of Long Cay, Fortune island, and became a total loss. The Norah registered 347 tons, and was built at this port in 1864.

Appropriations Asked For.

Among the appropriations recommended by the secretary of the treasury are the following:

At the Portsmouth navy yard, for cleaning ponds, $1500; building a reservoir, $4500, and for piping the same, $350; for making alterations in the marine barracks, $5685—some repairs also being recommended in addition.

River and harbor improvements—Portsmouth harbor, $25,000; Cocheco river, $900; harbor of refuge at Little Harbor, $10,000; York harbor, Me., $10,000; Newburyport harbor, Mass., $50,000.

Mr. George B. French has put on his counters a very large and carefully assorted stock of elegant and useful articles suitable for Christmas and New Year gifts, and invites the ladies to look at them before deciding upon their selections. The advertisement will appear in our next issue.

Trafton's automatic signal box for striking the "no school" signal was placed in the office of Supt. Morss and connected with the fire-alarm system on Friday. Hereafter Mr. Morss will give the signal from this box when necessary, the signal consisting of two strokes with an interval of five seconds between them, repeated three times, with a pause of ten seconds between each two strokes.

Two russet apples picked on Badger's island by Mr. William Willey a year ago last October were handed us on Friday, and we ate them. Though they had lost the first bright blush of youth they were quite sound, and of very fair flavor.

Rev. Dr. Alden and Rev. Mr. Baketel exchange pulpits Sunday morning.

The Strafford District Medical Society will have its annual meeting on Wednesday, Dec. 21st, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, at the American house, Dover, to be followed by a dinner. Dr. C. H. Horsch will deliver the annual address. The orator is Dr. Jacques, and the reporters are Dr. A. Noel Smith, Dr. P. A. Stackpole, and Dr. S. C. Whittier of this city.

The Eliot Library Association, which now numbers more than six hundred members, are preparing for a "Whittier night" as the next entertainment to be given in the Congregational church. The new reading room in connection with this association was opened for the first time on Wednesday evening, Dec. 7th; it is in the old Hanscom house, near Prof. Farmer's residence.

The Ladies' Circle of the Congregational society of Eliot are to hold a fair Dec. 13th.

A PHYSICIAN'S LETTER.

"GENTLEMEN:—I am glad to write you my opinion of 'IVORY SOAP,' and have long intended doing so.

It has become a household necessity with us.

If there is an unusually obstinate spot on the clothing, on the woodwork, an ink daub on my desk cover; a polish required for the door-plate or surgical instruments, a cleansing and harmless preparation for the teeth, and a very superior toilet soap needed, we resort to 'IVORY.'

We buy it by the box, remove the wrappers, and allow the soap to thoroughly ripen.

Now, if I had saved fifteen wrappers I would ask you to send my little girl a drawing book in accordance with your offer in the Youth's Companion; but as it is, we all feel under obligation to you for manufacturing 'IVORY SOAP' for us.

We do not hesitate to recommend it unqualifiedly to all our friends.

It is one of the few articles that will do what it is advertised to do."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory;'" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Corticelli Wash Silk.

SOLD ONLY ON SPOOLS

Color warranted not to "run," or to injure in any way the most delicate material in washing. For heavy outline embroidery use two threads, for lighter work use the thread singly. These goods are adapted to a wider range of art work than any yet offered for this purpose. The convenience of having this reliable braid on spools, rather than doubtful goods in skeins which tangle and become quickly shopworn, will be apparent to dealers and consumers. Sold by enterprising merchants, who can be supplied at our Agency, No. 43 Summer Street, Boston.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS.

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that in all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin's Piano Stringer was introduced by them in 1882, and has been pronounced by experts the "greatest improvement in pianos in half a century."

A catalogue, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.

Having spacious and good accommodations and long and large experience he solicits patronage

We clip the following from the Dover Democrat: "Whatever may be said of the new postmaster general, Mr. Dickinson, there is consolation in the reflection that by no possibility can he be a bigger ass than Vilas, whom he supercedes."——"If Grover Cleveland hasn't 'put his foot in' to it in that message of his, then we don't know how to read, that's all. But we do know how to read and we read that he has 'put his foot into it.' If the republicans have any brains they have him on the run."

If your best girl is cold, if your tailor is persistent, if your English collar is too stiff, if your friends prove false, don't you care, so long as you can cure your cold with Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

The English Grand Lodge of Free Masons have voted £500 for the purchase of a gift to be presented to the Princess of Wales on the occasion of her silver wedding.

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," at least so they all say, and their husbands say so too. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness and give strength and rest. Try them.

Senator Farewell will soon introduce in Congress a bill to perpetuate the national banking system. One feature of the bill permits banks to deposit state or municipal or first mortgage railway bonds as security for circulation.

A woman who is weak, nervous and sleepless, and who has cold hands and feet, cannot feel and act like a well person. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness, and give strength and rest.

The New York Commercial Advertiser says that Dr. McGlynn is preparing to cross the ocean next month on a lecturing tour in the interest of the Henry George land-tax doctrine.

J. B. Mason, Providence, R. I., suffered with pneumonia, accompanied with a dry cough., hoarsness and entire loss of voice. Physicians afforded him no relief. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry cured him, and he says it saved his life.

King Humbert of Italy has given $4000 and the pope $600 for the relief of the earthquake sufferers in Calabria.

We take pleasure in recommending the use of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer as safe and reliable for restoring gray hair to its natural color.

An indictment found in New York in 1854 against William Kissane for forgery of a check for $14,870 on the Chemical bank of that city, has been dismissed. Kissane, after a daring course of crime, settled in California under the name of William K. Rogers, and for twenty years has been a wealthy and highly respected citizen of that state. His career is worthy of being emblamed in a dime novel.

A Burglar Captured.

This morning about two o'clock, John Wood, the well known plumber who resides on Main street, was awakened by hearing glass break. On getting out of bed he received a blow on the head. He immediately grappled with the burglar, and after a terrible struggle succeeded in holding him until his wife obtained help. On being searched at the station, Mr. Wood's watch and wallet were found on his person. He gave the name of Robert Terry. The broken glass proved to be a bottle of Sulphur Bitters, which had almost cured Mrs. Wood of rheumatism.—Exchange.

I give honor to whom it is due. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me of Bright's Disease and Gravel. Four of the best physicians had failed to relieve me. I have recommended it to scores of people with like success, and know it will cure all who try it.—Mrs. E. P. Misner, Burg Hill, O. Send 2-c. stamp to Dr. Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., for book how to cure Kidney, Liver and Blood Diseases. Mention this paper. dec22

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

To Those in Grief.

If you are starving you will find that eighteen people out of twenty will really sympathize with you; the other two are brutes.

If you fall down, as large a proportion of the human family will help to pick you up, and will feel glad that you are not hurt.

If you lose your way, almost any one is glad to tell you to go to the left and turn the corner, and then go to the right and you'll find it.

But it must be only for once. If you are always starving, always falling down, always losing your way, the sympathizers will grow tired of you, and in the end you will become a public nuisance. It is just so when your heart is hurt and your soul bruised, when you are hungry for comfort and tenderness, when you seem to have lost your way amidst dark troubles, and in your desperate sorrow long to tell everybody you meet how you suffer. Under such circumstances a fair proportion of your acquaintances will feel with you, and will help you if they could. They will comfort you, drop a tear with you and listen to all your moaning for once.

But if you keep on they will soon turn away. They weary of a grief that lasts, of woe that is unending. They expect you to get over your trouble again, to have your broken heart mended so that the crack cannot be seen. You can never, never really be yourself if your heart is actually broken; and people live for years who have that happen them; but unless you wish to be shunned by those who have loved you best, you must pretend to have gotten over your grief. You must force smiles and pretend to be interested in things, and say nothing of the haunting thought forever in your heart. You must take your skeleton and shut it into a closet, and only open the door on dark nights, when no one can possibly call.—Ledger.

Jenny Lind and Her Husband.

At the Goldschmidt house, in the Morton gardens, Bolton, S. W., there are a number of portraits of the great cantatrice, and though none of them give the impression of beauty, one can scarcely realize that they once looked like this curious little old lady. She is the plainest, most old fashioned little body imaginable, dressing in the style of thirty-five years ago, with a plain skirt gathered into a tight fitting bodice, and not a loop or bit of trimming of any kind. Over her shoulder is a little cape, folded like a Quaker. She wears her hair smoothed down over her ears under a big white cap. Jenny Lind's husband, Otto Goldschmidt, though he is quite bald, is fifteen years younger than his wife. The story of their marriage is a romantic one and little known. During her travels through America Sir Julius Benedict, her accompanist, was obliged suddenly to return to England, and then she remembered a poor young German musician she had met the year before and sent for him at once to supply Sir Julius' place.

It was not long before the young musician was violently in love with the prima donna, but, being poor and unknown and so much her junior, he had no hope of any success. Finally he became so unhappy he resigned his place, and being pressed by the cantatrice to tell the reason for such a step, he confessed his hopeless love, and was astonished and delighted when she fell into his arms and declared she had loved him from the first. They have been extremely happy together, and now people scarcely guess that she is the older of the two.—New York World.

Canned Fruits in Tin.

Mr. T. P. White, in a communication to the Chemical society, gives a decidedly negative answer to the question whether the acids of canned fruits may not form poisonous salts with the tin. He reports, as the result of his experiment, that tin is entirely devoid of danger when taken internally in any form that might arise from being in contact with fruits or vegetables." He believes that the cases of accidental poisoning attributed to tin were due to solder or other impurities—arsenic, copper or lead. Professor W. Mattieu Williams says that there need be no lead in the solder—that it is only put in for cheapness' sake, and that tin makes a superior solder to any alloy. Therefore all danger may be obviated by prohibiting the use of any other solder than pure tin.—Popular Science Monthly.

Love Surmounts All Obstacles.

A colored man living near Smithville forbade his daughter to receive the attentions of a dusky Adonis who was paying court to her; but having reason to suspect a clandestine meeting of the lovers, the other night he locked the damsel up in the house and went on to his work. Returning, he was surprised to hear low voices in conversation within, though the door was still locked. On entering he discovered the youthful Romeo, who had gained admission by sliding down the chimney, his mahogany countenance besmeared with soot. "Da ain't no use in stoppin' dem," he said. "De debbil is sitter dem, but de Lawd work wid um. L'em go long."—Lee County (Ga.) News.

Boots of the Peasantry.

In Servia, Bulgaria, and Roumania boots made of bullock's hide or leather, and which are simply a flat piece of leather drawn over the foot all round and fastened by leather thongs or birch bark crossed over the leg, which is incased in either stockings or a piece of red cloth, are worn by the peasantry. The Slavonic peasantry in Austria also wear boots of the same description, and so do the Turkish soldiers, but they make their own. The Russian peasants make shoes of birch bark, and fasten them in the same way over stockings, except in winter, when high leather boots are worn.—New York Sun.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

"Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred. GEO. R. SMITH,
Att'y at Law and Ex-Pros. Att'y, Ashland, O.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some eczematous affection, such as milk crust, scall head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which makes life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence a mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance,—skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston, Mass.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief to all head colds, clearing and opening obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

Arch-Abbot Wimmer, the founder of the Benedictine order in this country, died in Westmoreland county, Penn., in his 79th year, last week.

The Question Settled.—Those eminent men, Dr. James Clark, physician to Queen Victoria, and Dr. Hughes Bennett, say that consumption can be cured. Dr. Wistar knew this when he discovered his widely known Balsam of Wild Cherry, and experience has proved the correctness of his opinion.

Edward Harrington was sentenced at Tralee, Ireland, to one month's imprisonment for publishing in his paper reports of proclaimed meetings. He appealed.

Tone up the system and improve the appetite by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It will make you feel like a new person. Thousands have found health, and relief from suffering, by the use of this great blood purifier, when all other means failed.

Attempted Assassination.

A crank named Berckein fired three shots at M. Ferry in the lobby of the house of deputies at Paris on Saturday, and hit him twice, but injured him very little. The bystanders were with difficulty prevented from lynching the fellow, who says he is one of twenty revolutionists who drew lots to see who should kill M. Ferry, the lot falling to him. He was accompanied by a confederate who was to have shot M. Goblet, but whose courage failed at the last moment.

An Anti-Poverty Movement.

About a year ago a man named George Hutchinson died in New Jersey leaving a will in which he gave to his wife a mere pittance, and left the bulk of his property to Henry George as a fund "for the express purpose of spreading the light on social and political liberty by means of the gratuitous distribution all over the land of the said George's publications." Mr. George was at the time running for mayor of New York, and he hastened to gain the credit which attaches to magnanimity by announcing his purpose of resigning his claim in favor of the widow. Recently the facts of this rather singular case have been brought before the public by the appearance in a New Jersey court of Mr. George, as a contestant of the claim of the executor of the estate of Hutchinson, who is endeavoring to save something for the widow from the grasp of the greedy anti-poverty agitator. George is evidently a philanthropist of the sort who believe in doing themselves the greatest possible amount of good with the greatest possible amount of other people's money. He is an anti-poverty society of one.

At San Francisco Mr. Dixey has crowded houses. Adonis is much admired by the Californians. It is evident that Dixey can play better on the stage than at the gambling table.

The Labor Leader strongly favors a secret, state-printed ballot, and urges the labor organizations to take steps to bring about the reform. The suggestion is a good one. Such a measure, properly carried out, would go far to do away with both bribery and intimidation in political affairs.

Few decent people would mourn if the senate should refuse to confirm the nomination to the United States supreme court bench of the man who publicly referred to Abraham Lincoln as "the buffoon who now disgraces the seat once occupied by Washington and Jefferson." Dr. Morris H. Henry of New York has been decorated by the sultan of Turkey.

Joseph D. Kelly was last week arrested at New Haven, Conn., charged with bigamy.

Mandeville, who is a prisoner in Tullamore, Ireland, jail, has been subjected to a bread and water diet for forty-eight hours for refusing to clean his cell.

Lewis E. Staples is showing a full line of Stamped Linen goods, in Tidies, Splashers, Table Scarfs, etc., at low prices.

An electric light pole sixty feet high was erected on Commercial wharf Saturday, at the lower end of the fish-houses.

Frank Patten, arrested on suspicion of having robbed his wife's grandfather, old Mr. Bennett of East Newport, Me., has been discharged. Two men were arrested at Rumford Centre on the 8th inst. on suspicion, and lodged in Farmington jail on the 9th. They had a large sum of money with them, and refused to give any account of themselves.

Horne, the man arrested for throwing vitriol on Mamie Mahan in Haverhill, Mass., was discharged Dec. 9th, on the statements of the police. Frank H. Young, aged twenty-six years and of unsavory reputation, having "served time" for theft, was arrested the same day. It was Young's statements which led to Horne's arrest.

One night last week two masked men took Mrs. Kingston Brown and her eighteen-years-old son from their house near East Bernard, Texas, carried them half a mile and murdered them.

Wines of California.

Charles Heidsieck, of Reims, France, son of the founder of the famous champagne house, tells the Californians that their state will in a few years be the chief source of supply of the red wines to all parts of the world. His firm exports to Great Britain, America, etc., 250,000 to 300,000 barrels of champagne every year, and is year by year gradually increasing its sales.—Chicago Herald.

Microscopy and Baldness.

At a meeting of the biological and microscopical section of the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences there was only one bald headed man in the gathering of savants. This was accounted for upon the theory that "the persistent use of the optic nerve and retina by means of the microscope has a beneficial and stimulating effect upon the capillary tubes."—New York Sun.

A patent law has just been adopted in Switzerland by popular vote. It covers mechanical inventions only.

Havana as a Health Resort.

Havana, Cuba, is growing in popularity each winter as a health and pleasure resort for Americans. The present hotel accommodations are not very desirable, and it is said that a first class building of large dimensions and elegant appointments will be erected by a company now being formed in New York for that purpose. The plans call for a five story building 156x240 feet, entirely fireproof.—Boston Budget.

The government of the state of Yucatan, Mexico, is making experiments on a new species of silk, produced by a wild silkworm, which is closely allied to the domestic silkworm. The silk on the cocoons is elastic and of excellent quality, though rather uncertain in color, varying from white to pale brown, but one difficulty is that it is covered with a gum which is very difficult to dissolve.—New York Sun.

The names of thirty-six widows of soldiers who served in the Revolutionary war are still on the rolls in the pension office. The average age of the pensioners is 82 and 1-4 years.—Chicago Herald.

Lumber for Railroads.

To construct new railroads in the United States and repair old ones, according to the estimate of the forestry division of the agricultural department, a total of 205,712,238 cubic feet of lumber is used annually. This is equivalent to over 500,000,000 feet of round timber.—Chicago Herald.

King Humbert, of Italy, often causes annoyance and embarrassment by taking fancy to any little novelty which he may see in the hands of any of his courtiers. No matter what it is—a cane of rare wood, a jewel set in some curious way or a fantastic watch—his majesty will show such an intense desire to possess it that finally the object is offered him, and it is always replaced by a present of double or triple its value.—New York Sun.

All are not princes that ride with the emperor.—Good Housekeeping.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use; and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Edson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

Governor Bodwell has commissioned Walter B. Flanders of Kittery, a member of the senior class at the Bangor theological school, to solemnize marriages.

The committe who recently extended to Rev. Father Chiniquy an invitation to deliver in Biddeford a series of lectures against Roman Catholicism, received an answer from him last week. The letter was dated at St. Anne, Kankakee county, Illinois, where the lecturer is now laboring in the interests of Protestantism. He accepts the invitation and will visit Biddeford early in Febuary. Father Chiniquy is author of a book entitled "Fifty years in the church of Rome." He is seventy-eight years old.

Since November, 1884, Daniel Mundy of Biddeford has been eleven times sentenced in the police court for drunkenness, has served 360 days in Alfred jail and 150 days in the Portland workhouse, and paid one fine of $3 and costs. Previous to 1884 his record was for many years very similar. Last week he was before the court on a charge of being a common drunkard, and on another of having been drunk. Daniel resented the slur on his reputation by pleading not guilty to both complaints.

ILLEGAL POST-OFFICE KEYS.

The custodian of a post-office building in another city having been informed that persons were without authority, having made, and using, duplicate keys to post-office boxes, instead of obtaining them in the prescribed manner, calls their attention to the following extract from the Revised Statutes of the United States:

Any person who shall knowingly and unlawfully make, or cause to be unlawfully made, any key suited to any lock adopted by the postoffice department, or any person engaged as contractor or otherwise in the manufacture of any such mail locks or keys who shall deliver, or cause to be delivered, any finished or unfinished lock or key used or designed for use by the department to any person not duly authorized under the hand of the postmaster-general and the seal of the post-office department to receive the same, shall be punishable by imprisonment at hard labor for not more than ten years.

The same of course applies to the post-office in this city, and we are informed by the postmaster that but two keys are furnished to each box-holder at twenty-five cents each, the same to be refunded on return of keys. Extra keys are to be furnished only by the lock makers, to be ordered through the postmaster at the purchaser's expense. And in no case will more than the amount deposited be refunded for the original keys delivered.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, Dec. 10th; Bufford J.

James Leonard, for drunkenness, was fined $1, costs $6.90.

THE NEW LIFE-SAVING STATION.

At the time of a very high tide and brisk gale, several weeks ago, a statement was made that the sea washed so high at the new life-saving station at Jerry's point, Newcastle, as to endanger the foundations of the building, upon which the Journal said:

We learn that the published statements respecting the life-saving station at Jerry's point are untrue, inasmuch as the station was not surrounded by water. The fact was, that on the Little Harbor side the water reached a point about eight feet from the house, and would have had to rise two feet higher in order to touch the building. The water was a long distance away from the house on all other sides. As on this occasion the tide reached very nearly an extreme point, the building is considered by good judges as perfectly secure under all circumstances.

A large number of ox-teams and men were last week engaged in hauling rocks and making a kind of rip-rap breakwater on the side of the building most exposed to the sea.

PERSONAL.

Capt. Percival C. Pope, U. S. M. C., has returned to the Washington navy yard from a visit to Boston.

Commodore O. C. Badger, U. S. N., and wife, recently returned from Europe, are at the Clarendon house, Washington, D. C.

The Army and Navy Journal of Dec. 10th says: "The reception given to Miss Minnie Moore at the house of her father, Chief Engr. J. W. Moore, U. S. N., in Brooklyn on Wednesday last, was a very pleasant occasion, and was attended by many civilians as well as by the officers attached to the ships in port."

It was announced on Saturday that Hon. John W. Sanborn of Wakefield, superintendent of the Northern division of the Boston & Maine railroad, vice president of the Granite State Fire Ins. Co. of this city, and vice president of the Portsmouth Fire Association, who had for some time been ill, was in a hopeless condition, and that his death must occur in a few days at farthest.

CHRISTMAS NOVELTIES.

Closing-out sale of Christmas novelties, with special prices in every department, at Ayers & Locke's, Nos. 30 to 32 Market street. The finest selection of useful and ornamental articles can be found at this well-known store.

TAKE IT AWAY.

The wooden covering of the post office steps is in a very bad condition; it is worse than nothing as an aid to pedestrians, and should be thoroughly repaired, or removed. A few bucketsful of sand or sawdust sprinkled on the stone steps in icy weather would be far more useful than the dilapidated wooden sheathing, and if it did not suffice to save a man from slipping down, would at least allow him to go up or down the steps without tripping him. One gentleman had an arm broken on the steps last winter, through a fall occasioned by the disreputable state of the sheathing; and last week another stubbed his toe against the curled-up end of a board, and fell heavily, receiving a jar of sufficient severity to make him lame all over next day, and having a projecting piece of iron driven through a package which he fortunately had in one hand, and without which the hand must have been badly torn. If the government cannot afford new sheathing, the steps had better be left bare.

"MEG MERRILIES."

Janauschek had a very large and fashionable audience to witness her impersonation of "Meg Merrilies," neither threatening weather nor Saturday night, nor both together, sufficing to keep people from Music hall on that occasion. The first two acts were tame, and there were one or two weak places in the support all through. After Mme. Janauschek's appearance in the third act there was a marked improvement in the performance and in the interest displayed; but with all due respect to the recognized dramatic critics, we do not consider the great actress' "Meg Merrilies" the equal in power of her "Mary Stuart," or other characters we have seen her in.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Susan Stetson, which put into the lower harbor on the 9th inst. while on the way from Wiscasset to Boston with a load of sawdust, in tow of tug Clara Clarita, struck on Murray's rock, some miles from this harbor, and started leaking; she put in here for orders, and received permission from the underwriters to proceed without making repairs.

The schooner Nellie S. Jerrell, Vannam master, which has brought many cargoes of coal to this port within a few years past, was run down and sunk off Barnegat light on the night of the 8th inst. by the steamer Algiers, bound from New York for Galveston. The schooner was from Baltimore for Wareham, Mass., with a cargo of oyster shells. The schooner's steward, who was brother to the captain, and two of her seaman, Thomas Burns and John C. Rourke, were lost.

The following-named vessels hailing from Provincetown, Mass., have been lost in 1887: Schooners Edith Linwood, 174 tons, value $12,000, insurance $2700, sunk by collission Feb. 3d, on the passage from Aspinwall for New York, crew saved; Ellen Rizpah, whaler, lost August 20th, with thirteen of the crew; Mary A. Curren, whaler, lost August 20th, with twenty men; Rebecca R. Nickerson, 129 tons, fisherman, lost Sept. 3d, with nineteen men.

The intermission between the 1st and 2d parts of the programme at Mrs. Scott-Siddons' readings to-morrow evening will be of ten minutes duration, and not forty minutes, as appeared in the programme in Saturday's Chronicle.

Orders having been issued by the navy department for the reduction of the clerical force in the general store at the navy yard by the discharge of one of the $1000 clerks, the one selected by the paymaster in charge for dismissal was Jefferson T. Lewis of Kittery, who took the place of Mr. Freeman F. Sanborn of this city.

The store of George Leavitt at Hampton Falls was broken into on Friday night of last week, and $80 in cash stolen, also tobacco and cigars, and other goods. Sheriff Coffin on Saturday forenoon arrested two men, one on the railroad and the other on the highway, between Hampton Falls and Seabrook, on suspicion of being the thieves; they were brought to this city in the afternoon, and lodged in jail.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons does not read, she acts, and compels the acknowledgment that her acting is not a mistake or a pretence, but a something as worthy the admiration and study of the cultivated intelligence of civilized life as painting, music, or poetry.—Exeter Times.

The card calendars for 1888 sent out from Stich Ban, the music and art-goods store of Mr. Frank W. Moses, are very handsome, and will find places through the year as useful mantel ornaments in many parlors.

One accustomed to ordinary recitals can scarcely conceive what the art is like in its highest form until he has heard Mrs. Scott-Siddons. — Bradford Observer.

At the December term of the probate court for York county, held at Alfred last week, the following was among the business transacted: Wills of John Hooper, late of South Berwick, and Frances E. Warren, late of Wells, were presented for probate: accounts were presented in estates of Wm. Raitt, late of Eliot, and Erwin Warren, minor child of Chadbourne Warren, late of South Berwick; petition for license to sell real estate was granted in estates of Benjamin Goodwin and Frederick A. Downs, late of South Berwick, and Oliver L. Bracey, late of York; inventories were presented in estates of Mary A. Talpey, late of York, and James Warren, late of Wells; first account of guardian of Martha S. McIntire, an insane person of South Berwick, was allowed; Hannah A. Goodwin was appointed guardian for Gertrude H. Goodwin and Sadie Goodwin of South Berwick, and George M. Downs was appointed guardian for Arthur A. Downs of South Berwick.

Senator Chandler is a member of the senate committee on naval affairs.

A good deal is said in the papers about Senator Chandler's probable attack upon his successor, Secretary of the Navy Whitney. The secretary in his statement concerning the cost of keeping afloat the Tennessee, seems to have fired the first gun of the battle.

The testimony of Hon. E. H. Rollins, president of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad, in the case in the United States Circuit court of the B., C. & M. R. R. against the Boston & Lowell railroad, was taken on Saturday. The examination was continued to the 20th inst.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS.

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin's Piano Springer was introduced by them in 1882, and has been pronounced by experts the "greatest improvement in pianos in half a century."

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Organs and Pianos sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.

A Triple Alliance.

Unsapplily for the wretched victim of their dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness are faithful allies. When one of these foes attacks the system, the other two speedily follow in its wake, and successively make their onslaught. Successively, but not successfully, if Hostetter's Stomach Bitters be used to repel the onset. The Bitters as easily extirpates these monsters as St. George is depicted in the act of doing to the dragon in the steel vignette upon the glass bottles which contain the medicine. Their flight, like their advance, is nearly simultaneous. Their mutuality destroyed, they precipitately retreat, leaving health master of the position and strongly entrenched by the Bitters. This grand fortifier is also a reliable bulward against the insidious assaults of malarial disease, and stops the approach of rheumatism. It, moreover, relieves nervous complaints, and imparts vigor to the weak.

Attorney General Longley of Nova Scotia has written another letter to a Portland paper on unrestricted trade between Canada and the United States.

The Commander-in-Chief

Of the Grand Army of the Republic, Major George S. Merrill. Few remedies are better known in this vicinity than Sulphur Bitters; their sale has been very general throughout this section, and the number of reliable and well attested cases of beneficial results and recovery by their use, is large and beyond dispute.

A recount of ballots at Gloucester, Mass., resulted in showing four majority for the republican candidate for mayor, who lost two votes by the recount.

For twenty years, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been demonstated as the most reliable remedy in use, for colds, coughs, and lung diseases. Slight colds should not be neglected. The Pectoral will prevent their becoming chronic.

Twenty fishing snacks were lost in a hurricane at the Orkney islands last week.

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is becoming a universal favorite for restoring gray hair to its original color, and making hair grow thick and strong.

Several hundered members of the Evangelical Alliance called on President Cleveland last Friday. Burchard was one of them.

Catarrh originates in scrofulous taint. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, and thus permanently cures catarrh.

Most, the anarchist, has secured a stay of proceedings pending his appeal for a new trial, and has been admitted to bail in $5000.

The simplest and best regulator of the disordered Liver in the world, are Carter's Little Liver Pills. They give promt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea, &c.; prevent and cure constipation and piles; remove sallowness and pimples from the complexion, and are mild and gentle in their operation on the bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small and as easy to take as sugar. One pill a dose. Price 25 cents.

Grand Master Workman Powderly delivered an address on the principles and aims of the Knights of Labor in the New Haven opera house on the 9th inst., to an audience of less than than 300 persons.

We call the attention of our lady readers to the advertisement in our columns of James Pyle's Pearline, for laundry and kitchen purposes. An article so popular and widely circulated, must posess merits that commend it to the favor of housekeepers.

The Union Pacific railroad is to lose 200,000 acres near Denver, Col., hitherto claimed by it.

Not like others. Hop Plasters are pain allaying and strengthening. Used by multitudes.

A great strike of table glass-ware workers began in Pittsburg, Pa., on the 10th inst.

If you had taken two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring you would not have had that coated tongue or bad taste in the mouth this morning. Keep a vial with you for occasional use.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarrh by expelling impurity from the blood, which is the cause of the complaint. Give it a trial.

I give honor to whom it is due. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me of Bright's Disease and Gravel. Four of the best physicians had failed to relieve me. I have recommended it to scores of people with like success, and know it will cure all who try it.—Mrs. E. F. Mizner, Burg Hill, O. Send 3-c. stamp to Dr. Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., for book how to cure Kidney, Liver and Blood Diseases. Mention this paper. dc22

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. non.wed,satq

CATTLE ON SHIPBOARD.

An Experienced Cattle Man Describes Bovine Behavior on an Ocean Voyage.

William Reilly is the foreman for one of the largest cattle exporting houses in New York city. He has made about fifty trips across the ocean, taking from 100 to 200 head of cattle each trip.

"We are improving every day," he began, in answer to the reporter's inquiry as to how the exportation is carried on, "but nothing," he continued, "will ever be absolutely perfect until some one builds a ship purposely for cattle exportation.

"When we first began to export, we were new in the business, and we had to pay heavy for our experience. At that time we used to lower the animals into the hold of the vessel in pens in which they were packed so tight that they couldn't move. It was impossible for them to lie down, and if one managed to, it could not get up again—but soon another would drop from sheer exhaustion, and then the scenes that would follow after the pressure had been broken would defy description. Many in the pen would be either trodden or kicked to death, others have their limbs broken and have to be killed.

"Nowadays the system is more perfect in the hold of the vessel. In big freight ships, whose holds are wide and purposely constructed for the traffic, we build stalls running the whole length of the ship.

"When an animal is lowered into the hold of a ship it is led along the passageway and backed into one of the stalls, which are made of strong boards and timber joints. In this it is firmly bolted in by a door. The pen is wide enough to allow the animal to lie down, but no matter how heavy the sea it cannot be thrown down, as it is strongly protected both front and rear."

"How do cattle act at sea?"

"Well, when first shipped, what with the excitement of being lowered down into the hold and then backed into the stall—and that is no easy job, I tell you—the animal is certainly more or less excited; but when say 200 get excited—and I've taken more than that at one trip—then it is a scene that is apt to try the nerves of a man. Cattle for exportation are selected from the best stock, and are therefore well fed and high mettled. For that number of cattle I generally have about thirty men with me, the ship owners allowing so many to go free as helpers to the other side. I have the animals' beds made, their mangers well filled with the most tempting food and plenty of water served them. We generally bring them aboard hungry, and they begin munching, and by the time we get outside Sandy Hook they are like a tired, hungry person, exhausted by travel and feeling satisfied and warm. They soon lie down and fall asleep. We never start with a load of cattle in a storm, or in a heavy sea, for if we did the animals would get so scared that even the steadiest ship would feel the effect of their tossing to and fro, and it would be dangerous.

"Everything is kept quiet during the night, only the watchman being permitted to stay in the hold where the cattle are stalled. In the morning we feed them again, for it is important to keep them well fed on the way out. Then the ship has struck deep water, and if there is a heavy sea the ship rolls considerably.

"It's a strange, but still true," said Mr. Reilly, "but the steer is, if alone, the least easily frightened animal you can imagine. I have seen fat cattle wake up on their first morning out, when the ship was rolling heavily. They couldn't get up, so they braced their feet against the sides of the stall and lay there patiently, now and then lowing, and eating the feed thrown them as naturally as if they were on land.

"Cattle," continued Mr. Reilly, "do not get seasick, and as soon as they can get on their legs it is a curious sight. They are tossed back and forward, and with their stamping make a terrible racket, and they seem to look at each other as if inquiring what all that shaking up and down meant.

"It is then that the cattle men's work begins. There are always some vicious brutes among them, and if they are not quickly subdued there would be a panic. The cattle men quickly but quietly go to the vicious ones, coax them at first, but if that fails throw them down, and, so to speak, put them in line.

"Cattle soon get their sea legs, and as, except on stormy days, the hatches are kept open, they get accustomed to their stalls and very few die on the voyage. I think that on an ordinary voyage we lose about 3 per cent. On a stormy voyage, when the hatches cannot be opened, of course we lose more, and nobody would imagine how horrible a ship's hold is with so many herd of cattle confined for perhaps two, even three weeks, without having any air.

"The English government laws in regard to the importation of cattle from America are very strict. No sooner does the ship reach Liverpool than the cattle are unshipped and driven into the government yards. There they are allowed to rest. They are aired, fed and watered and then thoroughly examined by the government inspectors. The next day they must be sold, for the law makes it compulsory that all American cattle must be slaughtered on the third day of landing. That's how it is that quotations for American beef are so frequently marked 'dull.' The butchers buy the cattle at the lowest rates, knowing that we must have them killed right off."—New York Star Interview.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some excematous affection, such as milk crust, scald head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which makes life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence o mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance,—skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. It is fortunate that hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

Secretary Bayard shows the Mexican government that the claim of extra-territorial jurisdiction, set up by Mexico, has no warrant in international law.

The Question Settled.—Those eminent men, Dr. James Clark, physician to Queen Victoria, and Dr. Hughes Bennett, say that consumption can be cured. Dr. Wistar knew this when he discovered his widely known Balsam of Wild Cherry, and experience has proved the correctness of his opinion.

Rev. Charles A. Berry of Wolverhampton, Eng., declines the call to Plymouth church.

Tone up the system and improve the appetite by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It will make you feel like a new person. Thousands have found health, and relief from suffering, by the use of this great blood purifier, when all other means failed.

The officials of the Calumet & Hecla mines claim that the fire is now under control.

The Bill Should Pass.

A bill is to be introduced in Congress to authorize the secretary of the treasury to expend $1000 for presents for the natives living along the Asiatic shore where the barque Napoleon was wrecked, and who kindly cared for the only survivor for two years, though themselves suffering from famine. One of them travelled 700 miles to convey word of the white man's condition to Alaska, and he was rescued last summer by a revenue cutter. The bill should pass at once, in the interest of humanity; some other unlucky white man may need the kind offices of the poor savages in the future.

The Church of the Incarnation was well filled on Wednesday to witness the marriage of Commodore T. D. Wilson, chief constructor, United States navy, to Miss Cara Selena Hubbard. The groom is too well known as the chief of the bureau of construction and repair, navy department, to need much mention; while the bride is the eldest daughter of the late Captain Hubbard, of the British navy. Capt. Hubbard entered the British navy as a midshipman at a very early age in 1810. After a cruise in the East Indies, the outbreak of the war of 1812 brought his ship to the American station, where he saw active service on the blockade of the coast, participating among other incidents, in the capture of our sixteen-gun brig Rattlesnake. At the close of that war, Capt. Hubbard, having been promoted to the rank of lieutenant, took part in the bombardment of Algiers, in the fleet of Lord Exmouth. In 1829 he was granted a special pension for wounds, and in 1841 was placed on the retired list; after which he married. Capt. Hubbard died at Hammonton, New Jersey, in 1872, and his daughter, Cara, made her home with Medical Director C. J. Clerborne, U. S. N., where she remained fourteen years, and where Commodore Wilson first met her. The happy couple left in the afternoon for a bridal trip of short duration to St. Augustine and New Orleans. They will return in about two weeks, as the official duties of the commodore will permit but a short absence from his post. * * During the absence of Chief Naval Constructor Wilson, Naval Constructor Hichborn is looking after the affairs of the construction bureau. Mr. Hichborn is well equipped for the office. He has had large experience, both practical and theoretical, in construction matters. He did some valuable work for the government during his recent tour of the foreign shipyards. —Army & Navy Journal, Dec. 10th.

On the night it was stolen, a boat was taken from Dover point, and another from Portsmouth bridge, the latter having since been found at Spruce creek, with the oars from Mr. Smith's boat in it. It is supposed this raid on the boats was made by the depot burglars, who took this means of escaping.

A new locomotive has just begun its service on the Lowell system of the Boston & Maine railroad, and is of a type radically different from those ordinarily used. It has only one pair of driving wheels, and these, instead of being circular, are cut into 105 facets, each two inches long, thus securing a more powerful grip on the rails. The dangerous connecting rod is done away with. In place of the second set of drivers are a pair of small trail wheels, which have considerable latreal play, so that the locomotive can be run at full speed around curves. It was built by the Swinerton Locomotive Driving company, at the Hinckley works in Boston.

The second trial of John Arensdorf, saloon keeper at Sioux City, Iowa, for the murder of Rev. Mr. Haddock, an active prohibitionist, resulted in a verdict of not guilty. The evidence was very strong against the accused, but the liquor men have control of the jury system.

The Linnæan society of New York on Friday evening last appointed a committee to aid in the erection of the proposed monument to Audubon, the naturalist.

The Woman Suffrage Bazaar opened in Music hall, Boston, Monday, to continue through the week. There are sixty tables in the hall, and musical attractions of the highest order are provided each day. Open from ten A. M. to ten P. M.

The annual encampment of the New Hampshire Department, G. A. R., will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 1st and 2d; but the place of holding has not yet been decided upon, though it is probable it will be holden at Manchester, as hotel rates are cheaper there than in many places.

The store of George Wallace at Campton Hollow, and in which the post-office was kept, was burned Dec. 10th; loss $1500.

James O'Connell, stage manager at Robinson's opera house in Cincinnati, was instantly killed last Saturday afternoon by an electric shock from a badly insulated electric light wire.

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 221 Washington Street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William E. Bowker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds.

AT MUSIC HALL TO-NIGHT.

A rare treat is undoubtedly in store for all who can appreciate the perfection of dramatic reading, who attend Music hall to-night. Mrs. Scott-Siddons has won almost extravagant encomiums wherever she has appeared—and the ladies will want to see her $2000 costume, besides. An orchestra of ten pieces, directed by Mr. LaBrie, will perform choice selections during the intervals. Tickets at Goodrich's.

POLICE COURT.

There were six lodgers, six drunks and one "vagrant" at the police station over Sunday. The vagrant, George Alton, was on Monday sentenced to ninety days at the county farm, and to pay costs; one of the drunks, John Sullivan, was fined $3, costs $6.90; the rest of the lot were not accommodated with a trial.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Celia Thaxter has taken rooms for the winter at hotel Clifford, Boston.

Mrs. R. Hamilton Perkins and daughter, who have been visiting relatives in this city since last July, started on the 12th inst. for Chicopee, Mass., to rejoin Mr. Perkins.

UNITY CLUB MEETING.

The first meeting of the Unity Club for this winter took place at the Unitarian chapel on Friday evening, the 9th inst., and was well attended, many ladies of well-known literary tastes and accomplishments being present. Dr. O. W. Holmes' works having been selected for consideration, an interesting feature of the occasion was the reading of an autograph letter from that distinguished author to the club, containing thanks for the honor done him, and a pleasant greeting. With so auspicious an inaugural the club may reasonably anticipate much pleasure and profit from their literary studies.

As in consequence of impaired eyesight, Dr. Holmes is obliged to employ an amanuensis, his sending the salutation in his own handwriting proves that his proverbial courtesy has suffered no change.

W. R. C. ENTERTAINMENT.

The Woman's Independent Relief Corps, No. 1, of New Hampshire, will give an entertainment, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, recitations and character impersonations; also sale of fancy articles, ice cream, cake and hot coffee, Friday evening, Dec. 16th, in Good Templars' hall, opposite post-office.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner C. F. Tuttle with 1279 tons of coal, the C. F. Bronson with 1750 tons, and the L. H. Russell with 1757 tons, all from Baltimore to E. F. Sise & Co., arrived at this port on the 12th inst., and will discharge at the Concord railroad wharf.

The schooner John Lenthall, Parker master, is hauled up for the winter at the Raynes shipyard. Capt. Parker will pass the winter at his home in Belfast, Me.

The schooner C. W. Lewis arrived at Norfolk, Va., on the 10th inst., from Brunswick, Ga., having on board the crew of the Willie Freeman of Lyer. pool, N. S., abandoned at sea in a sinking condition and with rudder gone. This was the schooner from which Mr. Andrew P. Wendell and a Boston gentleman were taken by a steamer two or three weeks ago, as reported at the time, and landed at Baltimore. After they left her she endeavored to reach Nassau, New Providence, but became unmanageable, and the leak increased so that she had to be abandoned.

The brick schooner Estella, Barter master, sailed for Boston on the 12th inst. Nearly all the brickers are hauled up for the season, some of them having been in winter quarters for a month.

E. Newton & Co. of Commercial wharf on Monday bought fish as follows, arrived that day: Schooner Abby A. Snow, 8,000 lbs.; Northern Eagle, 11,000; Rising Star, 9,000; Agnes E. Downs, 14,000; Franklin S. Schenck, 30,000. Owing to the scarcity of bait prices rule high, $2.80 per hundred lbs. The same firm bought 35,000 lbs. on Saturday night and Sunday; and considerable quantities were purchased by other dealers, on both the days named.

MASONIC INSTALLATION.

The following officers of St. Andrew's Lodge, No. 56, were installed on Monday evening by Past Master John Pender, assisted by Acting Marshal Lemuel T. Davis:

Walter H. Page, W. M.;
Eichard I. Walden, S. W.;
John H. Rose, J. W.;
Samuel H. Joy, Sec.;
Wingate N. Haley, Treas.;
Samuel W. Emery, S. D.;
M. H. Gregg, J. D.;
Louis Schwartz, S. S.;
Oscar Steward, J. S.;
Robert H. Hall, Tyler.

A. O. U. W.

At a meeting of Sagamore Lodge, No. 11, held Monday evening at their hall, Bro. John C. Bickford, D. D. G. M. W., of Manchester, conferred the degrees upon several candidates, after which nomination of officers for 1888 was made. There was a good attendance, and much interest manifested among the members for the future prosperity of the order.

RAILROAD ITEMS

A special train for the accommodation of Eastern railroad stockholders will leave the station in this city on Wednesday morning at 7:35 for Boston.

The overhead bridge of the Eastern railroad, near the Plains, has just been rebuilt.

Charles Thompson of Center Ossipee, a brakeman on the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad, while shifting cars at Rochester last Saturday morning fell between the cars, and had both his legs cut off. He was not expected to live.

Travellers along the Greenland road, Monday, had their attention attracted to a team and men engaged in ploughing on what used to be known as the Ambrose farm, near Great swamp. The plough went along all right, the ground being apparently wholly free from frost.

If any man wants to find the mud deeper than it now is in the road through Great swamp, betweed this city and Greenland, he is a glutton on mud. The travelling all about here is abominable.

MAN KILLED.

About quarter before five o'clock Monday afternoon, as Mr. James Stearns was endeavoring to cross the tracks on the northerly side of the Boston & Maine railroad station, about midway of the building, he was struck by the shifting engine and run over, both legs being cut off near the body, causing his death in about ten minutes. Mr. Stearns was formerly for a considerable time a watchman at the navy yard, and served several years on the police force of the city; recently he had been working on a building for Mr. Richard Seeley at Christian Shore. He was about fifty years old, and leaves a wife and four grown children, one son and three daughters.

FIRE AT HAYES FARM.

A building at the Hayes farm containing a milk room, pump room, ice-room, and room for washing milk-cans with steam, took fire in the can-washing room about two o'clock Monday afternoon, and was destroyed. For about an hour other buildings were in great danger, and there were but five or six men at hand; but by hard work on their part, efficiently supplemented by the efforts of the ladies, who carried water from the time the fire broke out until the danger was past, the fire was confined to the milk house.

The store windows are brilliant with the display of holiday gooods.

The stock in the grocery store of Downs & Co, Market street, having been appraised at $3500, is to be sold at a per centage of the appraisal.

Rechabite hall, Market street, has been leased by the Social Temperance Union of this city, and will be let to persons desirous of hiring it for parties, etc.

Strawberry Bank Lodge, I. O. G. T. will give an entertainment consisting of reading and vocal music in Rechabite hall, Thursday evening, Dec. 15th, charging a small admission fee. All are invited.

Boston's municipal election takes place today.

The District Lodge of Good Templars will meet with Strawberry Bank Lodge of this city on Feb. 1st, 1888.

AN EASTERN TALE.

A king once summoned his three sons,
And thus addressed the anxious ones:
"Go forth, my sons, through all the earth
And search for articles of worth;
Then he who brings the choicest thing,
Shall in my stead be crowned as king."

In one year's time again they meet,
And kneel before the sovereign's feet:
And as with gracious outstretched hand,
He welcomed home the youthful band,
He natural eagerness expressed,
To see the objects of their quest.
The first such lustrous pearls displays,
That every tongue is loud in praise.
So white, the snow-flakes on their way
Compared to them are dull and gray.
The next a diamond more pure,
And larger than the Koh-i-noor,
That shone with such a brilliant light,
The sunbeams, shamed, withdrew from sight.

'Twas hard to choose between the two,
The monarch knew not what to do.
The third is standing calmly there;
Now, with a half triumphant air
And smile of confidence and hope,
He shows a cake of Ivory Soap,
So peerless in its purity,
That dirt, alarmed, takes wings to fly.
The old king, as it meets his sight,
Grasps it, and cries in wild delight:
"No more confusion or dismay,
No more cold meals on washing day.
Subjects! my youngest son obey,
The Ivory Soap has won the day."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS. The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

Mason & Hamlin's Piano Stringer was introduced by them in 1882, and has been pronounced by experts the "greatest improvement in pianos in half a century."

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Pianos and Organs sold for cash or easy payments; also rented.

The steam saw mill and grist mill of William & Levi G. Hanson, at Biddeford, was burned last Sunday morning; loss $10,000.

Mr. Asa Hodgdon, a well known fancy goods dealer of Saco, Me., died on Saturday, aged seventy-five years. He was born in Newfield. For many years he was in charge of one of the departments of the Great Falls cotton mills.

The editor of the Kennebunk Star goes into history as follows: "The Sanford correspondent of the Boston Globe gives the local history of journalism, and refers to the failure of the Sanford News, when run by a Chelsea, Mass., divine. The correspondent says that in one of its issues it had just eight local items, one of which was to the effect that 'Simon Tibbetts' horse is as well as could be expected.' We recollect the publisher referred to; his name, we think, was Stone, the Rev. Mr. Stone. He once wrote us saying he found it necessary to cut down his exchange list, but out of the goodness of his heart said that in consideration of the value of his paper to us, and the courtesy which should exist between journalists, he would let us have his paper at half price. Not finding a half dollar in our pocket at that time, we were sorrowfully compelled to dispense with the News."

"Frank Fowler, the Cash Boy," by Horatio Alger, Jr. No. 4 of the "Boys' Home Library." Paper, 12mo. Price, twenty-five cents. Published by A. L. Burt, 162 William street, New York.

It is almost superfluous to say anything in praise of a book for boys that has Horatio Alger's name on the title page. "Frank Fowler" is the story of a country-bred boy who comes to the city and achieves success, after many difficulties, by being honest, upright and true. Alger's boys are all manly boys, and that is probably the secret of his success. It is for sale at Goodrich's.

In the January "Wide Awake" Mrs. General Fremont, in writing a secret chapter of Admiral Farragut's life, makes an eloquent appeal to the American people and to Congress to take action to prevent the destruction of Farragut's flag-ship, the famous old Hartford, now out of commission and lying in dock at San Francisco.

Mr. Hooper, member of parliament, has been arrested at Cork, Ireland, for publishing reports of proclaimed league meetings.

Four men gave a beautiful silk handkerchief to Rev. Annie Shaw, at the W. C. T. U. convention in Nashville, Tenn., as a token that she had converted them to woman suffrage, and that without uttering a word on the subject.

The Commander-in-Chief

Of the Grand Army of the Republic, Major George S. Merrill. Few remedies are better known in this vicinity than Sulphur Bitters; their sale has been very general throughout this section, and the number of reliable and well attested cases of beneficial results and recovery by their use, is large and beyond dispute.

Plymouth church, Brooklyn, now numbers 2543 members, 116 having joined and ninety-three dropped out the past year, a net gain of twenty-three.

For twenty years, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been demonstated as the most reliable remedy in use, for colds, coughs, and lung diseases. Slight colds should not be neglected. The Pectoral will prevent their becoming chronic.

Schooner Helen Augusta was sunk off Faulkner's island by brig Havilah, and one seaman was drowned.

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is becoming a universal favorite for restoring gray hair to its original color, and making hair grow thick and strong.

The city marshal of Rockland, Me., boarded the schooner Pearl in the harbor at midnight recently, and seized thirteen barrels of whiskey, one barrel of ale and two cases of ale.

The simplest and best regulator of the disordered Liver in the world, are Carter's Little Liver Pills. They give prompt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea, &c.; prevent and cure constipation and piles; remove sallowness and pimples from the complexion, and are mild and gentle in their operation on the bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small and as easy to take as sugar. One pill a dose. Price 25 cents.

There is talk of establishing a democratic daily paper in Biddeford between now and the March election in Maine.

If you had taken two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring you would not have had that coated tongue or bad taste in the mouth this morning. Keep a vial with you for occasional use.

Miss Laura Winkler, of Iowa, though totally blind, is one of the most successful temperance workers in the state.

We call the attention of our lady readers to the advertisement in our columns of James Pyle's Pearline, for laundry and kitchen purposes. An article so popular and widely circulated, must posess merits that commend it to the favor of housekeepers.

There are about 25,000 women in New York already organized in trades' unions and labor organizations of various kinds.

Not like others. Hop Plasters are pain allaying and strengthening. Used by multitudes.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK HEADACHE, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD ACHE they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

Baron Hirsch's offer of $10,000,000 to be expended by the czar of Russia in promoting the welfare of the Russian Jews has been accepted. The money is to be paid into the Bank of England, and Baron Rothschild and Baron De Worms, who were appointed trustees, will receive the interest of the sum deposited. It is estimated that it will be possible to open 1,000 schools for 50,000 children with the money, other charities not being neglected in the meantime.

FASHIONS FOR MEN.

Suede gloves for men are a late novelty.

A new color of neckwear is called marron. This is merely the French for chestnut.

Crescents of gold and bronze on blue grounds are popular figures for neckwear fabrics.

An enormous amount of moire antique, or watered silk, has been made up this season into holiday neckwear.

The latest full dress shirts open the front much more deeply than hitherto. The slit runs lower than the bosom several inches.

Hosiery is being shown for the spring textures of cambric like flimsiness. Balmoral merino lisle thread, cashmere and silk are prominent and costly.

Reps of all colors are entering thoroughly into mufflers for the holidays. Silk mufflers are richly ornamented and merino ones modest but interesting.

Collars are steadily increasing in height. An inch or two more will render a fall from the summit of one of them almost as dangerous as an elevator accident.

For those who like a pronounced scarf, gratification lies in the elaborate silk plush and figured velvet fabrics which have been made up for Christmas time.

Hand knitted wool and Angora gloves are to be the popular wear for business hours during zero weather. It is as fair to have warm hands and oh! nonsense, to go cold.

The four-in-hand will not be downed, but rather increases in popularity. The holiday fabrics for evening wear are of very delicate hues, with fantastic figures of infinite variety.

The crank undergarment movement has had at least the good effect of rendering fashionable the various natural wools used for that purpose and dye will be discounted for this winter anyhow.

One house exhibits a line of linen handkerchiefs bearing woven silk portraits of Hibernian and other patriots. Irishmen can blow their noses on Gladstone, Parnell, et al. when moved by the wrongs of the "ould sod."

Braces shown for the holiday trade are of silk, in many patterns, artistically embroidered with roses, vines, etc., in many colors. They also come in diagonal and longitudinal stripes, red and blue being favorite colors.—Clothier and Furnisher.

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES.

Oxford university, England, is the largest in the world, embracing twenty-one colleges and five halls.

In Great Britain the Roman Catholic church has 1,600 chapels, 224 monasteries, 415 convents, 29 colleges and 2,570 priests.

The United States circulates $700,000,000 in paper money. Russia circulates the next largest amount of paper currency—$070,000,000.

Great Britain, the largest empire in the world, comprises 8,557,658 square miles—more than a sixth part of the surface of the globe.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some eczematous affection, such as milk crust, scald head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which so make life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence a mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance—a skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston, Mass.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the more oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1.

Naval Intelligence.

First Lieut. H. C. Fisher, U. S. M. C., is detached from command of the marine guard of the Nipsic, and ordered to report in arrest to the commandant of the New York navy yard. Lieutenant Fisher was recently tried by court martial for conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, and the findings of the court are now awaiting the action of the navy department. His detachment at this time is taken as evidence that the court found him guilty of the charges alleged against him, and imposed a severe sentence.

First Lieut. T. J. Fillette, U. S. M. C., is ordered from the marine barracks at Pensacola to the command of the marine guard of the Nipsic.

Second Lieut. James E. Mahoney, U. S. M. C., has been granted a leave of absence for thirty days, at the expiration of which he is ordered to report for duty at the marine barracks at the Portsmouth navy yard.

Who shall decide when doctors disagree? Why if it is a case of cut or bruise, or break, or sprains, Salvation Oil will settle matters for twenty-cents.

The boot bottomers in George B. Wentworth's shoe manufactory at Dover refused to go to work at reduced wages on Monday morning, and the bottoming room was left as quiet as a church.

"I would say to my friends, and who chance to read this, that I have used Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam in my family for a long time, and consider it a very valuable medicine. It cures when all other remedies fail; and I would cheerfully recommend it to those afflicted with coughs, colds, asthma, etc."

O'Brien Victorious.

Mayor O'Brien of Boston was re-elected on Tuesday, over Hart, republican and citizens' candidate, and McNeill, labor candidate. The city voted in favor of license, of course.

W. H. Hewes was elected mayor of Newburyport by 121 majority on Tuesday.

The President's Free Trade Talk.

A free trade paper remarks that "the message of the president makes no ripple of monetary disturbance, stocks do not go down, and banks do not call their loans." Certainly; the country knows that Cleveland is just about as sincere in this free trade talk as he was in his civil service reform pretence long ago.

He knows that Randall will allow none of the nonsense he proposes, and that a republican majority in the senate is not likely to permit the tariff to be changed to suit the idea of universal free trade. But he is to go on the record simply because he has been told that if he is to be the candidate of his party in the next presidential contest, to borrow an expression of a distinguished Boston citizen now in Ireland he must "come to time." He must assume a virtue if he has it not. He must go on the record as a free trader, even against his own convictions, if he has ever given the subject much consideration, which we doubt. The party are to shout for free trade for a while, or until the warning from coming elections puts the leaders upon their guard.

Of course, no one believes that even if they had the power to do so, the democrats would at this time make serious changes in the tariff, because so many in their party are not likely to submit to a reduction unless it affects an interest other than their own. There is much buncombe in this business.

In A Nut-Shell.

An English manufacturer remarking on the president's message says: "If the United States would but adopt free trade, British fabrics would speedily drive American fabrics out of American markets."

"Your employers," said a great English employer, "dare not reduce wages to our level. How can they compete with us if they do not?"

The purpose of the interstate commerce law has at last been discovered. Application has been made to the board of interstate commissioners to abate the nuisance caused by hackmen at the Grand Central railroad station in New York city. Mayor Hewitt, who is a state's rights democrat, regards this federal interference as unseemly.

HAMPTON JOTTINGS.

HAMPTON, Dec. 12th.

On Sunday the churches were thinly attended, on account of the weather; oftentimes the best sermons are preached on stormy Sabbaths.

One week from to-night Mr. Henry Dixon Jones lectures before the lyceum. Seventy-five dollars is his usual price, but he comes here for less money.

Mr. Jacob T. Brown is doing a great business in the lumber line. He has recently purchased a large lot in Hampton and one in Kensington, and at present has a mill on his large lot at Exeter; on that place are 210 cords of hemlock bark ready for market. It is estimated that over five million feet of lumber will be put in the market the present season from his works.

The Ballard place, near the Union house, is to be sold; it was formerly occupied by the late Wm. Perry, and is a fine residence, heated by steam, and has every modern convenience.

Mr. Frank Nudd of Hampton beach leaves town for North Carolina, to spend the winter in gunning and other sports of similar character.

Mrs. John Robinson of this town has a Jersey cow that has made 221 1-2 pounds of butter in seven months.

Great preparations are being made by the Sunday schools for Christmastide, and the weather of late has been fine for securing evergreen for decorating. To all who see this, a Merry Christmas.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY POINT, ME., Dec. 13th.

We are having fine weather since the storm Monday forenoon, and the air seems more like May than December.

The Kittery Fish Co. are doing a driving business. They have all the fish they can take care of, and have every convenience for landing the fish at all times of tide. The teams are on the road until after ten o'clock at night, hauling the boxes of fish to the station.

The schooner Golden Gate arrived in the lower harbor at sunset Saturday, with a deck load of hogsheads and barrels, and one hundred hogsheads of salt for the Kittery Fish Co. "The Gate" has a deep load this time for Kittery and Portsmouth.

The schooner Grace K. Green came into the lower harbor Monday, after being out through all the storm. The captain's wife came from Boston with him.

There will be no singing school until Saturday this week.

The Sunday School Convention meets at the Freewill Baptist church on Thursday.

The Sunday Schools are busy getting ready for their Christmas concerts. All three of the schools intend to have Christmas trees this year. AUNT MOLLY.

KITTERY, ME., Dec. 13th.

For a rich musical treat let all attend the Old Folks' concert at the 2d Methodist church on Thursday and Friday evenings, the 15th and 16th inst., under the auspices of the X. L. C. R. Dramatic club. No pains has been spared to make this entertainment one of the best the club has ever given. Admission twenty-five cents, or for both evenings forty cents. At the close of the concert a supper will be served in the vestry.

We are sorry to note the removal of our old friend Jefferson T. Lewis, Esq., from the position he so lately was appointed to in the ordnance department at the navy yard. Jeff is one of the old liners in democracy, and has stood by his party through thick and thin, lo! these many years past; and now to be shoved aside by the party seems a little rough. But this is only one case in a thousand where the faithful are led to the slaughter while the mugwump is allowed to roam at will in the fields that flow with milk and honey. Truly the trial trip of this great reform party does not suit the average dyed-in-the-wool democrat.

The building of the new bridge over the York Harbor & Beach railroad at Rice's hollow, and the filling in of the highway there, made necessary by the extra height, have made a long, steep hill, much worse than it was before. Probably the town will be expected to accept this job as it is now, but the inquiry is, will it?

Mr. Owen E. Pettigrew has completed a fine new barn on the site of the old one that was burned several months ago.

We are informed that a Portsmouth newspaper man, with another party from Portsmouth, was skirmishing around after frogs in our neighborhood one day last week, and one lady who became indignant at the manner in which they riled up her spring, sought to drive them away by blowing a fish-horn at them; but they, not knowing what that meant, came near taking it as an invitation to dine.

It is getting about time for a few "big pig items." Thus far none have been received; the man who has killed the biggest pig for his age this fall is slow in getting in the returns.

How very like spring weather was yesterday; and to help along the illusions, frogs were heard peeping in the brook. We shall expect to soon find dandelion greens, unless winter hurries up.

Next year will be leap year, when leaps of various kinds will be indulged in; but probably the most notable leap will occur in November, when the republicans will leap in and the democrats will leap out. SUE ROSA.

Dr. Norvin Green says there is no truth in the story that Jay Gould means to withdraw from the cable pool.

Ernest Adams, the confidential clerk of Matthew Byrnes, a wealthy real estate owner of New York city, has run away with from $10,000 to $15,000 of rents which he collected while his employer was in Europe.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use; and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Braslon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

ADAMSON'S BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

ANOTHER MAN RUN OVER.

An unknown man, supposed to be a tramp, was run over at North Hampton by the train due in this city at seven o'clock Tuesday evening, had both legs cut off, and was otherwise mangled. Dr. Parsons of this city was sent for, and left for North Hampton on the Flying Yankee at 7:40; but it was not thought possible the man could survive.

PERSONAL.

During the absence of Mr. Daniel Mason, who with his wife is on a visit to friends in Springfield, Ohio, Mr. Mason's extensive business is managed by his foreman, Mr. George W. Williams.

Mr. Daniel Shugrue of New York arrived in this city on Monday evening to pass the holidays, after an absence of five years.

Mr. George E. Day, of Salem, Mass., formerly a resident of this city and a member of the Marine band, is visiting friends here, and is accompanied by his wife, who is a daughter of the late George W. Watkins of this city.

Mr. William H. Lovell of Nashua, formerly of this city, is passing a few days here.

Mr. William H. Atkins, an emigrant from Portsmouth, has been placed in charge of the Edison Electric Illuminating Co.'s work about Boston, at a salary of $1300 per annum.

MARITIME NOTES.

A new fog-horn placed on board the four-masted schooner Agnes Manning, at the Concord railroad wharf in this city, was being tried on Monday, the 12th inst.; it made a noise almost equal to that of the trumpet at Whale's-back lighthouse.

E. Newton & Co. have received within a week 100 barrels and fifty boxes of bait, for supplying the fishing fleet sailing from Commercial wharf.

The schooner B. Frank Nealley was towed down the river from Dover on Tuesday.

The schooner Lanie Cobb, from Hoboken with 368 tons of coal to J. Albert Walker, arrived at this port on the 13th.

The schooner Ev. Nichols brought in 6,000 lbs. of fish on Tuesday; the Sarah E. Babson 10,000 lbs.; Rising Star, 3,000; Abby A. Snow 5,000; Northern Eagle 5,000; Albert Woodbury 8,000; Franklin S. Schenck 10,000—making the latter's catch since Saturday 60,000 lbs. All these fares were bought by Elvin Newton & Co., at $1 to $1.50 per hundred pounds.

The schooner Grace K. Green arrived in the lower harbor on Monday, from Boston, and on Tuesday went alongside the wharf at the navy yard to load a lot of old iron for Philadelphia.

WELCOMED HOME.

Rev. Edward Robie, D. D., pastor of the Congregational church in Greenland, arrived home last week from a visit to Europe, having been absent a little over two months, during which time he visited the college in which he was a student over thirty-five years ago, and found the room he occupied still the same, even to the furniture and its arrangement, and the pictures on the walls; and without making himself known, was instantly recognized and called by name by a middle-aged lady, who, when he was at the college, was a little girl employed in some duty there. His parishioners on Friday evening tendered him a reception in Greenland town hall, which was largely attended by members of the Congregational and Methodist societies, and was a very pleasant affair; there was a collation, a poetical address of welcome, written by a lady of his congregation and recited by a little girl, and brief addresses by Dr. Robie, Rev. D. W. Downs and Rev. O. S. Baketel; following these exercises was a social reunion until ten o'clock, when the party dispersed to their homes.

W. R. C. ENTERTAINMENT.

The Woman's Independent Relief Corps, No. 1, of New Hampshire, will give an entertainment, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, recitations and character impersonations; also sale of fancy articles, ice cream, cake and hot coffee, Friday evening, Dec. 16th, in Good Templars' hall, opposite post-office.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons' dramatic recitals at Music hall, Tuesday evening, attracted a good audience of the most cultivated and refined people of the city, who were well repaid for attending; the artiste's programme was made up of excellent selections, which were all finely rendered, and the orchestra did excellent work.

Mr. Frederick Going and wife will give an entertainment in the Court street Christian church this evening, to consist of dramatic recitals by the gentleman, and piano solos by Mrs. Going.

Two marines and a seaman charged with desertion, and one marine charged with drunkenness while on duty, tried by court martial recently at the Portsmouth navy yard, and found guilty, were on Monday taken to the naval prison at the Charlestown navy yard to serve their sentences. It is said that the marine charged with complicity in the escape of Richard D. Paine from custody, was acquitted.

The Young People's Social club of the Middle street Baptist church will give a literary and musical entertainment at the chapel on State street, Thursday evening of this week at eight o'clock.

Mr. James Stearns, who was killed by the cars at the railroad station on Monday evening, was a veteran of the late war, having served in Co. K, 5th Reg't N. H. Vols., and was a member of Storer Post, G. A. R.

The Granite State Fire Ins. Co. had a risk of $3500 on a cloak factory stock in New York; the stock was last week injured by fire and water, but as the damage was not great and the total insurance was over $200,000, the loss of the Granite State Co. was light.

Free exhibition of cooking with Horsford's Bread Preparation, at John J. Laskey's store, Pleasant street, to-day. Free distribution of hot griddle cakes and biscuits, too. Ladies who wish to test the delicious articles of food turned out by aid of this excellent bread raising preparation should call to-day, as the exhibition closes when the store closes to-night.

Lewis E. Staples is showing a full line of Stamped Linen goods, in Tidies, Splashers, Table Scarfs, etc., at low prices.

Col. Marvin, state agent of the N. H. S. P. C. A., was in Dover on Tuesday to present the case against Charles Philpot of Rochester, charged with neglecting a sick horse. Judge Frost of the Dover police court held the accused in $200 for the grand jury.

The goods in the store of Downs & Co. were sold by auction on Tuesday, in a lump, Mr. John E. Locke being the purchaser, at $2355.

The new road in Eliot, leading to the Dover & Eliot bridge, was last week opened to travel.

Mr. Elvin S. Newton left this city by Concord & Portsmouth railroad on Monday morning for Manchester, with 8,000 lbs. of cod and haddock for his fish market in that city. He will immediately proceed to Trois Rivieres, Canada, on the St. Lawrence river, for the purpose of purchasing tom-cod—said to be what are called frost fish in this region—of which the French Canadian residents of Manchester are very fond. He has been reciving of late fifty barrels of these fish per week.

KITTERY, ME., Dec. 12th.

Messrs. Editors: The communication of "Sub Rosa" about ship building at Spruce creek is not quite correct. The barque Martha was not built there, but was built by Master Samuel Badger, in what is now John Neal's yard, for Capt. Rashe Trefethen's father, and was named after Capt. Rashe's mother. Capt. Trefethen sailed her as master for several years previous to her being fitted for the California voyage. The vessel built at Spruce creek was a schooner called the Harriet Lawrence, not more than half as large as the Martha, and it was for her that Mr. Shapleigh and others hauled the masts. She was sold in Boston to a gentleman belonging in Dorchester, and by him despatched to California from Boston. Mr. Adams' son was allowed a free passage out in her, and died there. The two vessels built in Eliot were fishing vessels of about fifty tons each. Mr. Hammond's schooner was hauled to Spruce creek about the year 1824, was called the "Hammond," and was sold to the Messrs. Noble of Noble's island. Capt. Goodwin built one the next year and hauled her to Sturgeon creek; she was called the "New Hope," and was sold to Capt. Phillips and others of Kittery Point. Capt. John C. Davis built the schooners Jerome and George, the brig Kentucky, and lastly the ship Arethusa, at Spruce creek.

SEPTUAGENARIAN.

It is reported that the pope will refuse to see the emperor of Brazil if the latter visits King Humbert.

Mr. Joseph Caswell came in from Smuttynose island, Isles of Shoals, on the 10th inst., with 1000 lbs. of dun fish from Lemuel B. Caswell. The lot was delivered to the T. J. Sheehan store, corner of State and Water streets.

On Tuesday evening, Dec. 20th, in Trefethen hall, Kittery Foreside, an entertainment will be given under the management of Rev. E. E. Colburn, pastor of the 2d Christian church of Kittery. The attractions will consist of dramatic readings by Mr. Frederick Going, who has been received with much favor wherever he has appeared, and piano solos by Mrs. Going, who is a performer of more than ordinary merit. Their performances are mostly given with churches and societies, which is a guaranty of the unexceptionable tone of the entertainment offered. They are from Ontario, and are well and favorably known in that section; this is their first season on this side of the boundary line, but they are highly pleased with their reception so far.

Harper, president of the ruined Fidelity bank of Cincinnati, has been sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary.

Rev. Isaac S. Kalloch, D. D., ex mayor of San Francisco, died in Washington territory Dec. 10th. The scandals which drove him from the pulpit of the Tremont Temple Baptist church in Boston, about 1860, we do not propose to rehearse. In 1879 he was the candidate of the sand-lots for mayor of San Francisco, and was elected; and while he was in office, De Young of the Chronicle was killed by Kalloch's son, for assailing him in the paper. After retiring from the mayoralty, he dropped out of the public view. He was a man of much eloquence and personal magnetism, but hardly a saint.

A Triple Alliance.

Unhappily for the wretched victim of their assaults, dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness are faithful allies. When one of these foes attacks the system, the other two speedily follow in its wake, and successively make their onslaught. Successively, but not successfully, if Hostetter's Stomach Bitters be used to repel the onset. The Bitters as easily extirpates these monsters as St. George is depicted in the act of doing to the dragon in the steel vignette upon the glass bottles which contain the medicine. Their flight, like their advance, is nearly simultaneous. Their mutuality destroyed, they precipitately retreat, leaving health master of the position and strongly entrenched by the Bitters. This grand fortifier is also a reliable bulward against the insidious assaults of malarial disease, and stops the approach of rheumatism. It, moreover, relieves nervous complaints, and imparts vigor to the weak.

Disturbances created by the students at Moscow university have been so serious that it has been closed by the Russian officials.

For twenty years, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been demonstated as the most reliable remedy in use, for colds, coughs and lung diseases. Slight colds should not be neglected. The Pectoral will prevent their becoming chronic.

The charges against M. Wilson, son-in-law of M. Grevy, have been dismissed, on the ground that his acts were not an offence against the law.

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is becoming a universal favorite for restoring gray hair to its original color, and making hair grow thick and strong.

France has at last got a ministry, M. Tirard having succeeded in getting one together.

The simplest and best regulator of the disordered Liver in the world, are Carter's Little Liver Pills. They give promt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea, &c.; prevent and cure constipation and piles; remove sallowness and pimples from the complexion, and are mild and gentle in their operation on the bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small and as easy to take as sugar. One pill a dose. Price 25 cents.

Three brothers named Smith reside at Rockland, Ga. Last Thursday the wife of one presented her husband with twin boys; next day, Friday, a boy and girl came to another brother; and on Saturday the wife of the third brother added three daughters to the group.

If you had taken two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring you would not have had that coated tongue or bad taste in the mouth this morning. Keep a vial with you for occasional use.

Begin the New Year With Wooing Fortune.

In the city of New Orleans, La., on Tuesday, (always Tuesday) November 8th, 1887, the 210th Grand Monthly Drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery took place. As is the constant custom it was under the sole supervision of Gen'ls G. T. Beauregard of La., and Jubal A. Early of Va. There was sent all over the world a golden shower in sums from $150,000 downwards. The First Prize of $150,000 was drawn by No. 71,411, and was sold in fractional parts of tenths at $1 each, sent to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La. One tenth was paid to Michael Slutzki and Solomon Pinkogski of Boston, Mass.; one to Edgar Burnett, Agent Adams Express Co. at Jackson, Mich.; one to Mrs. H. Benard, Sioux Falls, through Sioux Falls Nat'l Bank; one to Wm. Foad, of Anaconda, Mont., through the Omaha Nat'l Bank of Omaha, Neb.; one to Messrs. Gay and Groff, Omaha, Neb.; one to M. Kohn, Missoula, Mont., through Missoula Nat'l Bank; one to Joe Morrison, New-Orleans, Ark., through E. L. Watson of Newport, Ark.; one to W. H. Landon of Newport News, Va., paid through Burrus, Son & Co., Bankers, of Norfolk, Va.; one to Margaret Clark, No. 12 St. Andrews, St., New Orleans, La. No. 69,368 drew the Second Capital Prize of $50,000: it was also sold in fractional tenths at $1 each—one to Wm. Leslie, amount paid to Wells, Fargo & Co., of San Francisco, Cal.; one to F. Wohlhurter of Oldham, Dak., through First Nat'l Bank of Madison, Dak.; one to D. C. Macon, Elwood, Ind., through Citizens Bank of Noblesville, Ind.; one paid to Thos. R. Miller, No. 1213 Lawrence St., Denver, Col.; one to Chas. H. Wiss, Edinburg, Ill., through Geo. F. Harrington, Esq., a banker there; one to Wm. H. Arison, Monongahela City, Pa., through Peoples Bank of Monongahela. No. 70,113 drew the Third Capital Prize of $20,000: It was also sold in fractional tenths at $1 each; two were paid through First Nat'l Bank of Nashville, Tenn.; one was paid to J. G. Hedrick, and another to H. Adams, both of Las Vegas, N. M.; one to L. E. Anderson, paid through Omaha Bank of Omaha, Neb.; one to Felix Emrich of Kansas City, Mo., through Citizens Nat'l Bank of Kansas City. No. 32,807 drew one of the Fourth two Capital Prizes of $10,000: One was paid E. A. Kaerstros of Philadelphia, Pa., through Bernard Gilpin, attorney at law, No. 717 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa. No. 15,981 drew the other $10,000 Fourth Capital sold to parties in Memphis, Tenn.; Kansas City, Mo.; and Colorado, Tex., etc., etc. The next drawing will be on Tuesday, January 10th, 1888, when it will all be repeated. Any information will be given on application to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., or with money sent in a registered letter to the address of the New Orleans National Bank of New Orleans. Begin the new year with a resolution to woo the fickle goddess—Fortune.

I give honor to whom it is due. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me of Bright's Disease and Gravel. Four of the best physicians had failed to relieve me. Queer Names in the Northwest.

There is a "wealth" of queer names all through this region. It is but a little while since we passed Rat Portage, and now we come to Medicine Hat, the first of which names I could not get the origin of, but the second I did, and commonplace enough I found it. Medicine Cap was an old medicine man of the Blackfoot tribe of Indians, who had his wigwam on the site of the present town, and so when the town was laid out they "honored" him by calling it "Medicine Hat," thinking, probably, that "hat" was higher toned than "cap!"

Apropos of the change of names, I see that the Ottawa parliament recently changed the name of Boundary peak to Pope's peak, in honor of the minister of railways; Mount Hermit to Mount Tupper, after the minister of finance; Mount Carroll to Mount Macdonald, after the premier; Mount Cunningham to Mount Mackenzie, after the ex-premier, and an unnamed mountain to be called Mount Macpherson. Boundary peak and Mount Hermit should never have been changed, as their titles are significant and possess a certain degree of poetry; but the others meant nothing then, and are no heavier now. The people now honored are said to have been intimately connected with the inception and execution of the Canadian Pacific railway. I should prefer to see such names as Rat Portage, Kicking Horse and similar monstrosities changed to something understandable. And then think of such a name as Illicillwaet! Even Boston culture would stagger at such a name as that! What then could be expected in the wild, untamed "rowdy west?"—Cor. Detroit Free Press.

The Reputation of Wealth.

Next to the possession of wealth in inconvenience is the reputation of having it. A friend tells with a good deal of drollery how he has suffered this summer from the undeserved fame of fortune. "You know," he says, "that the X's went abroad in June, and they offered us the use of their cottages at Wareview for the summer. Of course we were delighted, and if I hadn't made a mismove in the first place we should have had a beautiful time. Such a trifling thing, too. It was only buying a dollar's worth of postage stamps at the village postoffice, but it came very near spoiling our whole summer." Of course he was asked to explain, and did so by saying that in a place where people bought a single stamp for a letter after the epistle was written, the purchase of fifty stamps at once took on all the magnitude of a magnificent financial transaction. The purchaser was from that moment regarded as a man of enormous wealth. He was charged extravagantly for everything, his steps were haunted by committees soliciting subscriptions for the church and charity, and he was, in a word, subjected to all the annoyance of being wealthy without the satisfaction of having the reality of which this was the unpleasant shadow. "And hereafter," he concluded, "I shall never buy more than a single stamp in the country."—Boston Cor. Providence Journal.

Some Facts About Ferrets.

"Ferrets are not common in this country and we have hard work to introduce them," said the first importer and largest breeder of ferrets in New York to a reporter.

"In England hunting with ferrets is a popular sport, and every country gentleman has several pairs trained to come at his call."

"What is the cost of a ferret?"

"That depends principally on their age. Their average life is twelve years and the average price per pair $25. We generally sell them outright, but are glad to buy them back when the purchaser is through using them. Occasionally we make contracts to keep a mill or a ship free from rats at so much a year, running the ferrets as occasion requires.

"There is a curious superstition regarding ferrets. It ascribes to them the power of curing whooping cough. I have sometimes had as many as twenty people in here in a single day to take advantage of the little creature's supposed miraculous power. The people bring pans of milk and bits of food. This they allow the ferrets to partake of, carrying away the remainder, firmly convinced that there has been imparted to the substance an infallible remedial virtue."—New York Evening Sun.

Protest Against Small Windows.

A St. Louis physician says: Every time I see one of the new style of houses in the course of erection I feel like telling the owner to take out the small windows and have more light. I have entered my protest many a time against small windows. Let there be light is the warning of every physician. It is absolutely necessary to health that a house be well lighted, and a great deal of the sickness of a city is to be attributed to dark rooms. It may be called refinement for a woman to be pale and thin, but it renders her unfit to bear the burdens of life and powerless to resist disease. A plant cannot grow in a dark place, and why should a human being? Children brought up in these modern houses, with their small windows and dark rooms, become unhealthy and puny. Style is to blame for this evil. Every house should have as much sunlight as possible.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

There are 100,000,000 English speaking people, 69,000,000 who speak German, 67,000,000 who speak Russian and 48,000,000 who speak French.

Two races of men are dying out—the Lapланders, who number 30,000, and the Maoris of New Zealand, reduced from 100,000 to 45,000 since the days of Capt. Cook, and likely to be extinct by the year 2000.

The sales of public lands the past year amounted to 25,858,038 acres, which is 3,733,475 acres more than in 1886, and the receipts were $2,947,737 greater. The number of acres restored to the public domain was 31,824,461.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some cutaneous affection, such as milk crust, scald head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which make life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence a mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance,—a skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved or, this side of the grave, is a time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffling and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

A Triple Alliance.

Unhappily for the wretched victim of their assault, dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness are faithful allies. When one of these foes attacks the system, the other two speedily follow in its wake, and successively make their onslaught. Successively, but not successfully, if Hostetter's Stomach Bitters be used to repel the onset. The Bitters as easily extirpates these monsters as St. George is depicted in the act of doing to the dragon in the steel vignette upon the glass bottles which contain the medicine. Their flight, like their advance, is nearly simultaneous. Their mutuality destroyed, they precipitately retreat, leaving health master of the position and strongly entrenched by the Bitters. This grand fortifier is also a reliable bulward against the insidious assaults of malarial disease, and stops the approach of rheumatism. It, moreover, relieves nervous complaints, and imparts vigor to the weak.

Rand Libby, a Gilford farmer aged seventy years, was found dead by the roadside in Centre Harbor a few days ago, with his horse and wagon close by.

For twenty years, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been demonstated as the most reliable remedy in use, for colds, coughs, and lung diseases. Slight colds should not be neglected. The Pectoral will prevent their becoming chronic.

The simplest and best regulator of the disordered Liver in the world, are Carter's Little Liver Pills. They give prompt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea, &c.; prevent and cure constipation and piles; remove sallowness and pimples from the complexion, and are mild and gentle in their operation on the bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small and as easy to take as sugar. One pill a dose. Price 25 cents.

On Saturday afternoon, Dec. 10th, the citizens of Owensboro', Ky., observed an immense balloon passing over that town, and later in the day the balloon was found in a swamp. The remains of a man who had evidently been emptied from the air ship were also discovered. It was their theory that the aeronaut was dead before the balloon reached the earth, as no serious bruises were found upon his body, and it is supposed that he lost control of the balloon and came to his death at a high altitude from cold and starvation. No papers were found to indicate who he was.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

The Berlin Kreuz Zeitung asserts "on authority" that England, in the event of war, will send a fleet to operate in the Baltic, and will protect the coasts of Italy. The consent of parliament, says the paper, will not be asked until the movement comes for putting the agreement into effect.

If you had taken two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring you would not have had that coated tongue or bad taste in the mouth this morning. Keep a vial with you for occasional use.

It Quitman, Ga., a drunken negro resisted arrest. The policeman hit him on the head with a club, and in an instant the negro's wool was all abaze. The policeman was frightened, and took to his heels. After he had recovered from his fright sufficiently to stop running, he resigned. The explanation of the blaze was found in the negro's practice of using his hair as a match safe.

Municipal Elections in Massachusetts.

In Boston on the 13th inst. Mayor O'Brien was re-elected by a plurality of 1539, against 4668 last year. In the board of aldermen there was a complete overturn, only two of the members of the present board who were candidates for re-election being successful; Ald. Lee was defeated by an independent democrat, and Ald. Maguire by a labor democrat. The next board will stand as follows: One independent, one labor and two regular democrats, and eight republicans; the next council will be the same as the present one, forty-three democrats and twenty-nine republicans.

In Lowell there was a tremendous capsizing of things. Last year the democratic candidate for mayor had 824 plurality; at this election Charles D. Palmer, republican, is 1085 ahead. Last year the democrats elected the eight aldermen; this time the republicans elected them all. The republicans have also elected fifteen councilmen of twenty-four, a republican gain of four. The city gave about 800 majority for license.

In Worcester the republicans re-elected the mayor, and elected all the aldermen and eight of the twelve councilmen, getting a councilman in ward three for the first time in twenty years. License had less than 200 majority, but no-license had none at all.

Newburyport elected William H. Huse, independent citizen, by 1099 votes to 986 for J. Otis Winkley, citizen. The aldermen are evenly divided, three democrats and three republicans; the common council stands thirteen republicans to five democrats.

In Lynn, Mayor Hart, democrat, was defeated for re-election, George B. Higgins, republican, having 784 majority, a republican gain of 1238 votes over last year. The city voted in favor of license.

In Salem the republican mayor was re-elected; also the old board of aldermen with one exception.

Just So.

In an address delivered before the Indiana Editorial association by J. W. Richards of the Indianapolis News, in September last, after referring to "the common practice of receiving money from advertisers on a claim of sometimes double the circulation really possessed," and stigmatizing it as clearly an obtaining of money under false pretences, he said:

Mere numbers do not constitute the only element of value. Quality, self-respecting character, cleanness, count for something with their superior following of readers. A thousand subscriptions to the sterling county paper, whose period of life in the family is seven days for each copy, is of vastly greater value to the advertiser than an equal number of copies of the cheap sensational daily, with its fleeting life of a few hours only.

Bradley, the democratic candidate for Congress from the 2d district of Rhode Island, who was decisively defeated at the polls, it is announced has decided, after consultation with the party leaders, to contest the election on the ground of intimidation, bribery and fraud. There is no pretence of belief on the part of anybody that the republican candidate was not legally elected; but in case the next election of president should devolve on the house of representatives, it would be a great thing for the democracy to have the vote of Rhode Island a tie, so that it would not count; and Judge Bradley hopes that this consideration will induce the democratic house to override the vote of the people of his district, and give him the seat to which another man was elected.

The president has given up his residence in the city of Buffalo, and while he continues at Washington will not have his name placed upon any tax list. He for one will not submit to the tariff of which he complains grinding him as a tax payer, even at the risk of being thought a tax-dodger. In short, no tax bills for him while he is president.

The Hartshorn place at Sagamore creek has been purchased by Mr. Charles P. Wendell of Rye, the price mentioned being $3500. As there are seven acres of tillage land and an equal amount of woodland, and good buildings on the place, the price paid does not seem large. There is not a finer situation between Market square and Rye beach than is occupied by this property.

The Biddeford Daily Times has been enlarged. We are pleased to note this indication of prosperity, for the Times is a good paper—clean, newsy, bright, fearlessly outspoken, and squarely republican.

Three naval vessels will shortly leave the port of New York on extended cruises. The Trenton will start about Jan. 1st for Panama, for service as flagship of the Pacific station. The Enterprise and Nipsic are to cruise around the world, the former going east by way of the Mediterranean, the latter going west around the Horn. The Enterprise will sail as soon as her commander, Captain McCalla, is relieved from duty as a member of the Stevenson court of inquiry. The Nipsic is expected to start in about ten days.

MAKING FANCY CANDLES.

The Materials Used in Modern Times. Candles for the Church Trade.

As the fashion for lighting up the brilliant society devotees by curious and beautiful wax candles in magnificent candelabras and candlesticks is rapidly increasing, the trade in these fine goods is correspondingly increasing. Up to the past six or seven years the bulk of fancy candles went to church organizations solely. Now the fashion is to use them at brilliant banquets, tasty small dinners, at grand evening receptions, society's pet charity balls, tea parties, in picture galleries, millionaire halls and studios, in renowned artists' studios, and on the desks of grocery trade papers' editors. There are four times as many fancy candles sold now as there were three years ago.

The materials used in this modern enlightened age are mostly wax and a composition of wax. The tallow dips of our forefathers are now sent to South America, the West Indies, and a few to the southwest. They, of course, lose their rotundity in passing into tropic warmths, and are therefore used by the natives largely for lubricating the outer cuticle of their bodies. Candles are a composition, in detail, of paraffine, wax and stearic acid. The latter is the solid constituent of tallow, wax is really beeswax, refined by sun bleaching, and paraffine is the residuum of petroleum from crude oil. With all other lines the advancement in the manufacture of candles is in accord. The modern star candle or adamantine is a "thing of beauty and joy forever"—or until snuffed out.

It has been found in the past that the manufacture of the very finest of fancy candles in this country does not pay, and England, France and Germany hold the trade, but on many other fancy lines the American manufacturers are taking it away from "over the water." For upwards of two and a quarter centuries a London house has had the lead enjoyed by candle makers. The very latest styles are at once sent to this country, and this house has been largely instrumental in revolutionizing the business here.

Vienna sends to this country fancy candles, some of which are peculiar, being made of "Ceresin," also called "Ozokerite," or natural earth wax. Extra big candles are used also at Easter. The large candles are made for church trade, but are seldom made fancy. The lowering of prices in the past few years is also remarkable. Fancy candles that now cost $60 per gross could hardly be bought then at the same price per dozen.

In the coloring of fancy goods an ordinary white candle is used, and is guttered along the sides by machinery. Then the colored wax is run into gutters, and the candle is afterward twisted by machinery. It is then dipped and polished. Analine dyes are now used in coloring. All these changes, the use of cheaper dye stuffs, machinery, etc., have tended to lower prices.—Grocery World.

Want of Sleep

Is sending thousands annually to the insane asylum; and the doctors say this trouble is alarmingly on the increase. The usual remedies, while they may give temporary relief, are likely to do more harm than good. What is needed is an Alterative and Blood-purifier. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is incomparably the best. It corrects those disturbances in the circulation which cause sleeplessness, gives increased vitality, and restores the nervous system to a healthful condition.

Rev. T. G. A. Coté, agent of the Mass. Home Missionary Society, writes that his stomach was out of order, his sleep very often disturbed, and some impurity of the blood manifest; but that a perfect cure was obtained by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Frederick W. Pratt, 424 Washington street, Boston, writes: "My daughter was prostrated with nervous debility. Ayer's Sarsaparilla restored her to health."

William F. Boeker, Erie, Pa., was cured of nervousness and sleeplessness by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla for about two months, during which time his weight increased over twenty pounds

RAILROAD MEETINGS.

On Wednesday, the 14th inst., for the first time in fourteen years, the stockholders of the Eastern railroad met for the purpose of choosing an entire board of directors for the corporation. There were two tickets in the field, both of which bore the following names: Walter Hunnewell of Wellesley, Samuel C. Lawrence of Medford, Frank Jones of Portsmouth, Arthur Sewall of Bath, Me., and Nathaniel J. Bradlee of Boston—for the remaining members of the board the names on the two tickets differing. The polls closed at two o'clock, and while the votes were being counted resolutions were adopted censuring the trustees for not investing the sinking fund moneys in certificates of indebtedness, and instructing the directors to co-operate with the Boston & Maine directors in procuring from the Massachusetts legislature permission to consolidate the stocks and franchises of the two roads.

The Boston & Maine railroad stockholders' annual meeting was held on the 14th, and George C. Lord of Newton, Amos Paul of South Newmarket, N. J. Bradlee and Richard Olney of Boston, J. R. Nichols of Haverhill, Mass., W. S. Stevens of Dover, Frank Jones, S. C. Lawrence, and J. S. Ricker of Deering, Me., were elected directors. The issuing of terminal bonds and improvement bonds was approved.

The Eastern railroad meeting was held in the company's station at Boston, and the Boston & Maine meeting in the city hall at Lawrence, Mass.

WAKED HIM UP.

Mr. Thomas J. Mitchell, who being a night watchman rests by day, was roused from slumber on Tuesday afternoon of this week by a loud crash and the violent shaking of his house on the corner of Bridge and Hill streets, which gave him the impression that an earthquake had broken loose, and caused him to arise with much celerity. The earthquake was on wheels, and drawn by a mighty pair of oxen belonging to Hon. Frank Jones; the animals were frightened while standing near the machine shop, by a steam whistle, and ran away; and Mr. Mitchell's house getting in their path they bumped the heavy wagon against it, knocking off the corner boards and doing some other slight damage. Where they went afterward we are not informed.

RAILROAD ITEMS

The special train for Eastern railroad stockholders, on the morning of the 14th, started out from the station in this city with seven passenger cars; there were a considerable number of "stockholders," but not nearly so many as on some previous occasions of the kind.

Mr. Frank Hobbs of Kittery, who has for some time past been in Boston as night operator in the office of the train despatcher of the Boston & Maine railroad, has been transferred to the railroad office in this city as night operator, Mr. P. E. Kane being transferred to Ipswich, Mass., as night operator there.

The man reported in the Chronicle of the 14th inst. as having been run over by the cars at North Hampton the previous evening, died before the arrival of Dr. Parsons from this city. An examination showed that one leg had been severed from his body, and he was otherwise mangled. Before he died he said he had attempted to board the train in order to get a ride to this city, having walked to North Hampton from Newburyport. He also stated that he belonged in California, but did not give his name. The remains were taken in charge by the town officers of North Hampton.

MARITIME NOTES.

The ship Granite State, of this port, Ross master, sailed from Hong Hong on the 4th ult. for New York.

The schooner Clara E. Simpson, Hontvet master, from Perth Amboy with 575 tons of coal to J. Albert Walker, arrived at this port on the 14th inst.

A despatch of Dec. 14th from Batavia, Java, says the Boston ship South American, commanded by Capt. George W. Tucker of this city, is ashore in Banca straits, and will probably have to discharge part of her cargo to get off.

The fishing schooner Oscar & Hattie, which fitted out at Gloucester ostensibly for a trip to the banks, sailed on the 12th inst. for San Francisco, leaving a large number of unpaid bills behind, amounting to $3,000, and principally due Gloucester parties. The sheriff attempted to attach the vessel, some of the creditors having got wind of the skipper's intentions, but when he arrived at her supposed dock he found that she had skipped out.

LAUNCH OF THE BARK MARTHA.

Mr. Editor: I am glad to see history set aright, concerning the bark Martha, for the good craft in her day for a long while was the temporary home of many a Portsmouth boy. I well recollect the launching of the Martha. It was in 1845. Master Badger, her builder, the same year constructed the ship Mary Pleasant for owners in Providence, R. I. Among the original owners of the Martha in this city there survive Messrs. Wm. D. Fernald, Geo. W. Pendexter and Samuel Adams. Master Badger had an interest in her, as did Joseph Cox and William Trefethen of Kittery, and her first commander, Capt. J. P. Trefethen, who afterward commanded the ship Portsmouth. Master Badger afterward built the bark Apphia Maria, named for his daughter, now Mrs. Ball.

The vessel was rigged on the stocks; yards were across and sails bent, when she left the ways. It was on a cold easterly day, and after the vessel took the water the pilot in charge, Benning Willey, who had charge of launching vessels in those days, ordered the foretopsail sheeted home and hoisted, and the bark sailed over on the top of the tide to Central wharf in a very few minutes. I think this may have been the first instance when a vessel was built and rigged on the stocks, and launched in our state, and sailed without any delay, except such as might be required to weigh anchor, directly to her home port in another state, without changing her course or making or taking in sail on the passage! It was a short trip and a most successful voyage. H.

A drum and fife corps of thirty members has been organized with Abraham Kay as leader, and has been holding rehearsals in the Maplewood avenue ward room for about two months. If they maintain their organization and practice, their services will be in demand next year, during the presidential campaign.

The sleep-walking scene from Macbeth, as rendered by Mrs. Scott-Siddons at Music hall on the evening of the 13th inst., was as fine as anything of the kind presented in this city within our memory.

LOCAL INFORMATION FROM BOSTON, VIA NEW YORK.

The Boston correspondent of the New York Tribune says:

In the neighboring city of Portsmouth, N. H., dwells Frank Jones, the brewer and maltster. He is enlarging his brewery accommodations at a cost of $850,000. He has not the slightest fear of the success of prohibition, as have the Iowa brewers, who are reported to have deserted their industry on account of the Federal questions involved in the prohibitory law having been decided against them. Mr. Jones works his brewery night and day, and supplies a good portion of New England with his ale. An average of thirty car-loads, or 1,000 barrels, are sent out from Portsmouth every twenty-four hours from Sunday to Sunday, and his net profit is at least $1 per barrel, or $1,000 a day. This business is carried on in a prohibitory city, but the law has been a mockery in New Hampshire for twenty-five or thirty years. In the largest city, Manchester, in this prohibitory state, there are 300 open saloons at the present time, running under a government license. New Hampshire men are voted "queer," and the manner in which they handle the prohibitory law creates the impression that Frank Jones wields a tremendous influence over them. A Portsmouth man says the little children in that city of 12,000 people reply, when asked the question "Who made you?" "Why, Frank Jones!" This man has the ear of President Cleveland, and controls the immense government patronage of New Hampshire in the interest of his relatives and strikers. The Portsmouth navy yard is virtually owned by Frank Jones at present, and he does exactly as he desires in about all directions.

W. R. C. ENTERTAINMENT.

The Woman's Independent Relief Corps, No. 1, of New Hampshire, will give an entertainment, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, recitations and character impersonations; also sale of fancy articles, ice cream, cake and hot coffee, Friday evening, Dec. 16th, in Good Templars' hall, opposite post-office.

Samuel Truesdell of Hamptou Falls has been held in $500 for the supreme court by Justice Charles M. Lamprey of Hampton, to answer to a charge of breaking and entering the store of George W. Leavitt at Hampton Falls, and stealing $80 and some cigars; in default of sureties he will remain in Portsmouth jail until the coming in of the supreme court in April next. Part of the stolen money was found on Truesdell, and part of it in his room.

The top dressing has been removed from a portion of Congress street, between Middle and Chestnut streets. When the city men who repair the street get down to the grade again, it would gratify many persons if the crosswalk between the academy and near the head of Bridge street could be restored. It was a great convenience, and never should have been removed.

The street commissioner's men were on the 14th inst. engaged in laying a cross walk across Market street at Commercial alley.

A very good audience assembled in the Court street Christian church on Wednesday evening, the 14th inst., when Mr. Frederick Going and wife gave an entertainment consisting of dramatic and musical recitals. Mr. Going is good in dramatic, humorous and pathetic pieces; and Mrs. Going is not only a very skillful but an unusually pleasing performer on the piano. The entertainment as a whole was very successful.

If your carpet looks dingy and you wish to restore its colors to their original freshness, use Ivory Soap and tepid water; apply with a scrubbing brush; use very little water so as not to saturate the carpet. After scrubbing lightly, rub the carpet with a cloth; wet frequently with clear water so as to take up the dirt and soap; wring out the cloth thoroughly before wetting it again.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

ANGELS IN THE HOUSEHOLD.

How sweet it were, if without feeble fright,
Or dying of the dreadful, beauteous sight,
An angel came to us, and we could hear
To see him issue from the silver air
At evening in our room, and bend on ours
His divine eyes, and bring us from his bowers
News of dear friends, and children who have never Been dead indeed—as we shall know forever.
—Leigh Hunt.

Poverty in Montenegro.

Montenegro is already beginning to pay the penalty of such civilization as it has attained. Even in that little mountain state the unemployed, pauperism and emigration question and other like curses, usually considered the peculiar property of the most advanced peoples, are beginning to raise their heads. The prince and his ministers will soon be face to face with a grave internal difficulty, and the cause assigned is that the harvest this year has been a bad one. This is quite possible, but in the best of years there is little to harvest in Montenegro except stones.

The cause is a far more deeply seated one. When an entire nation finds its only industry destroyed at a single blow it must either starve or turn to new employments. This is the case with Montenegro. In the old days the quantity of the harvest was a matter of indifference; its deficiencies were easily supplied. When food ran short in the principality inhabitants made a raid on the rich Turkish lowlands, carried off their neighbors' produce and lifted the cattle. But since Prince Nicholas, no doubt with the best intentions in the world, has set to work to civilize his mountaineers and to turn the light of European publicity upon them, these pleasant little habits have, perforce, become things of the past. And as the Servians object very strongly to a Montenegrin emigration, it is only too probable that the state which withstood all the forces of the sultan for centuries will fall to pieces through internal disturbances.—London Globe.

Æsthetics of Street Mud.

Where the untrained eye will see nothing but mire and dirt, says Sir John Lubbock, science will often reveal exquisite possibilities. The mud we tread under our feet is a grimy mixture of clay and sand, soot and water. Separate the sand, however, as Ruskin observes—let the atoms arrange themselves in place according to their nature—and you have the opal. Separate the clay, and it becomes a white earth, fit for the finest porcelain; or, if it still further purifies itself, you have a sapphire. Take the soot, and if properly treated it will give you a diamond. While, lastly, the water, purified and distilled, will become a dew-drop or crystallize into a lovely star. Or, again, you may see in a shallow pool either the mud lying at the bottom, or the image of the sky above.—Arkansaw Traveler.

One Way to Win Custom.

The African King Jaja keeps a store. His subjects patronized a rival merchant. Jaja is a practical man and believes in protecting his interests. Therefore he ordered up 150 patrons of his rival and cut off their heads. They will not trade with his competitor any more. —San Francisco Alta.

Chronic Coughs and Colds

And all diseases of the Throat and Lungs can be cured by the use of Scott's Emulsion, as it contains the healing virtues of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites in their fullest form. "I consider Scott's Emulsion the remedy par-excellence in Tuberculous and Strumous Affections, to say nothing of ordinary colds and throat troubles."—W. R. S. CORNELL, M. D., Manchester, O.

Two young women of Hammonton, N. J., who had tried teaching and did not find it pay, invested fifty dollars in the poultry business, and made one thousand dollars the first year and three thousand the second.

All disorders caused by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping or discomfort attending their use. Try them.

Mme. Sollier, a beautiful mulatto woman, the wife of a (French) Bicetre professor, has passed her examinations, and been received as a doctor of the Paris faculty. A treatise of hers on "The state of dentition in idiotic and deformed children" is highly commended.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving away to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them, they will certainly please you.

Women are steadily forcing their way in the industrial world. The South Brooklyn Ferry company have substituted women for men as collectors on both sides of the river. They work ten hours a day and receive a salary of $60 per month. They have not only proved themselves as efficient as men, but more honest.

Charles E. Soule, son of Dr. Gideon Soule, for many years principal of Exeter academy, died in New York on Monday of this week. He was at one time in practice of law at Dover, and since 1882 has been the law assistant of Surrogate Rollins. Mr. Soule was born in Exeter in 1825. His brother, A. L. Not like others. Hop Plasters are pain allaying and strengthening. Used by multitudes.

I give honor to whom it is due. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me of Bright's Disease and Gravel. Four of the best physicians had failed to relieve me. I have recommended it to scores of people with like success, and know it will cure all who try it.—Mrs. E. P. Slauer, Burg Hill, O. Send 3c. stamp to Dr. Kennedy, Rondout, N. LAST SPRING'S WAR CLOUD.

How the Germans Made Preparations to Advance Immediately Upon France.

During last spring there was great excitement along the Franco-German border over the arrest of Schnaebele, the French commissioner. It was thought at one time that the irritation caused by his arrest would lead to actual war. Many alarming reports were telegraphed over the world at that time. But the worst sensationalists in all of their exaggerations gave no picture which approached to the real situation along the border. I have learned since coming into this part of the country of the tremendous preparations made by the Germans at that time to enter France. It has never been published how near the German army came to crossing the border. I have learned the story of a most eventful night at Metz from the lips of a private soldier, a German of more than ordinary education and experience. He told me this story at Bonn, where he had gone just after he had finished his three years' service. He was in the neighborhood of Metz all through the border troubles of last spring. He said that at the time of the Schnaebele affair every man in the German army was given to understand that war was inevitable. Each man made his preparations to suit such an emergency. Small traps were packed up and letters written home as a preliminary to an active and desperate campaign. It was the intention of the German authorities to strike France, if at all, without a word of warning, and to thereby secure all the advantage that could be obtained by a swift, powerful and unexpected movement of aggression upon French territory.

Upon one occasion of that exciting spring, late at night, there came a dispatch from Berlin which placed the German army on the frontier at once on the qui vive. Every man was turned out, the horses of the cavalry were all saddled and men placed at their heads. Fifty thousand horses were saddled that night, waiting a second dispatch from Berlin. My military friend says that there were then upon the border and within twenty-four hours reach 200,000 German soldiers. Fifty thousand cavalrymen were ready that night for a rapid scurry across the frontier. If the imperial hand at Berlin had pressed the electrical button for the signal, instantly these 50,000 men would have dashed forward like a bolt, and when morning came the world would have been treated to the alarming spectacle of a great German army on French territory. If the sensationalists could have only known then the story of that night it is possible that the publication of its history would alone have provoked war. But the Germans waited silent and ready all through the dark night without receiving any further word from Berlin. Towards morning the horses were unsaddled, accouterments were put away and the men retired for a short rest. But the secret of the preparation was well kept, no word of it reaching any French or foreign publication.

This night incident illustrates well the German side of the war question. The Germans know that the French have been preparing for fifteen years to make themselves strong. The Germans have, in turn, worked with greater diligence to meet this growth of the French. Their future plan is to remain in this constant condition of energetic readiness, and, in the event of a possible conflict, to be the first to strike the blow. They are thoroughly well informed concerning every movement of the French, while the latter do not appear to have the same ability as the Germans to keep their secrets. The Germans here say that they have no difficulty in finding out anything that the French are planning to do. The whole German army favors another war. This is but natural. The officers look to a war for promotion and distinction. But the preparations along the frontier on both sides are now so complete that this very fact is a strong guaranty in favor of peace. The German officers here say that the French defenses are by no means as complete as they have been described, and that they cannot for one moment withstand the onward march of the Germans if they should resolve again to invade France.

I talked with a number of German people before coming here, and I find that the business classes are opposed to war. Their taxes are now very high. The indemnity secured from France was just about enough to compensate for the losses of the army material during the war. More than this, the loss of life upon the part of the Germans was very great. I was told by a prominent German banker the other day that upward of 100,000 Germans died during the ten years which followed the war from the effects of exposure and hardships of the Franco-German campaign. Nineteen thousand Germans fell near Metz. The French are gallant fighters when well led, and whenever the two sides were brought face to face the loss of life was very great.—T. C. Crawford in New York World.

Patrons of the Barber Shop.

The worst thing a man with a tender skin can do is to go from shop to shop and get shaved by as many different barbers as there are days in the week. A barber who is up to his work gets as well acquainted with the faces of the men he shaves as the engineer gets to know the grades and curves of the road he runs over. It takes one or two shaves to find out the peculiarities of a customer's face, and the man who drops into any shop he may be passing suffers unlimited torture in consequence. People who shave themselves have generally been constrained to do so by the unintentional cruelty of strange slaves of the tonsorial art. Fortunately for the profession, they mostly return to their old habits, for although at least one man in five can shave himself, not one man in twenty can strop a razor and keep it moderately sharp.—Barber in Globe-Democrat.

THE INCURABLE CURED!

HOPKINSVILLE, KY., Feb. 24, 1887.

Gentlemen—Seven years ago a sore developed on my nose from a finger nail scratch. I tried a few simple remedies, but the sore would not yield. I grew worse every year for seven years. Many thought I had a cancer. Over a year ago I commenced taking S. S. S., and two dozen bottles entirely cured me. When I began with Swift Specific I was in very poor health, and could hardly drag about. After I had finished the course of S. S. S. I was strong and hearty, and had a good appetite. I regard it as a most valuable medicine for ladies in weak, delicate health. It is a household medicine with me. Yours respectfully,
MRS. R. W. WILSON.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., April 2, 1887.

Gentlemen—For twenty years I have had a sore on my left cheek. It had gradually been growing worse. The many physicians whom I had consulted were unable to do me any good. Last fall a year ago I began using S. S. S. At first it inflamed the sore, and it became more virulent than ever; so much so, indeed, that my family insisted that I should leave off the medicine. I persisted in using the S. S. S. At the end of two months the sore was entirely healed. Thinking that the evil was out of my constitution, I left off the medicine; but in November ten months after, a very slight breaking out appeared. I at once began again on S. S. S., and now that is also disappearing. I have every faith in S. S. S. It has done me more good than all the doctors and other medicines I ever took. Yours truly,
A. R. SHARPE.

WINSTON, N. C., April 12, 1887.

Gentlemen—Two or three years ago a cancer came on my face. It soon grew to be quite large. It wore on me, and my general health was very poor. Last September I began a course of S. S. S., which I have continued to the present time with the happiest result. The cancer has entirely disappeared, there being no evidence or symptom of a cancerous character left. My general health is good now, and my appetite better than it has been in years. I am 52 years old, and to-day I am working in the field planting corn. Yours truly, JONAS LIMERICH.

Gentlemen—I had a sore on my upper lip for eight years. Seven different doctors attempted in vain to heal it. One gave me a small vial for five dollars, which was a "certain cure." It is needless to say that it did me no good. About two years ago I became quite uneasy, as people thought I had a cancer, and I took a course of eighteen bottles of S. S. S. The result has been a complete cure. The ulcer or cancer healed beautifully, leaving scarcely a perceptible scar. From that day I have been in excellent health, the Specific having purified my blood thoroughly, increased my appetite and perfected my digestion. In a word, I feel like a new woman, and, best of all, the eight year ulcer is gone entirely. Yours sincerely,
MRS. W. F. CANNON.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and malignant. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some eczematous affection, such as milk crust, scall head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which make life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence o mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance,—askin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston, Mass.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by the general physician, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. Now, is there, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of taste and smell and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1.

A Triple Alliance.

Unhappily for the wretched victim of their assaults, dyspepsia, constipation and biliousness are faithful allies. When one of these foes attacks the system, the other two speedily follow in its wake, and successively make their onslaught. Successively, but not successfully, if Hostetter's Stomach Bitters be used to repel the onset. The Bitters as easily extirpates these monsters as St. George is depicted in the act of doing to the dragon in the steel vignette upon the glass bottles which contain the medicine. Their flight, like their advance, is nearly simultaneous. Their mutuality destroyed, they precipitately retreat, leaving health master of the position and strongly entrenched by the Bitters. This grand fortifier is also a reliable bulward against the insidious assaults of malarial disease, and stops the approach of rheumatism. It, moreover, relieves nervous complaints, and imparts vigor to the weak.

Waldo Cleland, aged thirteen, son of William Cleland of Robbinston, Me., accidentally shot himself Dec. 13th. He was playing with a revolver, supposed to be unloaded, when it went off and the bullet entered his head. He died that night.

For twenty years, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral has been demonstated as the most reliable remedy in use, for colds, coughs, and lung diseases. Slight colds should not be neglected. The Pectoral will prevent their becoming chronic.

Gen. Thomas Kilby Smith, a distinguished soldier in the war of the rebellion, and Grant's chief of staff at the close of the war, died in New York on the 14th inst.

Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer is becoming a universal favorite for restoring gray hair to its original color, and making hair grow thick and strong.

Joseph H. Hunneman, the noted manufacturer of fire engines, died in Roxbury, Mass., Dec. 14th, aged seventy-five years.

The simplest and best regulator of the disordered Liver in the world, are Carter's Little Liver Pills. They give prompt relief in sick headache, dizziness, nausea, &c.; prevent and cure constipation and piles; remove sallowness and pimples from the complexion, and are mild and gentle in their operation on the bowels. Carter's Little Liver Pills are small and as easy to take as sugar. One pill a dose. Price 25 cents.

The rebellious natives at Ponapi, Caroline islands, submitted without fighting on the arrival of a Spanish gunboat.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

Alvin G. Clark of Cambridge, Mass., has arrived at San Francisco with the big lens for the Lick telescope.

If you had taken two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring you would not have had that coated tongue or bad taste in the mouth this morning. Keep a vial with you for occasional use.

The crown princess of Portugal on Dec. 14th gave birth to a daughter, which lived only two hours. The mother, who is a daughter of the count of Paris, and aged twenty-three years, is not expected to live. She was married about two years ago.

The malady of the crown prince of Germany has developed alarming symptoms, and hope for his recovery is vanishing.

After trying numerous so-called catarrh remedies and receiving no benefit I was finally induced to try Ely's Cream Balm, and after using one bottle I take great pleasure in recommending it to all sufferers from catarrh.—N. L. Gorton, with S. Gorton & Co., Gloucester, Mass.

I was a sufferer from catarrh for fifteen years with distressing pain over my eyes. The disease worked down upon my lungs. I used Ely's Cream Balm with gratifying results. Am apparently cured.—Z. C. Warren, Rutland, Vt.

The Commander-in-Chief

Of the Grand Army of the Republic, Major George S. Merrill. Few remedies are better known in this vicinity than Sulphur Bitters; their sale has been very general throughout this section, and the number of reliable and well attested cases of beneficial results and recovery ab their use, is large and beyond dispute.

Death of Gov. Bodwell.

Hon. Joseph Robinson Bodwell, governor of Maine, died at his home in Hallowell at 5:30 o'clock A. M. on the 15th inst., in the 70th year of his age. Mr. S. S. Marble, president of the state senate, succeeds to the governorship under the constitution of the state.

THE MAINE CENTRAL.

The twenty-sixth annual report of the directors of the Maine Central Railroad company, for the year ending Sept. 30, 1887, to be presented to the stockholders at their annual meeting to be held in Portland on the 31st inst., is, with its report of the general manager, a model of statistical and other practical information. The net income for the year is $1,202,797.37, or an increase of $15,067.00 over the previous year. The surplus of the year after payment of all interest, two dividends of three per cent each, and rentals to leased lines, is $81,131.28.

General Manager Tucker presents in his report, in addition to a statement of improvements made at stations, new bridges, increase of side tracks, and betterments of various kinds, record of the number of passengers from each station and the revenue derived therefrom, and also of the freight business at each station, with the road's proportion of earnings on the same. The Maine Central road has, including the Mt. Desert steam ferry, a mileage of 535 miles. It has a bonded debt of $11,508,600.00. The expenditures for permanent improvements for the year are about a hundred thousand dollars in excess of the similar outlay of the previous year.

The new union station near Congress street in Portland is now in process of erection by the Portland Union Railway Station Co. The entire stock of this company is owned equally by the Maine Central and the Boston & Maine railroads. When completed, trains will not be backed into the station as now, but time will be saved and the public will be far better served at Portland than is possible in the present state of depot arrangements.

MARITIME NOTES.

The bark Furness Abbey, of this port, Quinn master, arrived at Manila Oct. 27th from Newcastle, New South Wales, and after discharging was to load for an Atlantic port of the United States.

The following were among the fish arrivals on the 14th inst.: Schooner Northern Eagle, with 4000 lbs.; Abby A. Snow, 3000; Anna H. Mason, 2500; Goldsmith Maid, 4000; W. B. Keen, 7000. Although bait is scarce, the prices for fish were very low, owing to the continued warm weather.

The schooner Daylight, Capt. Hodgdon, arrived at Boston from Newport, R. I., on the 14th inst., in tow, having lost her main and mizzen masts. She is from a coal port, and put into Newport after being dismasted near Nantucket shoals.

The fishing schooner Peregrine White, of Gloucester, registering seventy-four tons, and engaged in the halibut fishery, has been totally wrecked at Hermitage bay, Newfoundland; crew saved.

The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. Joseph E. Fernald and wife was observed at their residence on Water street, Wednesday evening, Dec. 14th, by a number of their friends, who surprised the couple by calling to pass the evening, having with them a number of tokens of friendship. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

The team belonging to the local agent for the Singer sewing machine was standing in front of the entrance to Franklin theatre on Thursday forenoon, when the horse took fright and started to run. The driver caught the animal's bridle and attempted to hold him, but the horse made a complete circle and then went at a lively rate for Vaughan street, in turning into which the man was jammed against the stone post on the corner and his hold broken, a wheel of the wagon also striking the post, stopping the vehicle, the horse keeping on up Vaughan street with the harness. The man staggered a few steps and then fell, but shortly recovered sufficiently to proceed to his office.

Lewis E. Staples is showing a full line of Stamped Linen goods, in Tidies, Splashers, Table Scarfs, etc., at low prices.

A flock of wild geese attempted to light in the north millpond on Thursday morning, but struck a skimming of thin ice, and flew away toward Rye.

A good show and a present of real estate—all for the price of admission. See advertisement of entertainment at Music hall on Wednesday evening, Dec. 21st.

The steam heating apparatus in E. S. Fay's store was damaged to the amount of several hundred dollars on the night of the 14th inst., through the water supply becoming in some way shut off.

Elvin Newton & Co. have at Commercial wharf a large quantity of fish offal which they will give away to any farmers who will haul it off. It is excellent dressing for land, especially to plough under.

Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Seavey and Mrs. Miller of Lincoln Hill cottage left for Newtonville, Mass., on Thursday, to pass the winter with their sister, Mrs. John G. Tompson.

Cards are out for the wedding of Mr. George H. Sanderson and Miss Alice Perkins of this city, to take place Christmas day at the young lady's home on Vaughan street.

Advices of the 14th inst. from Wolfeboro Junction announced that Hon. John W. Sanborn of Wakefield, who had been reported as hopelessly ill, was much improved the previous day, and that strong hopes were entertained of his ultimate recovery.

An Old Folks' concert and supper were given in the Methodist church at Kittery Foreside on Thursday evening, the supper being served in the vestry. There was a good attendance considering the darkness of the night and the execrable travelling, which prevented some of the singers living at a distance, from arriving. The concert was very fine, and the supper excellent. The entertainment will be repeated this evening, with change of programme, and musical aid from this city.

The Portsmouth Athletic club have voted to illuminate their rooms with the incandescent electric light.

Good turkeys could be had on Thursday at fifteen cents a pound, the warm weather and large supply of western poultry accounting for the low price.

Work on the big summer hotel which Mr. W. M. Walker of York is having built at the harbor, has been suspended until spring.

Mr. A. J. Nealley, a well known citizen of South Berwick, died Dec. 13th.

A steam yacht thirty-two feet long is being built in Dover, and will be ready to put overboard when the river opens next spring—if it has to open, there being no sign of its closing yet.

The work on the Boston & Maine railroad's new roundhouse in Dover is nearly done, and it will be ready for the reception of locomotives in a day or two.

Frank Haley has been appointed postmaster at South Lee.

To Save Life

Frequently requires prompt action. An hour's delay waiting for the doctor may be attended with serious consequences, especially in cases of Croup, Pneumonia, and other throat and lung troubles. Hence, no family should be without a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has proved itself, in thousands of cases, the best Emergency Medicine ever discovered. It gives prompt relief and prepares the way for a thorough cure, which is certain to be effected by its continued use.

S. H. Latimer, M. D., Mt. Vernon, Ga., says: "I have found Ayer's Cherry Pectoral a perfect cure for Croup in all cases. I have known the worst cases relieved in a very short time by its use; and I advise all families to use it in sudden emergencies, for coughs, croup, &c."

A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middletown, Tenn., says: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral with the best effect in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."

"I cannot say enough in praise of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral," writes E. Bragdon, of Palestine, Texas, "believing as I do that, but for its use, I should long since have died."

Contractor George F. Hitchings of Portland, Me., who built the York Harbor & Beach railroad, has neglected part payment of wages of twenty-seven laborers employed in the construction of that road, and a suit will be brought by each against the Boston & Maine to recover their respective claims. The bills range from $10 to $20 each. Three of the workmen have already brought suits, and the municipal court at Biddeford has rendered a decision in their favor, but counsel for the railroad has appealed the cases to the supreme court. Should the latter decide against the road, twenty-four other suits will be brought.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Dec. 15th, Mayor Hodgdon in the chair:

Present the full board.

Application of Samel Adams for a naphtha light on Edward street was referred to the committee on street lights, with power.

On request of George A. Jackson he was allowed until Jan. 10th to remove obstruction on Dearborn street.

Request of Mr. O'Hehir for gravel sidewalk on Bridge street was referred to the committee on streets, with power.

Bills amounting to $1409.71 were ordered to be paid.

Lowell Jenness was granted leave to withdraw his bill for $5, claim for damages for the breaking of windows in his house by an alleged mob one night several months ago.

Claim of Portsmouth Machine Co. for $400, balance alleged to be due, was referred to the mayor and Ald. Urch and Conlon as a special committee.

Report was made from committee in favor of granting two naphtha lights on Woodbury street and one on Pray street; adopted.

Wallace Hackett appeared before the board in support of a request that the city sell the gravel pit at Little Harbor, purchased of Wm. P. Israel several years ago, to Mr. Geary, who is building a costly summer residence there. Referred to the committee on streets, to report.

The perambulation of the boundary lines between this city and Newington, Greenland and Rye, was referred to the mayor and Ald. Urch.

Ald. Seymour reported the slating on the almshouse as in need of repairs; referred to the committee on city lands and buildings.

Dr. H. F. Clark, chairman of the board of health, appeared in regard to the drainage and sewerage of the academy building, and on behalf of the board notified the city government to abate certain alleged nuisances within twenty days. Referred, for report.

There was discussion in regard to the naphtha and kerosene street lights, which were reported to be in bad condition, fifty new ones being needed. Laid on the table.

Ald. Urch submitted the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, Many complaints having been made by our citizens and tax-payers, to members of this board, of the refusal by those in charge of our public schools to admit children to said schools after the beginning of each successive term thereof; and

Whereas, Believing that the rights of our citizens and tax-payers to send children who have have not forfeited such right by misconduct, to public schools for whose support they are or may be by law forced to contribute, should not be denied or abridged; and

Whereas, Believing that the educational interests of every community demand that the invitation to attend the public schools should always be open and extended, and that the oftimes dire necessities, and even the convenience of the parents, should be the criterion by which to measure the right to reject a child, when he asks admission to a public school; therefore be it

Resolved, That the innovation, or rule, of our Board of Instruction, by which children or wards of our citizens and taxpayers have been denied such admittance and attendance, is not warranted by either right or justice, nor by the special law by which said board was created, and under which it now exists, but is in direct conflict with not only Sec. 1 of Chap. 21 of the Compiled City Ordinances, but with those rights enjoyed by us and our ancestors, in the past two hundred years of town and city control of our public educational interests.

On the question of adopting the foregoing the yeas and nays were called, and the vote was unanimous for adoption.

The question of the removal of night-soil by the city was referred to Ald. Wendell and Seymour, to report.

Adjourned to Dec. 29th.

N. H. S. P. C. A.

The annual meeting of the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was held Wednesday evening, Dec. 14th, at the office of the secretary.

The report of the treasurer was accepted and referred to the auditing committee, by whom it was found correct, and approved. The balance of cash remaining in the hands of the treasurer amounted to $45.96.

The following named persons were elected officers of the society for the ensuing year:

President, Thomas E. O. Marvin;

Vice Presidents, Mrs. Ichabod Goodwin, Alexander H. Ladd, Mrs. Ezra H. Winchester, Alfred O. Larkin, Rev. Alfred Gooding, Frank Jones, John S. H. Frink;

Directors, Mrs. John J. Pickering, Miss Susan E. Christie, Mrs. Helen C. Knight, Miss Anna F. Jenness, Mrs. Frank W. Miller, Miss Hope Goodwin, Mrs. Alfred W. Haven, Miss Mary R. Lyman, Miss Elizabeth H. Pearson, Charles E. Batchelder, Miss Kate M. Haven, Augustus W. Odiorne, Miss Mary A. Foster, Joseph B. Upham, Jr., Thomas E. O. Marvin, Francis E. Langdon, James R. May;

Secretary and Treasurer, James R. May;

Trustees of Permanent Fund, Mrs. John J. Pickering, Portsmouth, Hon. John S. H. Frink, Portsmouth, Hon. Josiah B. Sanborn, Concord;

State Agent, Thomas E. O. Marvin.

The state agent made a report as follows, of the cases of cruelty which claimed the attention of the society during the year ending Dec. 5th, 1887:

Horses overdriven in sleighs,	18
lame, relieved from work,	40
sick, medical attendance ordered,	32
overdriven in store wagons,	19
underfed,	51
overworked, heavy teaming,	85
neglected and suffering,	62
affected with glanders (contagious,)	12
suffering from harness galls,	62
loose, flapping blinders, (remedied,)	30
tight check-reins (loosened,)	27

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall Street, New York.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, Dec. 15th; Bufford J. Philip Winn, Thomas Philbrook and W. O. Mear, for drunkenness, were fined $3, costs $6.90, each. Mear was sent to Brentwood, and the other two to jail.

W. I. R. C. ENTERTAINMENT.

The Woman's Independent Relief Corps, No. 1, of New Hampshire, will give an entertainment, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, recitations and character impersonations; also sale of fancy articles, ice cream, cake and hot coffee, Friday evening, Dec. 16th, in Good Templars' hall, opposite post-office.

A GOOD THING.

The electric light was shown on the night of the 14th inst. for the first time from the new sixty-foot pole erected on Commercial wharf, and it it not only illuminated that wharf and the docks each side of it, but the wharves and docks below as far as Union wharf, and shed some light on a part of Water street; it is also visible from all parts of the river between the narrows and Portsmouth bridge, and we think it will prove of great benefit to the fishermen when coming to the wharves on dark nights. The fishermen are very much pleased with it, but would be still more gratified were it an all-night burner, as during the winter they often have much work to do at discharging fares after one o'clock at night, and sometimes many vessels sail between that hour and daylight.

A load of hay drawn by one of the city farm ox-teams lost its upper portion on Hanover street, near Fleet street, on Thursday afternoon, and the boys for an hour or two had glorious fun jumping upon it and "turnin' puddins" on it.

Mr. Arthur H. Locke, a student at Dartmouth, is temporarily teaching at the Haven school. There should be a male teacher at that school all the time.

Mr. Joshua M. Vaughan was on Thursday selling, from his wagon on Market square, very large and handsome Havana oranges at a very reasonable price. We tried a sample and found them delicious —very juicy and sweet. One of them handed us was more like a pumpkin than an orange in size, measuring over eleven and one-half inches in circumference.

Although the unseasonable weather and bad travelling tend to keep country visitors from coming into the city, dealers generally report a very good trade in holiday wares, sales so far being considerably in excess of previous seasons.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS. The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS. Mason & Hamlin's Piano Stringer was introduced by them in 1862, and has been pronounced by experts the greatest improvement in pianos in half a century.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

A APPLY AT CHRONICLE COUNTING-ROOM.

The Flotsam and Jetsam Men.

Two men in a strongly built rowboat and acting in a rather mysterious way may be seen almost daily from the docks of the rivers. One man paddles along slowly and the other stands in the stern of the boat, holding a rope which he pulls along very carefully. They glance constantly from side to side, and scan the surface of the water around them.

The men are in the flotsam and jetsam business, and anything they can find, from a lost piece of rope to a corpse, pays toll into their treasury. At the end of the rope which is held by the man in the stern of the boat is fixed a grapple, which is dragged as gently as possible along the bottom of the river. The grapple is formed of two rows of hooks, one row curved upward and the other so shaped that it will not sink any distance into the mud while it is being hauled along. The slightest object which the grapple touches, from a piece of soggy wood to a ship's cable, is instantly felt by the man who handles the rope. Sometimes it happens that a vessel loses an anchor with the chain cable attached. It might not be worth while for the vessel, either from reason of delay or otherwise, to engage in the work of recovering the lost articles. When the fact becomes known to the flotsam and jetsam men they undertake for a fixed amount to find it. If the vessel has left port and there is no one else to claim the thing lost it becomes so much more valuable to the grapplers.

The value of finding a drowned body depends, of course, on the status of the deceased, or more correctly on the desire of the friends of the deceased to recover it. Even for the body of a homeless tramp the city, through the coroner's office, pays $3 for the find.—New York Evening Sun.

Dogs as Servants.

Dogs are still put to draft work in Germany. Milk carts, laundress' carts, and other small vehicles are very frequently drawn either by a dog alone or by a dog and man side by side. The animal pulls from his chest; he goes to work cheerfully, wagging his tail, and looking about him like the intelligent, sympathetic creature he is; and of course a word is sufficient to guide him. These servant-dogs are mostly very affectionately treated, at any rate in south Germany, and seldom appear at all distressed. It is a question whether any physical endurance of the kind involved in the dog's incomplete fitness or build for such work is not to a well treated animal made amends for in the keen pleasure most obviously afforded to the canine intelligence in doing what he can and in obeying the will of a human friend. The breed of dog oftenest put to draft work is the great smooth haired gray, yellow or brindled dogge, but other large kinds are also harnessed.

Formerly, in Bavaria, and still more recently in Austria, dogs figured in the army. Each regiment possessed its Nero or Cæsar, whose office was to march with the band on all occasions, in peace and war alike, drawing the big drum on wheels during the playing of the music. The animals so used acquired the most perfect precision of pace, never bringing the drummer out of line or his drumming out of time, and meanwhile understanding and responding to the officer's command as to directions, etc., as promptly as the men themselves.—Nineteenth Century.

"Tis not for mortals always to be blest," but a little practical knowledge of how to take care of themselves will help them immensely. When beset with headache or other pains, they should use Salvation Oil, the greatest cure on earth for pain.

John Greenleaf Whittier's eightieth birthday occurs Dec. 17th.

All disorders caused by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping or discomfort attending their use. Try them.

Henry L. Jacobs of Lowell, Mass., gets four months in the house of correction for illegal voting.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving away to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them, they will certainly please you.

The London Times has discovered another awful dynamite conspiracy, but Michael Davitt riducules it.

Cure Yourself.

Don't pay large doctors' bills. The best medical book published, 100 pages, elegant colored plates, will be sent to you on receipt of three two-cent stamps to pay postage. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Dr. Platt, member of the Canadian parliament from Prince Edward island, has been unseated for bribery by agents.

Chronic Coughs and Colds

And all diseases of the Throat and Lungs can be cured by the use of Scott's Emulsion, as it contains the healing virtues of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites in their fullest form. "I consider Scott's Emulsion the remedy par-excellence in Tuberculous and Strumous Affections, to say nothing of ordinary colds and throat troubles."—W. R. S. CORNELL, M. D., Manchester, O.

By a collision of trains near South Milford, Mass., Dec. 14th, Samuel Neil, a baggage master, was killed.

The Question Settled.—Those eminent men, Dr. James Clark, physician to Queen Victoria, and Dr. Hughes Bennett, say that consumption can be cured. Dr. Wistar knew this when he discovered his widely known Balsam of Wild Cherry, and experience has proved the correctness of his opinion.

Charles W. Page of Manchester, fourteen years old, was killed by a freight train on which he had been snatching a short ride, Dec. 14th.

Tone up the system and improve the appetite by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It will make you feel like a new person. Thousands have found health, and relief from suffering, by the use of this great blood purifier, when all other means failed.

The Only Remedy FOR Contagious Blood Poison.

Mr. D. R. Adams, Union, South Carolina, writes: "I was afflicted with a terrible case of blood poison for about thirteen months. I was treated by the best physicians, and used various kinds of remedies, but received no substantial relief. I finally tried the Swift Specific, and about four bottles cured me sound and well."

Col. B. H. Kieser, editor and proprietor of the Opelika, Ala., Times, under date of August 5, 1881, writes: "When I was a young man, through indiscretion, I contracted a disease which has stuck to me for years. Some five or six years since I was troubled with pains, so as to make it difficult for me to walk. Having advertised in the Times that S. S. S. had cured years, I concluded I would try it to see if there was any efficacy in the medicine. I commenced using it according to directions and used half dozen bottles. I was cured in the way claimed, and, getting left, I walked the seven miles and have never felt any return of the old malady. After experiencing the good effects I must say I am satisfied with the result. I am sixty-eight years of age, so I feel now like a young man and can go to the case when necessary and set up from one to eight thousand cms without any inconvenience. I send you this without solicitation."

Mr. F. Woehl, 211 North Avenue, Chicago, under date of June 15, 1881, writes: "I deem it my duty to thank you for the cure I received from your excellent medicine. I contracted a very severe case of blood poisoning about two years ago. Hearing of your medicine, I went to a drug store, the proprietor of which persuaded me to buy a preparation of his own, which he said was a sure cure. I used six bottles of his stuff and grew worse all the time. At last I got disgusted and despaired of a cure. I met a friend who told me that your medicine had cured him. I went to the same druggist again and demanded your medicine. He recklessly sold me twelve bottles, and I am now perfectly cured. I write this for the benefit of sufferers, to prevent their being deceived by false representations. I thank you again for the benefit derived from your medicine."

Dr. J. N. Cheney, a prominent physician, residing in Eatonville, Schley County, Georgia, in a letter recounting the infallible success he has in curing contagious blood poison cases in his extensive practice, writes: "Those who know the almost inevitable, permanently dangerous effects of mercury will welcome your discovery of S. S. S. as a boon to humanity. The medical profession, always very slow to appreciate proprietary medicines, is coming slowly, and in some cases secretly, to the use of S. S. S. in cases of blood disorder. Of course a medicine that cures poisoning in its worst form must purify the blood of every disorder."

THE POET'S SONG.

The poet's songs are like melodious birds
That soar and sing above the reach of words;
And great his rapture when, from time to time,
He snares one with a silvery net of rhyme.
—Samuel Minturn Peck in The Critic.

Bravery at Waterloo.

Many deeds of reckless daring are never recorded, but here is one, chronicled by no less a man than the great Duke of Wellington. He was once asked who, in his opinion, was the bravest man at Waterloo. "I can't tell you that," he said, "but I can tell you of one than whom I am sure there was no braver. He was only a private in the artillery, but, had he survived the day, he would have been an officer.

"A farmhouse, with an orchard surrounded by a thick hedge, formed a most important point in the position, and was ordered to be held against the enemy, at any hazard or sacrifice.

"The hottest of the battle raged round this point, but the English behaved well, and beat back the French, though they attacked the place again and again with great fury. At last the powder and ball were found to be running short; at the same time the timber in the hedges took fire, and the orchard was soon surrounded by a ring of flame.

"A messenger had, however, been sent to the rear for more powder and ball, and in a short time two wagons came galloping down to the farmhouse, the gallant defenders of which were keeping up a thin and scanty fire through the flames which surrounded their post.

"The driver of the first wagon, with the reckless daring of an English boy, spurred his struggling and terrified horses through the burning heap; but the flames rose fiercely round, and caught the powder, which exploded in an instant, sending wagon, horses and rider in fragments into the air.

"For one instant the driver of the second wagon paused, appalled by his comrade's fate; the next, observing that the flames, beaten back for the moment by the explosion, afforded him one desperate chance, he sent his horses at the smoldering breach, and, amid the deafening cheers of the garrison, landed his terrible cargo safely within. Behind him the flames closed up, and raged more fiercely than ever."—Youth's Companion.

There was no doubt a good reason for the practice of the Hebrews to read and to write from right to left. We have often speculated and inquired about it, and while we could not learn or discover anything very tangible in regard to it, we are quite convinced that the most pertinent reason lies in the fact that our vision from right to left is much clearer and stronger than it is from left to right. Naturally, so we are informed, there is no difference in nerves or in the optic arrangement of the human eye between the right or left eye, yet our own inquiries and observations show clearly that we are all, or most all, disposed, when we take an article of merchandise or a picture or anything else for examination into our hands, to look at it from right to left, and not from left to right.

Since we have endeavored to fathom this question, we can see quite an advantage to the eye by reading from right to left. If we read from left to right, the parts read are yet continually before us; while, if reading from right to left, the parts read are then beyond our sight, and the parts to be read are unobstructed in view. Now, when we write from left to right, the line we are writing is rather a delusion to the eye, while if we write from right to left nothing is immediately in front of our vision but a clear space. Even the pen and its shadow cease to exercise a less disturbing effect from right to left, while from left to right much annoyance is experienced by men who have much writing to do. Our observation shows that, unaware, people use their eyes from right to left whenever or wherever they go into close examination of anything, whatsoever that may be; just as they would naturally raise their right hand in order to get a clearer sense of feeling by touch.—Hebrew Journal.

A Much Abused Word.

In last week's papers I read that a milk contractor "claims" that the milk is not old when delivered; a wounded man "claims" that he does not know how he received his wound; a pilot "claims" that the towboat was in fault; a correspondent "claims" that a statement is exaggerated, and "it is claimed" that the driver of a horse car struck Mr. Murray a blow, which, etc. In short, no one in these days seems to be willing to say, or assert, or declare, or affirm, or insist upon anything. The public at large seems to be claiming everything, and all the reporters, and even the editors, have apparently become claim agents. To claim means to demand, to ask as a right, but in every one of the above instances, quoted at random from daily papers under my hand, the word is used in an entirely differed sense. A meaning is given to it that does not belong to it, and every one of the statements, if taken literally, is absurd.—The Writer.

Something to Scare Children.

The great dragon drawn in a recent Chinese procession in San Francisco by six Chinamen is described as follows: From a point just under the mansard roof of the dragon's head to within three feet of his tail there is a network of electric wires, all communicating with a complicated machine located in close proximity to his lower jaw and out of sight. One of the men who march under it, at a given signal, touches an ebony button, and the electricity causes the huge jaws to fly open, disclosing a mouth like a lantern, filled with frightful fangs and darting tongues of fire.—Philadelphia Call.

The Chinese school children in San Francisco are said to be as bright and intelligent as their white schoolmates.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and ulcerous. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some eczematous affection, such as milk crust, scald head, tetter, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which make life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence a mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance—a skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened more breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffling and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1.

'Tis An Ill Wind

That brings with it gusts of rain from the north-east. When the winds blow from that quarter on a wet day, the rheumatic are apt to suffer, even if seated by their "ain comfortable ingle" in a cosy arm chair. A few wineglassfulls of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—most genial and comforting of specifics—will afford them unspeakable relief. There is ample proof on record of its efficacy in this disease—more particularly if used for its relief at the outset. Chills and fever, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, and a lack of tone in the kidneys and bladder, should also be treated with this useful family medicine of botanic origin. Appetite improves, refreshing slumber once more visits the weary eyelids of the nervous, and circulation is enriched and accelerated in consequence of its invigorating and regulating action. Use it as as a protector after getting wet.

One Fact

Is worth a colums of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

Awful Disaster in China.

The steamer City of Sydney arrived at San Francisco on the 15th inst. from Hong Kong and Yokohama, bringing details of a great disaster occasioned by the Huango Ho or Yellow river overflowing its banks in the province of Honua, China. The river broke its banks on the evening of Sept. 28th, southwest of the city of Ching Chow, and not only completely inundated that city, but also ten other populous cities. The whole area is now a raging sea ten to thirty feet deep, where it was once a densely populated and rich plain. The former bed of the Yellow river is now dry, and the present lake was the bed of the river centuries ago. The loss of life is incalculable, and the statement is made by missionaries that millions of Chinese are homeless and starving. The Yellow river has long been known as "China's sorrow," and the present disaster has served to reassert its right to the terrible title. As yet, details of the disaster are very meagre. The government in Honua reports to the throne that "nearly all people have been drowned in the district reached by the water, the survivors being those who escaped to the high ground or took refuge in trees, where they remained till they were rescued." The extent of ground swept over by the overwhelming flood, given in English figures, is over 7000 square miles. Already considerable sums have been contributed toward the relief of the sufferers. The emperor of China has given two million of taels, and the Chinese have started subscription lists in Shanghai, to which foreigners have liberally contributed. It is feared that the distress which will be felt during the coming winter will equal in intensity the famine of ten years ago, when charitable donations contributed to from all parts of the world were utterly inadequate. It is stated that owing to the action taken by the Yellow river, it no longer flows toward the sea, but seems content in converting eastern Honan and northern Nganwhui into a lake.

MATRIMONIAL.

In Lowell, Mass., Dec. 14th, Mr. Frank W. Howe, state senator-elect, and Miss Jeanne A. Stott, daughter of Ex-Mayor C. A. Stott of Lowell, were married in St. Anne's Episcopal church by Rev. A. St. John Chambre, the church being filled to overflowing with the leaders of Lowell society, as well as many friends of the families of the contracting parties from Boston, New York and other cities. The streets within several blocks of the church were crowded with carriages, and the most diligent police work was necessary to prevent blockades. The interior of the church was beautifully decorated. At the end of the middle aisle was an arch of laurel and hemlock interwoven, at the apex of which were these letters, "H. and S.," of immortelles. Palms, pot plants, smilax and cut flowers bedecked the chancel. The bridal party entered the church to a processional sung by the choir, the bride leaning on the arm of her father, and attended by eight bridesmaids. After the ceremony, a reception, attended by over a thousand persons, was held at the residence of the bride's father on Nesmith street; the parlors were beautifully decorated with flowers, the American orchestra furnished the music, and Weber of Boston catered. Among the guests were many friends from Boston, including many members of the senate and house of representatives. A special train conveyed the invited guests to Boston at 10:30 o'clock P. M., the newly married couple taking the same train for a bridal tour of two months to New York and the south.

At Old Orchard, Me., Dec. 14th, Allan C. Goss of Melrose, Mass., and Miss Josephine Moses, daughter of E. C. Staples, proprietor of the Old Orchard house, were united in marriage at St. Paul's cottage. The bridegroom and party arrived from Boston at noon in a special Pullman car, and the newly-wedded pair started for Melrose in the evening.

A Bill in the Interest of Justice.

A bill introduced in the United States senate by Hon. Wm. E. Chandler of this state, providing for the regulation of congressional elections in the states of South Carolina, Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana, is one which deserves favorable consideration on the part of Congress, as it is purely in the interest of a free ballot and an honest court. It provides for the appointment by the president of the United States, with the advice and consent of the senate, of four supervisors of elections for each congressional district of the states named, who are required to subdivide the districts into a sufficient number of voting precincts. The Circuit court of the United States is to appoint four inspectors and two poll clerks for each precinct, who are to make a registration of the voters, and arrange for and make returns of the congressional elections. The supervisors thus appointed are to act as a canvassing board, and with the inspectors and poll clerks are to be divided equally between the two political parties. The bill cannot be criticized on the score of fairness, and of its constitutionality not even the strictest constructionist of that article of the constitution which provides that Congress may, by law, make or alter regulations for holding of congressional elections, can raise a question. It is difficult to see how objection can be made to the bill except on the basis of the avowed purpose of democrats in Louisiana and other states to prohibit colored voters from voting the republican ticket.

Joseph R. Libby's store in Biddeford, the largest dry goods establishment in the city, is being boycotted by the Catholics of that place. The feeling arose among the Irish and French residents when Mr. Libby took a prominent stand in support of Rev. Justin D. Fulton of Brooklyn, who recently lectured there against Romanism. Since then the feeling has increased to extensive proportions. In an interview with a Biddeford Times reporter Mr. Libby acknowledged that a boycott is being practiced, but claimed that the increase of Protestant trade since the Fulton sensation has more than counterbalanced the falling off of Catholic patronage.

Mr. A. J. Nealley of South Berwick, who died a few days ago, left a fortune of about $100,000. He had about $40,000 insurance on his life.

It is not true that Queen Victoria is writing a book, but she is acquiring a new language. The empress of India is learning Hindustani.

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go through the summer."

Horsford's

BREAD PREPARATION.

The acid phosphate in this preparation supplies the vital phosphate essential to the system, and assists digestion. No other baking powder does this.

Dr. J. E. L. Kimball, of Saco, says:

"I think Horsford's Bread Preparation is adapted to the wants of the system, and for domestic purposes stands unrivalled."

Dr. John Lord, of Biddeford, says:

"I give Horseford's Bread Prepartion my hearty endorsement, believing that it imparts to food, material necessary for the nutrition of the brain, preventing mental exhaustion, and acting as a nerve food and tonic."

Dr. J. A. LaPoint, of Biddeford, says:

"Horsford's Bread Preparation has been used in my family for a long time, with most satisfactory results. I think it superior to all other baking powders, because it restores the phosphates, those life-giving elements which are contained in the grains of wheat, but not in fine wheat flour."

Dr. L. E. Grant, of Great Falls, says:

"Horsford's Bread Preparation is far superior to cream of tarter in cooking flour. Phosphates enter largely into the composition of animal tissues. This preparation, being rich in phosphates, supplies the system with those valuable elements."

Dr. J. W. Preston, of Great Falls, says:

"It is beyond question that some of the essential elements of wheat are lost in milling, and they can only be restored by the use of such elements in making bread. Horsford's Bread Preparation furnishes just what is needed."

Dr. H. V. Noyes, of Berwick, says:

"I have tested Horsford's Bread Preparation, and believe it healthful, inasmuch as it restores to the flour those properties which are removed in milling. We made good bread with it."

Dr. F. E. Wilcox, of Rochester, says:

"The process of manufacturing wheaten flour, removes with the bran nearly all the phosphates, which are positively necessary to the growth and repair of the tissues of the body. These salts must in some way be supplied to the system, or the result will appear in some form of disease or the osseous or nervous systems. Horsford's Bread Preparation I believe to be free from alum and other deleterious ingredients, and contains a sufficiency of these vital salts to restore to bread the health-giving phosphates lost by the bolting process."

Dr. E. T. Hubbard, of Rochester, says:

"I recommend Horsford's Bread Preparation as an admirable adjunct to economical housekeeping. In my opinion it contains nothing detrimental to health, and it supplies to fine flour those phosphatic elements removed by milling."

Dr. Levi G. Hill, of Dover, says:

"The phosphates are the essential and vital constituent of all grains, and are declared to be the principal ingredient in Horsford's Bread Preparation. I endorse the correctness of the scientific principles claimed for this preparation, in restoring to the flour the nutritive phosphates lost in milling.

Dr. Albert G. Fenner, of Dover, says:

"My test of Horsford's Bread Preparation fully shows it to be all that is claimed for it, and amply proves the correctness and truth of the scientific principles upon which in is founded."

THE SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

There will be a meeting of the subscribers to the Soldiers' & Sailors' Monument fund on Monday evening, Dec. 19th, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Common Council chamber, city building, to hear the report of the purchasing committee, and to appoint a committee to arrange for suitable ceremonies at the dedication of the monument. It is earnestly requested that there be a full attendance of the subscribers. PER ORDER.

EASTERN RAILROAD ADJOURNED MEETING.

An adjourned meeting of the Eastern railroad stockholders was held in Boston on the afternoon of the 15th inst., to receive the report of the committee appointed to count the votes for directors cast the previous day. The report showed that Samuel C. Lawrence, Arthur Sewall, Nathaniel J. Bradlee, Walter Hunnewell, Frank Jones, Samuel C. Cobb, William Simes, George Heywood and S. Endicott Peabody had each a majority of the votes cast, and they were declared elected. A protest was made against some unusual performances in regard to the rejection of votes for some candidates and the counting of votes for others, but no action was taken thereon; it is said the matter will be carried to the courts. The meeting then adjourned to Dec. 29th.

"FOUL PLAY."

At Music hall, next Wednesday evening, the sensational comedy-drama "Foul Play; or, Condemned to Death," will be presented by Maynard's New York company, with Edwin Maynard and Miss Katherine Goode in the leading roles. The New Bedford Mercury says "the play is a strong one of the sensational order," and the Boston Advertiser that "As a popular and taking play it is evidently destined to have a successful run. It is filled to the full with striking situations, in which of course virtue ever triumphs over vice and the machinations of villains are ever thwarted by the wisdom and promptness of the virtuous. The play may be called sensational rather than artistic, yet it is certainly one to win and hold popular favor."

Besides the play itself, another attraction, and one hitherto unheard of, is offered to ticket buyers, every purchaser of a reserved seat receiving a warranty deed to one building lot of 2500 square feet of land in Florida, there being no conditions as to settlement or improvement, or restrictions as to selling, these lots. The land it is stated is given by a company which owns large and valuable tracts in Florida which they wish to have settled, and are willing to give away a part in order to make the rest more valuable. See advertisement.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Mary E. Smith, Capt. Short, came in on Friday with a fare of 22,000 lbs. of fish, the result of two days' fishing; the fare was bought by Edw. Robinson at Russell & Odion's wharf, at $1.25 per hundred lbs.

The schooner Charles H. Trickey, Kelley master, has hauled up for the winter at Green's wharf, East Boston.

A great quantity of fish arrived at the wharves off Water street on Friday, nearly the whole fleet fishing out of this port coming in, and most of them bringing large fares.

The steamer Lancaster, with 1663 tons of coal to J. Albert Walker, arrived from Philadelphia on the 16th.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Dec. 16th; Bufford J.

A NEW SPASM.

The democracy are at it again. Even with the present surplus in the treasury, it becomes important to save more money in order to please the free traders. No matter if public buildings are in need of repairs, as is the case with the post-office building in this city, with a leaky roof for the repair of which bids were taken and sent to the treasury department, only to have the repairs refused because of "no funds." The party must "economize."

Think of this great and glorious country with millions lying idle in its coffers, and its dock yards and public buildings going to the bow-wows because there is no appropriation under which money can be expended in the judicious care of public property!

The last throe produces the annual pretence of reducing the cost of collecting the revenue from customs. This is a periodical pretence, an annual humbug, made solely for a political record to be cited in future speeches by democratic orators. The secretary of the treasury shows that the cost of collecting revenue at several New England ports is in excess of the amount of collections. The case of the collector of York is in point. He managed to sweep in a dollar during a year, probably in the way of fees, now paid by the government but formerly paid by persons transacting business at the custom houses. The collector has to be in readiness to discharge his duties. He is obliged to have an office at York, to make reports, and to perform the duties of collector. If there is nothing to collect at York and no danger of any smuggling, the office might be abolished and an inspector of customs appointed, who could report to the collector of this port. The cost of collecting $2139 at this port is reported to be $8619, and it is proposed to reduce either the number or the pay of inspectors, or both. There are but few imports here at present. The duties formerly paid on wool, purchased by manufacturers, and grain for the breweries, are not now being collected at this port. The coal importation from foreign ports has been of late very light. But the large coastwise commerce, and the vessels from foreign ports having cargoes on which no duties are collectable, have to be looked after. The inspectors have by no means a sinecure, and they should be paid, not in proportion to the amount collected, but to the labor performed. The remuneration of the collector is far below a decent compensation for the responsibilities of the position. Instead of paring down the salaris of the officers there should be an increase to at least a thousand dollars of the pay of the collector.

With the funds in the treasury resulting from collections somewhere it would seem to be no time to impair the efficiency of the revenue service by reducing the compensations of collectors and inspectors to a standard so low that reliable and efficient men will not be found to discharge the duties of such positions. It is all very nice for the democracy to herald their "reform" just after the free trade message, on the ground that with free trade the custom houses will not be needed and services of custom house officials will be dispensed with. But let the democratic politicians wait. It may turn out that Mr. Cleveland's free trade essay will be followed by the election of a republican president, under whose administration there may be a few duties collected.

Let us wait and see.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

There are to be two services in the Universalist church to-morrow, regardless of the weather. The morning subject is to be, "Do the pains of this world mar the happiness of heaven?" Evening, "John G. Whittier, the Octogenarian." We cordially invite the public to these meetings.

Rev. N. H. Farr of Centerdale, R. I., will preach in the Pearl street church to-morrow.

"The Pearl of Great Price," will be the subject of Rev. Dr. Alden's lecture on Sunday evening at the Middle street Baptist church.

The Dover Republican has this to say of Mr. Powers, who is to give the next entertainment in the Star Lecture Course at Music hall, on Tuesday evening of next week: "Leland T. Powers enacted the entire play of 'David Garrick,' taking all the parts, and representing them perfectly—the old man, the fop, the actor, three squires, the daughter, and several visitors who called in, taking the part of ten persons. No such mimicry was ever heard in this city before; and a person standing back to the stage would have been sure that there were ten persons on the stage." Besides David Garrick he will give the "Chariot Race," from Ben Hur, and a selection from "Dr. Jeckyl and Mr. Hyde."

The show windows of Andrew P. Preston's drug store in Congress block attract much attention, not only from the beauty and quality of the articles displayed, but because the very artistic arrangement of the articles, and the articles themselves, are changed daily—a practice which will be kept up until after Christmas. An advertisement giving a partial list of the attractions to be found there, will appear in our next issue.

In the superior court at Boston, Dec. 15th, the jury returned a verdict of $13,000 for plaintiff in the case of James H. Dewire vs. Boston & Maine Railroad Co., an action for damages for injuries received by plaintiff while a passenger in one of the defendant's cars, which was run into and overturned at Prison Point, Charlestown, by an engine which came from the round-house. The injuries alleged consisted of a rupture of the valves of the heart.

During the week ending Dec. 9th, the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York paid death claims amounting to $164,303.45, and endowments amounting to $22,778.61.

The Sanborn House at Wolfeboro' Junction, until recently owned by Hon. J. W. Sanborn and run by Reed M. Lang, formerly of this city, has changed hands, the purchaser and new manager being Ross Remick of Milton Mills.

ARE YOU CONSUMPTIVE

Have you Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Indigestion? Use PARKER'S GINGER TONIC without delay. It has cured many of the worst cases and is the best remedy for all affections of the throat and lungs, and diseases arising from impure blood and exhaustion. The feeble and sick, struggling with disease and slowly drifting to the grave, will take new courage and recover their health by the timely use of Parker's Ginger Tonic, but delay is dangerous. Take it in time. It is invaluable for all pains and disorders of stomach, bowels, kidneys, &c. $1.00 at druggists.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS.

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin's Piano Stringer was introduced by them in 1882, and has been pronounced by experts the "greatest improvement in pianos in half a century."

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

It is announced that geological surveyors this season found a rich outcrop of copper in the vicinity of Stamford, Vt., which they proceeded to develop. They now have a shaft sunk to a considerable depth, with such result that work has been pushed vigorously. It is not yet certain how rich the find will prove to be, but those who put money in the scheme are well satisfied with the venture at present.

A Curious Instance

Of Dr. Samuel Johnson's well known hatred of everything "across the border" is found in that celebrated definition of oatmeal, in his dictionary: "Oatmeal; a meal ground from oats, used as food for men in Scotland and for horses in England;" neglecting to add that to this same food were generally ascribed the rugged health and endurance of the canny Scot. Oatmeal is now, however, universally recognized as a most healthful and palatable food, and nowhere more so than in this country, where it has grown in esteem until it is found as a breakfast dish in almost every family. The difficulty of properly cooking it, that has heretofore been the chief objection to its use, is now happily overcome in the Quaker Rolled White Oats, manufactured at Ravenna, Ohio, which are quickly and easily cooked. Wholesome alike for the robust and the weak, delicious in flavor, absolutely pure and easily digested, this brand has justly taken the first place in popular favor. As one lady remarked, "If you once get Quaker Rolled Oats you will never take any other."

"There's a time for everything under the sun," said the wise man, and of course he was right, so also if you've got a quarter loose about your vest pocket you can buy a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup almost any time of the day or night.

There is a good deal of excitement in St. John, N. B., over an editorial in the St. John Globe advocating the annexation of Canada to the United States.

All disorders caused by a bilious state of the system can be cured by using Carter's Little Liver Pills. No pain, griping or discomfort attending their use. Try them.

A branch of the Girls' Friendly society of England has been established in Paris.

Harsh purgative remedies are fast giving away to the gentle action and mild effects of Carter's Little Liver Pills. If you try them, they will certainly please you.

Iowa statistics show that 953 women own farms in that state. Of the number, only eighteen are carrying mortgages.

Cure Yourself.

Don't pay large doctors' bills. The best medical book published, 100 pages, elegant colored plates, will be sent to you on receipt of three two-cent stamps to pay postage. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

The Virginia republicans on the 14th nominated Gen. Mahone to succeed Riddleberger.

Chronic Coughs and Colds

And all diseases of the Throat and Lungs can be cured by the use of Scott's Emulsion, as it contains the healing virtues of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites in their fullest form. "I consider Scott's Emulsion the remedy par-excellence in Tuberculous and Strumous Affections, to say nothing of ordinary colds and throat troubles."— W. R. S. CORNELL, M. D., Manchester, O.

Annie Burke, aged twenty-two years, of Toronto, has confessed to poisoning her mother, who died from the effects. She had threatened to poison the whole family. She recently attempted to stab her father, and it is thought she is insane.

The Question Settled.—Those eminent men, Dr. James Clark, physician to Queen Victoria, and Dr. Hughes Bennett, say that consumption can be cured. Dr. Wistar knew this when he discovered his widely known Balsam of Wild Cherry, and experience has proved the correctness of his opinion.

Mgr. La Fleche, Roman Catholic bishop of Three Rivers, Canada, has just issued a mandament, by which he imposes a tax upon all families of his diocese to make up for insufficiency of tithes.

Tone up the system and improve the appetite by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It will make you feel like a new person. Thousands have found health, and relief from suffering, by the use of this great blood purifier, when all other means failed.

T. V. Powderly, who has been reported as dangerously ill, is recovering.

After trying numerous so-called catarrh remedies and receiving no benefit I was finally induced to try Ely's Cream Balm, and after using one bottle I take great pleasure in recommending it to all sufferers from catarrh.—N. L. Gorton, with S. Gorton & Co., Gloucester, Mass.

I was a sufferer from catarrh for fifteen years with distressing pain over my eyes. The disease worked down upon my lungs. I used Ely's Cream Balm with gratifying results. Am apparently cured.—Z. C. Warren, Rutland, Vt.

Apply balm into each nostril.

I give honor to whom it is due. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me of Bright's Disease and Gravel. Four of the best physicians had failed to relieve me. I have recommended it to scores of people with like success, and know it will cure all who try it.—Mrs. E. F. Misner, Bury Hill, O. Send 2-c stamp to Dr. Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y., for book how to cure Kidney, Liver and Blood diseases. Mention this paper. dc22

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. A PARADISE FOR THIEVES.

They Hold High Carnival in the Empire of the Czar—"Thieves' Markets."

There is so much thievery in Russia that all the principal cities have what is known as "thieves' markets." They are conducted openly, and little if any effort is made to trace an article which goes in that direction. Travelers, in their exasperation, often declare that the authorities, the thieves and the venders of stolen articles are banded together, and that the profits are divided on a fixed scale. Be that as it may, there is more stealing in this than in any other country, unless probably Egypt is excepted.

Here the thieves' market is two blocks deep, four long, and gives commercial transactions to thousands of persons. The goods are carried in by the pillagers, burglars and footpads, sold to the shop keepers openly, and no secret is made of the fact that the goods were stolen. The buildings are mostly of brick, located in a quarter remote from the most respectable portion of the city, and the shop keepers live in the second stories. The rooms are all filthy, covered with vermin, filled with nauseous odors, and the goods are dusty. The lazy men and women sit in front of the entrances in the narrow streets, play chess or cards, smoke and drink tea, and show a shocking degree of depravity. They are mostly Greeks, although many are Tartars, Jews and Egyptians. The Jews are said to be the most cleanly, honorable and intelligent.

The thieves' market flourishes most on a Sunday morning, although Sunday is not generally observed here, and street improvements, building of every character and trade go forward. But many people take a holiday on Sunday and spend it here. To this point I wended my way one Sunday morning, and saw a throng such as Five Points, New York, would have been shocked at in her palmiest days. In a window I saw some fine old chinaware, bearing the private mark of Alexander I, the crown and seal of the empire. Immediately the shopkeeper, a woman, informed me that the goods were stolen from the winter palace; she knew it, because she got them directly from the thief, and she had handled his property before.

In the center of each block is a hollow square, about 150 feet in diameter. These were filled with men, women and children, behind improvised counters, selling or making almost everything. Second hand boots are the most popular goods, and scores of men and boys can be seen repairing them in the open air, while others go about selling them. The ground is bowlidered and covered with sand and fleas. Pigeons and crows, both sacredly protected, hop about everywhere. The crows are dark gray, with little black coats. Great big Siberian hounds, muzzled, stalk about with the multitude and give zest to the scene.

Train loads of old iron, copper and leather, hoops, cast off and new clothing, jewelry, watches, clocks and silverware, furs, everything that furnishes houses, man, woman child and beast, in confusion and profusion, just like a heap of stuff a burglar drops when hotly pursued. It is said the thieves linger here after disposing of their plunder, and often succeed in regaining the property when it is purchased, and that goods are stolen and restolen a number of times in a single day or night. The scenes about the thieves' market here are duplicated in four or five places in the empire. They are as old as the cities, and the markets having become fixed institutions, no attempt is made to frustrate them.

So helpless are the honest natives when robbed that they often seek witches to trace the direction of the stolen property. The witch proceeds by peculiar means. She summons all the neighbors whom she suspects, gets a pail of water, makes a little roll of dough to represent each one present, and begins in the presence of the party to drop the balls into the water, the theory being that when she names the thief they will all sink. Nine times out of ten the witch forces a confession. It is a waste of time to appeal to the authorities. The superstitions of the people are thus turned to advantage. They believe it is far worse to be detected in crime than to make a free confession. In nearly every bedroom I have occupied in the Russian hostelries I have found a tiny shrine. Some are over the doors, others high up in the corners next to the ceiling, while a few are stowed away on top of wardrobes. The presence of the shrine is not only a satisfaction and a solace to the occupant of the room, should he be a Russian, but a protection to the landlord, for it has not been frequent that thefts are perpetrated in the presence of shrines. The thieves fear shrines more than lawful retribution.—P. S. Heath in New York Mail and Express.

The Prize Fighters' Methods.

There are still a number of good fighters, men who fight "with their heads," as they call it; meaning thereby not that they butt like rams or negroes, but that they bring the mind to the assistance of the body; they bring to the play of the arm something of the judgment, finesse and strategy that are practiced by eminent professors of the small sword. But these men are exceptional.

The majority of prize fighters have no other idea of boxing than simply to butcher their opponent. The process is performed in two movements. First you rush your man; that is, you run at him, striking right and left, until you have him rattled, and then, at a moment when his action is controlled rather by his physical sensation than by his scientific training, you bring in your round hander on his jugular and knock him out. That is what glove fighting in four rounds amounts to; and the Marquis of Queensberry has done more to degrade the ring than any mere bruiser who ever fought.—Julian Hawthorne in Cosmopolitan.

Liberal House Furnishers,

And we have earned the reputation, not solely on account of the small payments at time of purchase, (which are one-quarter of the amount down and the monthly payments thereafter of $5, for a purchase of $50 or less, and $10 for a purchase of $100 or less,) but our prices are below those of any other dealer in the Country, notwithstanding we will deliver all goods to any station in New England free of charge.

WE DO NOT OWN THE RAILROADS!

As some might suppose, but we ship an immense quantity of goods, which is better, we think, and in this we are enabled to successfully compete with the small dealer, and what we save in this way goes into the pockets of our customers.

WE HAVE

Four Branch Stores

That are continually drawing from our Main Store at Portland, necessitating an immense stock and a greater variety of goods than is shown by any other House in the Country. It will be seen, by giving the matter a little thought, that we are compelled to not only have on hand a very large line, but the ever moving volume must necessarily allow of nothing but the newest goods upon our floors, and we are continually buying from every Manufacturing State in the Country. The quantities bought by us would astonish even wholesale buyers. Without question, we have under our control,

More Rolls of Carpeting than all the other Stores in the State of Maine

Combined. We have recently given our order for 1000 rolls of matting to be delivered in the early spring. Is it not reasonable to suppose that we can buy 1000 rolls at a less cost than it would be possible were our purchase but 10 or 15 rolls, the usual purchase?

'Tis An Ill Wind

That brings with it gusts of rain from the north-east. When the winds blow from that quarter on a wet day, the rheumatic are apt to suffer, even if seated by their "ain comfortable ingle" in a cosy arm chair. A few wineglassfulls of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—most genial and comforting of specifics—will afford them unspeakable relief. There is ample proof on record of its efficacy in this disease—more particularly if used for its relief at the outset. Chills and fever, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, and a lack of tone in the kidneys and bladder, should also be treated with this useful family medicine of botanic origin. Appetite improves, refreshing slumber once more visits the weary eyelids of the nervous, and circulation is enriched and accelerated in consequence of its invigorating and regulating action. Use it as as a protector after getting wet.

One Fact

Is worth a column of rhetoric, said an American statesman. It is a fact, established by the testimony of thousands of people, that Hood's Sarsaparilla does cure scrofula, salt rheum, and other diseases or affections arising from an impure state or low condition of the blood. It also overcomes that tired feeling, creates a good appetite, and gives strength to every part of the system. Try it.

If you had taken two of Carter's Little Liver Pills before retiring you would not have had that coated tongue or bad taste in the mouth this morning. Keep a vial with you for occasional use.

Ex-Gov. Cornell of New York is confident that the republicans will carry that state next year.

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills must be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents.

The Brewers Alarmed.

It is not only the wool grower of Texas who is disgusted with the tone of the president's message, but all through the south where new manufactories were about to start, has there been, like the case at Fall River where a large factory burned, a decision on the part of manufacturers to wait and see how bad a shower of free trade the democratic cloud upon the business interests of the country will be able to produce.

The brewers seem not at present to fear the effects of foreign competition as much as the great opposition to their business since the liquor interest has taken a lesso of the democratic party. This step has caused a counter irritant. It has developed anti-saloon republicanism, which promises to, sooner or later, overcome the pro-liquor democracy and the saloon element with it.

The Chicago and Milwaukee Brewers' Association are alarmed at the position of their business affairs; a convention has been called by telegraph, to consider the situation since the decision of the Supreme court of the United States. It will be remembered that the question involved was whether a brewer had any claim to compensation from the state, if prohibition was introduced. The question was, should the state be compelled to compensate him for his losses caused by its change of policy. District Judge Brewer decided that it should. The case was appealed, and the United States Supreme court says that the state is not liable. From the brewers' point of view it is outrageous to establish such a doctrine. Say the brewers: "It will rob men of their capital and render their investments worthless. After such admission there will not be a dollar invested in breweries. The industry will be idle, and all that property will become worthless in prohibition states, and greatly depreciate in states that are questionable, and even in states where is no danger of prohibition there will be no more investments."

These considerations force themselves upon the far-seeing men of the Brewers' Association. They perceive now, too late, the utter folly of men in their line, being prominently engaged in politics, antagonizing their political opponents and at the same time causing jealousies in the ranks of the democracy. The brewers having gone to the democratic party, of course will ask no favors of the republicans. They will insist that their business is legitimate, and should not be disturbed by prohibitory legislation or constitutional amendments.

But the war has begun. While the liquor producing element was content to take a back seat in political circles, it was enabled to have its representative men in majorities of legislatures of whatever political stripe. It began to control the resolutions of democratic conventions in states where prohibitory laws had been enacted. Its voice was heard in Congress in favor of Bourbon whiskey. It became a prominent element in democratic politics. In large cities the saloon men were chosen aldermen and members of the common council. The control of the municipality passed to the hands of the law-breakers. Men who took the oath of office to enforce the law were daily and hourly guilty of its infraction. It soon became a reproduction of the beggar on horseback riding to the devil. The thing has been overdone. Boston has recently attempted a revolt against its rumsellers running the city government. These men have sought to govern instead of being governed. They wished to make laws, or unmake those enacted in the interest of police regulations, instead of obeying those on the statute book. Tax-payers at last have rebelled against this assumption. The revolution has gone from the cities to the rural regions, and in New York state, for example, nothing but Gov. Hill's reliable aid to the liquor interest which so liberally pays the expenses of his campaign, has prevented salutary enactments restricting the liquor traffic.

The brewers have a vast property invested in their business. It is now threatened to be crushed between the Scylla of prohibition or restraining legislation, and the Charybdis of free trade, for which the foreign brewer, whose brother in this country is ready to get up a trade as soon as the duties come off, is anxiously and hopefully waiting. The brewers have gone on board the democratic ark for safety during the coming deluge of cold water legislation and judicial interpretation. They have paid high rates of insurance to the democracy. The question of moment seems to be, can they collect their insurance in case of the total loss which the present indications seems to presage?

A Disagreement.

The jury in the case of Mrs. Sarah J. Robinson, charged in the court at Cambridge, Mass., with the murder of her son, were discharged Saturday afternoon at five o'clock after being out twenty-one hours without coming to an agreement; the jurors at the last stood eleven for acquittal and one for conviction. One juryman said they all believed the woman guilty, but that the evidence for the government had not proved it. There are five other charges of murder against the woman.

MATTERS IN YORK.

AGAMENTICUS, YORK, ME., Dec. 15.

Very mild weather we are having around the mountains—no snow as yet.

Frank Ramsdell has purchased a woodlot of J. F. Plaisted, and set men at work stripping it. He has also bought the Jerry Norman farm, and is moving his furniture into the house thereon. Frank believes in "getting the cage before catching the bird."

Annie Welch has been here on a visit to her parents, but returned on the 3d inst. to J. P. Norton's at York Corner.

Mrs. Rufus Ramsdell and daughter have been on a visit to Mrs. Ramsdell's son and daughter at Ipswich, Mass.

Alvah Trafton has improved his premises very much by tearing down his old shop, which stood in front of his house, and replacing it by a new one father from the road.

The road from the foot of "the hill" in school district No. 9, by James F. Plaisted's and James Fitzgerald's to the base of the mountains, has been laid out by the selectmen, and it is to be hoped that all the voters of the town will be interested for the residents of this vicinity, as the road is much needed for their benefit, and the convenience of the many summer visitors at the beaches.

J. F. Plaisted & Son have leased the store at Cape Neddick formerly occupied by Asahel Goodwin, and have commenced business there.

Will Downs has started in the hulled corn business. He drives through York village and along York beach every Tuesday, and to Portsmouth every Friday. His corn is prepared with every attention to cleanliness and wholesomeness, and we wish him success.

Mr. Merrows is building a nice new barn at Cape Neddick, and Albion Goodwin is building a store on the lot where the old Cape Neddick house—formerly a "stage tavern," and later the pioneer "summer hotel" in York, if indeed not in all York county—once stood.

The first car-load of flour over the York Harbor & Beach railroad was shipped by M. S. Ayers & Co. of Boston to Union Bluff, to J. F. Plaisted.

The school in district No. 9, so long taught by M. F. Caswell, is about to close, having only one week longer to keep. F.

Thomas Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky., writes: "Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best hair-restorer in the world."

TIRED OF LIFE.

James J. Clair, watchman at the Eldredge Brewing Co.'s brewery, about two o'clock Saturday afternoon walked down town from his home at the Creek, accompanied by his daughter, and was returning alone in C. H. Sides' hack about four o'clock when Mr. Sides heard a report from below; but supposing a wheel had run over a topedo paid no attention to it. Presently there was a tapping at the front window, and jumping down Mr. Sides opened the hack door, with the enquiry "What's the matter?" to which Clair replied "I've shot myself, and there's what I did it with," pointing to a pistol lying on the seat opposite the one he was occupying. Mr. Sides drove the wounded man to his home, and returning down town sent up a doctor, who found that the bullet had passed through the front part of his head, entering in front of and above the right ear and passing out below the left eye, inflicting a dangerous but not necessarily fatal wound. Mr. Clair has been in ill health for a considerable time, and of late very despondent, which was the only known cause for the act. On Sunday evening he was living, and quite comfortable.

CHEAP COAL.

Quantities of coal were to be seen on Saturday sprinkled liberally about at the Green street railroad crossing. The presence on the ground there of such a precious article was accounted for by statement that several coal cars of the early train from this city for Dover that morning ran off the track at the switch, and collided with another coal train standing on the side track, smashing a number of cars and tearing up the track to some extent. Another story was that the Dover train was struck by an engine on another track, which attempted to cross the one the train was on. Choice of these two stories is allowed, the railroad men having of course no knowledge of which is correct, or indeed of any accident at all having happened. The mishap, however it occurred, was taken advantage of by numerous small boys, who eagerly busied themselves in gathering the scattered coal, and in a number of instances became so absorbed in the occupation that they failed to notice when they arrived at the end of the scattered coal, but kept right on and filled their baskets out of the cars.

THE SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

There will be a meeting of the subscribers to the Soldiers' & Sailors' Monument fund on Monday evening, Dec. 19th, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Common Council chamber, city building, to hear the report of the purchasing committee, and to appoint a committee to arrange for suitable ceremonies at the dedication of the monument. It is earnestly requested that there be a full attendance of the subscribers.

PER ORDER.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS BY MAIL.

The post-office department suggests that persons intending to send Christmas gifts by mail should bear in mind that there is a large increase in mail matter to be forwarded at Christmas time, and that those who are anxious to have their friends receive their presents by Christmas day would be wise to mail them as early as possible this week, as if mailed later they may be delayed so much as to fail in reaching their destination at the desired time.

"FOUL PLAY."

Have you secured your ticket to the performance of the sensational comedy-drama "Foul Play; or, Condemned to Death," at Music hall next Wednesday evening,—and the accompanying deed to a house lot in Florida? If not, you can do so by calling at Goodrich's bookstore. See advertisement.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

The extremely niggardly estimates for the wants of the navy yard at this station, are the subject of general comment. There should be a civil engineer stationed at the yard, who could seasonably note what is needed to protect the government property and afford additional facilities from time to time.

A court of enquiry at the New York navy yard, shows that the conduct of the auction sales in connection with local politicians is either careless or corrupt. Some valuable hawsers and similar naval property, have disappeared without being accounted for. Things look very bad. Senator Chandler ought to suggest to Secretary Whitney that navy yards should not be managed in that manner.

The dry-dock at the Mare Island navy yard has settled, and a dangerous crack is the result. It was built on filled ground, without proper piling. The dock is not completed. It has cost three millions of dollars, and will require to complete it half a million more.

Mr. Freeman F. Sanborn, who has been in Canada during the summer as conductor of a Pullman palace car, arrived home last week.

E. A. Peterson, Esq., president of the New Hampshire national bank, returned from New York on Saturday, and is staying at the Rockingham house.

Mrs. Carpenter, wife of Capt. Charles C. Carpenter of the navy, arrived home on Saturday from a visit to relatives in New York.

Mr. Fred Sise, son of John Sise, Esq., leaves New York this week by steamer for Aspinwall, en route to California.

To-morrow evening, in Music hall, the second of the Star Course of entertainments will be given. Mr. Leland T. Powers, dramatic delineator, will present the whole of "David Garrick," the "Chariot Race" from Ben Hur, and a selection from "Dr. Jickyl and Mr. Hyde."

Snow fell to the depth of about four inches Sunday morning—the first snow of the season, to amount to anything. This snow amounted to enough to keep most of the people home from church Sunday forenoon.

The days are now at their shortest, nine hours and four minutes from sunrise to sunset. The afternoons have lengthened a couple of minutes, but as the forenoons shorten to exactly the same degree the effect on the day's duration is about the same as was Paddy's work on the length of his blanket, when, finding that hauling that article up over his head to keep off ghosts let his feet stick out, he every morning for a week cut a piece off the top and sewed it on the bottom, only to find at night that his covering was still too short at one end, and that his pedals stuck out as much as ever.

Street Commissioner Marshall was on Saturday presented by Mr. Charles H. Foote, on behalf of the city teamsters, with a large and handsome easy chair, as a token of the respect and good will entertained for him by the men employed under him.

Lewis E. Staples is showing a full line of Stamped Linen goods, in Tidies, Splashers, Table Scarfs, etc., at low prices.

Hon. Frank Jones, accompanied by Dr. M. F. Wentworth, went to Wolfeboro Junction on Sunday by a special train to see Hon. John W. Sanborn. Mr. Sanborn is quite a sick man, but Dr. Wentworth expresses the belief that he will get up from his sickness.

Mr. Frank H. Pease, principal of the Sawyer grammar school at Dover, last week had his salary raised from $800 to $1000, to retain his services there, he having been offered $1000 a year to teach in this city.

At a recent meeting of the Mechanics' Fire Society the following were elected as officers: Joseph H. Gardiner, president; John Pender, secretary; William R. Martin, George W. Pendexter, John H. Broughton, wardens.

The entertainment of legerdemain and diversified musical performances, given in the town hall at Hampton on Tuesday evening, Dec. 13th, by Prof. Smada, illusionist, and Wm. H. Campbell and Miss Emma T. Campbell, musicians, the whole being supplemented by a social dance, was pleasing and satisfactory to those in attendance, so far as the regular programme and the manner in which it was carried out were concerned. But a side show which was not down in the bills, but was introduced by a party of "young gentlemen" from Exeter, was not so popular with the decent people present, the interpolated performance being as insulting and annoying to them as it was discreditable to those who gave it. One of the young rowdies was arrested, and the whole gang should have been.

Parties intending to furnish or refurnish houses are invited to read the advertisement of the Atkinson House Furnishing Co. of Portland, Me., on the first page of this paper.

Dog-Skin Kid Gloves are made especially for winter and early spring wear; see the price, in another column, Foye has made on them for Christmas week.

A Saco despatch of the 16th inst. says: "It is reported that defaulter McNeally is at Prince Edward island, sick and penitent, and that he has made a proposition to the Saco bank to return the stolen bonds if the officials will not prosecute him. The bank people refuse to talk." A despatch of the 17th from Saco says McNeally has been in England, and is now on the way from Liverpool to Halifax, to which place his brother, Harry McNeally, has gone to meet him.

The "King's Daughters" of Eliot, Me., are contemplating building a public library and reading room, and with such earnest workers their success is assured. —Boston Traveller.

Joshua Brown, a well-known boat builder of Salem, Mass., is about to be come the pioneer in a new enterprise in that city, having purchased a schooner which he will fit out to sail for Alaska to engage in the seal fishery.

The new cruiser Chicago was subjected to the contract test on Long Island sound last Friday, with very satisfactory results. The engines were run at full speed for six consecutive hours without any trouble; the horse-power developed was in excess of what the contract called for, and the boiler furnished all the steam required without forced draught. The speed obtained was a little over fifteen and a half knots.

The new fishing schooner Carrie E. Phillips, designed by Burgess, arrived at Boston on the 16th inst. from her second trip to Georges bank. Her crew reported that she behaved extremely well under trying conditions, and sailed like a witch.

MASKS AND FACES.

THE use of grease-paint by actors and actresses is disastrous to the complexion, and unless thoroughly removed from the pores of the skin, pimples and blotches appear. Eminent members of the profession say, IVORY SOAP removes paint thoroughly and quickly, and restores the complexion to its natural freshness.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS.

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin's Piano Stringer was introduced by them in 1882, and has been pronounced by experts the "greatest improvement in pianos in half a century."

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

At the convention of republican clubs in New York, on the 15th inst., Senator Evarts was chosen permanent chairman, and made an address in which he touched upon the president's message. A strong resolution was introduced against the appointment of Lamar to the supreme bench. The draft of a constitution for the national and state leagues was presented.

In New York on Saturday, in the national convention of delegates from republican clubs, James P. Foster of New York was elected president of the Republican National League. A. A. Strout of Maine and Charles H. Sawyer of New Hampshire were elected vice presidents, representing their respective states.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some excematous affection, such as milk crust, scall head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which makes life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence a mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance,—a skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system affects every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has met with hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffling and obstructed breathing, and so pleasant are the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and ultimately the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

ADAMSON'S

BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

Made only by F. W. KINSMAN & CO., (Established 1850). Druggists and Dispensing Chemists. 343 4th ave., corner 25th st., N. Y. FOR SALE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

NEW ENGLAND'S CIDER.

Visit to a Massachusetts Cider Mill—The Rude Oldtime Hand Press.

New England possesses an ancient industry that is to be apprehended through a visit to the cider mill. Cider and apples were, in the olden time, indispensable in every well regulated New England home. Country gallants, "sparking" their girls on Sunday nights, looked forward to the treat. Old men and maidens, young men and children, all partook freely of the drink, which before it grows hard and acid is as harmless as lemonade. The old school divines alluded to cider in their sermons with wonderful moral effect. We can imagine one of them, looking at his shivering congregation from beneath the immense sounding board and exhorting them to keep always the pristine sweetness of new cider, and not to imitate that liquor in becoming sour with old age. Then what a fine ethical sermon could have been preached about cider apples, which, gnarled and specked to the outward eye, are yet instinct with spiritual worth.

On the river road to Holyoke, a mile or two from the heart of Springfield, stands a rough, unpainted building. For many rods before the traveler gets to it, the smell of cider apples is wafted to him, and coming nearer he sees in front of the structure a large bin filled brimful with the fruit that led to Adam's fall. The building is the Riverdale mill, commonly known as "the old saw mill," and now used by the proprietor for making cider. The driving public know Mr. Loomis well, and all sorts and conditions of vehicles are driven over the north end bridge and along by the winding Connecticut till they come to a halt beside the mill. Jugs, demijohns, kegs and what not are brought out from the wagons and filled full of the amber liquid which might well have been the nectar that made Olympus such a jolly place. From Chicopee street, the Falls, Agawam and all the farming towns in the vicinity come stalwart farmer lads, their rough carts laden with apples. Barrels are perched on top of the load, which will be filled with cider, and the liquor will cheer many a rustic fireside during the dreary winter days. The load is weighed and fifty pounds are allowed to a bushel. Short and merry work is made of unloading the apples, a peculiar kind of stumpy shovel being used for the purpose. A delightful air of informality hangs over the place, and the genial proprietor, though he is a busy man these days, is glad to explain the workings of his fine new machinery to any one who is interested in the matter.

The mill consists of two stories and a cellar. In the upper story is the hopper from which the apples descend into the press, the fruit being carried from the bin outside by a cog elevator. The press on the first floor is a "revolving" one; that is, while one "cheese" is being pressed another is being turned out. A "cheese" is simply the name given to a grist of apples turned in to be pressed. The machinery is turned by a strong engine of thirty horse power, and the press' capacity is 100 barrels a day. After the cheese has been pressed the pomace, which is the apple pulp with the juice squeezed out, passes off outside by another cog arrangement. No one has been able to find out exactly what the use of pomace is, but Mr. Loomis, with true New England thrift, proposes to test its utility as feed for cattle. The cider runs out from the press into a tank in the cellar, from which it is carried into the barrels by pipes. During the season an average of 3,000 barrels of cider is produced every year.

What a contrast is this well appointed mill to the rude hand cider press that used to be the property of almost every New England farmer forty or fifty years ago. All the sons of the household would turn out and bear a hand at squeezing out the juice. And then there was the delight of sucking cider from the barrel through a straw—a delight rendered even keener when a pretty girl was engaged in the same operation close beside one. There may be less romance and less flavor about this modern cider mill of ours, but the product of Mr. Loomis' press tastes just like old fashioned cider.—Springfield Republican.

Disorder of Digestion.

All the vital forces are more or less processes of combustion, and they are subject to laws similar to those which regulate the burning of coals in our fireplaces. The reason why we allow our fires to burn low or go out altogether is that we put on too much coal or that we allow them to be smothered in ashes. It is the child who pokes the fire from the top to break the coal and make it burn faster; the wise man pokes it from below, so as to rake out the ashes and allow free access of oxygen.

And so it is with the functions of life, only that these being less understood, many a man acts in regard to them as a child does to the fire. The man thinks that his brain is not acting because he has nor supplied it with sufficient food. He takes meat three times a day and beef tea to supply its wants, as he thinks, and puts in a poker to stir it up in the shape of a glass of sherry or a nip from the brandy bottle. And yet, all the time, what his brain is suffering from is not lack of fuel, but accumulation of ash, and the more he continues to cram himself with food and to supply himself with stimulants, although they may help him for the moment, the worse he ultimately becomes, just as the child breaking the coal may cause a temporary blaze, but allows the fire all the more quickly to be smothered in ashes. It would seem that vital processes are much more readily arrested by the accumulation of waste products within the organs of the body than by the want of nutriment of the organs themselves.—Dr. T. Lauder Brunton.

I give honor to whom it is due. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy cured me of Bright's Disease and Gravel. Four of the best physicians had failed to relieve me. I have recommended it to scores of people with like success, and know it will cure all who try it.—Mrs. F. H. Palmer, Burgettstown, N. Y. Sold by Druggists. Dr. Kennedy, Roondout, N. Y., for book how to cure Kidney, Liver and Blood Diseases. Mention this paper. 1ed22

We are known in every State to the Union as the

Liberal House Furnishers,

And we have earned the reputation, not solely on account of the small payments at time of purchase, (which are one-quarter of the amount down and the monthly payments thereafter of $5, for a purchase of $25 or less, and $10 for a purchase of $100 or less,) but our prices are below those of any other dealer in the Country, notwithstanding we will deliver all goods to any station in New England free of charge.

WE DO NOT OWN THE RAILROADS!

As some might suppose, but we ship an immense quantity of goods, which is better, we think, and in this we are enabled to successfully compete with the small dealer, and what we save in this way goes into the pockets of our customers.

WE HAVE

Four Branch Stores

That are continually drawing from our Main Store at Portland, necessitating an immense stock and a greater variety of goods than is shown by any other House in the Country. It will be seen, by giving the matter a little thought, that we are compelled to not only have on hand a very large line, but the ever moving volume must necessarily allow of nothing but the newest goods upon our floors, and we are continually buying from manufacturing State in the Country. The quantities bought by us would astonish even wholesale buyers. Without question, we have under our control,

More Rolls of Carpeting than all the other Stores in the State of Maine

Combined. We have recently given our order for 1000 rolls of matting to be delivered in the early spring. Is it not reasonable to suppose that we can buy 1000 rolls at a less cost than it would be possible were our purchase but 10 or 15 rolls, the usual purchase?

Not Absolutely Correct.

We clipped the following from an exchange, in whose columns it was located beneath a picture of a very good-looking man labelled Rev. I. S. Kalloch:

Isaac S. Kalloch, ex-mayor of San Francisco, who died recently at his residence, New Whatcom, Washington territory, attained sudden prominence on August 29th, 1879, when he was shot by Charles De Young, the editor and one of the proprietors of the San Francisco Chronicle. Kalloch recovered and was elected mayor.

If the likeness is as faulty as the history, it represents some other man. Kalloch was not only prominent, but notorious, thirty years before he was elected mayor of San Francisco, and was holding the office of mayor when the shooting affair occurred in the office of the San Francisco Chronicle. Kalloch was not shot by De Young, nor by anybody else; but De Young was shot by Kalloch's son, and died from his wounds. In other points the item is correct.

OLIVER DITSON & CO., BOSTON.

Nobody knows just what to do with "Peck's bad boy," he is so lawless and mischievous. Some have thought he should be sent to sea. We don't know about that; but if he's subject to colds, we'd recommend Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Mrs. Goff, of Pleasant Valley, Wis., who was elected town treasurer, has secured her office in spite of vigorous opposition on the part of the male office-holders of the town.

Chronic Coughs and Colds

And all diseases of the Throat and Lungs can be cured by the use of Scott's Emulsion, as it contains the healing virtues of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites in their fullest form. "I consider Scott's Emulsion the remedy par-excellence in Tuberculous and Strumous Affections, to say nothing of ordinary colds and throat troubles."— W. R. S. CORNELL, M. D., Manchester, O.

Mrs. Helen M. Avery, a $1600 clerk in the interior department, is regarded as the finest penman in Washington. She writes rapidly and with great uniformity and cleanness.

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills must be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents.

Miss Lucy Salmon, the new professor of history at Vassar college, is a fine looking blonde, with a clear, open face, physically and mentally healthy, and steadfast looking.

The usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands of despairing patients can testify. On this point a trustworthy medical writer says: "Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many, if not most of the remedies in general use by physicians, afford but temporary benefit. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douches and washes." Ely's Cream Balm is a remedy which combines the important requisites of quick action, specific curative power with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient.

"Tobacconist to the President."

Washington is plastered over at every corner with an advertisement of chewing tobacco with the president's name upon it. Every office-holder who chews must use this brand. There is a fac-simile letter which reads:

EXECUTIVE MANSION,
ALBANY, Dec. '83.

Mr. ———: I have received your tobacco and thank you for it. I shall make use of it, as it is my favorite brand.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

This little business is nearly as bad as the attaching Mrs. Clevand's portrait to a cigar advertisement in the hotels. But then the cigar maker sent his samples also to the executive mansion. These were the luxuries upon which our respected but sorely oppressed tobacco consumer president was not compelled to pay a tax.

The "International" Prize Fight.

LONDON, Dec. 19th.

The prize fight between Jake Kilrain, champion of America, and Jem Smith, champion of England, resulted in a draw after a contest of 104 rounds, lasting two and a half hours.

A Scamp Hunted Down.

A thief who has been "wanted" for several years was recently trapped under peculiar circumstances. Five or six years ago Ernest K. Williamson married, at Fall River, Mass., a daughter of Albert Moran. The bride was killed next day by a runaway accident, and that night Williamson disappeared, taking with him $40,000 from the safe of Albert Moran & Co., and no trace could be found of him. About a year ago an itinerant photographer, passing through Homerville, Neb., took a picture of the only store in the place, with a group of loungers and ranchmen in front of it, Williamson being among them. Last Thanksgiving day the photographer was arrested in Chicago, charged with murder. A negative of the Homerville picture was found in his posession, and Williamson's picture was recognized by a Pinkerton detective, who went to Homerville, and on the 11th inst. found the embezzler on his ranch near there, and placed him under arrest.

"A republican club," enquiringly exclaimed the president as he threw down the morning paper; "Now, Dan, what do the republicans want of a club?" "I rather suspect," replied the private secretary, with becoming caution, "that they want to knock you off the free trade platform; the breeze seems to come pretty fresh from that quarter." "Great Scott, or Hancock, or whoever may be the proper hero for a democrat to swear by," vociferated his excellency, "can't those fellows see that we will be out of that before next fall?" and with a merry twinkle the statesman added: "Daniel, I find that it does not answer to keep the ship of state too long on one tack. We shall go about on this question before Congress adjourns."

The Columbus Journal says: "It is feared that the Fisheries Commission has gone to bed and blown out the gas."

The pope has a good salary. His income is $1,560,000 a year. He invests largely in Protestant countries, but he draws the line at farm mortgages since a Dakota lawyer demanded a fee of fifty dollars cash in advance for foreclosure proceedings on a mortgage for about three or four times the size of the modest fee.

It is stated in Washington that the new postmaster-general will show the finest team of horses driven on the avenue since Frank Jones' term of service in Congress expired. We have supposed that as soon as Mr. Dickinson had secured a confirmation there would be the biggest "turn out" ever seen in the post-office department.

Mr. Jackson, one of Cleveland's ex-ministers, has published his famous speech delived at Macon, Ga., from which it appears that he predicted that when the principle of state sovereignty fully triumphs, "In that triumphal procession Abraham Lincoln shall not move as the rightful president, but Jefferson Davis, the so-called 'traitor' leader of a so-called 'lost' cause."

No class of persons in the country are more dissatisfied with Mr. Cleveland's message than are the Irish Americans. Bayard's toadying to the English lion was bad enough for the Irish heart, but Mr. Cleveland's regard for the British manufacturer as against the American artisan is what is to trouble the democracy in 1888, although the New York Sun thinks it will blow over after the party recedes from its unfortunate position.

Among the recent transfers of real estate in York county, as left for record in the office of the register of deeds, are the following: York—Moses Stuart of Wells to Nahum Boston of the same place, wood land in York for $25; John Wentworth of Kittery to Charles H. Junkins of York, wood land in York for $150; Ellen N. Ellis of York to Chauncy W. Clement of Manchester, N. H., real estate in York for $225; Clifton B. Hildreth of York to Chauncy W. Clement, real estate for $20; Joseph B. Johnson of Malden, Mass., to Mercy A. Junkins of York, land and buildings in York for $1; George S. Varney of Manchester, to Chauncy W. Clement of the same place, real estate in York for $43. Wells—Adaline Johnson of North Berwick to Charles F. Hosmer of the same place, real estate in Wells for $80; Silas Trafton (by admr.) to Trafton Hatch, real estate for $500; Andrew J. Allen of North Berwick to Abigail Allen of Wells, land and buildings in Wells for $1; Calvin S. True of Sanford to Moses Littlefield of Wells, real estate at Wells beach for $50; Jotham Williams of Wells to Eugene S. Whitney of Manchester, N. H., real estate at Wells beach for $350.

Hon. Sterling P. Rounds, public printer during President Garfield's administration, died Dec. 17th.

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reestablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go th ough the summer."

NOTICE.

PORTSMOUTH, Dec. 19th, 1887.

The House and Shop on the corner of Water and Jefferson Streets, now occupied by Timothy Buckley, and owned by John O'Brien, will be to let on or after the 24th day of January next, as the lease of said House and Shop, given to Timothy Buckley by John O'Brien for one year, will expire on that date.

P. S. As Mr. O'Brien has had so much business on his hands for the past two years, and now has so many customers to attend to, he deems it necessary to call on some one to assist him, and as he has bought the tin peddling cart that Mr. Gilman used to drive for Mr. Blaisdell, and is intending to have it fixed up in good shape, he will pay good wages to the right man to take hold and help him. None but a good square man need apply.

N. B. Any persons having just claims against John O'Brien can send in their bills and get their money, 100 cents on a dollar.

THE SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

A meeting of the subscribers to the Soldiers' & Sailors' Monument fund was held in the common council chamber on Monday evening, Hon. M. Eldredge in the chair.

A verbal report was made by Dr. J. W. Parsons, chairman of the purchasing committee, to the effect that the monument can be completed by the 20th of June, or a little earlier or later, as the committee may desire. The monument will be forty-four feet high in all, the figure of Liberty on the top being eight feet high; and Dr. Parsons expressed the opinion that it will be the handsomest monument in New England.

The purchasing committee were empowered to select a committee of arrangements for the dedication of the monument on the 4th of July, 1888, to be presented for approval at a meeting of the subscribers called by the chairman at a future date.

Progress was reported as to the grading of Goodwin park, etc., and the meeting adjourned to the call of the chairman.

STAR LECTURE COURSE.

This evening, at Music hall, the second entertainment in the Star course will be given by Mr. Leland T. Powers, a gentleman whose powers of dramatic representation are such that his recital of a play is superior to its presentation by an ordinary dramatic company. Evening tickets for sale at Stich Ban, at 75 and 50 cents.

HE LEARNS.

Collector Page of Portsmouth has again been brought up with a sharp turn, and is now peremptorily commanded by the commissioner of internal revenue to keep a complete list of the names of individuals paying internal revenue taxes in his district, in his office, open for the inspection of any who may care to consult it. The trouble has been that Page seemed to think his office was a private affair run for his own benefit and that of the offensive republican partisan who does the work therein, rather than a government affair whose operations the people have a right to inspect, and has, accordingly, impudently refused to allow the people access to the records. He knows more now than he did a few months since.—People and Patriot.

We are glad to note the candor with which the editor of the democratic organ at Concord admits that Collector Page has increased his stock of knowledge. That denotes progress. If the editor of the P. & P. could only "know more than he did a few months since!" But that is expecting too much. His knowledge is not of the growing kind.

QUITE PROFITABLE.

The Dover Democrat says that since the introduction of mileage tickets on the Boston & Maine railroad one man in that city has been making a business of letting them out to whoever wants to hire them at the rate of two and a half cents per mile, thus making $5 on a book. He has disposed of eight books so far, which has given him an income of $40 on a working capital of half that amount

"FOUL PLAY."

Of "Foul Play; or, Condemned to Death," the Providence Journal says:

This "sensational comedy" comes here after a successful season in Boston. It's success has doubtless been largely due to the company, which includes four excellent stars. The flavor of the scenes is an admixture of New York and Mexican passion and villainy, abounding in adventure, toned down by legitimate elements of purpose and reason. If climaxes of the most intense kind chase each other throughout the five acts, they are well creamed and approached. Of the cast, the company is first class and well adapted to the play. There is much new scenery shown, and the costuming is notably good.

At Music hall to-morrow evening; tickets at Goodrich's—and a warranty deed to a building lot of 2500 square feet of land in Florida, to each purchaser of a reserved seat ticket. See advertisement.

TEMPLARS' ELECTION.

At the stated conclave of De Witt Clinton Commandery of Knights Templar, held at their asylum on Monday evening, Dec. 19th, officers as follows were elected for the ensuing year:

Edward W. Riley, E. C.;
John Hatch, Gen.;
William G. Billings, C. G.;
John Christie, Prelate;
Richard I. Walden, S. W.;
Albert R. Junkins, J. W.;
Wingate N. Ilsley, Treas.;
James L. Parker, Recorder.

MARITIME NOTES.

The British schooner Parthenia, of Lunenberg, Nova Scotia, Dauphine master, arrived at this port on the 18th inst. from Inagua, Bahama islands, with 4292 bushels of salt to E. F. Sise & Co., and one bag of coffee and 500 cocoanuts to master.

The ship South American, Tucker master, before reported ashore in Banca straits, was aground on Fourth point, but got off without apparent damage, by aid of a steamer, and proceeded upon her voyage.

The schooner Ada May, bound from this port to Portland, light, lost both anchors in the gale of Dec. 18th, and was driven high and dry on the beach in front of the Cleaves house at Old Orchard; crew saved. She registers 325 tons, and is owned in Portland.

The schooner Lizzie J. Clark, of Rockport, Me., and bound to that port with a cargo of grain and flour, ran into Biddeford Pool during the gale of the 18th inst., struck on Lobster rocks, stove a hole in her side, and went on the beach; her cargo was badly damaged.

Coal rates from Baltimore to Boston and Portland were quoted at $1.70 per ton, and to this port at $1.80, on the 17th inst.

In spite of dull weather and bad walking on Sunday last, there was a prompt attendance at the various Sunday schools. The boys in this town never require prodding to render them good little Christian Sunday school scholars on the Sabbath before Christmas. It is just as natural as sin.

At Preston's drug store can be found the largest assortment of choice holiday goods in fine glass, ivory, etc., ever shown there.

Mr. Michael Hurley arrived at his home in this city last Saturday evening, after an absence of four months, during which time he has been employed in Capt. Thomas Symonds' gang engaged in excavating a ledge in Saco river, and afterward in dredging near the wharves at Saco. The dredging flotilla, which has passed several winters in this port, at the wharf near Liberty bridge, is hauled up at Saco, where Capt. Symonds expects to be further employed next spring.

H. B. Buzzell & Son invite attention to their large and varied assortment of toilet and shaving sets, handkerchief and glove boxes, gold pens and pencils, albums, Christmas cards and novelties, especially suited to the holiday trade.

Mr. William D. Fernald, the well known shipbuilder, has gone on the navy yard as foreman in charge of the repairs on the dry dock. He is a first class man for the place, but—he is a republican.

Collector Page sports a new sleigh of stylish build. It is not true, as reported, that this was presented to him by the Maine spotters for being good and showing the books. It was made by Randlett of Dover.

At J. P. Sweeter's house furnishing and stove store, Market street, among many other articles suitable for presents can be found a very large variety of handsome lamps, fine cutlery, etc. The reception room recently fitted up in the store is enthusiastically admired by every lady who looks into it.

Mr. Charles E. Jenness and wife were surprised on Saturday evening at their residence on State street by a visit from about fifty of their lady and gentleman friends, who took along with them all the necessaries for the excellent supper which was served, and which with social games and conversation made the time pass pleasantly until the hour for separating arrived.

Mr. James J. Clair, who attempted suicide on Saturday, has been a watchman at the Jones brewery, and not at the Eldredge brewery as has been stated.

Mr. M. M. Collis calls attention to the very large and varied assortment of toys and articles especially suitable for holiday presents, to be found at the Boston 99-cent store, Market street.

Mr. James W. Goodwin, of Charles street, will pass several months of the winter in Boston, on a visit to friends there.

The Portsmouth Athletic club will dedicate their new hall in Franklin block on Monday evening, Dec. 26th.

Mr Editor: One might suppose that after the struggle of four months with the Portsmouth Shoe Co. by the lasters of Portsmouth to gain their rights, with seemingly poor success so far, that they would be discouraged, but such an idea would be quickly dispelled by a look at their cheerful forces and hearty manner as they assemble in their club room on Saturday evenings to partake of very choice suppers, their countenances as well as their words showing that their courage is stronger than ever. LASTER.

James Keefe of Greenland, who shipped on board the United States ship Marion as fireman some three years ago, when she sailed for the Chinese station, is home on a furlough, and on Saturday was paying a visit to his many friends in this city. Mr. Keefe has served three years before aboard a man-of-war, and he remained at home only three months before shipping again.—Times.

The barn and shed of Abram Gough, at Mt. Agamenticus, York, were burned about eleven o'clock last Saturday night fire catching on the roof of the barn from sparks from the house chimney. A horse and two hogs were burned with the barn. Loss $1700; insurance $1100.

A warrant in insolvency has been issued against James Andrews & Son, quarrymen, of Biddeford. The firm are said to have run behind to the amount of $30,000 or more in the last year and a half.

Gov. Marble of Maine issued a proclamation on the 16th inst., announcing the death of Gov. Joseph R. Bodwell on the previous day, and that the state funeral would take place at the state house in Augusta at eleven o'clock A. M. on the 20th. Col. M. F. Wentworth of Kittery is one of the designated pall-bearers.

Florence Silk Mittens.

The pattern shown here is lined in back and wrist throughout with silk. They are perfect fitting, and in cold climates are far more comfortable than any glove, and more fur-able and quite as elegant and fashionable as the best of gloves.

This engraving shows the latest style of these goods. It is published as a protection for those ladies who wish to obtain mittens well made from genuine Florence Knitting Silk.

Whatever the design, all real Florence Silk Mittens are sold one pair in a box, bearing the brand "Florence" on one end.

Sold by all enterprising dealers, who can be supplied at our agency, No. 18 Summer Street, Boston. Our latest book on knitting (192 edition) contains over 100 valuable illustrated Rules, including full instructions for this mitten. Mailed to any address on receipt of six cents in stamps.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS.

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin's Piano Stringer was introduced by them in 1882, and has been pronounced by experts the greatest improvement in pianos in half a century.

A circular, containing testimonials from three hundred purchasers, musicians and tuners, sent, together with descriptive catalogue, to any applicant.

Degenerate Scions.

Apropos of Quaker bonnets, I was told last year that some antiquarian, wishing to obtain a complete dress belonging to this sect, asked the younger member of an old Friend family for some of their grandparents' garments. One can hardly imagine the horror inspired by the answer: "Oh, you can have all the broad brimmed hats, but there are no bonnets left, as we took off the silk, and used them as footlight shades in our theatricals last holidays. I am so sorry, but they did capitally!" Oh, that the descendants of the old Quaker stock should have so little reverence left for the memory of their ancestors!—Cassell's Family Magazine.

French Conversation.

"French conversation," said Mr. W. C. Brownell, "is really conversation, and is practiced for what it is and not to pass away the time. It is made up of interruptions, and is thus full of epigrams and repartee, is artistic, not utilitarian, and far freer than ours, and is outspoken without being brutal."—New York Times.

Dynamite for Laying Foundations.

Paradoxical as it may seem, the latest thing for which dynamite has been employed is not the blowing up of buildings, but, on the contrary, the laying of foundations. This new development is due to M. Bonnetond, a French engineer. When a foundation has to be laid in wet ground he bores a hole from ten to twelve feet deep and an inch and a half wide. Into this hole he passes a string of dynamite cartridges, which is then exploded. Not only is a cavity of a yard wide produced by the explosion, but the expansive force of the dynamite drives the water out far beyond the sides of this cavity, and it does not return again for more than half an hour. In the meantime the workmen clear the cavity and introduce quickly setting concrete, so that when the water returns again it cannot injure the foundation. The method has been put into practice during the building of an enceinte at Lyons, and a rapid rate of working is said to have been attained thereby.—Chicago Times.

A Curious Change.

A remarkable case of "substitution" was recently found in a Georgia iron mine. Workmen digging came upon a pine stump, or what had been a pine stump, now converted into brown iron ore. The stump showed all the fibers and bark of the original pine tree, and rosin streaks were plainly seen in places.—New York Sun.

A Difficult Order to Fill.

An old lady came into a Washington street book store the other day with an order which was rather difficult to fill. She said to the clerk at the counter;

"Do you keep Bibles?"

"Yes, ma'am."

"Well, I want a small pocket Bible in very large print!"—Boston Transcript.

There is no question that the great majority of our people who live in the country do not enjoy what they might in the way of horticultural comforts and luxuries.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some eczematous affection, such as milk crust, scald head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which makes life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence a mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance,—skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston, Mass.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of this sire of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief to all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1.

THE ASCETIC.

Where rocks amid the Thebiad grimly rise,
And like a silver thread in barren sand
The Nile flows onward to the fertile land,
Seated with a tomb, one watched the skies,
Whose heart had never known the sweet replies
That come so gladly when at love's command
A radiant maid lays in your own her hand,
And makes the fair earth glorious with her eyes.
He watched and prayed, yet never answer came;
For Isis and Osiris still looked down
Along the sand where patient camels trod,
And he had asked that some destroying flame
Would sweep these from his sight, and leave the brown,
Wide desert showing the strong wrath of God.

IN A JAPANESE HOTEL.

"Ruhamah" Tells of the Trials of a Traveler—Sleeping Rooms.

At midnight we came up the one long street that constitutes the village of Nikko, and seven jinrickishas rattling into the hotel court and fourteen coolies shouting to one another and altogether, roused the house and the whole neighborhood. Peaceful sleepers upstairs were roused, looked out at us, and banged the screens shut angrily. The Japanese bed is the floor, with a wooden box under the neck for a pillow and a cotton wadded comforter for a covering. The mats are an inch or two thick, made of soft straw, with a finely woven top surface, and it is to preserve these soft floor mats that shoes are not worn in the house. For the foreigner the Japanese landlord allows five or six futons or wadded comforters, and they make a tolerable mattress, although not springy, and rather apt to feel damp and smell musty. The traveler carries his own sheets, woolen blankets and feather pillows, and, above all, flea powder, which is the most necessary part of the bed, if it is designed for rest at all.

The straw mats and the futons are the special haunts and homes of the fleas, and without a liberal dusting of every part of the coverings, and all about the edges, it is impossible to sleep. If the powder is fresh and strong there is a grim satisfaction in the morning in looking over the edges of the futons, and watching the dead and dying fleas, whose death agonies are as great as those of leviathans. This sleeping on the floor on a pile of cotton comforters is not really comfortable, and, coupled with the fatigues of walking and mountain climbing, stiffens one's joints sadly over night, and would soon bring on rheumatism. By day the futons are piled in closets out of sight or hung over the balconies to air, and if the servants forget to bring them in before sunset the airing makes them damper than ever.

The only walls of the rooms are the paper screens that slide in grooves, and if one's next neighbor is curious he slips the screen a little or pokes a hole through the paper. A whisper or a pin drop can be heard, from room to room, and a good Anglo-Saxon snorer would be heard all over a Japanese hotel, and probably rock the whole structure with his solo. Apparently the Japanese never snore, or else the snorers are killed in their youth, as one never hears any stock anecdotes of their disturbances at inns. The outer gallery or balcony on which all the rooms open as the common hall by day, is closed in solidly at night with wooden shutters, that make a thunderous rumbling at dusk when they are put up, and another and worse one at dawn when they are shoved aside. Baths at a Japanese inn are always made ready at night, and the tubs are large and hot water plentiful. The morning bath is not a ceremonious affair at all, the guests being expected to dip their faces and hands into shallow copper basins that with a bucket of water occupy a shelf fastened outside the balcony rail. One gets a good view of the landscape, or the town, or the hotel courtyard, according as the balcony fronts, and the pleasure is also enjoyed in the reverse way.—"Ruhamah" in Globe-Democrat.

Doctors and Practical Hygiene.

The men and women in the medical profession are, or should be, most interested in all branches of practical hygiene and sanitation. Their medical education eminently fits them for considering the best means of promoting health, and of avoiding all things which have a tendency to destroy it.

But how many doctors are there today who visit the families in their charge, weekly or monthly, and examine into the conditions which surround them, whether or not these tend toward health or disease? That this is not more frequently done is sometimes not the physician's fault, yet too often his or her teaching could prevent the illness which comes.

Most physicians do not give instructions that last beyond the given prescription for some certain malady. They do not see their duty plain to extend care before the advent of disease, and when danger is over their work is done. It is perhaps not easy to prevent that which brings doctors and their families their bread and butter. One of Will Carleton's humorous ballads is about the doctor who cured the deacon's wife by "God's own remedies, sun, light and air," and so lost his fee; after which he concluded that if called to attend that woman again she should have medicine made by men.—Annals of Hygiene.

Cooling of the Earth's Crust.

M. Faye, the well known French astronomer, has drawn attention at a recent meeting of the French Academy of Sciences to the apparent geological law that the cooling of the terrestrial crust goes on more rapidly under the sea than with a land surface. Hence he argues that the crust must thicken under oceans at a more rapid rate and so give rise to a swelling up and distortion of the thinner portions of the crust—in other words, to the formation of mountain chains.—Engineering.

'Tis An Ill Wind

That brings with it gusts of rain from the north-east. When the winds blow from that quarter on a wet day, the rheumatic are apt to suffer, even if seated by their "ain comfortable ingle" in a cosy arm chair. A few wineglassfulls of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—most genial and comforting of specifics—will afford them unspeakable relief. There is ample proof on record of its efficacy in this disease—more particularly if used for its relief at the outset. Chills and fever, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, and a lack of tone in the kidneys and bladder, should also be treated with this useful family medicine of botanic origin. Appetite improves, refreshing slumber once more visits the weary eyelids of the nervous, and circulation is enriched and accelerated in consequence of its invigorating and regulating action. Use it as as a protector after getting wet.

The usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands of despairing patients can testify. On this point a trustworthy medical writer says: "Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many, if not most of the remedies in general use by physicians, afford but temporary benefit. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douches and washes." Ely's Cream Balm is a remedy which combines the important requisites of quick action, specific curative power with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient.

The "Boss" System in Politics.

Foster's Democrat criticises the custom of President Cleveland in permitting a few men to control the appointments to offices in this state. The editor claims that he was a fighting democrat before the men who now run the party and its patronage were on the tapis. This has been a frequent source of complaint in regard to Mr. Cleveland's administration. Men like Harry Bingham, John H. George, John H. Pearson and their cotempories have been compelled to give way to younger blood. In Massachusetts veterans like Charles Levi Woodbury give place to men like Congressmen Collins and Morse.

At the beginning of his term the president was embarrassed by crowds of silver-top democrats, those time-honored monuments of past days, who claimed recognition, not for present or future efficiency in the political arena, but for what they had been in ages past. The situation became perplexing. Happily, a suggestion as to the mode of escaping this annoyance as well as the unending labor of investigating the claims of rival applicants for local offices, was adopted. The subscription paper of the National Committee showed who had borne the brunt of the battle. It did not take the men who had been in political warfare in New York state a long time to decide upon a plan. Mr. Manning, if anything, is a financier. The monetary influence prevailed, and will continue in the forefront of this administration.

While these are not our obsequies, we can perhaps be permitted to commend in the abstract, a result which to a great extent saved from mere office-bestowing, for the discharge of more legitimate duties, the valuable time of the president.

It is of no use to grumble. Mr. Cleveland turns not to the setting, but to the rising sun, in democratic politics. In most cases, there is by this time a recognition of the inevitable. New men are constantly coming to the front in the party which is, for the time being, in power. They wish to take a hand in the divide. Foster's Democrat sets down Cleveland as unworthy the support of a genuine democrat. The peculiar position of the new president with his obligation to the mugwumps, and the pressure of the regular time-honored and long-waiting democrats, is apparently not appreciated. Mr. Foster makes no complaint as to the president's appointments on the score of fitness. It is the system against which he declares war, and opposes the renomination of the statesman without an abiding place. Mr. Cleveland will doubtless be renominated, but there will be a crumb of comfort to our friend at the head of navigation in the probability that he will fail of a re-election. His utter want of tact in the way he has brought out the free trade notions of a portion of his party, while it may tend to sooth the ruffled feelings of his mugwump allies, and perhaps fill the treasury of the democratic committee by means of importers' contributions, will land the candidate who dares to stand upon such a platform as far up Salt River as the stream flows. Mr. Cleveland's "good luck" cannot save him from the effects of a blunder like this.

LET US REMEMBER.

Christmas week, as it is so generally called, is now upon us,—the most joyous, happy period of the year; for almost everyone is now filled with pleasant thoughts, either in anticipation of kind remembrances from their friends, or in preparing to make some one else happy. And yet there are some, alas! many, perhaps, that have sad hearts; there may be a vacancy at the fireside, that was filled a year ago; or they may miss the merry laughter and patter of little feet with which the house was wont to sound, but now is wrapt in silence; again there are among us many whose condition in life is such that they are, through adversity, unable to cater to anyone's enjoyment—not even to their own—and while others are looking forward to a Merry Christmas, they expect nothing. Let us not forget these things, and can we not do something, at least for the time being, to cheer and brighten them. This is especially a happy season for the little ones, and it is very consistent that it should be so, it being the anniversary of the birth of One who came into the world to be their Saviour and to bless them. Let us do all we can to help them to remember it, to make it a time of happiness and rejoicing for all. In our different celebrations of that event, especially in our Sunday school festivals, let all those who have heretofore been unable to attend be made welcome now; let us shed at least one ray of sunshine upon their desolate pathway of life which they may always remember with pleasure, and who knows but what it may be the beginning of a brighter and happier life for them? Oh, turn them not away, but gather into the fold; let them not feel that they are intruders, lest we too be rebuked as they were of old, when He said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of God. MERRY CHRISTMAS.

NOTICE.

PORTSMOUTH, Dec. 19th, 1887.

The House and Shop on the corner of Water and Jefferson Streets, now occupied by Timothy Buckley, and owned by John O'Brien, will be to let on or after the 24th day of January next, as the lease of said House and Shop, given to Timothy Buckley by John O'Brien for one year, will expire on that date.

P. S. As Mr. O'Brien has had so much business on his hands for the past two years, and now has so many customers to attend to, he deems it necessary to call on some one to assist him; and as he has bought the tin peddling cart that Mr. Gilman used to drive for Mr. Blaisdell, and is intending to have it fixed up in good shape, he will pay good wages to the right man to take hold and help him. None but a good square man need apply.

N. B. Any persons having just claims against John O'Brien can send in their bills and get their money, 100 cents on a dollar.

AT MUSIC HALL TO-NIGHT.

Of "Condemned to Death," which is to be presented at Music hall this evening by Maynard's New York Co., the Lynn Item says: "It proved to be a great and highly sensational drama, * * and was enjoyed and appreciated by all." The New Bedford Mercury says "the play is a strong one, of the sensational order," the scenes being laid in New York and among the Mexican silver mines. The Boston Globe calls it "a melodrama that is full of exciting situations," and strongly commends the company. The New York Mirror says the company is a strong one, with a good play. The papers in other places are equally complimentary. Tickets at Goodrich's; see advertisement.

PORTSMOUTH MACHINE CO.

The stockholders of the Portsmouth Machine company voted on Tuesday to authorize the directors to liquidate the affairs of the corporation by completing an unfinished contract and paying the debts of the corporation; also to sell the real and personal estate, and to divide the remainder, after the payment of all indebtedness, among the stockholders. The original capital of the company paid in was $128,000. The cost of the plant and machinery was considerably in excess of this sum, consequently there was nothing for a working capital, except such funds as were from time to time hired for that purpose. An issue of $75,000 of five per cent first mortgage bonds was made. These bonds have never been placed, and attempts to create new stock, to be taken proportionately by each shareholder, and also to have the bonds taken in like manner, were not successful.

HE STILL LIVES.

When "John O'Brien, cash or trade," came to this city fourteen years ago and engaged in the business of a tin-peddler, there were nine others in the same business here. He first bought Earring & Martin's carts, (which had T. W. Jones' marks on them, beneath Earring & Martin's,) and has since seen one after another drop out of the business until only two were left, himself and Mr. Gilman, who latterly has been driving for the Blaisdell estate. On Saturday, the 17th inst., Mr. O'Brien bought at auction the Blaisdell cart, and is now the only tin-peddler in the city. He has had some losses during his residence here, but makes no complaint as to the share of prosperity he has enjoyed, and is as ready now as ever for business on his old basis of "cash or trade," and paying "anybody having just claims against John O'Brien one hundred cents on a dollar."

James J. Clair, who shot himself in the head last Saturday afternoon, died on Tuesday.

George B. French's store will be open every evening this week, to accommodate the holiday trade.

The testimony of C. A. Mellen, general manager of the Boston & Lowell railroad, was taken before Special Examiner Hackett on Monday. The cross-examination of President Rollins of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad was continued. The examination of the latter will be concluded at Concord, Jan. 2d.

MARITIME NOTES.

Capt. Charles O. Freeman of York, who for seven years past has run his fine schooner yacht Harrie M. Young out of York harbor as an excursion boat during the season of summer travel, has sold her to Mr. John A. Moore of Gloucester, Mass., who will use her for shore fishing, for which she is well adapted, being a staunch, weatherly boat of twelve tons register, and a good sailer. Capt. Freeman and Mr. Walter Mathes of York left this port with the schooner on Saturday evening for Gloucester, and though a thick snow storm and strong gale set in a few hours after they started, they arrived in Gloucester at three o'clock Sunday morning all right, the boat behaving as handsomely as could be desired. Capt. Freeman and Mr. Mathes were in this city Tuesday afternoon, on their way home. It is reported that a steamer with a carrying capacity of about one hundred passengers will be purchased by parties at York before the opening of another beach season, to be run from York harbor as an excursion boat. This will no doubt be much appreciated by the majority of the summer visitors, but we had rather make one trip in a boat like the Harrie M. Young than a dozen in any old smoke-jack that ever was built.

Scores of accidents to small vessels are reported along the New England coast, from the recent storm.

BAND CONCERT AND FIREMEN'S BALL.

The twelfth annual ball of Kearsarge Fire Engine Co. will be given in Franklin hall on Friday evening, Dec. 30th, the orchestra of Reeves' American band, of Providence, R. I., D. W. Reeves director, furnishing the music. Preceding the ball a concert will be given by the orchestra in Music hall, one ticket admitting a gentleman and two ladies to both concert and ball. The programme for the concert is as follows:

1. Overture—Orpheus, Offenbach.
2. Cornet Solo—Ocean View, Hartmann.
   MR. BOWEN R. CHURCH.
3. Selection—Erminie, Jakobowski.
4. Piccolo Solo—Erinia, Norritto.
   MR. FRED PADLEY.
5. Cavatina, Joachin Raff.
6. Finale—Winter's Frolics, Bernstein.

Mrs. George A. Gerrish of Austin street, with her daughter, Miss Jeannie Gerrish, has gone to Boston to spend a few weeks.

Capt. George H. Hutchins of York, of the schooner Champion, was in this city on Tuesday on special business.

Mr. George M. Simpson and wife of Cape Neddick, and Mr. Daniel Weare and wife, were in this city on Saturday, on their way home from Boston after passing two weeks on a visit to friends there.

Wednesday, Dec. 21st. Winter begins. That's what the almanac says, at any rate.

Ayers & Locke are showing a very great variety of choice articles in their line, especially suited to the wants of those who desire a nice holiday present for a friend of either sex.

Meeting of the Christian Temperance Union this (Wednesday) afternoon at three o'clock, at the Congregational chapel on Middle street.

"Who fills the stockings?" is the subject of a recent poem by Edith M. Thomas. The answer is found by stepping this week into the stores of the merchants and dealers who have the sagacity to advertise.

When there is a little luncheon or breakfast in the Back bay region of Boston to which any one is invited, the hostess sends round to the man who runs the personal columns of the newspaper to make a note of it. When a fellow on the navy yard asks a friend to share his pie at luncheon, he would blush if he supposed the occurence would be in the paper the next day. That is why Boston people are apt to regard Portsmouth as a slow place.

Mrs. Scott-Siddons, who recently read in Music hall to a small audience, was greeted by a packed house in Tremont Temple, Boston, Monday evening.

MATTERS IN YORK.

CAPE NEDDICK, Dec. 20th.

Capt. Josiah Talpey and wife observed the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage on Wednesday, the 14th inst. Capt. Talpey is a well known ship master who sailed out of Portsmouth and other ports for many years, and both he and Mrs. Talpey are enjoying good health.

The season of hog-slaughtering has come. Last Friday Capt. Josiah Talpey had one killed which tipped the scales at 540 lbs., and Appleton Talpey has two from the same litter which it is estimated will dress 1100 lbs.

J. F. Plaisted has filled the Goodwin store at Cape Neddick with dry goods and groceries in bountiful supply, and is doing a good business. Howard Plaisted tends the store. Albion Goodwin, the postmaster, will soon have his new store ready for goods and the post-office, the latter at present being with Mr. Plaisted.

A little snow fell here on the 18th, but not enough to be of any service. SUB.

Landlord Grant, proprietor of the Sea Cottage at York beach, has lately killed a year-old pig which weighed 628 lbs., dressed weight. This item will please our Kittery correspondent, "Sub Rosa," who recently complained that the man who killed the biggest pig was very slow in sending in his returns this year.

The Kennebunk overseers of the poor have just settled a suit brought against them by the city of Portland for sending a tramp named John Wilson from the Kennebunk alms-house to Portland. The suit was begun last summer and the trial was assigned for Dec. 9th, at which time the defendants desired to settle the matter. The city solicitor of Portland was instructed to say to them that the Portland overseers would settle for one hundred dollars and taxable costs—together amounting to nearly one hundred and fifty dollars, and the Kennebunk board accepted that proposition, so that with the fees of their own counsel, the entire cost of their sending a pauper to Portland contary to the law of the state must have been nearly two hundred dollars, though the claim at first might have been settled for less than twenty dollars.

A Washington despatch to the Boston Traveller says: "Naval officers who have inspected the work being done on the new cruisers say that those required to be finished within the next six months cannot possibly be brought to completion within double the alloted time, even though night and day forces are employed. It is asserted that unless the penalties are waived the contractors will be ruined. The Baltimore and Charleston are nearer completion than the rest. On these two vessels several payments have been made, but it is admitted by the contractors that they cannot be completed in the specified time." If this is correct, it will be interesting to watch Secretary Whitney's proceedings in the premises.

An unmarried reporter of the New York Sun recently procured several divorces from suppositious wives. The Sun exposes the bogus divorce business in that city, and estimates that the bogus divorce mills turn out 1500 samples of their goods annually.

"DIRT rots the fibre and invites the moth." To cleanse and purify blankets thoroughly, wash them with IVORY SOAP. Professor Cornwall, of Princeton College, says the IVORY SOAP is an excellent Laundry Soap, of great purity and more than average cleansing power.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

BOTANIC COUGH BALSAM

More than twenty years ago Adamson's Botanic Balsam was introduced generally throughout New England as a remedy for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary complaints. Since its introduction it has constantly won its way into public favor, until now it is the universal decision that ADAMSON'S BOTANIC BALSAM is the best remedy for curing Coughs, Colds and Asthma.

MENDING BROKEN BRIC-A-BRAC.

Specialists Who Devote Their Time to Patching and Restoring.

New York abounds as thoroughly in queer corners, people and occupations as any city of its size in the world. Most of these oddities, however, possess little value outside of the purely picturesque, and depend for even that on individual taste. A few are quite reasonable. Among the latter may be classed a peculiar industry not yet of a size to admit of its being troubled much by the state of the labor market. This calling is entirely in the hands of a few wide awake Swiss, whose ateliers are scattered over the uptown business portions of the city, and is dignified by the title of "artistic repairing."

One of the best known and busiest of their number was, when called upon, engaged on just such a task. "We have," he said, "very few shop secrets because our trade is entirely one of delicacy and skill and involves such a variety of knacks that we have little fear of competition. There is absolutely no restriction as to the nature of the article brought to us for repair, or as to the amount of damage it has sustained, to lie within our ability to restore it. Most of our patrons being extremely wealthy, we are trusted daily with the rarest and most costly articles, which would never be placed in the hands of inexperienced workmen, so that what we do is both expensive and in keeping with the elegance of the article to be mended.

"You can judge of the extent of our operations somewhat when I tell you that I am a watchmaker, cabinetmaker, painter in oil and water colors, carver of wood, marble and ivory, modeler in clay, a musician and chemist, all combined. In any of these branches I should probably prove a distinguished failure alongside of men who have devoted a lifetime to the particular one, but in Geneva where I was educated, we are taught to be careful, and I have learned enough and practiced long enough to be able to perform successfully the essential part of my business, which is to copy faithfully and naturally whatever is set before me. This porcelain vase at which I am now at work is a very ordinary job. I received it in sixty-four pieces, each piece calculating by the original value of jar, having cost something above $2. This makes it slightly worth repairing.

"The soundest and largest portion was the bottom, which was about three times as thick as the rest and, of course, stood the fall better. In the course of an hour's search I managed to find a little section that fitted exactly to a nick in the first. This was securely fastened in its place with cement and set away to harden. It is impossible at this stage of proceedings to put on more than one piece at a time. Other work is disposed of and in course of time another fragment added to the originals, then a fourth and fifth, and so on. The vase has gradually grown in this way to its original proportions. As nothing but the finest and whitest cement is used, the dirty streaking that characterizes badly mended china is avoided. However, several of the broken bits have been lost and some have crumbled so fine as to be unavailable. This leaves an ugly hole in the side, a large nick in the rim and completely ruins a beautiful painted bouquet. I heat a stick of a certain plastic substance of my own invention and carefully fill in the gaps yet left. With a fine steel spatula the material is pared down even on both sides, introduced into the nicks and is carefully molded into the delicate curl of the rim, which it imitates exactly. In one hour these additions are firmly set and almost as hard as the original material. With palette in hand they are treated by me to several coats of oil color of exactly the same tint as the porcelain. The roses are restored by painting the backing parts in on the new surface, and the lines of cement covered up in the same way. A coat or two of isinglass varnish and—well—there is a vase that cost $125, in which the sharpest eye would fail to detect a flaw and although the outer coat of varnish might feel a little funny to the fingers of a connoisseur.

"Frequently cabinets of rare and expensive woods are sent to us which by some fatality have been split, rotted or stripped of one parts of the ornamentation. We cut away the damaged parts, restore the same variety of wood or a perfect imitation thereof, and carve it to match. I have now on hand a Japanese cabinet, the top edges of which were ornamented with a row of little ivory figures like chessmen, half of which were gone. I am carving out exact duplicates of every one to replace their fellows, and expect to make a very creditable job of it. Marble statuary, terra cotta and other ornaments we rejoin if broken, and add well molded replicas of missing portions, if there are such. We clean arms and armor for collectors, which is in itself a trade, as the dirt and rust must be removed with acids without affecting the blackness and oxidation of the metal which guarantee the antiquity. The slightest sign of polish or repair would be an irreparable damage. For armor, too, we construct fearful and wonderful warriors, stuffed with straw and with wax heads, on which the iron harness is riveted as 'In days of old, when knights were bold.' But somehow these seem pretty tame.

"Our most important work has to do with a certain class of mechanical matters. We study out the wants of old fashioned clock movements which are unintelligible to the modern horologist. Some of these are entirely of wood, wheels and pinions alike. We make wooden works for the old cases, and superintend the making of cases for old movements. The various sets of chimes and musical wonders concealed in old foreign clocks are familiar to us, where it would require weeks of examination for most people to comprehend them. The fine points of these articles must be learned abroad, so that we rank as experts in this line."

We are known in every State in the Union as the

Liberal House Furnishers,

And we have earned the reputation, not solely on account of the small payments at time of purchase, (which are one-quarter of the amount down and the monthly payments thereafter of $5, for a purchase of $50 or less, and $10 for a purchase of $100 or less,) but our prices are below those of any other dealer in the Country, notwithstanding we will deliver all goods to any station in New England free of charge.

WE DO NOT OWN THE RAILROADS!

As some might suppose, but we ship an immense quantity of goods, which is better, we think, and in this we are enabled to successfully compete with the small dealer, and what we save in this way goes into the pockets of our customers.

— WE HAVE —

Four Branch Stores

That are continually drawing from our Main Store at Portland, necessitating an immense stock and a greater variety of goods than is shown by any other House in the Country. It will be seen, by giving the matter a little thought, that we are compelled to not only have on hand a very large line, but the ever moving volume must necessarily allow of nothing but the newest goods upon our floors, and we are continually buying from every Manufacturing State in the Country. The quantities bought by us would astonish even wholesale buyers. Without question, we have under our control,

More Rolls of Carpeting than all the other Stores in the State of Maine

Combined. We have recently given our order for 1000 rolls of matting to be delivered in the early spring. Is it not reasonable to suppose that we can buy 1000 rolls at a less cost than it would be possible were our purchase but 10 or 15 rolls, the usual purchase?

'Tis An Ill Wind

That brings with it gusts of rain from the north-east. When the winds blow from that quarter on a wet day, the rheumatic are apt to suffer, even if seated by their "ain comfortable ingle" in a cosy arm chair. A few wineglassfulls of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—most genial and comforting of specifics—will afford them unspeakable relief. There is ample proof on record of its efficacy in this disease—more particularly if used for its relief at the outset. Chills and fever, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, and a lack of tone in the kidneys and bladder, should also be treated with this useful family medicine of botanic origin. Appetite improves, refreshing slumber once more visits the weary eyelids of the nervous, and circulation is enriched and accelerated in consequence of its invigorating and regulating action. Use it as as a protector after getting wet.

New Hampshire State Grange.

The annual session of the State Grange opened in Manchester Dec. 20th, to continue three days. The report of the secretary shows ninety-four active subordinate granges, a net gain of eleven, of which nine are new granges and two were re-organized. The number of members is 6100, a net gain of about 800, an increase larger by 100 than in any former year since the grange was started in this state.

The Criminals Will Approve of This.

Prince Kraspotkine recently delivered a lecture in Paris on "The Moral Influence of Prisons." He argued in favor of suppressing prisons and of leaving crimes to be committed at will, his opinion being that the only safeguard of society was the curing of diseases of the brain, heart and stomach, from which, he said, all criminals suffered. All the criminals in the world, and would-be criminals, will endorse the prince's idea as being sound common sense.

MATTERS IN YORK.

CAPE NEDDICK, YORK, Dec. 19th.

The building trade is having a big boom. Among the buildings going up is the Cliff house at Bald Head, owned by Theodore Weare, Jr., and constructed by Henry Perkins of Ogunquit; it takes 85,000 laths to lath it.

Mr. E. H. Phillips of North Berwick (formerly of Cape Neddick) has built and in course of construction three buildings,—a two-story house with ell at the beach for Capt. A. H. Bowden, on the site of the old homestead where his father lived for many years; a house at the beach for Capt. Rufus Norton, which has the nicest front of any house in York; and he is building a store and post-office for Albion Goodwin at Cape Neddick corner, on the site of the hotel so long and well known as "Ma'am Freeman's." The latter building will have a hall overhead, which will supply a want long felt in that section.

Capt. Charles O. Freeman has sold his boat, the Harrie M. Young, to Gloucester parties.

Storer Perkins has bought the A. G. Norton place, and is going to build a stable there.

Mr. D. W. Bragdon, well known throughout the "brick fleet," is about finishing up his trade with Mr. E. H. Phillips.

Capt. George A. Donnell, formerly master of the schooner Wingaersheek, and well known to the boys as a drawer of the long bow since his retirement from coasting, has been clerking for E. A. Tulpey; being now at leisure he comes out four or five times a day to see how the boys are getting along on the new store. Capt. Mark Hutchins, Capt. Donnell's mate for a number of years, was noticed over at the store the other night buying a lantern. Mark must be going to hunt for burglars, of which there seems to be a very large crop this winter.

C. W. Hildreth is putting up a large four-story building at the beach, to be used as a hotel and for stores. Edgar W. Freeman is master builder.

H. G. Ellis is putting on a large addition to his hotel, the Ocean house, formerly the York beach skating rink. The master builder is John Sanborn, who has also just built a large barn for Mr. A. N. Merrow at Cape Neddick.

Including the new store of Mr. A. Goodwin on the site of the Cape Neddick house, there are now three stores located in that immediate neighborhood, and a very fair business is carried on there. Mr. Currier is carrying on business as usual at the head of the harbor.

William Allen has lately improved his house by giving it a new jacket of shingles and clapboards. VERITAS.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY, Me., Dec. 20th.

The Old Folks concert given by the X. L. C. R. Dramatic club in the 2d Methodist church last Thursday and Friday evenings were highly successful. Although the heavy rain on Thursday evening prevented many from attending, including some of the singers, yet those present were well pleased with the programme. Friday evening being pleasant, the house was well filled and the full corps of singers were there. The choir was led by Mr. Jeff. Tilton of Portsmouth; many of them were dressed in the costumes of a century ago, and they rendered some good old times of "ye olden times," such as "Strike the Cymbals," "Northfield," Complaint," "Auld Lang Syne," etc.; these "old pennyroyals" are always our favorites, and we take more profound comfort listening to one of them than to all the classic music of the present day. We must make special mention of the out of town talent, which added much toward making the concert a success. The Eliot quartette, composed of Messrs Albert W. Nowell and Edward Dixon, and Misses Laura and Ella Dame, gave some fine selections, which did them much credit and greatly pleased the audience; they were encored several times. The P. A. C. male quartette of Portsmouth, composed of Messrs. Gray, Montgomery, Philbrick and Flannigan, gave several fine selections, and won much praise. The duets by Mr. Wesley Remick and Mrs. Walter Staples, and the Misses Laura and Ella Dame, were finely rendered and called forth general applause; and the solos by Mrs. Fannie Hill, Mr. Charles W. Gray and Miss Flora Hayes, also the piano solo by Prof. A. L. Labrie, and the accordeon solo by Mr. Dixon, all deserve commendation. Miss Millie Damon presided at the piano with her usual modest grace, and Mr. Charles Hayes accompanied with the bass viol. At the close of the concert, both evenings, a first class supper, was served in the vestry, to which all did justice. The club are entitled to much credit for the efficient manner in which they managed the whole proceedings; and we can safely add that this was one of the most successful affair of the kind ever given here.

Miss Fannie F. Eaton of Kennebunk, formerly of Kittery, is visiting friends in town and in Portsmouth, N. H.

Miss Carrie H. Haley of North Kittery has been engaged to teach in district No. 1, in place of Miss Florence E. Sanderson, resigned. A good selection.

Miss Bertha I. Grovernor is in Bangor this winter, where she is supplying the place of one of her friends as cashier and book-keeper at the restaurant in the Maine Central depot. SUB ROSA.

Hon. Daniel Manning has had a second shock of paralysis in Albany, N. Y., and on the 21st inst. was reported to be in a critical state.

A bomb with lighted fuse attached was thrown through the window of Dr. Canfield's house in Stanstead, Quebec, but Mrs. Canfield pulled out the fuse and prevented an explosion. The bomb was charged with giant powder, and would have blown the house to pieces. Dr. Canfield's father has been active in enforcing the Canadian temperance law.

"Did n't Know 't was Loaded"

May do for a stupid boy's excuse; but what can be said for the parent who sees his child languishing daily and fails to recognize the want of a tonic and blood-purifier? Formerly, a course of bitters, or sulphur and molasses, was the rule in well-regulated families; but now all intelligent households keep Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which is at once pleasant to the taste, and the most searching and effective blood medicine ever discovered.

Nathan S. Cleveland, 27 E. Canton st., Boston, writes: "My daughter, now 21 years old, was in perfect health until a year ago when she began to complain of fatigue, headache, debility, dizziness, indigestion, and loss of appetite. I concluded that all her complaints originated in impure blood, and induced her to take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine soon restored her blood-making organs to healthy action, and in due time reëstablished her former health. I find Ayer's Sarsaparilla a most valuable remedy for the lassitude and debility incident to spring time."

J. Castright, Brooklyn Power Co., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "As a Spring Medicine, I find a splendid substitute for the old-time compounds in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, with a few doses of Ayer's Pills. After their use, I feel fresher and stronger to go th ough the summer."

The steamer Miranda, which started from Joggins, Nova Scotia, for New York, with a huge timber raft in tow, broke adrift from it during the heavy gale of Sunday morning, Dec. 18th, about forty-five miles off Nantucket shoals, and had to abandon it. The raft was built of 27,000 logs, making a cigar-shaped structure over 600 feet long and about thirty-six feet in diameter, which floated fifteen feet out of water and twenty-one feet under; the cost of rafting and towing was $30,000, and the value of the timber $150,000. The steamer was towing by two hemp hawsers, one ten-inch and one fifteen-inch, and had over 150 fathoms of scope out when the big hawser parted; this let the steamer surge ahead, bringing all the strain with a jerk on the smaller rope, which tore the bitts out of the steamer's deck, leaving the raft wholly adrift. When last seen by the Miranda the raft was sixty miles from Block island, and drifting south. As this wooden island is directly in the track of vessels, and collision with it would be as bad as striking a rock, the secretary of the navy has been asked to send a naval vessel in search of it.

NOTICE.

PORTSMOUTH, Dec. 19th, 1887.

The House and Shop on the corner of Water and Jefferson Streets, now occupied by Timothy Buckley, and owned by John O'Brien, will be to let on or after the 25th day of January next, as the lease of said House and Shop, given to Timothy Buckley by John O'Brien for one year, will expire on that date.

P. S. As Mr. O'Brien has had no more business on his hands for the past two years, and now has so many customers to attend to, he deems it necessary to call on some one to assist him; and as he has bought the tin peddling cart that Mr. Gilman used to drive for Mr. Rice-Bell, and is intending to have it fixed up in good shape, he will pay good wages to the right man to take hold and help him. None but a good square man need apply.

N. B. Any persons having just claims against John O'Brien can send to them bills and get their money, 100 cents on a dollar.

THE SOLDIERS' MONUMENT.

The following description of the emblems and inscriptions which the Soldiers' & Sailors' Monument is to bear we take from the Times, and it shows that if the plans are executed with even a fair degree of artistic skill the structure will be a very handsome one, and worthy of the patriot heroes in whose honor it is to be erected:

From the report of the purchasing committee, we learn that the monument is being constructed from plans shown in this city some months ago. It is to be 12 feet square at the base, 36 feet high, and surmounted by an eight-foot statue of the Goddess of Liberty, the gift of ex-Mayor Eldredge. The total height of the statue will be 44 feet.

The inscriptions and ornamentations to be placed upon the monument have also been decided upon. They are as follows:

Front side, facing Islington street, on the upper part of the base is to be the word Gettysburg, above it, the city seal, above this, cannon balls, and still above is the dedicatory inscription which will read: "In honor of the men of Portsmouth who gave their services, on the land and on the sea, in the war which preserved the union of the states, this monument is erected by grateful citizens," 1888. On the shaft above on the same side there is to be a medallion of Governor Goodwin.

Back side, fronting State street, the word Antietam on the base, national coat of arms above it in bas relief, and cannon balls. On a tablet above is to be a list of battles in which Portsmouth men figured more prominently, while on the shaft above is to be a medallion of Lincoln.

West side, the word Fredericksburg will appear on the base, above it a stack of arms in bas relief, above a life-size statue of an infantry man entirely apart from the monument itself, above this there is to be a cannon mounted, and on the shaft over all, crossed swords.

East side, on the base is to appear the word Kearsarge, above it a capstan in bas relief, a life-size statue of a sailor, on the space above there is to be a representation of the old ship Kearsarge, while on the shaft there is to be a G. A. R. badge.

The post-office clerks do not object to mucilage as a regular staple article of diet, but are unwilling to subsist on it to any great extent during the Christmas holidays, so they have stuck notices in the office, "Please affix your own stamps."

Mr. John Laighton, the Market square grocer, has for sale, besides almost everything nice which can be thought of in his line to aid in getting up an appetizing Christmas dinner, a number of very pretty wreaths of wintergreen, made at Brentwood and sent to him to be sold for the benefit of the Cottage Hospital. Buy one, when you are purchasing things good for the inner man.

Mr. William B. Duncan of Kennebunkport, Me., died in that town on the 17th inst. at the age of twenty-four years. He was a brother of Capt. Duncan of the steamer James Sampson, and was formerly an employe of the Times, in which position he won the respect and good will of his employers and companions.

An electric light has been put on the eastern tower of the Portsmouth Machine shop, near the top, and illumnates a considerable extent of territory that has hitherto been poorly lighted or not lighted at all.

The Dover Democrat of the 20th inst. says: "Mr. Sanderson of Portsmouth was in town last night, and informs us that Portsmouth is soon to have a new daily paper."

Sarah Jones, a colored woman, was run over at the Cambridge street crossing in Boston on the 20th inst. by a Boston & Maine railroad train, and had both legs cut off. She was taken to a hospital, where she died.

In the house, on the 19th inst., Congressman Dibble of South Carolina offered a resolution, which was adopted, referring to the committee on appropriations the report of the court of claims on the French spoliations claims, with instructions that the committee report all the claims decided favorably to the claimants in a general deficiency bill.

The will of the late John Pickett of Beverly, Mass., has been admitted to probate. Various bequests, varying in amount from $100 to $5000, are left to connections and friends of the family; between $2000 and $3000 is bequeathed to charitable institutions and purposes; and the residue is to be equally divided between Horace W. Woodbury and Mrs. Susie E. Trask.

A hearing was had before Judge Doe in Dover on the 20th inst., on an application for an injunction to prevent the city expending more than $275,000 on the proposed new water works. After hearing all that anybody had to say, Judge Doe dismissed the whole business.

MARITIME NOTES.

The tugboats L. A. Belknap and C. A. Warren, and the United States revenue steamers Dallas and Woodbury, on the 20th inst. made an unsuccessful attempt to haul the schooner Eva May off the beach at Old Orchard. The schooner was thrown so far up the beach when she went ashore that she was high and dry at low tide, and bedded herself well in the sand. So far as could be ascertained she did not start a plank or a timber.

The schooner G. P. Whitman, from Prince Edward island, with about 4,000 bushels of potatoes on board, arrived at this port on Wednesday.

The brick trade by water between this port and Boston was finally wound up for this season on Tuesday of this week, the Estella, the last schooner to give it up, arriving from Boston that day.

The lighthouse tender Iris was in this harbor on Wednesday, the 21st inst., looking after the buoys.

RAILROAD ITEMS

The annual meeting of the Maine Central railroad stockholders was held in Portland on the 21st inst., and the old board of directors unanimously re-elected, 28,846 shares being voted on.

There was no "Foul Play" at Music hall on Wednesday evening — company probably gone to Florida to settle on the give-away land.

P. S. A despatch says the company busted in Exeter, and the wimmen are hoofing it to Boston on the railroad track.

J. E. Sampson, a travelling salesman, was taken from Rochester, this state, to Boston, on the 20th inst., on a charge of embezzling from his employer, Mr. Charles C. Harvey of that city.

Mr. Conn has received his usual supply of Vermont stall-fed turkeys and geese. Call early.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace in day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some eczematous affection, such as milk crust, scall head, scurvy, or tetter, which develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which makes life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and lead to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence a mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and is thinking upon them a child's greatest inheritance,—skin without a blemish, and a body nourished and strengthened by good blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the sound voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system, taxing every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impudently defied by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is from them that the proper treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The not and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief to all head colds, sneezing, snuffling and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and ultimately curing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards throat, lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1.

How a Dying Child Was Saved!

CICERO, HAMILTON CO., IND., Sept. 19, 1887.—The following is a true account of what your S. S. S. has done for our little daughter, Hazel, now four years old. When 12 months old a lump appeared on her heel, which slowly grew larger. The family physician thought it was caused by a piece of broken glass or needle, but failed to bring anything to light. The child became feebler all the time, seeming to lose the use of her leg, and finally quit walking entirely. The middle finger and thumb of either hand became enlarged, the flesh becoming hard. The hip joints became involved, so that when seventeen months old she could not stand, having lost the use of leg and arm. Partial curvature of the spine also followed. The nervous system was wrecked, muscles contracted, and there was general wasting of flesh and muscle. At eighteen months of age she was placed under the treatment of a prominent physician of Boston, Mass., but at the end of ten months she had declined to such a degree that she was in a dying condition. This was in April, 1886. We took the child away not knowing what to do. In this dreadful dilemma we were over-persuaded by friends to try "one bottle" of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC, which we did, and before it had all been taken we saw a change for the better in her symptoms. We kept it up, and have done so to this day, and will keep it up, if the Lord wills, for many days to come, for it has brought our dying Hazel to life, to vigor, to strength and health again. The sallow hue of her cheeks has changed to a rosy tint. She is able to walk anywhere, her languor and melancholy have passed away, and she is now a blithe, cheerful, happy romping child. Should you wish to increase your testimonials of proof of the virtue of S. S. S., our names and what we have said is but a portion of what we owe to you, should you wish to use them.

Kindly yours,
BEN. F. SWIFT.

The Sharpshooter's Last Shot.

Once during the war, a skirmish line, composed mainly of the Forty-eighth Illinois, was thrown out in advance of our army, near Jackson, Miss., confronting Gen. Joseph Johnston. The men had constructed a few temporary shelters by standing rails upright, leaning against each other, the tops being bound together. Behind one of these little fortresses, though in a rather exposed position, Capt. F. D. Stephenson, of the Forty-eighth, was sitting on a turned up bucket, taking his morning coffee. As he threw back his head in drinking, a whiz was heard, and a ball sped by within an inch of his face, directly across the eyes, taking effect in a little dogwood tree beside him. The captain rose quietly, and, taking a ramrod, stuck it in the ground so that its top would be in the space lately occupied by his nose; he then went behind the tree and sighted from the bullet hole over the top of the rod, thus ascertaining the direction taken by the ball in its flight. Directly in this line rose the top of a large oak, with great sheets and streamers of southern moss hanging dependent from its boughs.

"Boys," said Stephenson, evenly, "our man is among the branches of that tree yonder. Now," taking a soldier's cap and placing it on the end of a knotted stick, "you all load up, and lay low. When I shove this hat into view he will fire again. There's your chance, let drive." When all was ready, he slowly elevated the cap until just in sight from the tree. A puff of white smoke burst from its leaves, and the cap turned round on its stick support, letting the daylight through a large jagged hole in its crown. A moment later, six Springfield rifles spoke from the rail pile, and a man dropped from the oak tree, clutching wildly at moss and branches as he fell. His last shot was fired.—The Argonaut.

Handling Baggage in Europe.

The system of handling baggage on the continent is even more antiquated and bungling than the English system. You cannot send your baggage on ahead of you without risk of losing it. If you wish to stop off at any particular place, you must have your baggage registered for that place. This registering of baggage would not be tolerated for one moment by an American public. You are obliged to follow the porters, who pick out your baggage for you and carry it into a registration room. There you stand in line while it is weighed and an inspector leisurely fills out four elaborate blanks. Two of these blanks are kept in the office, one is pasted upon the trunk and the fourth one is given to you.

I timed the registering of two little pieces of baggage the other day at Roosendaal and found that it took me exactly fifteen minutes from the time I left the train until I had obtained the little slip of paper which would entitle me to my baggage at my next stopping place. The railway companies in no case pay for the handling of your baggage. You have to attend to this yourself, and pay the porters for carrying it to the stations, to the train in the first place, and to and from the registration office when necessary. In addition to these delays you have upon every frontier the custom house inspection, which takes even longer than the registration. But you are never hurried, plenty of time is always given, and so you do not feel very much annoyed, in spite of the bother you have.—T. C. Crawford in New York World.

This economical condition of affairs is working a social revolution. We see traces of this revolution everywhere. The titled landowners who used to be a petty king in his district and maintained a petty court at his great mansion, and who was the leader of society in his county, is no longer at the head of affairs. He has given place to the large employer of labor or leading clergyman or barrister; and since the agricultural laborers have now the vote, even the Duke of Westminster's son is defeated by a salt manufacturer in a contest for election to parliament; and the Duke of Sutherland's son is pushed from the contest by a small farmer, although the duke owns the entire county.

Aristocracy, in Britain especially, was always founded on wealth. It was because my lord was the owner of broad acres and the richest man in the district that he was honored. A poor aristocracy is ridiculous even on the continent, but in England it would be considered absurd in the extreme. Poverty in England is not a crime, but the punishment it entails is even more severe. That the land owning class in England is to be made poor is highly probable, but although this may bear hard upon one class it will be for the benefit of the majority, because cheap land means cheap food for the people, and upon cheap food depends the manufacturing and commercial supremacy of Britain. The masses of the people of Britain were never as well off as they are at present.—Andrew Carnegie in New York Mail and Express.

Eat More Oil.

Mr. John Chamberlain has been telling the New Yorkers that in order to avoid dyspepsia they ought to ear more oil. He claims that after a hearty dinner of roasts and side dishes a salad dressed with pure olive oil is a positive necessity to aid digestion. He declares that English people and Americans have grown up with an aversion to salads made with oil because they were French, and the French meaning an embodiment of popery and other abominations to the Puritan ancestors, they have inherited these prejudices to a large extent even in the cookery. Mr. Chamberlain even goes so far as to say that the early Puritans were aware that oil in their salads was a preventive of dyspepsia, but were never so happy as when they were uncomfortable and thinking to gain heaven by experiencing the tortures of the bottomless pit here, they concluded that dyspepsia was about the best recipe for the purpose.—Chicago Journal.

And we have earned the reputation, not solely on account of the small payments at time of purchase, (which are one-quarter of the amount down and the monthly payments thereafter of $5, for a purchase of $50 or less, and $10 for a purchase of $100 or less,) but our prices are below those of any other dealer in the Country, notwithstanding we will deliver all goods to any station in New England free of charge.

WE DO NOT OWN THE RAILROADS!

As some might suppose, but we ship an immense quantity of goods, which is true, we think, and in this we are enabled to successfully compete with the small dealer, and what we save in this way goes into the pockets of our customers.

WE HAVE

Four Branch Stores

That are continually drawing from our Main Store at Portland, necessitating an immense stock and a greater variety of goods than is shown by any other House in the Country. It will be seen, by giving the matter a little thought, that we are compelled to not only have on hand a very large line, but the ever moving volume must necessarily allow of nothing but the newest goods upon our floors, and we are continually buying from every Manufacturing State in the Country. The quantities bought by us would astonish even wholesale buyers. Without question, we have under our control,

More Rolls of Carpeting than all the other Stores in the State of Maine

Combined. We have recently given our order for 1000 rolls of matting to be delivered in the early spring. Is it not reasonable to suppose that we can buy 1000 rolls at a less cost than it would be possible were our purchase but 10 or 15 rolls, the usual purchase?

Since the recent imprisonment for life of Mrs. Martha Crockett of Swanville, Me., for the alleged murder of her husband, rumors have been afloat that she is innocent. It is said that a neighbor sprinkled Paris green on some apples, with the intention of making a thief ill. After some time he disposed of the apples, without carefully removing the poison. An animal that was fed with them died, and it is said that some of them, fried, caused the death of Mr. Crockett. It is alleged that the man who used the Paris green said that Mrs. Crockett was innocent, but he had not the courage to tell the whole truth.

'Tis An Ill Wind

That brings with it gusts of rain from the north-east. When the winds blow from that quarter on a wet day, the rheumatic are apt to suffer, even if seated by their "ain comfortable ingle" in a cosy arm chair. A few wineglassfuls of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—most genial and comforting of specifics—will afford them unspeakable relief. There is ample proof on record of its efficacy in this disease—more particularly if used for its relief at the outset. Chills and fever, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, and a lack of tone in the kidneys and bladder, should also be treated with this useful family medicine of botanic origin. Appetite improves, refreshing slumber once more visits the weary eyelids of the nervous, and circulation is enriched and accelerated in consequence of its invigorating and regulating action. Use it as as a protector after getting wet.

The Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston has adopted a plan for the celebration of the 250th anniversary in June, which embraces two weeks of entertainment.

Springfield, Mass., April 15.—I have been sick with pleurisy and pneumonia. It left me with a very hard, hacking cough. All the physicians and medicine did me no good. A friend advised me to try Adamson's Cough Balsam, one bottle of which did me more good than all the doctors and medicines I have tried, and I shall recommend it far and near. Mary A. Brockwell.

MUSICAL GIFTS

OF NEW BOOKS.

A Birthday Book of Musicians and Composers ($1.25) by GERTRUDE H. CHURCHILL. Cleveland and Free Trade.

Foster's Democrat, a paper as noted for its independence in its warning notes to the democratic leaders as well as for its ability in copying the views of the Mobile Register upon the tariff question, says:

We transfer to our columns this morning the views of the Mobile Register, one of the oldest and strongest democratic journals in the country, upon the ideas of Mr. Cleveland's recent message.

Along with many other thinkers of the south, the Register recognizes the force of the changes which have been evolved in that part of the country through the development of new industrial interests; and accordingly, it opposes the policy of Mr. Cleveland with reasons that any hard-shell protectionist might be willing to adopt.

This expression of so important a southern journal will be received by the public with universal satisfaction.

Foster is by no means alone in his position in regard to Mr. Cleveland's faux pas on the tariff question. In the Solid South, where manufactures are beginning to be established, the democracy give unmistakable tokens of disapproval of the free trade notions which Mr. Cleveland has been persuaded to utter, and which the party managers now promise he shall recant ere long. The candidate has a hard time between the two sections of his party.

We do not hear so much about the president being greater than his party as we did early in the administration. As the nominating convention approaches, it is the party which is atop.

Phillips Exeter Academy.

The fall term of the Phillips Exeter academy closed Dec. 20th after one of the most prosperous sessions of this renowned school. During the past few years this academy has kept apace with the times, and the present year finds it in a flourishing condition. The term just finished opened with 330 students, a larger number than ever before in the history of the school. Thirty-four states and territories were represented, besides several foreign countries. The faculty has been increased, and now has a membership of ten. The present building is too small, and a new laboratory is to be built, which also will furnish several recitation rooms. The academy has just received about $100,000 bequeathed it by the late Francis C. Parker of Boston.

Singular Disaster.

At Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 21st, 14,000 gallons of naphtha pumped into a pipe line for transfer to another part of the city escaped through a leak in the pipe, into a sewer. The gas from the naphtha took fire, blowing out manhole covers and tearing up the streets for three-quarters of a mile, causing four or more deaths and injuring at least twenty persons. The Poole flour mill was blown to pieces at the first explosion, and the Washington and Clinton mills were destroyed by fire, the loss on these buildings and their contents being $225,000. Great damage was done to the sewers and streets by the explosion, which continued at short intervals for three hours.

Medical Inspector A. Hudson is ordered to the Trenton.

Medical Inspector N. L. Bates is detached from the Trenton, and placed on waiting orders.

NOT ENDED YET.

The case of Nelson W. Green, the driven well patentee, against the city of Lynn, came up Dec. 20th before Judge Colt in the United States Circuit court at Boston on motions for an interpretation of the United States supreme court decision voiding the driven well patent, and for permission to introduce new evidence. The present suit is brought under two patents, and it is admitted that the supreme court decision ends this case as far as the first patent is involved. Judge Colt reserved his decision regarding the status of the case under the second patent, and upon the question of admitting new evidence. It is not contended that there can be any claim under the first Green patent, for a driven well; this frees from further annoyance the farmers and others who have one or more of such wells on their premises. But the claim against Lynn is for using a number of such wells, so connected that water can be drawn from them all by a single pump, this contrivance being the ground of the second Green patent.

The steamer San Vincente was burned off the California coast Dec. 20th, and of the nineteen men on board twelve lost their lives.

Weeping Water, Neb., has been nearly wiped out by fire.

The "Foul Play" company which did not play "Condemned to Death" in Music hall on the evening of the 21st inst., on account of its own death having occurred previous to that date, had a singular experience in Newburyport before expiring. The company's bill at the Brown Square hotel was $25, and the manager gave the landlord in payment a water bond which he said was worth $200; on the strength of this the landlord became responsible for the hall rent, and has since discovered that the water bond is valueless. An exchange points out that the company advertised to give "one lot of land to the purchaser of every reserved seat," and as it was not likely that any one person would purchase "every reserved seat," no land could be called for under the terms. The company's advance agent had sheets of press notices given to another company last year. A tough crowd, apparently.

Says the London Morning Post: "For years past the whole orthodox school of free traders have been denouncing the blindness of America. Sometimes the accent was that of reproach, sometimes of pathetic regret, sometimes of scornful jeer; but America meanwhile paid off the national debt and built up manufacturing industries which for the excellence of their goods are renowned throughout the world."

Until your hair becomes dry, thin, and gray before giving the attention needed to preserve its beauty and vitality. Keep on your toilet-table a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor—the only dressing you require for the hair—and use a little, daily, to preserve the natural color and prevent baldness.

Thomas Munday, Sharon Grove, Ky., writes: "Several months ago my hair commenced falling out, and in a few weeks my head was almost bald. I tried many remedies, but they did no good. I finally bought a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, after using only a part of the contents, my head was covered with a heavy growth of hair. I recommend your preparation as the best hair-restorer in the world."

The sermon in the morning will be, "Art thou the Christ, or do we look for another?" In the evening, "The Star."

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES---COLT J.

In case Frieburg & Workum vs. Daniel A. Prescott, replevin for certain liquors attached by Prescott in April, 1879, as the property of John Sweeney of Manchester. The case was tried at the October term, 1886, when the jury returned a verdict for the defendant, giving him $543.35 damages. Plaintiff's counsel subsequently filed a motion to set aside the verdict and for a new trial on the ground of exceptions to the instructions to the jury. This motion the court now overrules. H. S. Clark for pltf.; Wm. M. Chase for deft

INFORMATION SOUGHT FOR.

Mr. Editor: Your Spruce creek (Kittery) correspondent in one of your late issues furnished the data and some valuable information of vessels built at this creek near the beginning of the present century, when it was a ship or vessel building locality, and I wish to make inquiry of a certain vessel, which was on the stocks, and not planked, about the years 1827, '28 or '29, or perhaps later. It could be seen from the main highway, partially obstructed by a two-storied hip-roofed dwelling house a few rods south or southwest from Litchfield's gristmills, which stood on the south side of the road; the house standing on a knoll in from the road. The mills and house have disappeared long ago. The writer of this would be made very happy for the information, in order to complete a hiatus existing in a historical record; the name (if any,) date of construction, builder, owners, why she remained on the stocks till her ribs and timbers became black from the effects of the weather, and if she was ever launched, or was broken up? and any other facts concerning her. M. T. M.

GOVERNMENT HOLIDAYS.

Christmas and New Year's day coming on Sunday this season, the secretary of the treasury has issued an order that all the custom houses throughout the country be closed on Monday the 26th of December, and Monday the 2d of January. A similar order has been issued by the secretary of the navy with regard to the navy yards and naval stations; and the postmaster-general orders that all post-offices be closed on the dates specified, except that they shall be kept open the usual hours for government holidays. A general law that when a holiday occurs on Sunday the following day shall be observed, would seem to be a proper rule.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Mary A. Lyons of Highlandville, Mass., formerly of this city, is visiting her friend, Mrs. Emery, in Eliot.

Hon. John W. Sanborn of Wakefield is reported to be slowly but steadily improving in health.

Mr. Samuel Sides of this city has been appointed turnkey at the state prison, by Warden Kent.

Mrs. John Hodgdon, of Deer street, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Wyman E. Brown, at Dover.

Farmers in this city on the 22d from the neighboring towns reported the sleighing as good everywhere.

The almanac seems to have hit it about right as to the commencement of winter on the 21st inst. Thursday was blustering and uncomfortable enough, during the afternoon, and more snow fell.

The quantity of poultry, mostly turkeys and geese, brought into the city for the Christmas season, is very large. Very handsome turkeys were selling on Thursday at twenty cents a pound.

The number of country teams in the city on the 22d inst. was very large, the good sleighing and the proximity of Christmas accounting for the unusual influx on a Thursday. The stores were crowded with buyers all through the day and evening, the busy and willing attendants having all they could do, and more, to attend to the throngs of customers.

The funeral services of Mrs. Catherine M. Hatch of Rochester were held at her late residence on the 20th inst., her death having occurred on the 18th. Mrs. Hatch, who had reached the advanced age of seventy-nine years, was a native of Pittston, Me.; she was long a resident of this city, but for many years past has lived in Rochester. She leaves seven daughters, namely: Mrs. J. S. Bennett, Mrs. L. H. Huntress and Mrs. J. C. Tilton of this city, Mrs. T. M. Stevens and Mrs. Mary Moers of Boston, and Miss Lizzie Hatch and Miss Sarah E. Hatch of Rochester, with whom she resided during the latter part of he life.

At a meeting of Storer Post, G. A. R., on Wednesday evening of this week, Comrade M. M. Collis having declined an election as commander of the post for the ensuing year, Comrade Daniel J. Vaughan was placed in nomination to fill the vacancy by Comrade George E. Hodgdon, and was elected with a rush. Col. Vaughan was a charter member of old Storer Post, which was organized Nov. 8th, 1867, and just twenty years ago Wednesday night was elected its commander, filling the position two years. He was elected commander of the Department of New Hampshire in 1868, and has represented the department in the National Encampment; and he has always been zealous in the interests of the organization, and in endeavoring to carry out its principles and aims.

Lewis E. Staples is showing a full line of Stamped Linen goods, in Tidies, Splashers, Table Scarfs, etc., at low prices.

During the week ending Dec. 16th the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York paid death claims amounting to $157,407.22; endowments, $4,865.10.

RAILROAD ITEMS

Five writs of attachment were filed in the Essex county, Mass., courts, Dec. 20th, on the property of the Boston & Maine railroad. There of them were on account of the French people killed and injured at Bell's crossing, Beverly, on Labor day.

Judge Devens of Massachusetts on the 22d inst. issued an order restraining certain persons declared elected directors of the Eastern railroad at the late stockholders' meeting, from organizing as a board until after the court has passed upon the legality of the election. The directors were to have organized on the 22d, and five of them whose election is undisputed, did so.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner King Philip, Coombs master, with 1848 tons of coal, and the Erastus Wiman, Bennett master, with 942 tons, arrived at this port on the 22d inst. from Baltimore, both to J. Albert Walker.

The schooner Jonathan Sawyer, Reynolds master, one of the Dover Navigation Co.'s vessels, was below at Boston on the 21st inst., with loss of mainsail.

It was reported in Boston on Thursday that the big timber raft was being towed to Boston by a Leyland line steamer.

That marine white elephant, the steamship Great Eastern, has been sold to a firm of metal dealers in London for £16,100, and will be broken up for old metal. She has well nigh ruined many different owners since she was first put in the water.

A yong lady by the name of Whittle, of Portsmouth, while driving a team across the Dover point bridge this forenoon was thrown from the carriage by the horse being frightened by the cars, which were crossing the bridge at the time. The gate tender on the bridge caught the horse, and went to the young lady's assistance. It was found that she had been considerably shaken up, and her left arm badly bruised. A young man at the point was hired to drive her team back to Portsmouth. The team was but little injured, only one tug being broken.—Dover Democrat.

John W. F. Hobbs of North Hampton is building a handsome cottage on his land near Rye beach.

Many loads of hay came into town Thursday, on runners.

To find a great assortment of watches, chains, rings, pins, pencils, gold pens, and novelties of all kinds in gold and silver goods, go to Hutchinson, Market square. His stock is the largest in the city.

The Manchester Union of the 22d inst., in its Portsmouth correspondence, remarked that "The highly amusing and truly sensational drama, Condemned to Death, was thoroughly enjoyed and fully appreciated by an auditorium of critical elite." That auditorium must have been highly amused somewhere else than at Music hall, which was not opened at all on the evening of the 21st, the date advertised for the presentation of the truly sensational drama named.

Leavitt's Farmer's Almanac for 1888, published by Edson C. Eastman of Concord, can now be procured at the bookstores and news depots. The calculations are "according to clock time," which we suppose is "standard" time. The work as usual contains much interesting and useful matter aside from the astronomical calculations.

THOUGHTFUL SANTA CLAUS.

"I've traveled through the sleet and snow,
Across the country high and low.
To fill the stockings small and great
That here in line my coming wait.
In creeping baby's tiny hose
The india rubber rattle goes;
A handsome doll, with staring eyes,
Will much the little miss surprise;
And what will more delight the boys
Than musket, drum or bugle toys?
And now, before I climb the flue,
I'll bear in mind the mother true,
Who works so hard by day and night
To keep the clothing clean and white,
And in her stocking, long and wide,
Some cakes of IVORY SOAP I'll hide."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

Florence Silk Mittens.

This engraving shows the latest style of these goods. It is published as a protection for those ladies who wish to obtain mittens well-made from genuine Florence Knitting Silk.

Whatever the design, all real Florence Silk Mittens are sold one pair in a box, bearing the brand "Florence" on one end.

The pattern shown here is lined in back and wrist throughout with silk. They are perfect fitting and in cold climates are far more comfortable than any glove, and more durable and quite as elegant and fashionable as the best of gloves.

Sold by all enterprising dealers, who can be supplied at our agency, No. 18 Summer Street, Boston. Our latest book on knitting (1887 edition) contains over 100 valuable illustrated Rules, including full instructions for this mitten. Mailed to any address on receipt of six cents in stamps.

Bread and Butter in Mexico.

Wheat bread is only used here by people above the grade of the peon class, but in the large cities and towns the peculiar double ended loaf of hard baked wheaten flour bread is much eaten. Here in the City of Mexico a great Spanish baker controls a large part of the bread trade. No one bakes bread at home, but it is universally bought at the bake shops. There are several grades, and the best is really excellent. The Mexican wheat is of the finest quality, and thought by experts to be superior to the finest California or Minnesota wheat. It is a curious fact that butter is not in general use in this country. Somehow people manage to get along without it, and one good reason is that there is no really fine grade butter to be had. I have found the Danish butter in tins to be good, especially when carefully worked over in cold water. American canned butter sent here is rancid stuff. Denmark gets the Mexican trade by reason of producing a good, sound article.—City of Mexico Cor. Boston Herald.

A New Illuminant.

"Portable sunlight" is the name given to a new illuminant, of which a public test has just been made in Glasgow by Luther & Rose, the patentees. It is obtained by the evaporation of creosote, tar or other hydrocarbon oils, and it produces an intense white flame up to 3,000 candle power, at a cost of about two cents per hour per 1,000 candles. The apparatus consists of a steel cylinder for the oil, tested up to a pressure of 200 pounds to the square inch, surrounded by a cast iron jacket to prevent condensation, and the vapor is raised by the slow combustion of a coke fire placed underneath. From the cylinder the vapor is carried through a tube to the combustion box on the top, into which air is introduced in the proportion necessary for proper combustion, with the result that a dazzling light is produced.—Public Opinion.

The Japanese Skin.

The Japanese skin, like the Creole skin, is cool and dry to the touch in hot weather, and except for the jinrickisha coolies, whose hard running keeps them drenched with perspiration, they never seem to feel the heat of summer. Their dispensing with clothes seems to be altogether a matter of taste and convenience, independent of the season, as in frosty weather coolies are quite as scantily clad while at work, and always seem quite indifferent to the weather. The babies, whose little shaved heads bob around helplessly in the blaze of a midsummer sun that would overcome an Irish hod carrier, bob those same little bare skulls in the frostiest winter mornings without coverings.—Nikko Cor. Globe-Democrat.

A Providence man astonished his friends one day by saying that he was considerably interested in flowers, and intended that day to plant some "Christian anthems."—The Argonaut.

An African tribe is governed by a ruler who has no tongue. He is not only the king, but the king dumb.

Owing to the riotous outbreaks among the students of the universaties at Kieff and Kasan, Russia, those institutions have been closed.

The society for the prevention of cruelty to animals are going to take a long summer's holiday. Since the introduction of Salvation Oil they've almost nothing to do now but to rub occasionally.

The Boston police are looking for a confidence man who plucked Edward Pigeon, a wealthy merchant of Windsor, Fla., to the tune of six or seven hundred dollars, and swindled a working man out of $35.

The Commander-in-Chief

Of the Grand Army of the Republic, Major George S. Merrill. Few remedies are better known in this vicinity than Sulphur Bitters; their sale has been very general throughout this section, and the number of reliable and well attested cases of beneficial results and recovery ab their use, is large and beyond dispute.

Congressman Mills tells the president that no revenue scheme that does not reduce internal taxes can be passed through Congress.

Scrofulous humors, erysipelas, canker and catarrh, can be cured by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "I have used this medicine in my family, for scrofula, and know, if it is taken persistently, it will eradicate this terrible disease."—W. F. Fowler, M. D., Greenville, Tenn.

A Dublin, Ireland, despatch says: Editor Hooper, following Mr. O'Brien's example, refuses to wear the prison clothes, and remains in bed day and night.

Do not despair of curing your sick headache when you can so easily obtain Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will effect a prompt and permanent cure. Their action is mild and natural.

It is said that during his recent visit to San Remo, the duke of Edinburgh expressed the opinion that a European war is almost unavoidable, and as likely to break out at no distant date.

Constipation is positively cured by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Not by purging and weakening the bowels, but by regulating and strengthening them. This is done by improving the digestion and stimulating the liver to the proper secretion of bile, when the bowels will perform their customary functions in an easy and natural manner. Purgative pills must be avoided. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Price 25 cents.

In consequence of the frequency of disastrous fires among cargoes of American cotton, a committee of London and Liverpool underwriters has been formed to make an investigation.

My mother was troubled for twenty years with a dry, hacking cough, and was completely cured by the use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. She is now seventy-five years old, and well. C. H. Dexter, 55 Winchester street, Boston.

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

The edition for 1888 of the sterling medical annual, known as Hostetter's almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of United States, Mexico, and indeed in every civilized portion of the western hemisphere. This almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for over one-fourth of a century. It combines, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items, etc., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1888 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Co., Pittsburg, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

CHRISTMAS SONG.

BY GEORGE COOPER.

Oh, bells that chime your sweetest!
Oh, world of glistening white!
Oh, breezes blithely bringing
A message of delight!
From leafless hill and valley
But one refrain I hear:
"A merry, merry Christmas
And a glad New Year!"

From humble home and palace
The kindly voice is breathed;
From forest arch and pillar,
And meadows snowy wreathed,
An echo from the angels,
A pean of good cheer,
Hark! "Merry, merry Christmas
And a glad New Year!"

Oh, light of heavenly gladness
That falls upon the earth!
Oh, rapture of thanks-giving
That tells the Saviour's birth!
The golden links of kindness
Bring heart to heart more near,
With "a merry, merry Christmas
And a glad New Year.

Mrs. Barstow's Christmas Dinner.

BY FLORENCE B. HALLOWELL.

"There goes Will Barstow down the road in his new cutter," said Amanda Wilkins, pausing in her ironing to look from the kitchen window; "and I declare, if that ain't Lucy Wallace with him! I wonder how Sarah Adams would like that."

"Like as not she knows it," said Mrs. Wilkins. "Will wouldn't think nothin' o' drivin' right past her house. She ain't one o' the jealous kind, you know."

"But he's been goin' 'round consider'ble with Lucy Wallace lately. He had her down to prayer meeting last night; an he walked home with her Sunday from church for all Sarah was there. One thing's certain—Lucy's pretty 'n' Sarah ain't."

"But Sarah's worth ten o' her. Will Barstow couldn't find her match nowhere in this county if he looked from dawn to dark. I'll allow Lucy's pretty, 'n' knows how to fling round those yellow curls o' hers; but she is auful silly."

"And the worst temper!" said Amanda. "My! she knows how to make things fly when she gets mad! But she takes pains not to get mad at Will Barstow. She's always been crazy after him, 'n' never seemed to take 'count o' his 'bein' engaged to Sarah. Well, she won't have much more chance to run round with him, 'n' I guess she's makin' the most o' her time. But I'd just like to know what they're out for now."

Her curiosity was satisfied two hours later when her father came in from a trip to Perryville, a very grave look on his face.

"That wild young Barstow's gone off 'n married that silly Wallace girl," he said, as he stamped the snow from his rough boots on the mat by the door. "He ought to be shot for it."

"Married Lucy Wallace!" screamed Amanda. "Oh, father, where did you hear that? How do you know?"

"I met 'em in Perryville comin' away from the minister's as happy as you please, 'n' the young scamp asked me to let his mother know. I said I would; but I took the privilege o' speakin' my mind pretty free to him."

"What did he say?"

"Nothin' much; but he had the grace to look ashamed o' himself. Sarah ought to be glad she's rid o' him. She's a sight too good for a fellow like that."

"But she sets the world by him," said Amanda. "I was over to see her yesterday, 'n' she was showin' me her weddin' dress. She said she got it white 'cause Will liked to see her in white all the time. It'll 'most kill her to know he's married Lucy Wallace."

"But sooner she knows it the better," said the farmer. "I only wish somebody else had to do the tellin'."

He went out, and Amanda and her mother were left to discuss together this startling event, which, as they well knew, would create great excitement in the neighborhood, owing to the prominence of all the parties concerned.

Sarah Adams lived with her mother and aunt in a picturesque little cottage only half a mile from Will Wilkins' farm, and her fertile acres joined those of the widow Barstow. Sarah had managed the little farm ever since the death of her father, and it was through seeking advice on certain vexed questions about subsoiling and drainage from handsome Will Barstow that their engagement came about.

Will began by admiring Sarah for her energy, perseverance, and intelligence, and ended by asking her to marry him, believing himself thoroughly in love with her, and knowing that the match would bring joy to the heart of his mother, whose one fear had been that he would throw himself away on some one unworthy of him.

Then Lucy Wallace had come home from a long visit to a distant relative, and had laid siege to his heart, and though Will had struggled for a time against temptation, Lucy's golden curls, winning smiles, and blue eyes, which filled so easily with tears, had at length carried the day.

But, weak though he was, he was not without a conscience, and even as he stood before the minister, with Lucy's hand in his, Sarah's grave, earnest face seemed to rise up before him to reproach him.

Farmer Wilkins tried to think as he trudged through the crisp snow what form of language he had better use in informing Sarah of her lover's infidelity; but he reached the cottage without having arrived at any conclusion.

Sarah's Aunt Abigail came to the kitchen door in answer to his knock. She was an elderly woman, and not positively ill-looking in any marked degree, although the restless, furtive glances of her cold, sharp, watery-blue eyes, and a certain nervous twitching about her thin lips, were sufficient to stamp her as ill-natured and suspicious. She was a common pattern to be found everywhere—tall and angular, high-shouldered, hollow-chested, thin, and stooped.

"Ye're quite a stranger, Mr. Wilkins," she said, as she put forward a chair, and motioned to him to be seated. "I don't know when 'twas I seen ye last."

"I don't get much time for visitin'," returned the farmer. "Sarah in?"

"Yes: she's up stairs workin' on her weddin' clo'es. She drives her needle pretty steady now, Christmas is gettin' so close. Me an' her ma wish 'twas further off. Dear only knows what we goin' ter do 'bout Sarah. Want ter see her?"

"Yes; if it's so I can."

"Oh, she'll take time ter come down. I'll go call her."

Farmer Wilkins heard her go up the stairs, and a moment later Sarah came running down, her sewing in her hand.

She was a plain, quiet-looking girl of about twenty-five years of age, with a small, staid figure, dark hair, a sensitive mouth, and wistful, brown eyes. She wore a dark-blue merino dress, covered in front by a large white muslin apron, and at her throat was a silver arrow Will had given her on her last birthday.

"Aunt Abigail said you asked to see me, Mr. Wilkins," she said in a clear, pleasant voice. "I hope that colt of mine has not been breaking into your farm-yard again?"

"No, Sarah; it ain't the colt. You see—I—you see—"

Something in the tone of his voice startled her, and a look of anxiety flashed into her face. Womanlike, her mind reverted at once to her love.

"Has anything happened to Will?" She asked, quickly.

"Yes, its about Will; but Sarah, I don't know how to tell ye—but—you see—he's gone off'n married that Wallace girl—this mornin'—in Perryville."

She gazed at him a moment as if she did not understand him, and then, as the terrible meaning of his words gradually revealed itself to her mind, her face paled, flushed, and grew pale again; her wild dilating eyes fixed their full gaze upon his, and the hand that held the work fell slowly to her side.

"He aint wuth grievin' about, Sarah," said the farmer compassionately. "You was allers too good for him."

She did not answer him; she did not even hear him; she stood still, her wide, stony eyes fixed vacantly on upon him for a moment; then a quick convulsive shudder passed over her, and turning away she walked toward the door of the hall.

"Sarah," said the farmer, deeply moved by her strange silence, "Don't take on now, dos't. He ain't worth it."

But she did not stop. She opened the door, went out, and closed it after her.

"Well, its over, 'n' I'm mighty glad on't," muttered Mr. Wilkins, as he took his hat and left the house. "Mrs. Barstow'll stand it well enough. She'll be as mad as a hornet at first, of course; but she'll come round in a day or two 'n' be as fond as ever of the young scamp—he's all the child she's got. But it is different with Sarah."

Yes, it was different with Sarah. At that moment she was lying on an old lounge in her own room, her brown eyes wide open and staring at the ceiling, her hands still holding the sewing she had forgot to put down. There she lay, trying to realize the terrible fact that her lover was false to her, that she must put him out of her heart and mind entirely, and that the white, soft, wedding dress she had thought to wear on Christmas day must be laid away forever.

She was so much absorbed that she did not hear the door open, and started when her mother's voice fell upon her ear.

"So Will Barstow's gone off 'n' married that Wallace girl," said Mrs. Adams, who had heard the news from her sister; for Miss Abigail had listened at the door of the back staircase during the conversation between Mr. Wilkins and Sarah. "No more'n what I expected. I could a' told you in the first place how it'd end, but I knew it was no use, you were so taken up with him. What are you going to do about it?"

Sarah rose from the old lounge, and, taking a brush from the bureau, began to smooth her ruffled hair.

"There is nothing to do," she said, in a low, even voice. "I will pack away my clothes now, I think. And there is no use in talking about it, mother."

She put down the brush, went into the adjoining room, and began to fold the wedding dress, which lay on the bed. An hour later and everything she had bought for her simple trousseau was packed away in a big chest in the upper hall.

* * * * * * *

"Well, did you see her?" asked Amanda Wilkins, eagerly, when her father came in at dusk.

"Mrs. Barstow?"

"No, Sarah Adams."

"Yes, I saw her," answered the farmer incoherently.

"Well, what did she say?"

"She didn't say nothin' at all. She just looked at me a minute kinder steady, an' then went up stairs."

"If that ain't Sarah Adams all over?" exclaimed Mrs. Wilkins. "She ought to have the law on Will Barstow; but of course she won't—she's one o' the quiet kind that never makes no fuss no matter how they're treated."

"She won't find it easy to meet Will, though," said Amanda.

"Oh, like as not she'll go off for a spell down to Jonesboro' to stay with her Aunt Jane. They've been teazin' her to come for dear only knows how long, 'n I guess she'll take up with their invitation now."

Mrs. Wilkins was right. Two days after Sarah Adams departed for Jonesboro', and seven years passed before she saw her old home again.

* * * * * * *

Seven years! It seemed a long time to Sarah; but she found few changes in her old home. Her mother and aunt had got on very well without her, and had not sent for her until the alarming illness of Miss Abigail made her return necessary. She had come without delay, and had entered at once on her duties as nurse, quiet, efficient, and gentle as in the old days before she had known the bitterness of a great sorrow.

Miss Abigail grew better very rapidly under her niece's care, and Sarah was soon able to leave the sick room and see the old friends who called upon her.

Amanda Wilkins—now Mrs. Ford, the wife of a hardware merchant in Perryville—was one of the first to come, and as she had never been endowed with either tact or sensitiveness, she had no hesitation in alluding to the past.

"I guess you ain't been stayin' away all these years just 'count o' Will Barstow," she said, "you've got better sense 'n' that, I know. I 'lowed every time your mother went to see you that she'd bring back word you was married. Well, I guess you've took a notion to live single, 'n' I don't blame you much, seein' how worthless the most 'o men are. Will, he got o' it, that's sure. He took Lucy over to that farm he owns in Brown county, 'n' I tell you she led him a life! I heard all about it from my cousin, Malvina Simms, who lived next neighbor to 'em. Lucy, she didn't know a thing 'bout housekeepin', 'n' everything was at sixes and sevens; 'n' she lost her health, 'n' her looks, 'n' got to be a reg'lar scold. I always knew she had an auful temper. I guess Will seen the time pretty often he wished he hadn't married her. But she's dead now, 'n' there's no use bringin' up her faults. I s'pose. I guess you know she left two children?"

"Yes; I heard it," said Sarah.

"Will's mother, she wanted 'em; but Will would'nt let 'em go. He said they was all the comfort he had; 'n' he's got an old woman keepin' house for him. He was up to his mother's last spring; an' I tell you he's changed! I guess you wouldn't know him. Folks used to call him wild, but he's steady as old Time now."

Sarah listened, her quiet face a little pale, a sad look in her large brown eyes. Amanda was a gossip, and Sarah had always abhorred gossip; but it seemed to her she could listen forever so long as the gossip was about Will.

For she loved him still. She had never even thought of marrying another. Hers was one of those deep, earnest natures to whom a second love is impossible, and though she had striven to forget that brief love-dream which had ended in such despair and pain, she had not been able to do so. She was glad he lived in another county, for she felt she could not have trusted herself to meet him, even though seven years had passed since she had last looked upon his face.

She was thinking of him after Amanda had gone, and wondering in what way he had changed so much, when Abigail came in, weak still, but with her interest in the petty details of life as keen as ever.

"What you makin', Sarah?" she asked as her niece came out of the pantry with a piece of butter in one hand and some eggs in the other.

"Custard pies. Don't you like 'em?"

"Yes; but you needn't make no fuss 'bout dinner to-morrow. We ain't been keeping Christmas late years—it didn't seem wuth while. Anything'll do for us."

"Very well," said Sarah, her mind reverting to the grand preparations she had hoped to make for Christmas day seven years before. "I'll just mix up a current cake, 'n' have a couple o' pies. We're out o' currants, but I can go into Perryville after 'em. It's so pleasant out I won't mind the walk."

But fate decreed that the currant cake should never be made.

As Sarah, her little basket of groceries on her arm, was hurrying homeward from the village in the dusk of evening, she heard the sound of horses' feet behind her, and turning, saw Mrs. Barstow in a sleigh, driven by her hired man.

"That you, Sarah Adams," said the widow. "I heard you'd come back, 'n' I've been layin' out to call on you, but I've been so crippled up with rheumatism I ain't been able to stir outside the house for six weeks. I oughtn't to be out now; but I'm pestered to death 'bout my Christmas dinner. Will's comin' over with his two children, 'n' I've invited my minister 'n' his daughter; 'n' I'd laid out to have a royal good time. But what does Keziah do but get sick this mornin' 'n' have to go home. Nothin' else would do her. An' now I'm left with nobody to get my dinner. I've been all over Perryville 'n' can't get a soul to come. If it wasn't for my hands bein' all stiff 'n' doubled up I wouldn't need nobody; but its no use for me to even try to touch a thing; an' what under the canopy I'm goin' to do I don't know."

Sarah hesitated a moment, and then, coloring slightly, said slowly: "I'll cook your dinner for you, Mrs. Barstow, if you'll let me."

"Let you! Sarah, you don't mean it?"

"Yes, but only on condition that you promise to tell no one about it, and let no one come into the kitchen."

Mrs. Barstow was ready enough to promise, and drove home with a mind relieved from all anxiety.

"It was real good of her to offer," she thought. Not many girls would 'a' done it, but it's just like Sarah Adams. I wish to goodness Will had married her 'stead of Lucy."

"Keziah certainly knows how to get up a dinner," said Will Barstow, as he cut a custard pie at his mother's table the following day. "She don't lose any of her skill with age. This pie is simply delicious."

"I understood from some one that Keziah was sick and had to go home," said the Rev. Mr. Early, looking up. "Wife told me she heard you were in town yesterday, Mrs. Barstow, looking for some one to take her place."

Mrs. Barstow appeared embarrassed. Will saw, to his surprise, that she colored hotly.

"I found some one," she said briefly.

"Mercy Porter, I guess," said Mrs. Early.

"I was looking out, 'n' saw you stop at her house."

"Mercy lived with mother for a time about twelve years ago," said Will. "I wonder if she's forgotten me? I'll step in 'n' speak to her after dinner. Poor old woman, she used to think a good deal of me in spite of the way I was always teasing her."

"I—I'd rather you wouldn't go into the kitchen, Will," said his mother nervously. "She—she don't want to see you, I know."

Will looked surprised, and made no further remark; but when dinner was over, and every one had gone into the big parlor, he managed to slip out unperceived by his mother, and went around by the garden path to the kitchen door. He pushed it open, entered, and stood face to face with Sarah Adams!

"Sarah!"

"Will!"

It would be useless for me to attempt to tell all that was said between these young people, meeting again after a separation of seven years, or how Sarah, very cold and calm at first, broke down at last, and actually cried; how Will tried to comfort her, and ended by asking her to forgive and forget the past, and try him for a lover once more.

Sufficient be it that when Mrs. Barstow missed her son, and went to the kitchen in a state of great trepidation to look for him, she found him with his arm about Sarah's waist, and such a tender look on his handsome face that she knew at once what had happened.

And the result of Sarah's offer to cook Mrs. Barstow's Christmas dinner was that Will posted off to Perryville and made the county clerk give him a marriage license; and that Sarah went home and dressed herself in that white cashmere wedding dress which had been hidden away so long. It was a little old-fashioned, of course; but she was too happy to care for that.

And an hour later the Reverend Mr. Early united her to Will for better or worse, and Will knew at last the joy of a true marriage.

"Sarah Adams always was one of the forgivin' kind," said Amanda Ford when she heard the news. "An' Will's changed so much, that for all he treated her so mean seven years ago, I guess she won't never repent marryin' him."

And she never did.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and inflammatory. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some cutaneous blemish, such as a skin of dark, scaly head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which make life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence to those who love her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance—a skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fall to make full of the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. In its advanced stages, with the loss of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The foulness it attributes to the breath the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved at this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief in all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER, price, $1.

The Administration Attempting Reform.

The collector of customs at the port of Gloucester has been directed by the treasury department to dismiss an inspector and a boarding officer. It is of no consequence that the numerous vessels arriving at Gloucester from Eastport and the region round about Campobello, with bait, could easily send ashore some choice liquors, which would find ready buyers at prices below that of the Boston importers. This administration is for free trade and economy. All along the coast, the Washington officials say, are to be reductions in the custom houses where small amounts in the way of duties on imports are collected.

Judge Maynard, who knows about our custom house officers and their duties only what he can learn from a Washington perspective, affects to believe that the president favors this move. He contends that it will be popular, and a fit subject for future resolutions in democratic conventions. He stated to a New England gentleman the other day that some of these officers "didn't earn their salt." As to the danger of smuggling goods into the United States, the judge said that the most of this kind of importation was done in New York. The administration is evidently booked for a "reform" in this direction, and we shall probably see ere long all the democratic journals commending this noble sacrifice of its friends on the part of the administration. It is a cheap attempt at making a record when much larger results could be attained in other directions.

May Not Get It.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post writes that "the opposition to Secretary Lamar is growing stubborn and ugly from day to day, and it is by no means certain that he will ever sit on the Supreme bench. Senator Edmunds has hung up the nomination until after the holidays, and it is currently reported that it will remain in committee a long time after the reassembling. The opposition to Lamar is not based upon general grounds altogether or upon his kindly words for Jeff Davis. It is claimed that he has not unlearned the heresies of the secession time, and that he concurred in an opinion, given some time ago by Attorney-General Garland, that the third clause of the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution has not retroactive force; in other words, it does not apply to the persons engaged in the late rebellion. Mr. Lamar's speeches at the time of the Chisholm massacre are not agreeable reading, even to conservative democrats. They say that however inevitable such atrocities may have been there was no occasion to glory in them. There are ugly stories in circulation, too, about Lamar's private life, which have some weight, not that the senate is hypercritical in such matters, but the members think the line should be drawn somewhere. It is said to-night that Lamar will have all the democrats, and, if so, he may get enough republicans to pull through. The republicans, however, will probably make it a party question."

None of the magazines begin the new year with more brilliant prospects than the "Atlantic Monthly," of which the number for January, 1888, has just been issued. The excellent steel portrait of Miss Murfree ("Charles Egbert Craddock,") which forms the frontispiece, will gratify the numerous admirers of this famous writer. The number opens with the first chapter of "Yone Santo: A Child of Japan," the new serial story by Edward H. House. "The Secret" is a charming poem in three stanzas, by Mr. Lowell. Unpublished Letters of Benjamin Franklin throw a new light upon certain of the best aspects of Franklin's characters, as well as upon provincial politics and society. A spirited beginning of "The Despot of Broomsedge Cove," by Charles Egbert Craddock, is made in this number, which has also three more chapters of "The Second Son," the absorbing story by Mrs. Oliphant and Mr. Aldrich. The descriptive articles on Southern California, by Charles Dudley Warner, and on Constantinople, by Theodore Child, are delightful reading. Notable articles on "The History of Children's Books," by C. M. Bewins, on "A Liberal Education," by Edward J. Lowell, a postscript to his charming "One Hundred Days in Europe," by Dr. Holmes, and a short story of farm life entitled "Judson's Remorse," by Lillie Chace Wyman, are included in this number, which also contains a poem of conspicuous excellence by J. T. Trowbridge, entitled "The Lost Earl," and the usual book reviews and Contributors' Club. Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston.

"The Metropolitan," America's low priced literary monthly, now in its third year, has just issued a great gallery picture of noted Americans, comprising statesmen, jurists, divines, authors, inventors and distinguished women. It is a triumph of the art of the photographer and engraver, and an ornament for any household. The size of the picture is 19x24 inches, and the portraits are perfect. Every person sending thirty cents to the Metropolitan, 44 Broadway, New York, will receive the magazine for one year, and a copy of the picture, post-paid.

Receivers have been appointed for the Continental Life Insurance Co. at Hartford. They will probably have to listen to many a "continental d—emand."

Jacob Miller, a real estate dealer of New York, was found in his house dead, and his wife on the floor beside him, dying, on the 23d inst. It is supposed that they were beaten to death by thieves. They were about seventy years old.

It is said that Gen. Banks will continue his duties as United States marshal of Massachusetts for two months or more to come.

Ross and Bubear have signed articles to row on the Thames, Feb. 13th, for $1000 a side and the championship of England.

Advices from Europe indicate that while all the nations are talking peace, they are acting war right along.

Congressman Moffatt of Michigan, republican, died in Washington on the 22d inst. He is the third member of this Congress to die, and several others are dangerously ill.

The reports of intense cold and terrible suffering in the west are said to have been much exaggerated; but few lives were lost, and the amount of suffering was comparatively small.

W. S. Kingsley, of Waverly, Iowa, county attorney, was shot and instantly killed in his office by E. Billings, another attorney, who is under arrest.

An unknown man entered Nickell's jewelry store, at Nankesha, Missouri, knocked down the clerk with an iron bar, stole $500 worth of jewelry and an unknown quantity of diamonds, and made his escape.

Secretary Fessenden of the national republican committee is a wealthy lawyer of Stamford, Conn., where he owns over $100,000 of real estate. His wife is wealthy, and he has a large legal practice. His political activity is purely out of friendship to Mr. Blaine.

Sheriff Coffin has appointed Mr. John Griffin of this city a deputy sheriff for the county of Rockingham.

Deacon Joseph H. Moody of York has arrived home after a visit of several months at Fargo, Dakota territory, where his son, Alfred L. Moody, resides.

Gorman's block in Dover was damaged to the extent of $300 by fire on Friday, and the tenants had their household goods much injured by water and smoke.

A Famous Doctor

Once said that the secret of good health consisted in keeping the head cool, the feet warm, and the bowels open. Had this eminent physician lived in our day, and known the merits of Ayer's Pills as an aperient, he would certainly have recommended them, as so many of his distinguished successors are doing.

The celebrated Dr. Farnsworth, of Norwich, Conn., recommends Ayer's Pills as the best of all remedies for "Intermittent Fevers."

Dr. I. E. Fowler, of Bridgeport, Conn., says: "Ayer's Pills are highly and universally spoken of by the people about here. I make daily use of them in my practice."

Dr. Mayhew, of New Bedford, Mass., says: "Having prescribed many thousands of Ayer's Pills, in my practice, I can unhesitatingly pronounce them the best cathartic in use."

The Massachusetts State Assayer, Dr. A. A. Hayes, certifies: "I have made a careful analysis of Ayer's Pills. They contain the active principles of well-known drugs, isolated from inert matter, which plan is, chemically speaking, of great importance to their usefulness. It insures activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. Ayer's Pills contain no metallic or mineral substance, but the virtues of vegetable remedies in skillful combination."

Horsford's

BREAD PREPARATION

IF YOU WANT

Delicious Biscuit, Cakes, Etc., that can be eaten hot without detriment,

The acid phosphate in this preparation supplies the vital phosphates essential to the system, and assists digestion. No other baking powder does this.

Dr. H. E. Hill, of Saco, says:

"I consider Hosford's Bread Preparation better than any other that I have ever seen or used in my family, for raising bread, etc."

Dr. H. A. Weymouth, of Saco, says:

"In Hosford's Bread Preparation, we appear to have an article which not only serves to raise bread perfectly, but containing the nutritive phosphates, it restores those properties to the flour which are lost in bolting, thus adding greatly to the nutritive value of the bread produced with it."

Dr. S. Abbott, of Biddeford, says:

"Having examined Horsford's Bread Preparation, I am satisfied that it supplies to the system those elements necessary to health, which are removed in the process of making flour."

Dr. J. H. Keating, of Biddeford, says:

"I can heartily recommend Horsford's Bread Preparation as superior to any baking powder yet brought to my notice."

Dr. J. E. Larocque, of Biddeford, says:

"I have tried Hosford's Bread Preparation, and believe it is one of the best nutritious substances ever introduced. It contains all the elements necessary to sustain and invigorate the brain and system generally. I recommend its use to all."

Dr. Frank Gratton, of Biddeford, says:

"We have used and are greatly pleased with Horsford's Bread Preparation. From the peculiar property it possesses of restoring the phosphates to fine flour, it is preferable to any baking powder that I know of."

Dr. F. P. Virgin, of Rochester, says:

"I believe in the correctness of the principle claimed in the use of Horsford's Bread Preparation, namely the restoring by its use to super-fine wheat flour the phosphates removed in milling. These phosphates are essential constituents of the human body. I have been accustomed to eat bread made by the use of this preparation, and it is very light and palatable."

Dr. J. S. Daniels, of Rochester, says:

"It affords me pleasure to recommend Horsford's Bread Preparation to my patients and the public. The bread is more nutritious and easily digested than when made with ordinary cream of tartar."

Dr. Chas. A. Fairbanks, of Dover, says:

"Upon theoretical grounds I should think Horsford's Bread Preparation an excellent means for the introduction into the system of the phosphates. Excellent scientific authority asserts that the phosphates perform a multifarious part in the process of life."

Dr. Chas. A. Tufts, of Dover, says:

"I have read Dr. Fairbanks' testimonial in regard to Horsford's Bread Preparation. I have used this in my family, and cheerfully endorse what he has written."

Dr. E. E. Holt, of Portland, says;

"I am prepared to accept all the claims of Horsford's Bread Preparation as a decided advance in bread-makng, knowing with what care and skill it is prepared, and the high scientific standing of its author."

Dr. Gardner Ludwig, of Portland, says:

"I have used Hosford's Bread Preparation, and have no doubt that it restores the phosphates lost by bolting. I am a dyspeptic, and have not eaten new bread at tea time for a long time, till recently I ate new bread made from this powder, and felt no inconvenience from it."

NOTICE.

PORTSMOUTH, Dec. 19th, 1887.

The House and Shop on the corner of Water and Jefferson Streets, now occupied by Timothy Buckley, and owned by John O'Brien, will be to let on or after the 24th day of January next, as the lease of said House and Shop, given to Timothy Buckley by John O'Brien for one year, will expire on that date.

P. S. As Mr. O'Brien has had so much business on his hands for the past two years, and now has so many customers to attend to, he deems it necessary to call on some one to assist him; and as he has bought the tin peddling cart that Mr. Gilman used to drive for Mr. Blaisdell, and is intending to have it fixed up in good shape, he will pay good wages to the right man to take hold and help him. None but a good square man need apply.

N. B. Any persons having just claims against John O'Brien can send in their bills and get their money, 100 cents on a dollar.

THE LIQUOR-TAX PAYERS.

State Liquor Constable Mitchell, of Maine, who has succeeded, after much persevering effort in face of official obstruction, in securing an inspection of the records of the internal revenue office of this district, reports that he finds from the records that there are in Maine 577 persons, and in New Hampshire 1345, who have paid the special tax imposed by the United States on retail dealers in intoxicants, and that of this number 123 are in this city. In other words there is in Maine one person to every 872 inhabitants, in New Hampshire one to every 223 inhabitants, and in this city one to every eighty-one inhabitants, who have paid the special tax, and are presumably dealers in liquor. One reason of Portsmouth's very high (or low) rating in this connection undoubtedly is, that those residents of Kittery, York and a large part of Eliot who are bibulously inclined, depend on Portsmouth saloons for their supplies in that line; and another is, the large "floating population" that visits this port in the colliers and other coasting vessels, and which mans the extensive fleet of winter fishing vessels.

A BEAUTIFUL BANNER.

We had the pleasure on Thursday last of seeing the new banner which has been painted for St. John's Sunday school, being a gift from the scholars.

The banner is of white silk, twenty-nine by thirty-six inches in size, bordered with bullion fringe, and suspended from a bar covered with black velvet and mounted with gold-plated trimmings. On one side of the banner is a large red cross shaded with gold, over which are the words "St. John's Sunday School" in old English letters, and "1820-1887" in gold figures. On the other side is a figure of St. John the Evangelist, with an eagle's head, in the beak of which is a pen, the whole surmounted by a scroll in which are the words "The Disciple whom Jesus loved."

The banner was designed and painted by Miss Helen I. Tilton, daughter of Major E. A. Tilton, and is a beautiful work of art—one of which the artist may justly be proud. It will first be used at a special children's service in St. John's church on Christmas afternoon at three o'clock.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Dec. 23d; Bufford J.

Frank Smith and John McAuley, for drunkenness, were sentenced to sixty days at the county farm, and to pay $6.90 costs, each.

Michael Colothen and Thos. Knowles, for drunkenness, were each assessed $9.90, fine and costs.

PERSONAL.

Miss Clara L. French will pass the holiday season in New York on a visit to her brother, Dr. Willis B. French.

Miss Ida A. Nutter of Newington, who is engaged in teaching school at Brockton, Mass., is home for a short holiday vacation.

Mrs. Celia Thaxter, who is spending the winter in Boston, arrived in this city on Friday to pass the Christmas holidays, and her brothers, the Messrs. Laighton, came in from Appledore the same day, a'l proceeding to Mr. Cedric Laighton's residence on State street.

A prominent manufacturer from Lynn, who visited the premises of the Portsmouth Shoe company on Friday, pronounces it the most complete establishment of the kind in the country. The large sum paid weekly for labor at the shoe factory is highly appreciated by our business men and real estate owners.

John Sise, Esq., makes Christmas presents to his patrons of a fine, clear-made calendar for 1888, issued by the Queen Insurance company of Liverpool, England. An insurance firm in Dover has sent by mail several calendars to patrons in this city.

Mr. George W. Bartlett, son of James P. Bartlett, Esq., of this city, has resigned the position of division superintendent of the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio railroad, and has accepted the office of general superintendent of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad, with headquarters at Buffalo, N. Y.

Gov. Sawyer and council have appointed Col. William H. Sise as keeper of the state arsenal in this city.

Lewis E. Staples is showing a full line of Stamped Linen goods, in Tidies, Splashers, Table Scarfs, etc., at low prices.

Mr. Warren Caswell of Foss' beach, Rye, on the 21st inst. killed two pigs nine months old, one weighing 334 and the other 378 lbs., dressed weight.

Mr. Bradford S. Marshall, formerly of York, but for several years past a resident of Groton, Mass., has sold his farm in the latter town, and returned to York to live.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Lizzie J. Call was on Friday afternoon towed to the wharf in the rear of Newton & Son's store, where she will lie up until March.

It is was rumored in New York on the 23d inst. that all the English captains and officers of Belgian steamships are to be supplanted by German officers, in order that should hostilities break out in Europe these steamships may be ready for instant transformation into transports and swift cruisers to aid Germany. The Red Star line of steamers between New York and Antwerp is owned in Belgium, one of the vessels, the Vaterland, being commanded by Capt. Grant of Kittery.

Several naval and revenue marine steamers, and some large tugs, went in search of the Joggins timber raft on Thursday and Friday; the powerful ocean tug B. W. Morse, Capt. Blair, left port on Friday afternoon to join in the hunt. The raft is a big prize, literally and pecuniarily, for the craft that can manage to tow it into port.

It is remotely rumored that a brief history of the old Eliot academy is under consideration. It was built near 1840, and dedicated by Israel Kimball, Esq., now of Washington, D. C., the text for his address being, "Prove all things and hold fast that which is good." He was the popular principal of this school for several years, and later taught a select school at Portsmouth, N. H. We think the preceptors are all living excepting Edward Ashton Rollins, who afterward became a well known public man, but who never lost his interest in schools. Prof. Moses G. Farmer, now residing at Eliot, the large-hearted man we frequently see mentioned, was also one of the teachers. The alumni would make a respectable list, in numbers as well as stamina. We have in our mind (noblesse oblige) editors, physicians, teachers and lawyers among them. We hope to know all about it by and by, even if some well-to-do farmer, with good old Scotch pride, transplanted from Berwick on the Tweed, permitted his independent boy to enter this temple of learning barefoot.—Biddeford Journal.

Frank C. McNeally, the Saco bank robber, was arrested at the Halifax hotel in Halifax, N. S., Dec. 23d. He arrived in Halifax on the 10th in the steamer Polynesian from Liverpool, and has since been staying at the hotel under the name of W. E. Stuyvesant.

RAILROAD ITEMS

The bill in equity upon which Judge Devens of Massachusetts temporarily enjoined part of the lately-elected directors of the Eastern railroad from organizing, sets forth that at the annual meeting of the railroad company on the 14th inst. a committee was appointed to count the ballots cast; that ballots were cast upon certain shares of the preferred stock before twelve o'clock of that day; that afterward each of the owners of the stock revoked the proxies and authorized their attorney to vote on the same stock, and new proxies were issued accordingly, and in the afternoon ballots were cast by holders of the new proxies upon the stock; that there were thus two sets of ballots upon the same stock; that the committee appointed to count ballots rejected those first cast and counted those last cast, and so reported to the meeting by which the defendants were elected directors, when others would have been elected if the second set of ballots had not been counted. The plaintiffs also say that they protested at the time, but their protest was not heeded.

St. John's church has been very extensively and beautifully decorated with spruces and evergreens for the Christmas season.

Prof. A. N. LaBrie will play the organ at the Unitarian church on Sunday, owing to the illness of Miss Davis.

Florence Silk Mittens.

This engraving shows the latest style of these goods. It is published as a protection for those ladies who wish to obtain mittens well-made from genuine Florence Knitting Silk.

Whatever the design, all real Florence Silk Mittens are sold one pair in a box, bearing the brand "Florence" on one end.

The pattern shown here is lined in back and wrist throughout with silk. They are perfect fitting, and in cold climates are far more comfortable than any glove, and more durable and quite as elegant and fashionable as the best of gloves.

Sold by all enterprising dealers, who can be supplied at our agency, No. 18 Summer Street, Boston. Our latest book on knitting (1887 edition) contains over 100 valuable illustrated items, including full instructions for this mitten. Mailed to any address on receipt of six cents in stamps.

SONG OF THE SIRENS.

The moonlight bathes the sea,
And the ripples wash the sand,
The song of our sisters is heard free
Down the shelving shore of the strand.
Neither goddesses are we, nor women,
Nor angels, nor spirits of death;
We are maidens of evil omen,
And we breathe the sea spray for our breath.

The gods love us not in heaven,
The souls of drowned men dwell in hell
Curse us, from morn till even,
For the wrongs we did to them well.
We are neither alive nor dead,
We know not of days nor of nights,
But the life of men is our food,
And the tears of the widowed wife.

When [illegible] of all, before the light,
[illegible] to brin[illegible] with gods to Chaos,
Wrapped in the p[illegible] ancient night,
No mother had [illegible] her bosom to lay us,
To dandle and fon[illegible] caress us and nurse us,
For we sprang [illegible] of moonlight and soft sea pulse,
And we sing that [illegible] sailors may love us and nurse us,
And die in the [illegible] g of the lips they have kissed.

In the thick darkn[illegible] the kiss moaned
When the mothe[illegible] availed: the shapeless god,
The awful father, [illegible]s, groaned,
Shaking the vau[illegible] of space as he trod.
Then the mother l[illegible] hold on the pillars of night
And bowed her[illegible] and shrieked aloud,
Till the firmamen[illegible] shed on her might
And split, and w[illegible] rent into streamers of cloud.
The broad black [illegible] de of space was torn,
The arch of heav[illegible] was burst to the day,
The sun leapt up, [illegible] and the gods were born,
And Chaos the father passed away.

But gods and men have bodies and souls,
And they live and they know that their lives are sweet,
While the clear sun shines and the blue tide rolls,
While the heart is full and the pulses beat.
The beasts of the forest, the flocks on the mountains,
The bright winged birds and the fish in the deep,
All drink of the water of life's clear fountain—
All die at the last and are lost in sleep.

THE PRESIDENT OF MEXICO.

How He Gained His Education—A Lucky Chance Success.

President Diaz is an ardent friend of educational progress, and an intelligent co-laborer with all men working here to better current educational methods. He gained his own education most laboriously, and his career from boyhood to early manhood was one long struggle for knowledge. The son of honorable but poor people in Oaxaca, he went to the elementary schools, and, like Cleveland, clerked it for awhile in a grocery, or rather a general country store. This he did to help his excellent mother, who seems to have been made of that superior sort of stuff that we always find in the mothers of great men. Curiously enough young Diaz was intended for the church, there being a hereditary chaplaincy in his family, which was reserved for him. An uncle, the protector of the family, urged his taking a theological course, and he accordingly was entered at the famous seminary of Oaxaca, where he ground away at the dry bones of doctrine for a number of years, all the while feeling an inclination toward the law, which was frowned on by his uncle.

It was young Diaz's idea to help his mother by taking the shortest cut toward an independent position such as the church would give him, but the struggle within him was a sharp one between inclination and the duty he felt toward a mother for whom he had the warmest love and reverence. He took private pupils to eke out his maintenance in the seminary, and was early marked by older men about him as a lad of singular firmness of character. Finally, by a lucky chance, the way opened for him to enter the civil institute or college of Oaxaca, where he could study law. His uncle disowned him when he made up his mind to enter a new profession, but his excellent mother said to him: "I will not try to bias you; do as seems best." To help his mother he took more private pupils, and thus, by teaching and studying hard and at unseasonable hours, he gained his education, entering afterward the law office of Juarez, who was subsequently president of the republic. In later years he took up the military profession, in which, as every one knows, he made a brilliant success, and handled considerable armies, having at one period over 60,000 men under him.

I cite the case of President Diaz as illustrative of that hunger for learning and that determination in securing an education so frequent among ambitious Mexican young men. People who assert that Gen. Diaz is an uneducated, rough man either purposely lie, or are totally ignorant of his career. Like many another man of eminence, he may be said to be the son of his own works. Of the leading men of this republic, at the present day, I know few who were not poor lads at the outset, gaining an education by hard work. One entered lawyer began peddling vegetables to earn his schoolbooks, and cared for his mother while studying at school. This filial affection is universal among Mexicans. The father and the mother are not neglected. Family ties are strong, and in many families there is a fine spirit of mutual helpfulness.—City of Mexico Cor. Boston Herald.

As a Means of Transmission.

Electricity may be regarded as simply an agent of transmission, a convenient, tractable, yet powerful, means of carrying and distributing energy from one point to others. As a means of transmission it is far more flexible in its arrangements, and capable of a more ready ramification and distribution than any of its competitors.

It can be operated under very much higher pressures than either gas, water or steam, and can be distributed with very much smaller conductors, and, consequently, at a much lower cost.

The means of transmission in these cases, as well as in that of a steam engine which has to be placed at a distance from the work to be done, are by belts and shafting, by wire rope transmission, by means of compressed air, by water pressure, and lastly by means of electricity.—Cor. Engineering and Mining Journal.

How a Dying Child Was Saved!

CHICAGO, HAMILTON CO., IND., Sept. 19, 1887.—The following is a true account of what your S. S. S. has done for our little daughter, Hazel, now four years old. When 12 months old a lump appeared on her heel, which slowly grew larger. The family physician thought it was caused by a piece of broken glass or needle, but failed to bring anything to light. The child became feebler all the time, seeming to lose the use of her leg, and finally quit walking entirely. The middle finger and thumb of either hand became enlarged, the flesh becoming hard. The hip joints became involved, so that when seventeen months old she could not stand, having lost the use of leg and arm. Partial curvature of the spine also followed. The nervous system was wrecked, muscles contracted, and there was general wasting of flesh and muscle. At eighteen months of age she was placed under the treatment of a prominent physician of Boston, Mass., but at the end of ten months she had declined to such a degree that she was in a dying condition. This was in April, 1886. We took the child away not knowing what to do. In this dreadful dilemma we were over-persuaded by friends to try "one bottle" of SWIFT'S SPECIFIC, which we did, and before it had all been taken we saw a change for the better in her symptoms. We kept it up, and have done so to this day, and will keep it up, if the Lord will, for many days to come, for it has brought our dying Hazel to life, to vigor, to strength and health again. The ashen hue of her cheeks has changed to a rosy tint. She is able to walk anywhere, her languor and melancholy have passed away, and she is now a lithe, cheerful, happy romping child. Should you wish to increase your testimonials of proof of the virtue of S. S. S., our names and what we have said is but a portion of what we owe to you, should you wish to use them.

Kindly yours,

A MERRY CHRISTMAS.

BY S. O.

"A Merry Christmas!" far and wide
Rings out this wish on every hand,
A greeting gift this Christmastide,
Re-echoing through all the land.

But e'er this wish fulfilled can be,
There's work for each of us to do;
Look round! What misery we see,
What pain and anguish to subdue.

Our happiness, you know, depends
On other's happiness as well;
The duty of each one extends
To all beneath misfortune's spell.

You'll find your joys grow none the less,
Or Christmas be less glad and gay,
Because you strive to aid distress,
And drive black care and want away.

A Merry Christmas then you'll find
This Christmas to you all will be;
A blessing springs from actions kind,
And happiness from charity.

LITTLEFIELD'S CONSTITUTIONAL

Cough Syrup!

— FOR —

CHILDREN.

Bedford, Sept. 20, 1887.

MR. C. B. LITTLEFIELD,

Dear Sir:—I wish to say for the benefit of those who are troubled with coughs or colds that they will find a sure cure in the Constitutional Cough Syrup. I have a family of nine children, from three to twenty-one years old, and all have used the Syrup for coughs and colds, and it has never failed to cure them. It is the best cough syrup for children I ever knew, as I have never had to employ a doctor for their diseases, but have cured them with the Constitutional Cough Syrup.

The usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands of despairing patients can testify. On this point a noteworthy medical writer says: "Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many, if not most of the remedies in general use by physicians, afford but temporary benefit. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douches and washes." Stating the articles wanted, and remember that when we say we can furnish a house, we do not mean half furnish, for we can supply all with every nameable thing used in a house, and in any grade desired.

We are known in every State in the Union as the

Liberal House Furnishers,

And we have earned the reputation, not solely on account of the small payments at time of purchase, (which are one-quarter of the amount down and the monthly payments thereafter of $5, for a purchase of $50 or less, and $10 for a purchase of $100 or less,) but our prices are below those of any other dealer in the Country, notwithstanding we will deliver all goods to any station in New England free of charge.

WE DO NOT OWN THE RAILROADS!

As some might suppose, but we ship an immense quantity of goods, which is better, we think, and in this we are enabled to successfully compete with the small dealer, and what we save in this way goes into the pockets of our customers.

— WE HAVE —

Four Branch Stores

That are continually drawing from our Main Store at Portland, necessitating an immense stock and a greater variety of goods than is shown by any other House in the Country. It will be seen, by giving the matter a little thought, that we are compelled to not only have on hand a very large line, but the ever moving volume must necessarily allow of nothing but the newest goods upon our floors, and we are continually buying from every Manufacturing State in the Country. The quantities bought by us would astonish even wholesale buyers. Without question, we have under our control,

More Rolls of Carpeting than all the other Stores in the State of Maine

Combined. We have recently given our order to 1000 rolls of matting to be delivered in the early spring. Is it not reasonable to suppose that we can buy 1000 rolls at a less cost than it would be possible were our purchase but 10 or 15 rolls, the usual purchase?

Parlor Suites, Chamber Sets,
Stoves and Ranges, Carpets,
Hall and Dining Room Furniture,
Lamps, Crockery, Plated Ware,

The jury in the John Amory Codman will case, on trial in Cambridge, Mass., for several weeks past, after being out eight hours came in on Saturday with a verdict that Codman was of unsound mind when he made his will giving a large share of his property to his mistress, and that the will was procured by undue influence or fraud.

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

The edition for 1888 of the sterling medical annual, known as Hostetter's almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of United States, Mexico, and indeed in every civilized portion of the western hemisphere. This almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for over one-fourth of a century. It combines, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items, etc., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1888 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Co., Pittsburg, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

FOREST POLICY OF JAPAN.

A Bavarian Invited to Direct It—Preparation for a Timber Supply.

Not long ago, without any flourish of announcement or departure, a quiet, scholarly gentleman in the vigor of early manhood passed through this city on an important mission to Japan, where he is to give instruction in the science and practice of forestry as known in the best schools of Europe, and to direct to a certain extent the forest policy of the empire. Dr. Heinrich Mayr is a forest officer of the Bavarian government and lecturer on sylviculture in the University of Munich. Two years ago he crossed the United States through the Lake region and the northwest to Oregon, and now he proposes to study the southern forests, going through the Allegheny region and crossing Texas to California. This is in preparation for a report to his government on American forests. From San Francisco he will sail to Japan, where he will be professor of sylviculture and forest botany in the University of Tokio, besides taking charge of the actual forest work of the empire during an extended leave of absence from his post in Bavaria.

In reply to some inquiries by a reporter Dr. Mayr said that although there was abundant timber in Japan and a wonderful richness in arborescent species when compared with the sylva of Europe, still serious inroads had been made upon the forest wealth of the empire. During the civil war many forests owned by the daimios were destroyed, and the government intended to restore them. Besides this many of the mountain slopes, although thickly wooded, were clothed with species not esteemed valuable. There are vast stretches of beechwoods, the trees being apparently identical botanically with the European beech, although the wood is lighter in color. Beech is considered a useful wood in Europe, but there are many better kinds in Japan, and the government proposes to substitute some of these for the inferior species.

Notable among the valuable timber trees is the cryptomesia, a conifer, specimens of which are not rare in the ornamental plantations of this country. A few of them are growing in the Ramble of Central Park. This tree is closely allied to the American sequoias, the redwood and the big trees. When a traveler fresh from the Sierras first sees a forest of cryptomesia he will have no other thought than that they are identical with the American trees. They have, too, all the good qualities of redwood—light, straight grained, easily worked, durable.

Besides these a species of planera, some of the oaks and perhaps some other deciduous trees will be used to supplant the beech. It will be a delicate undertaking to make such a sweeping transformation in the forest growth over large areas without causing violent disturbance in the natural forces which have been adjusting themselves into balance during centuries. But the Japanese government appreciates this and is preparing for the work most thoroughly and cautiously. When asked if Japan had yet suffered any of those physical disasters which have followed the deforesting of highlands in other countries, Dr. Mayr said:

"Oh, yes. This preparation for a timber supply is only one reason for the present interest in forestry in Japan. The growth of railroads opening up new markets for forest products and means of transporting them is an immediate occasion for this sharp looking after their resources by a long sighted business people. But the country is already suffering from torrents where the wood has been stripped from the high slopes. The calamity is not so serious as it is in other parts of the world, in southeastern France, for instance, where millions literally are expended every year in an almost hopeless struggle with devastating floods.

"But what has happened and is plainly threatened has decided the government to take prompt action and recover the bare heights. Near Kiota, for example, within less than fifty years the forest has been cleared from a portion of the high mountains about the city and the result is too evident. The river flowing down from this deforested slope, and crossing a plain say fifteen miles to the sea, soon began to roll down more loosened stones and gravel and earth after the rainy season had swollen it. As the river bed was lifted by this deposit, the people, to restrain it from overflowing the plains on either side, began to build up barriers on its banks. Then as more woods were felled the torrent became more sudden and violent, owing to decreased obstruction. The waterway was gradually filled in with washings from the mountain, compelling another and another embankment on either side as the bottom was raised, until now the stream runs between artificial banks on the top of a long, straight causeway fifty feet high."—New York Tribune.

Cotton Gins for China.

On a visit a few days ago to Ningpo, I was informed that if the Americans would make a hand cotton gin for the Chinese it would meet with a ready and profitable sale. There is a Japanese gin of this kind worked by foot, but it does not pick the seed well and is but partially adapted for its purpose. If the inventive genius of our mechanics could be directed to this they would soon make a suitable gin. The Chinese cotton is coarse and very short staple. The seed is also small. The machinery would have to be adapted to these conditions. An American gin, such as is now used in the south, with a crank to turn by hand, could be easily suited to this work. Anything not operated by manual labor would not be taken by the Chinese, whose conservatism is against innovations of too pronounced a type; besides, their cotton planting is done in small areas by small farmers, and they are not accustomed to other than the simplest machinery. If any gin maker wishes the idea elaborated, I could get the details for him.—Consul General

CHRISTMAS.

"Heap on the wood! The wind is chill,
But let it whistle as it will,
We'll keep our Christmas merry still."

These lines were written four score years ago, before the days of furnace-heated and steam-warmed houses, ere coal strikes caused an apprehensive shiver, and when fuel combinations were unknown in the Land o' Cakes.

Times have changed since then. But Christmas comes and Christmas goes, and is ever the same season of enjoyable associations.

Every one can manage to obtain more or less happiness at this season. It is the occasion when hearts open to do generous deeds; when kindly interest toward our fellow men manifests itself, when we unstintedly bestow at least our wishes to the most inconsiderable of all we meet.

To the young, Christmas comes as the realization of great expectations in the way of gifts and pleasant reminders. In this respect there has been a great change in the country from the time when the day was observed only by a few, to the custom of to-day, when the entire people of this great and growing country unitedly give thanks for the happiness of Christmas. Let us enjoy it all, and whether we reflect upon the great and lasting benefit to mankind in the coming upon earth of Him in whose honor we celebrate this anniversary, or less appreciatingly derive our pleasures from our social gratifications, or however we properly observe this festival, let it be with grateful hearts and devout recognition of that kind providence which in happiness or sorrow guides, guards and governs us all.

The Chronicle on this Christmas morn, greets its readers one and all,—not as an annual perfunctory performance, but with a zeal worthy of this glorious anniversary wishes them

A MERRY CHRISTMAS.

The Weather.

We have turned over a new leaf in regard to the weather. People make, at about this season of the year, new resolutions. We are of that kind of people. Heretofore when the attempt to negotiate a loan of fifty cents at our desk was made by some soldier of fortune who drew no pension, there has been a preliminary skirmish concerning the weather. To the observations concerning that somewhat trite subject we answered "yes" or "no," or "is that so?" without knowing just what ground we were occupying, often being intently engaged in perusing the brilliant editorials of some of our contemporaries, or perhaps evolving from the repetoire of our own treasury of thought, ideas which when duly set up, might electrify the country and perhaps turn even the free trade democrats from their dastardly attempts at ruining this great, and pending the coming presidential canvass we may add, beloved country!

But we shall be careful in the sweet by and by,—indeed in what the man we owe constantly refers to, as the "near future." The weather has become an important factor in finance. Become, did we say? We find and we assert it without fear, favor or hope of contradiction, it has been so all along.

Take this canard recently sent east that there had been a "cold day" in some of the western states. Prevarication as it has been proved, it had a serious effect upon the fortunes of the men who engineer the booms of our far reaching western lands. The telegraph indicated that here no longer flowed milk and honey through the garden of the world, but a congealed atmosphere prevailed everywhere. This gave a bad showing for investors. A famine of coal by means of which the western farmers could put on the steam heat in their houses and stables was pictured. People going about frozen to death in states where the Frost King had never before pre-empted a solitary acre, would not induce buyers, at least in the "short" days of December, to locate "in their midst." In fine, it looked like a panic.

Holders of mortgages began to calculate how the next installment of interest would be paid. Presidents of savings banks nervously packed their grip sacks and telegraphed for land-seekers' tickets to the west. Printing presses, which had worked day and night sending off mortgages, bonds, coupon notes, debentures, abstracts, applications for loans, circulars, pamphlets and the immense literature incident to the development of real estate rapidly rising in value, stopped to lubricate. In brief, there occurred a pause. The market felt the check at once. In New Hampshire alone the demand for loans fell off several millions. We mean the demand on the part of lenders. The borrowers remained at the front undismayed.

A true statement of the condition of affairs was sought. It soon was admitted that the whole story about cold weather at the west was a senseless hoax. There had been no weather at all; not a wavelet of cold, at least. In the state of Kansas, for example, an etherial mildness spread over the face of nature. The farmers had returned from the centres of Business, and after depositing long in advance of its being due, the trifling sums due on their farm mortgages, were seated upon their verandas gazing upon their flocks and herds which were feeding upon the luxuriant growth of grass, which even at this season bent gracefully in successive wavelets, as the gentle breezes from the sunny south favored its flowing tops. The reporters who went to ascertain the facts as to this alleged exceptional weather, were entertained in their calls at the farm houses by the ladies of the manor, who, clad in lawn and other summer-like garb, left their tennis, to the better entertain these visitors from the metropolis with iced sherbet and strawberries, while the knights of the pencil drew in the convivial mint julep by means of an immense straw which showed the growing capacity of this rich country. So much for the weather at the west. It is an unusually mild season, and sellers of machines for making ice are reaping a harvest in that temperate region.

The Angry Brewers.

The democratic New York Sun—stalwart democratic now—gives the following: "'Look out,' said a prominent brewer, who worked for Cook, 'look out for us in the next campaign. We are convinced that the republican party is trying to give us the worst of it. The Kansas decision by the Supreme court last week, in Muhlog's case, has driven every western brewer out of the republican ranks. There's only one democrat on the Supreme bench, you see. But the court has practically stripped hundreds of industrious, honest brewers and saloon men in Kansas and Iowa of the little stake it had taken them years to accumulate. They can't run their breweries under that decision, and they can't recover any compensation from the state. Their brewery machinery is now only so much old iron, for a second-hand plant brings little or nothing. But we will have something to say in the New York legislature, if it takes a million to get it said!' He was very much in earnest, too."

The Halifax police authorities having failed to receive any instructions from the state officials of Maine or the Saco bank officials to hold McNeally, the bank robber, on the 24th inst. notified the Saco police that he had been set at liberty. Several insurance companies with small capital have gone out of business. Last week a company that a short time ago had a large surplus gave up the business and reinsured its risks. It has been a hard year for insurance companies. Few if any will stand as well at the beginning of 1888 as they were a year ago. The profits of the business seem to diminish yearly.

Of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or galloping Consumption. Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Bichard of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. He still remains good to the present date.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

NOTICE.

PORTSMOUTH, Dec. 19th, 1887.

The House and Shop on the corner of Water and Jefferson Streets, now occupied by Timothy Buckley, and owned by John O'Brien, will be to let on or after the 24th day of January next, as the lease of said House and Shop, given to Timothy Buckley by John O'Brien for one year, will expire on that date.

P. S. As Mr. O'Brien has had so much business on his hands for the past two years, and now has so many customers to attend to, he deems it necessary to call on some one to assist him; and as he has bought the tin peddling cart that Mr. Gilman used to drive for Mr. Blaisdell, and is intending to have it fixed up in good shape, he will pay good wages to the right man to take hold and help him. None but a good square man need apply.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES.

Sunday was a beautiful day for the time of year, and at the several churches the congregations were noticeably larger than usual.

At St. John's church the morning service was very largely attended, and the rector was assisted by Messrs. Emil Pfeiffer and Arthur Locke, lay readers. The music, which was furnished by a double quartette consisting of the regular choir and the P. A. C. male quartette, the chapter choir, and Mr. George Freeman, tenor of St. John's church in Providence, R. I., was especially fine, the Sanctus and Te Deum in particular being rendered most beautifully. At the children's service in the afternoon the church was again filled, and the exercises were very interesting. In the evening a large congregation assembled in Christ church.

At the Methodist church, Sunday morning, the pastor's subject was "The Great Gift." In the evening there was a Christmas concert by the Sunday school, and the invitation for the public to attend was accepted by many. The Christmas tree and festival will be held this (Monday) evening.

At the Court street Christian church, Sunday evening, there was a Christmas concert by the Sunday school, assisted by the choir. The Christmas festival and tree of this Sunday school will be given in Franklin hall Wednesday evening.

The Congregational society and Sunday school had Christmas services in the chapel on Middle street Sunday evening, and have an entertainment and festival at the same place this evening.

The Advent society and Sunday school have a festival in Rechabite hall, Market street, this evening; and the Sunday schools of St. John's and Christ churches have a festival in the same hall Wednesday evening.

Tuesday evening the Universalist festival and supper will be given in the vestry of the church, and to it are invited not only the children who attend the Sunday school, but all the children of the parish.

The Christmas entertainment of the Middle street Baptist Sunday school will be given in the chapel on State street, Wednesday evening.

At the Unitarian church, morning and evening, special programmes of Christmas music were performed; and in the afternoon a children's service was held in the chapel on Court street. The Sunday school festival will be held in Franklin hall to-morrow evening.

CHEESE PARING.

The Christmas Carols at the custom house were not as cheerful as has been customary. For some days past it was known that a reduction in the expenses of the office had been ordered. It was—as it still is—the hope that this impending crisis would be prevented by the visit of some one of influence in the councils of the administration to the Treasury department, backed with a letter from the president, suggesting that Portsmouth might be excepted from the effects of the coming, shower and therefore not much was said as to this kind of reform which so greatly pleases the "outs." The announcement has been made that there are to be three inspectors, one at Colebrook or somewhere on the northern frontier at $2 50 per day, and two in this city, one at $4 a day, who is to devote his entire time to the duties of his office, and the other at $2. The boatman at Newcastle is to have $400 per year.

At least this is the arrangement of the department, subject to modification when the sober second thought is set upon it by the suggestion that if Mr. Cleveland expects a renomination he may as well be careful how he monkeys with the patronage.

The general belief is that it was first proposed to abolish the frontier inspectorship for awhile, to re-establish it after the credit for the retrenchment had gone over the country; to retain a special agent paid from the custom house in this city, and two inspectors here, dismissing one of the present incumbents.

YORK HARBOR & BEACH RAILROAD.

The directors of the York Harbor & Beach railroad have elected George C. Lord president, and Amos Blanchard treasurer of the corporation.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, Dec. 24th; Bufford J. Wm. H. Ayers, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90.

MASONIC VISIT.

The officers of St. John's Lodge of this city will on Tuesday evening, Dec. 27th, attend the semi-annual meeting of the Masonic Grand Lodge of New Hampshire at Manchester, and by invitation will exemplify the work in the second degree. Quite a large delegation of Masons will accompany them, reduced fare being allowed on the railroad.

POST-OFFICE HOURS TO-DAY.

General delivery, 8:00 to 10:30 A. M., 6:00 to 6:30 P. M., box-office open all day. The carriers will make their forenoon rounds as usual, but the afternoon trips will be omitted.

PERSONAL.

Howe Call, Esq., of New York, is passing the holidays at his former home in this city.

Capt. Frank D. Webster, U. S. M. C., retired, with his family arrived in this city last Thursday to stay over Christmas.

Robert L. Harris, president of the Northern Pacific railroad, passed Christmas day in this city.

Lieut. Francis H. Delano came from Norfolk, Va., to spend Christmas with his family at the Rockingham house.

Mr. Samuel Rowe of North Berwick, ex-sheriff of Rockingham county, was in this city on Sunday.

Miss Sarah Laskey of Newburyport arrived in this city on Saturday, to pass Christmas with her mother and other relatives.

To-day being a holiday, no paper will be issued from this office to-morrow.

The Portsmouth Shoe factory shut down on Saturday noon until Tuesday morning.

Gold-headed canes, opera glasses, etc., were presented to the bosses of the various rooms at the shoe factory last week, by the employes under their charge.

Rev. O. S. Baketel received on Christmas day from the Lasters' Protective union of this city a beautiful flower piece with a very handsome Christmas card attached.

The dealers of this city had an immense trade in Christmas goods on Saturday. The streets were thronged with teams all day, and the stores were crowded with purchasers up to a late hour at night.

The Portsmouth Athletic club will dedicate their new hall in Franklin block this (Monday) evening, with an entertainment to the honorary members and invited guests. Quite an elaborate programme has been arranged.

The students at Dartmouth college and the Institute of Technology, from this city and vicinity, arrived home last week to spend the Christmas season with their friends.

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO. 106 Wall street, New York.

Have you remembered all, including the postman?

The permanent guests at the Rockingham house enjoyed a delightful Christmas eve hour at the rooms of Paymaster and Mrs. Lyons, where the children welcomed a veritable Santa Claus who distributed Christmas gifts, after which there were carols and readings and games appropriate to the occasion.

It was stated on Saturday that in reply to a letter requesting a suspension of the order reducing the force and pay at the custom house, a communication had been received from the treasury department stating that there could be no exception to the order in favor of any locality.

The turkeys and geese brought into this market for the Christmas trade this season were generally of excellent quality—better than for many years. The supply was large, and prices were reasonable through the week; on Saturday a nice turkey could be bought for sixteen cents a pound.

The body of Mrs. Minnie P. Allen arrived in this city from Chicago on Friday night, and was taken directly to Harmony Grove cemetery, her death having been caused by diphtheria. Funeral ceremonies were held at the cemetery on Saturday afternoon.

Zebulon Sanborn, Moses H. Tilton and Charles E. Buzzell have been drawn by the selectmen of ward two to serve as petit jurors at the January term of the supreme court to be holden at Exeter.

The ladies of the Children's Home Sewing Circle are to give a New Year's party in Franklin hall, Monday evening, Jan. 2d, in aid of the Children's Home. The advertisement can be found in another column.

Mr. George N. Bell, civil and sanitary engineer of Philadelphia, has been at work the past week with a corps of assistants, upon a topographical survey of the Dow farm, at Rye, for the purpose of laying out the plan of the place and the location of the buildings for the recent purchaser, James Parsons, Esq., of Philadelphia.

Lewis E. Staples is showing a full line of Stamped Linen goods, in Tidies, Splashers, Table Scarfs, etc., at low prices.

A reckless fool with a fast horse was breaking the law and showing off big on Saturday night between eight and nine o'clock, speeding the animal up and down State street. Who he was we could not discover, or we would give his name. There were thousands of women and children, as well as men, on the streets that evening, and though there were not many on the street named just at that time, those few had the same right to the safe use of the streets as others.

The fact that the steamer B. W. Morse of Bath, Me., the largest and most powerful tugboat in the world, sailed last week in search of the big timber raft, must not be taken as an intimation that the Maine lumbermen are cast down with sorrow over the breaking away of the raft; she was hired to go on the hunt by the owners of the timber. The duty on sawed lumber is one dollar per thousand feet, while round logs come in free of duty, and the raft was simply an attempt to get around the tariff—a sort of free trade scheme, which went adrift just the same as President Cleveland's will do.

The Pocahontas — not the Arrow Steamship Co.'s apocryphal paper-cutter, but a real vessel, a four-masted schooner —arrived at Portland, Me., last week, from Baltimore, with 2350 tons of coal, the largest cargo of coal that ever entered that port.

Over 1000 bushels of oysters have been stolen from the beds at Mashpee, Mass.

BUBBLE PARTIES.

ONE of the most amusing, as well as easily arranged entertainments for the Holidays, is a "Bubble Party." Twenty or more ladies and gentlemen, enough clay pipes so each will have one, three or four bowls of soap-suds, and, say, half a dozen trifles, for prizes, are all that is required, the prizes to be awarded to those who blow the largest bubble, one of the party to act as referee.

The suds should be of IVORY SOAP, as it gives a clean, white, and abundant lather, with an entire freedom from oil or grease; and as the materials of which it is made are so clean and pure, it is not at all offensive to the smell or taste, like ordinary soap.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS.

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions, since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin's Piano Stringer was introduced by them in 1882, and has been pronounced by experts the "greatest improvement in pianos in half a century."

Great Strike Against Free Labor.

Over 1000 men employed by the Philadelphia & Reading railroad on the lines between West Falls and the Port Richmond coal wharves struck Dec. 23d, the strike being not against the railroad or for more pay, but against independent working men. The trouble originated when a crew of freight handlers, engaged in shifting cars loaded with flour into a pier controlled by the firm of Charles M. Taylor's Sons, refused to deliver any more freight to the firm unless five non-union laborers employed in handling the freight should be discharged. The superintendent was notified, and ordered the discharge of the crew. Other crews then knocked off, and before night 1000 railroad men were idle, necessitating the idleness of many others. It was expected that the 30,000 or 40,000 men in the employ of the company would all strike on the 24th, unless the managers would come to their terms and force the discharge of all non-union workingmen. The general freight agent of the road declares that the road will be operated if it has to be done under military protection.

WHITTIER'S EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY.

AD VIGILEM.

BY EDMUND CLARENCE STEDMAN.

What scest thou, where the peaks about thee stand,
Far up the ridge that severs from our view
That realm unvisited? What prospect new Holds thy rapt eye? What glories of the land
Which from you lofter cliff thou now hast scanned,
Upon thy visage sent their lustrous hue?
Speak, and interpret still, Oh Watchman true,
The signals answering thy lifted hand!

And bide thee yet! still linger, ere thy feet
To sainted bards that beckon bear thee down—
Though lilies, asphodel and spikenard sweet
Await thy tread to blossom; and the crown
Long since is woven of Heaven's palm leaves, meet
For him whom Earth can lend no more renown.

—The Independent.

A Dover despatch says trouble is again anticipated in Martin & French's shoe factory at that place. The result of the recent strike there was the changing of the factory from a non-union to a union shop. By an agreement between the owners and the executive board of District Assembly 179, Knights of Labor, a new price list was made on the 23d inst., to continue in effect till March 25th, 1888. It makes some reductions. When the operatives learned this many of them stated that they would quit work at once rather than accept such terms, so a strike is feared.

Says the New York Tribune: "The Cobden club, the Canadian government, the saloon keepers, the whiskey rings and the office holders ought to supply the democratic party with an enormous boodle next year for campaign expenses. It will be a fight between the organized agencies of progressive republicanism, and a democracy subsidized by the the enemies of American industry and the cause of temperance. Let there be an immediate movement throughout the Union for the formation of Republican leagues."

I have had catarrh for twenty years, and used all kinds of remedies without relief. Mr. Smith, druggist, of Little Falls, recommended Ely's Cream Balm. The effect of the first application was magical, it allayed the inflammation and the next morning my head was as clear as a bell. One bottle has done me so much good that I am convinced its use will effect a permanent cure. It is soothing, pleasant and easy to apply, and I strongly urge its use by all sufferers.—Geo. HAMPTON JOTTINGS.

HAMPTON, Dec. 26th.

Christmas bells sounded merrily from belfries and highways, the churches were well filled, and the sermons most excellent. At the evening concert a large audience were entertained by the children—the best Christmas hymns sung and the best poems repeated we have heard for many years.

On Saturday evening, when the trains came in, the depot was filled with people from other places, or who had been away for the day, all eager to reach their homes and loved ones; and packages and bundles of all sorts and sizes were to be seen on every hand.

Within the past two weeks death has visited several homes in this vicinity; the tender flower of a few hours existence has gone to bloom in the land of eternal summer, and the aged matron of four score has been called home from life's troubles.

As the year near its end and we look back on its bright spots and its sorrows, sad indeed is the one in whose lot the former are not more numerous than the latter. May the approaching New Year be a happy one to all.

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

The edition for 1888 of the sterling medical annual, known as Hostetter's almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of United States, Mexico, and indeed in every civilized portion of the western hemisphere. This almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for over one-fourth of a century. It combines, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items, etc., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1888 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Co., Pittsburg, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

—It is said that the rain falls alike on the just and unjust. In the case where the unjust has appropriated the umbrella belonging to the just this does not hold.

Many go for Wool and Get Shorn,

But they who go out for Hop Ointment to cure their chapped hands or lips are never disappointed. It gets there every time. All druggists sell it, 25 cents, or mail stamps to Hop Co., New London, Conn.

—"See the corn-curing hero comes," is the way in which a travelling chiropodist recently placarded a western town.

Rules

for the care of the sick. How to cure disease, its symptoms and causes, and other information of great value will be found in old Dr. Kaufmann's great book; 100 pages, fine colored plates. Send three 2 cent stamps to pay postage to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy free.

—She—"John, what is a coastwise steamer?" He—"One that knows how to keep off the rocks."

Physicians prescribe Ayer's Sarsaparilla in cases of scrofula, and in every form of chronic disease, because this medicine is safer to take, and is more highly concentrated, than any other preparation. It can always be depended upon as an effective blood purifier.

—"I see the dude has got into the latest edition of Webster's dictionary." "Has he? Well, hurry, then, and slam the cover down."

—When the baker makes his morning rounds the roll call is in order.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the cases for which Carter's Iron Pills are specially prepared, and this class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes, at 50 cents. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

—All the world's a stage, and most of the men and women in the business merely supers.

To get relief from indigestion, biliousness, constipation or torpid liver without disturbing the stomach or purging the bowels, take a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills, they will please you.

We fear strict regard for truth and temperance of expression do not characterize the Rev. J. D. Fulton, D. D., in his crusade against the Catholic church. His statement that the deceased Dr. Bacon of this city, late Roman Catholic bishop of Maine and New Hampshire, was an immoral man, is, as every citizen of Portland who knew that pure-minded, talented and public-spirited Christian well knows, a base slander. Criticism of the Catholic church and its clergy, when based upon facts, is perfectly legitimate, but attacks of the nature made by Mr. Fulton, without foundation, and so incecent that respectable people will not read or listen to them, are indefensible. Sensible people will say that Mr. Fulton's conduct helps the Catholic church instead of injuring it.—Portland Express.

A DISTRESSING COUGH.

How many, especially during the Fall and Winter months, are troubled with a Cough, sometimes dry and hacking, sometimes loose causing the sufferer to raise a large amount of offensive matter; this can soon be cured by using Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific, which acts directly on the Throat and Lungs.

Cured her Cough.

MRS. JEREMIAH CLARK, Lowell, Mass., says: "Twelve years ago I first took a bottle of your Throat and Lung Specific. I had been troubled with a very bad Cough for months. A so-cent bottle cured my Cough. Since then I have not been without it. I can heartily recommend it to any one who has a bad cough."

Saved his Life.

CHAS. A. WAITT, says: "No language can express the value I attach to your Specific. I believe it saved my life."

We would cite other testimonials did we think it necessary, but a trial bottle will convince you that it is all we represent. Give it a trial.

Ingalls' Throat and Lung Specific is sold by all Druggists. Price 50 cents and $1. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

HOUSES WITHOUT FENCES.

Some of the Bad Results of Fencelessness. Home Privacy.

There is a growing fashion of building houses without fences, and we even see fences removed from houses already provided with them. Probably economy is at the bottom of the fashion, but there are also many people who admire it. "How pretty a street looks without fences," they say. "It is like a park." Perhaps it is, but do any of us want to live in a park?

Having once had a house in one of these fenceless communities, I would like to describe some of the peculiarities of the system. The principal trouble was about children. It was impossible to turn them out with any safety to play in their own yard, unless they had a nurse in constant attendance. Most children can be taught to stay in a yard which has a fence and gate, but few are so obedient as to remain on ground which has no boundary but a line of turf. The consequence was that in our neighborhood the middle of the street was the favorite playground for children of all ages, the very little ones taking an especial delight, like hens, in the depth of the dust, and also, of course, frequently running away. The idea of home seemed to have but half its meaning to these children, and the fact that "a man's house is his castle," and that no one has a right to trespass on other people's grounds, was never guessed at by most of the members of our rising generation. I have watched the children coming home from school, and have noticed that every child made a bee line for home without the slightest reference to private grounds, which they crossed at every angle which was most convenient. I even saw one boy climb up and look into a window of a house he was passing.

Not only children, however, but grown people passed back and forth over each other's grounds, as a matter of course, going between a gentleman's house and his outhouses, and passing close to the windows, or to people sitting out on the lawn.

As with human beings, so with dogs. They spent most of their time in their neighbors' yards or on their piazzas, where they would sometimes prevent callers from ringing the door bell. There was one lady who was actually unable sometimes to go out upon her own piazza because the immense dog of a quite distant neighbor had a fancy for lying there, and if she appeared, would threaten and growl at her. As to dogs rolling and wrestling with each other in the flower beds, and turning up unexpectedly in the cellar, that was quite a matter of course.

Then there were cows. To be sure they were not allowed to go loose, but every now and then one would pull up the stake to which she was tied, so that twice I found footprints, which looked large enough for those of a mastodon, all over my flower beds and soft, newly made lawn. Then one day I happened to glance out of one of my chamber windows, and discovered a very large bull foraging directly below it, with a herd of attendant cows. They had all broken out of their pasture. The same thing happened occasionally with horses. I once counted nine, all passing up the street, with nothing between them and the playing children and neatly kept flower beds. Such inconveniences as these do not seem to be balanced by the supposed beauty of the fenceless system.

In Europe the feeling that the first essential of a refined home is privacy is carried rather too far, for the high walls with which gentlemen's houses are so often surrounded are a sad drawback to the beauty of the country in general; but I believe that the principle is a right one. A house which stands as it were in the street, which is not separated either by a hedge or fence from the public thoroughfare, is wanting, in my opinion, in one of the most important elements of a true home.—Boston Transcript.

London's Religious Life.

The bishop of London has recently made public some interesting statistics on the religious life of the great city. According to his figures the average number of communicants at communion services of the Established church during the year was 47,714. At Easter the number rose to 99,000. The average attendance at Sunday morning services was 200,896; at Sunday evening services, 305,496. London is a remarkable church going city, but this exhibit shows that it has about 4,000,000 inhabitants who don't attend the services of the Established church, and that those who do constitute only about one-ninth of the population. —New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Care of Feeble Infants.

Our dispatches announced the other day that a scientific Frenchman had invented an apparatus, something like a chicken incubator, for taking care of babies of low vitality. The idea seems to be that new born infants, so feeble that they cannot be nourished in a natural way, are to be placed in a case of proper temperature and built up artificially. It has frequently been charged against France that there is a scarcity of babies over there. Let us hope that the proposition to take better care of those with which the land is favored will lead to the improvement of the Gallic race.—New York World.

Timely Warning.

Jones sent a friend of his a number of small and light articles in a letter. He added by way of postscript: "Be careful how you break open the envelope."

The treasury of the United States contains $282,000,000 in gold; there is deposited in the National bank of France, $237,000,000; the National bank of Germany holds $107,000,000, while the bank of England, with its $100,000,000, is the least of this great quartet of gold depositories.—New York Star.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid crust, ugly, painful, blotched, and malicious. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your valuable remedies saved his life, and to-day he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some excruciating affection, such as milk crust, scald head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which make life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence a mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and in bestowing upon them a child's greatest inheritance,—skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make full use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved of it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the confidence of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief! all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most offensive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1

LITTLEFIELD'S CONSTITUTIONAL

Cough Syrup!

— FOR —

CHILDREN.

Bedford, Sept. 20, 1887.

MR. C. B. LITTLEFIELD:

Dear Sir:—I wish to say for the benefit of those who are troubled with coughs or colds that they will find a sure cure in the Constitutional Cough Syrup. I have a family of nine children, from three to twenty-one years old, and all have used the Syrup for coughs and colds, and it has never failed to cure them. It is the best cough syrup for children I ever knew, as I have never had to employ a doctor for these diseases, but have cured them with the Constitutional Cough Syrup.

Work on the abutment of the new Boston & Maine railroad bridge at Salmon Falls goes slowly on. The new structure will be much wider than the old, supporting a double track, and will rest upon four massive granite piers 120 feet apart. The first of these, the foundation of which is now being laid, will stand directly upon the river bank. The task will be a long one.

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system.

Among the bills introduced in the house under the new rules is one by Congressman Boutelle of Maine, appropriating $60,000 for the construction of four bridges across the St. John and St. Francis rivers, where they form the boundary between Maine and New Brunswick, provided that the government of Canada appropriate a like sum.

Many suffer rather than take nauseous medicine; and this is not strange, as the remedy is oftentimes worse than the disease. Sufferers from cough, influenza, sore throat, or tendency to consumption, will find in Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry a remedy as agreeable to the palate as effectual in removing disease.

The Providence & Old Colony Union.

The projected lease of the Boston & Providence railroad to the Old Colony is one of those economic moves demanded by the progress of the age. The Old Colony, with its various extensions from Boston to Provincetown, from Lowell to Newport, and from Fitchburg to New Bedford, with numerous branches running all over the southeastern part of Massachusetts, has a large mileage, and seems to completely surround the Providence road, which has connection with it at Mansfield and Attleboro, and at Warren, Rhode Island. The Boston & Providence railroad, with its superb depot accommodations in Boston, always cleanly and cheerful, is a valuable piece of property. The public, however, always gain when a short independent piece of road passes to an integral of a great system. Connections are better assured, freights are speedier carried, and rates of fare to travellers reduced by mileage and other systems of tickets. We shall regret to see the Boston & Providence, so long and so ably managed in its operative department by our son of New Hampshire, Capt. A. A. Folsom, lose its name and place as a trunk line leading to the hub. But when it joins hands with the Old Colony, whose growth and development under the clear-headed Kendrick, whose early training was upon the roads that climbed the hills of the Granite State, we know that whether the captain is to remain in command at his old post or his services are secured by some other line, the B. & P. will continue as in the past, to be well managed, carefully run and successfully operated. The public, of course, will be gainers in many respects by the new step, the permission for which will doubtless be readily granted by the legislature of Massachusetts.

A Huge Strike.

District Assembly 224, Knights of Labor, composed of Reading railroad employes, on the afternoon of the 24th inst. ordered out all the workmen along the line except those in the passenger service. This order calls out 60,000 men, and ties up all freight trains, and stops all coal trains. It calls the workmen from the mines. To the strike in the Lehigh valley mines will be added the mines of the vast anthracite region of the Reading railroad. It practically paralyzes the coal industry of the east. The knights claim that the discharge of the Port Richmond freight handlers for refusing to run cars to a pier where non-union men were employed, was a plain violation of the company's agreement that "Every man employed by the company shall receive a fair and just investigation of any grievances or complaint entered against him before he shall be discharged or suspended." The leaders say the passenger train men will be ordered out if necessary to carry their point, and it has been resolved that no conference will be held with the railroad officials until a guaranty is given that the company will adhere to the agreement, and until after the dismissed men shall have been reinstated.

General Manager McLeod of the railroad says the company will insist on managing its own affairs. The question involved, he contends, is the vital one as to whether the affairs of the road shall be managed by its owners or by its employes. An attempt will be made to get enough non-union men to run the road.

A Philadelphia despatch of the 27th says the executive committee of the railroad employes that day ordered the strikers back, pending the settlement of the dispute by arbitration, and all returned to work.

The United States steamer Enterprise, Comdr. B. F. McCalla commanding, arrived at New London, Conn., Dec. 25th, after a successful search for the big lumber raft abandoned by the Miranda off Nantucket shoals. When the Enterprise was 135 miles southeast by south from the shoals she fell in with an immense number of logs from the raft, proving beyond doubt that the structure had broken up. The steamer was among the logs all day Friday, and part of Friday night. None of the logs were lashed together, but floated singly, and spread as they travelled with the tide. The logs were not in the line of ocean steamships then, but there is no telling when they may be.

A Philadelphia despatch says that Captain Walton, of the schooner C. G. Cranmer, reports that on December 20th he boarded the schooner D. & E. Kelley fifty miles off Cape Henlopen, and found the captain lying dead under the lazaret, with finger marks on his throat, bruises on his head, and pockets ransacked and torn. A pistol was lying on the quarter-deck, one chamber empty. The body was lying in a dry place, apparently carefully hidden, and it was left on the schooner. The D. & E Kelly was abandoned Dec. 19th, while on a voyage from Norfolk for New Haven, and three of her crew arrived at New York by steamer on the 20th. They have been arrested on suspicion of murder, and the derelict schooner will be sought after.

Edward Burgess received as a Christmas gift a check for $10,172, raised in New York city as a testimonial to his skill in designing the Puritan, Mayflower and Volunteer, the victorious yachts in three successive contests for the America's cup.

The schooner N. C. Moseley, of Boston, arrived at Stonington, Conn., Dec. 25th, and landed Borden Manchester of Fall River, the only survivor of the crew of the schooner Mary G. Collins of Philadelphia. The latter vessel went down in a heavy gale, with her captain, mate and four seamen, when the M. C. Moseley's yawl boat was within a few hundred feet of her after a long and perilous pull through a heavy sea. Manchester was found clinging to a plank after the schooner sank.

It is reported that the British cutter Irex has challenged for the America's cup.

It is asserted positively that the bonds stolen from the Saco bank by Fred C. McNeally are safe in the bank's posession. McNeally's crime not being an extraditable offence, he is safe from prosecution so long as he keeps out of the United States.

Miss Romie Ellis' Sabbath school class of children and youth at York beach had a very enjoyable entertainment and Christmas tree in the parlors of the Ocean house on Saturday evening. The exercises consisted of music, reading, singing and recitations; Mr. Herbert Bennett of Brownfield, Me., a talented violinist, gave some fine solos on the violin, and Messrs. Frank and Fred Ellis, the noted bell-ringers, gave some selections on the bells. Miss Ellis was presented with a beautiful autograph album by her scholars as a token of their love and respect, and of their appreciation of the interest which she has manifested in their welfare. Miss Nellie Lord made the presentation speech. It was an occasion long to be remembered by the children, and all others who participated. The Christmas tree was loaded with presents.

A Famous Doctor

Once said that the secret of good health consisted in keeping the head cool, the feet warm, and the bowels open. Had this eminent physician lived in our day, and known the merits of Ayer's Pills as an aperient, he would certainly have recommended them, as so many of his distinguished successors are doing.

The celebrated Dr. Farnsworth, of Norwich, Conn., recommends Ayer's Pills as the best of all remedies for "Intermittent Fevers."

Dr. I. E. Fowler, of Bridgeport, Conn., says: "Ayer's Pills are highly and universally spoken of by the people about here. I make daily use of them in my practice."

Dr. Mayhew, of New Bedford, Mass., says: "Having prescribed many thousands of Ayer's Pills, in my practice, I can unhesitatingly pronounce them the best cathartic in use."

The Massachusetts State Assayer, Dr. A. A. Hayes, certifies: "I have made a careful analysis of Ayer's Pills. They contain the active principles of well-known drugs, isolated from inert matter, which plan is, chemically speaking, of great importance to their usefulness. It insures activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. Ayer's Pills contain no metallic or mineral substance, but the virtues of vegetable remedies in skillful combination."

RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS' HEARING.

The railroad commissioners of New Hampshire were in this city on Tuesday, and had a hearing in the matter of the death of James Stearns, recently killed by being run over by cars at the railroad station in this city. Also in regard to the unknown tramp killed a short time ago at North Hampton.

BAND CONCERT AND FIREMEN'S BALL.

The twelfth annual concert and ball of Kearsarge S. F. E. Co., No. 3, will be given on Friday evening next, Dec. 30th, the concert in Music hall, from eight to nine o'clock, and the ball in Franklin hall immediately afterward, the grand march commencing at 9:15. The concert will be given by Reeves' American Band orchestra of Providence, R. I., eleven pieces, D. W. Reeves director; the programme is published in the advertisement, which can be found in another column. Admission to concert, twenty-five cents: reserved seats, thirty-five cents. Persons holding $1 ball tickets, (or complimentaries,) which admit also to the concert, can secure reserved seats at Goodrich's, by paying ten cents extra for each seat.

The following extract from the Boston Herald gives assurance that all who attend the concert may confidently anticipate a musical treat:

The attraction consisted of a programme of vocal and instrumental music by the Ladies' Schubert quartette and Reeves' American band of Providence, R. I., D. W. Reeves conductor; and the selections, as well as the way in which they were presented, fully merited the enthusiastic applause given by the audience. It is a somewhat notable fact that the band organization directed by Mr. Reeves is, with hardly an exception, American in the fullest significance of the designation, and the general excellence of the work done by its members is, therefore, a cause for just a little national pride. Among the numbers played by the band were solos for the cornet by Mr. Bowen B. Church, and for the piccolo by Mr. Fred Padley. The interpretation of the band's programme showed the skill of Mr. Reeves as a band master most unmistakably, and the effects of light and shade, from pianissimo to forte, were given with remarkable success. The value of such a programme thus presented, as a means of interesting an audience in music as a source of recreation, cannot be overestimated.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Dec. 26th; Buford J.

William Gray and Jeremiah Woodsum, for drunkenness, were fined $3, costs $6.90, each.

Simon G. Smith, big drunk, sixty days at Brentwood, costs $6.90.

There were two drunks and three lodgers in the lockup Monday night, but no court was held Tuesday.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner Annie F. Conlon, Seaward master, arrived in the lower harbor on Sunday night from Norfolk, Va., with about 900 tons of coal to the Boston & Maine railroad. Monday forenoon about nine o'clock, as she was being towed up to the wharf by the tug Clara Batemen, she was kept too close to Badger's island, and took the ledge off the point, where she hung until about 8:30 P. M., when she came off and was berthed at the wharf. She remained upright all the time she was on the ledge, and did not leak any; but the experience could not have done her any good, for she was considerably out of water aft at low tide, and the tugs Clara Batemen, Cocheco and James Sampson failed to haul her off within a short time after she grounded. It is said that Capt. Rand kept nearer the island than he wished, to avoid the schooner Clara E. Simpson, which was coming down river in tow of the Cocheco at the time the Annie F. Conlon was going up.

Capt. Silas Harding of Newcastle has been appointed captain of the life-saving crew to be stationed at Jerry's point.

The schooner Clara E. Simpson, which has just finished discharging a cargo of coal at one of the northend wharves, was on the 26th inst. towed down to C. E. Walker & Co.'s wharf, where she was berthed for a stay of two months, Capt. Hontvet having a year ago had enough of pounding around Cape Cod in the winter to last him over one season.

The schooner Charles E. Balch, which put into Gloucester on the 25th inst. while on the passage from Norfolk, Va., for this port, reported the loss of an anchor and chain off Chatham on Thursday of last week.

Colliers were scarce at Baltimore on the 24th, and coal freights to this port were quoted at $1 85; to Boston and Portland, $1.75 to $2.00.

The steamer Valora, formerly owned in Portland, arrived on this river Saturday night. She has been purchased by Capt. J. C. Hoyt and his father, Thomas Hoyt, both of Kittery Point, and is to be used as a water and freight boat. Her engine is twenty-horse power, and her carrying capacity is 5000 gallons of water and thirty tons of freight. She will also do small jobs of towing. She draws five feet of water, and is an able sea boat.

PERSONAL.

Miss Edith Wendell of Brooklyn, N. Y., was in town Tuesday.

Howe Call, Esq., of New York, has abjured the Cleveland free-trade democracy.

Mr. Edward S. Smart of Somerville, Mass., was one of the former Portsmouth boys who passed Christmas in this city.

A. O. U. W. ELECTION.

Sagamore Lodge, No. 11, Ancient Order of United Workmen, on Monday evening elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

P. M. W., Stephen B. Yeaton;
M. W., Frank P. Leavitt;
Foreman, John E. Milton;
Overseer, Henry C. Hewitt;
Financier, Ernest S. Johnson;
Receiver, John L. Randall;
Recorder, William S. Goodwin;
Guide, Andrew P. Wendell;
I. W., James Rigby;
O. W., H. Amazeen;
Representative to the Grand Lodge, Stephen B. Yeaton; alternate, Andrew P. Wendell; Trustee, James B. Trefethen.

The handsome new hall of the Portsmouth Athletic club was dedicated on Monday evening by an informal entertainment, consisting of vocal and instrumental music, a fine exhibition of club swinging, recitations, and a nice lunch. The party broke up shortly before midnight, after a very pleasantly spent evening.

The dispute over the election of Eastern railroad directors was amicably adjusted on Tuesday.

As a young woman employed as a domestic in the family of Hon. John H. Broughton was proceeding homeward on Saturday evening after doing some Christmas shopping, when on Middle street, about half way home, a man caught her by the throat with one hand, and pointing a pistol at her with the other, demanded her money or her life. He got neither, the outcry she made causing him to skip off in a hurry. It is reported that the fellow is known, and will be called to account for his actions.

We are indebted to Mr. Martin V. Hoyt of this city, who is passing the winter in California and may settle there, for late copies of Pasadena papers.

Mr. Warrington Moulton, letter carrier on the west route, received as a Christmas present a purse of over $20, collected by the ladies residing on that route.

The Austin-Lincoln Association will this year have their annual celebration in honor of Emancipation in Franklin hall, on Tuesday evening, Jan. 3d, the upper hall, where several previous celebrations have been held, not being now open to public hire. The preparations for the ball are more extensive and elaborate than have ever been made by the association before.

Mr. Daniel Webster, formerly of this city, now a resident of San Pedro, Los Angeles county, California, in a recent letter to a friend here says "the boys, if they want to see 'white men' and nice weather, want to come to California. The Grand Army boys beat all, and the K. of P. are first class. It is quite warm, eighty-six in the shade, no overcoat needed; the oranges have just commenced to turn yellow. There has been a white frost a few mornings since I got here, and we can see snow every day on the mountains, which is near enough for me. I work in a lumber yard at $3 per day, and had to do more work in one day in a Portsmouth lumber yard than I do here in a week. Board is the same here as at the east; every house is full, and lots are camping in tents; there are two trains a day over the railroad, and they are loaded with emigrants from all parts of the states. This is a great and glorious country, no mistake."

The Christmas music performed at St. John's church last Sunday forenoon will be repeated next Sunday.

The treasurer of the Cottage Hospital acknowledges most gratefully a gift to the hospital on Christmas eve, of $100 from Hugh W. Greene, Esq.

Lewis E. Staples is showing a full line of Stamped Linen goods, in Tidies, Splashers, Table Scarfs, etc., at low prices.

The Portsmouth Machine Co.

A SPECIAL MEETING of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Machine Company will be held at the office of the company in Portsmouth on Monday, January the ninth, at half-past two o'clock in the afternoon, for the following purposes:

To see if the stockholders will vote to sell and convey all the property of the corporation, real and personal, as contemplated in the vote of said stockholders passed Dec. 19, 1887. To authorize a proper and legal conveyance to be made, executed and delivered of such property, and to transact any other business relative to the sale and disposition of the property of the corporation that may be deemed requisite and proper.

By order of the Directors,
WILLIAM H. HACKETT, Clerk.
Portsmouth, December 27, 1887.

CONTRIBUTORS to Hospitals, Orphan Asylums, etc., etc., can donate nothing more acceptable than pure soap, as it is required hourly. The IVORY SOAP is the best for the purpose, as it is equally well adapted for the laundry, toilet or bath, and is 99 44/100 pure.

R. Ogden Doremus, M. D., LL. D., says: "I subjected various samples of the IVORY SOAP to a rigid microscopical examination. I find it to be free from any forms of animalcular or vegetable germ life, so cordially commend the IVORY SOAP for its unsurpassed detergent properties and purity."

Send your favorite "charity" a box of the IVORY SOAP.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

I have had catarrh for twenty years and used all kinds of remedies without relief. Mr. Smith, druggist, of Little Falls, recommended Ely's Cream Balm. The effect of the first application was magical, it allayed the inflammation and the next morning my head was as clear as a bell. One bottle has done me so much good that I am convinced its use will effect a permanent cure. It is soothing, pleasant and easy to apply, and I strongly urge its use by all sufferers.—Geo. SPOKANE & PALOUSE

(NORTHERN PACIFIC)

RAILWAY COMPANY

FIRST MORTGAGE SINKING FUND SIX PER CENT GOLD BONDS.

DATED MAY 1, 1886, DUE MAY 1, 1922.

INTEREST MAY 1 AND NOV. 1, PAYABLE IN NEW YORK.

The road is leased for 999 years to the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, and the lessee, as part of the rental, agrees to pay the interest on the bonds, and their principal by annual instalments for the sinking fund sufficient to redeem the bonds at or before maturity.

THIS GUARANTEE IS STAMPED ON EACH BOND.

The bonds are issued at the rate of sixteen thousand dollars to the mile of completed road, and are listed in the New York Stock Exchange.

Bonds to meet the requirements of the sinking fund may be called by lot each year, beginning in 1893, at 105 and accrued interest, provided that they cannot be procured in the open market at that price. Bonds purchased or redeemed by operation of the sinking fund shall be cancelled.

All the stock of the Spokane and Palouse Railway Company is held in trust for the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, as security for the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, and the company has in all cases performed every act of its contract with the Spokane and Palouse Company. It has been paid. Should the Northern Pacific Company fail to keep any part of its contract, the stock will revert to the Spokane and Palouse Railway Company, to vested on by the bondholders and owned by them. Thus the road would become the pro rata of the bondholders bond, to secure. (Attention of investors is particularly called to this provision.)

The Spokane and Palouse Railway, an important branch of the Northern Pacific, extends from the main line at Marshall, Washington Territory, (a point near the Idaho line of Spokane Falls and Cheney), in a southerly direction seventy-three miles to Palouse City, on the Palouse River, traversing the most productive section of the "Palouse" country and being the main line to a best tonnage, principally of grain. The country is comparatively well settled, and the south-bound tonnage of coal from the Cascade Divisions and general merchandise is large, at remunerative rates to the railway company. Palouse City is an important milling and lumber point.

Fine sleighing now, and everybody seems to be improving the opportunity for a sleigh ride.

Services were held here in the church on Christmas day, the first time for three weeks.

Capt. James S. Brewster's old shipmates will be surprised to learn that he has given up the ropes and tar for the hammer and saw; such however is the case, and if report is true, he is as skillful with the latter as with the former.

George Todd has moved into his house near the Corner. He has at present several permanent boarders, and furnishes meals and lodging to transient visitors. This is of great convenience to runners, and all whose business calls them to the place for a short time.

Simeon Brackett intends soon to move his portable sawmill to Wells Branch, where he has a large lot of logs to saw into boards and other building material.

Capt. Edwin Donnell of the schooner Sharon is buying wood for the spring trade. Capt. Moses Matthews of the Hattie N. Averill is also buying wood.

The Sunday School Mission Band held a fair on Friday evening at the parsonage; they got a little over six dollars.

Mr. James Weare and wife arrived home from their western visit last Thursday. SUB.

A toilet luxury in every respect, Ayer's Hair Vigor never fails to restore the youthful freshness and color to faded and grey hair. It also eradicates dandruff and prevents the hair from falling.

The Kennebunk (Me.) Journal in a recent editorial furnishes a tabulated statement of republican and democratic pluralities of eight states, viz: Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, Ohio and Iowa, for the years 1883 and 1887. The net republican gain in these states in the present year over 1883 is 103,074. This looks favorable for the campaign of 1888, and is no evidence of the decline in the G. O. P. which is alleged by the democrats to exist.

Chronic Coughs and Colds

And all diseases of the Throat and Lungs can be cured by the use of Scott's Emulsion, as it contains the healing virtues of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites in their fullest form. "I consider Scott's Emulsion the remedy par-excellence in Tuberculous and Strumous Affections, to say nothing of ordinary colds and throat troubles."—W. R. S. CORNELL, M. D., Manchester, O.

A complete menagerie has been sent from London to Barnum & Bailey.

The best testimony in favor of Pyle's Pearline Washing compound is the millions of packages sold every year, and sales steadily increasing in spite of the numerous poor imitations.

—Mamma: "It's very late, Emily. Has anybody taken you down to supper?" Fair Debutante (who has a fine healthy appetite:) "Oh, yes, mamma, several people!"

The Old Dominion Never Tires.

Quite a deal of excitement was created to-day by the announcement that some one here had drawn $15,000 in The Louisiana State Lottery, and there was a general scrutiny of tickets by those who had invested. In a short time it was learned that Mr. T. M. Benson, the efficient chief clerk in the office of the Old Dominion S. S. Co., was the lucky possessor of the ticket.—Norfolk (Va.) Virginian Nov. 11.

That no further evidence is necessary to convince us that

HONEST DEALING

PRESENTATION OF FACTS

Will result other than to our good, and that our

Goods, Prices and Terms

Will continue to be looked upon with favor as long as we do not not materially diverge from the course so long pursued by us.

We earnestly wish every reader of this paper to

SEND FOR CUTS, SAMPLES AND PRICES,

Stating the articles wanted, and remember that when we say we can furnish a house, we do not mean half furnish, for we can supply all with every nameable thing used in a house, and in any grade desired.

We are known in every State in the Union as the

Liberal House Furnishers,

And we have earned the reputation, not solely on account of the small payments at time of purchase, (which are one-quarter of the amount down and the monthly payments thereafter of $5, for a purchase of $50 or less, and $10 for a purchase of $100 or less,) but our prices are below those of any other dealer in the Country, notwithstanding we will deliver all goods to any station in New England free of charge.

WE DO NOT OWN THE RAILROADS!

As some might suppose, but we ship an immense quantity of goods, which is better, we think, and in this we are enabled to successfully compete with the small dealer, and what we save in this way goes into the pockets of our customers.

— WE HAVE —

Four Branch Stores

That are continually drawing from our Main Store at Portland, necessitating an immense stock and a greater variety of goods than is shown by any other House in the Country. It will be seen, by giving the matter a little thought, that we are compelled to not only have on hand a very large line, but the ever moving volume must necessarily allow of nothing but the newest goods upon our floors, and we are continually buying from every Manufacturing State in the Country. The quantities bought by us would astonish even wholesale buyers. Without question, we have under our control,

More Rolls of Carpeting than all the other Stores in the State of Maine

Combined. We have recently given our order for 1000 rolls of matting to be delivered in the early spring. Is it not reasonable to suppose that we can buy 1000 rolls at a less cost than it would be possible were our purchase but 10 or 15 rolls, the usual purchase?

Parlor Suites, Chamber Sets,

Stoves and Ranges, Carpets,

Hall and Dining Room Furniture,

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

The edition for 1888 of the sterling medical annual, known as Hostetter's almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of United States, Mexico, and indeed in every civilized portion of the western hemisphere. This almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for over one-fourth of a century. It combines, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items, etc., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1888 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Co., Pittsburg, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

Aguadilla, a seaport town of Porto Rico, has been greatly damaged by a storm wave which swept away fifty-three houses, destroyed much solid masonry in a cemetery, and carried a number of bodies to sea.

Rules

for the care of the sick. How to cure disease, its symptoms and causes, and other information of great value will be found in old Dr. Kaufmann's great book; 100 pages, fine colored plates. Send three 2 cent stamps to pay postage to A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy free.

Despatches of Dec. 27th from Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Missouri and Minnesota report a blizzard prevailing, with much interruption to railroad travel.

Physicians prescribe Ayer's Sarsaparilla in cases of scrofula, and in every form of chronic disease, because this medicine is safer to take, and is more highly concentrated, than any other preparation. It can always be depended upon as an effective blood purifier.

Many suffer rather than take nauseous medicine; and this is not strange, as the remedy is oftentimes worse than the disease. Sufferers from cough, influenza, sore throat, or tendency to consumption, will find in Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry a remedy as agreeable to the palate as effectual in removing disease.

W. W. Corcoran, the banker philanthropist of Washington, D. C., was eighty-nine years old Dec. 26th. He is very feeble, and can last but little longer.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the cases for which Carter's Iron Pills are specially prepared, and this class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes, at 50 cents. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

At Charlottetown, Prince Edward island, Dec. 27th, Owen Connelly, the wealthiest man in the place, dropped dead in his store while writing an order for a pair of blankets and a load of coal as a Christmas gift for a poor woman. He was rated at $800,000, and leaves no children. He was sixty-seven years old.

To get relief from indigestion, biliousness, constipation or torpid liver without disturbing the stomach or purging the bowels, take a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills, they will please you.

This is Good Enough.

THE MOUND BUILDERS OF OHIO.

Professor Putnam's Address on Ancient Americans.

Professor F. W. Putnam, curator of Peabody museum at Cambridge, Mass., and perhaps the most distinguished archæologist in America, lectured before the Western Reserve Historical society the other evening on the mounds and mound builders of Ohio. Professor Putnam has spent two months in exploring the great serpent mound in Adams county. "There were," said the speaker, "four great antique races on this continent, or the people, if of one race, show a greater diversity than any other on earth. For instance, we found in one mound in Ohio 1,500 skeletons, and these were of various sizes and differed in their characteristics. The four great races can be resolved into two—the long headed people and the people with short and broad heads. There is evidence that the long headed people came from northern Asia, and, crossing Behring strait, continued their way downward as far as California. Then they crossed to the great lakes, went down the St. Lawrence, made their way along the Atlantic coast as far south as North Carolina, and spread themselves into Ohio and Pennsylvania. There is evidence that they resembled the people of northern Asia in face and form.

"The short headed people had the characteristics of the people of southern Asia, and resembled the Malay race. The first traces of them we find in Peru and Central America. From there they worked toward the north into Mexico, New Mexico, Arizona, and following the rivers which empty into the gulf of Mexico, notably the Mississippi, they mingled at last with the long headed people in Tennessee and Ohio, and were finally absorbed by them. The Indian is a descendant of those two races." The speaker then went on to describe the mounds built by these people. He told how the former method of digging a hole in the center of the mound, which was at first practiced by explorers, has been abandoned for a more exhaustive method of research. Professor Putnam does not excavate the mounds, but slices them off in perpendicular sections until the whole mound has been laid open for inspection. He described at length the use of the mounds for burial, and said there were many ways in which the bodies were prepared for interment. Sometimes they were cremated and sometimes simply laid in the ground; sometimes a rough stone tomb surrounded the bodies, sometimes a sort of log house work of timber.

"Besides the burial mounds, there are other mounds," said the speaker. "That is, mounds used for great religious ceremonies. I have been making explorations in the Little Miami valley, and I am glad at this time to pay a tribute to the work of Col. Whittlesay in the Little Miami valley. To him we owe much of our information of the ancient Lake Superior mining, as well as of the mounds of the Little Miami valley. The mounds in that valley are sacred mounds; that is, they were for the purpose of sacrifice and religious ceremonies. On these mounds fires were kindled and sacrifices were made—not human sacrifices, but sacrifices to the fire. In one of these mounds we found terra cotta figures, beautifully carved and perfect representations of people in a perfect attitude of rest, and there was nothing to suggest action. There were, besides, these stone of images of fine shape. There were copper pendants and thousands of copper beads. Many earrings were found of copper covered with native silver, and over 60,000 pearls. It seemed as if all the pearls of all the tribes had been cast upon this altar. We have found these altars in several mounds, and sometimes we found several altars, so you see many of the great mounds were for other purposes than burial."

Having spoken of the mounds, the speaker introduced the subject of the serpent in Adams county. "The serpent," said he, "was worshiped by the Mexicans and Peruvians, and it apparently served some purpose among the ancient people of Ohio. We have one representation of it in Adams county. It is the only one on earth. It is partly of stone, but principally of earth." The speaker then described its size and gave some facts concerning it which are familiar to all people who have read histories of America or even of ancient Ohio. The property surrounding the serpent to the extent of sixty acres has been purchased for the Peabody museum by Boston ladies, and is now in the hands of Professor Putnam, who has already made some explorations into the mounds surrounding and adjacent to the serpent, with very encouraging results. He has found in the mounds skeletons of people who must have belonged to different eras, whose bodies must have been laid in the mound by people who were not aware that mounds had been used by other people for the same purpose before. Professor Putnam hopes to make extensive explorations, from which he thinks valuable facts concerning the mound builders will be learned.—Cleveland Herald.

Flat Headed Indians.

The custom of flattening the heads by pressure was about universal among the Puget Sound Indians. It was done in infancy with a hat made of cedar bark, beaten, pressed steadily on the forehead. It has been so often described by numerous writers that no further description is here necessary. School teachers here have been unable to see any difference between the intellect of those whose heads have thus been flattened and those which are natural. Some of the Indians, however, believe that it has caused numerous headaches among them in after life. Very few infants are thus treated now.—American Antiquarian.

Liberal House Furnishers,

And we have earned the reputation, not solely on account of the small payments at time of purchase, (which are one-quarter of the amount down and the monthly payments thereafter of $5, for a purchase of $50 or less, and $10 for a purchase of $100 or less,) but our prices are below those of any other dealer in the Country, notwithstanding we will deliver all goods to any station in New England free of charge.

WE DO NOT OWN THE RAILROADS!

As some might suppose, but we ship an immense quantity of goods, which is better, we think, and in this we are enabled to successfully compete with the small dealer, and what we save in this way goes into the pockets of our customers.

Four Branch Stores

That are continually drawing from our Main Store at Portland, necessitating an immense stock and a greater variety of goods than is shown by any other House in the Country. It will be seen, by giving the matter a little thought, that we are compelled to not only have on hand a very large line, but the ever moving volume must necessarily allow of nothing but the newest goods upon our floors, and we are continually buying from every Manufacturing State in the Country. The quantities bought by us would astonish even wholesale buyers. Without question, we have under our control,

More Rolls of Carpeting than all the other Stores in the State of Maine

Combined. We have recently given our order for 1000 rolls of matting to be delivered in the early spring. Is it not reasonable to suppose that we can buy 1000 rolls at a less cost than it would be possible were our purchase but 10 or 15 rolls, the usual purchase?

CHILDREN.

Bedford, Sept. 20, 1887.

MR. C. B. LITTLEFIELD.

Dear Sir:—I wish to say for the benefit of those who are troubled with coughs or colds that they will find a sure cure in the Constitutional Cough Syrup. I have a family of nine children, from three to twenty-one years old, and all have used the Syrup for coughs and colds, and it has never failed to cure them. It is the best cough syrup for children I ever knew, as I have never had to employ a doctor for these diseases, but have cured them with the Constitutional Cough Syrup.

More Trouble Feared.

The statement that the Reading railroad labor troubles are to be submitted to arbitration is denied by Austin Corbin, president of the corporation, who says there is nothing to arbitrate. Despatches of Dec. 27th from various points reported that much dissatisfaction had been caused among the men who were ordered back to work, by the announcement that the leaders in the strike at Port Richmond, and the five crews of car shifters who struck under their leadership, would not be taken back by the road on any terms; and it was feared the general strike might be again ordered by the executive committee of the Knights of Labor. The committee charge the road with inciting the trouble, on purpose to bring on a life-and-death fight with the order at the time of the year and under circumstances most unfavorable to the knights.

AFFAIRS IN KITTERY.

KITTERY POINT, ME., Dec. 27th.

It is snowing still and the air is very sharp. The sun is vainly trying to shine through the snow drift in the sky. There are ten or twelve vessels in the lower harbor to-day.

Capt. Hoyt's new steam water boat, the Valora, has arrived from Portland. The boat is of good dimensions, and is quite a nice looking craft.

The Kittery Fish Co. are rushing, day and night. The men worked all night Christmas eve, until daylight Christmas morning.

Miss Hattie Williams was home Sunday, and returned Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pruett spent Christmas at the Eaton homestead.

Fred S. Dame arrived from Nahant in time for the concert Saturday evening, and returned Monday morning.

Mr. Jesse Frisbee and wife spent Christmas out of town.

The Christmas concert at the Christian chapel, Saturday evening, was the most successful one for several years. The walls were very prettily decorated with Christmas mottoes in colors, stars in gold and wreaths in evergreen. Rev. John H. Mugridge, from Newcastle, was present, and offered prayer at the opening of the concert. It has been many years since he was home at Christmas time, and he was gladly welcomed by old and young. The programme was an interesting one, and everything passed off pleasantly. The "Choice of Trades," an exercise by eight little boys, was especially deserving of notice; also the recitations by Rosie Tobey and Lizzie Hobbs. The acting in the character song "Grandma" by Rosie Tobey was very easy and natural. As Christmas eve is children's night, the babies were out in full force. They were remarkably quiet until the entrance of Santa Claus, when he was greeted by a full chorus of infantile voices, not on the programme. It was, however, "short and sweet," and the little ones soon forgot to be afraid of the jolly old fellow, whose ample pockets contained the sweets they loved. After Santa made his best bow and departed, the presents from the tree were distributed. The tree and stage were removed after the concert.

Rev. Lewis W. Phillips, of Rye, delivered a Christmas sermon Sunday afternoon, in which he introduced the words of the decorations. Christmas selections were sung at intervals by the choir. The Bethel service was well attended by the young people in the evening; but one was hardly reminded by the exercises of the evening that it was a sailor's meeting. These Union Bethel meetings were established in the days of Elder Mark Furnald, for the benefit of the seamen, and we hope they may maintain that character. We like "Christmas Puddings," but we don't like them in a Bethel meeting, where intemperance and politics are sandwiched in with the usual service, and the regular exercises are like the plums in a baker's brown loaf, very few and far between.

The Christmas concert at the Freewill Baptist vestry was fully attended, as usual, in spite of the weather. The trees were very pretty, and the concert was interesting. The singing by the school was particularly pleasing. The fresh young voices harmonized perfectly with the Christmas carols they sang. The exercies by the different classes were bright and pretty, and the little ones did well.

The Ladies' Circle will meet with Capt. Richard H. Seaward on Wednesday evening.

We wish our editor and readers a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

The pleasant weather and good sleighing are being enjoyed by many; the smooth condition of the roads at present is in marked contrast to what they have been the past few months.

Frank E. Donnell of Dover, N. H., was in town on Saturday last.

Morrill Lodge of Good Templars, of North Kittery, will celebrate its anniversary on Friday evening, Jan. 13th, by a pound party; it is proposed to hold the party among themselves, and no one outside the lodge will be allowed to partake without a written invitation signed by some member.

The Second Methodist and Second Christian societies observed Christmas by festivals in their respective churches on Friday and Saturday evenings of last week.

GRAND LODGE MEETING.

The meeting of the Grand Lodge of Masons in Manchester Tuesday called together many of the representative men of the state and the proceedings were of a character calculated to please every one of the 400 or more Masons in attendance as the work of the lodge degrees received brilliant exemplification. The second degree was worked by St. John's lodge, No. 1, of Portsmouth, the following named being the officers: Edward W. Riley, W. M.; Albert R. Junkins, S. W.; John D. Randall, J. W.; Frank J. Philbrick, treasurer; Lemuel T. Davis as secretary; Fred H. Ward, S. D.; Daniel M. Camp, J. D.; Robert King, chaplain; William G. Billings, marshal; Maurice C. Foye, S. S.; Arthur G. Brewster, J. S.; William F. Batten as tyler.

Of the work it is said the degrees were worked in a beautiful manner, the work being exemplified to the supreme satisfaction of everybody present. One of the pioneer Masons of Manchester was heard to say that he never saw the work performed better and clearer than it was yesterday, and compliments in regard to its magnificent character were heard on all sides.

After the exemplification of the work in the evening the lodge repaired to the banquet hall where a bountiful collation was served for 500 Masons. The supper was followed by remarks by some of those present.

Both St. John's and St. Andrew's lodges of this city were well represented at the meeting, which was one of the most successful ever held.—Times.

MARITIME NOTES.

The cause of the schooner Annie F. Conlon grounding on the ledge off Badger's island point on the 26th inst. is alleged to be the incorrect charting of the bottom there. According to the report of the United States engineer under whose supervision the work of excavating the ledge at that place was carried on, there should have been at least twenty feet of water over the rock at the time the schooner hung upon it, though she was drawing only seventeen feet of water. Had she gone half her width nearer the island or farther from it, she would have had three feet of water under her keel; but at the spot where she grounded there is a narrow ridge extending about twenty feet along the ledge at nearly right angles with the river's course, and rising three feet or more above the plane of the ledge. This obstruction was not discovered by the engineer's soundings, and it was left for the schooner's keel to find it. The mishap might easily have been far more serious than it proved.

Captain McKinnon, of the schooner Ada M. Hall, at Gloucester from Grand banks, reports that on December 7th he boarded the schooner Cordelia, dismasted, waterlogged and abandoned. A man was fished from the cabin in a decomposed state, but was let go. It is supposed the Cordelia belonged in Shelburne, N. S., as a vessel of that name was lost on Grand bank in the gale of August, with all her crew.

There is a movement on foot in the New York maritime exchange to invoke the aid of the national authorities in preventing James Leary, the owner of the lost timber-raft, from making the attempt again. Leary it is said is determined to build and ship two other consignments of timber, and the members of the maritime exchange hope to prevent him executing his promise.

The economical business character of the present administration has such a strong hold upon the confidence of the country that the fraud cry of free trade does not seem to have its desired effect.—Manchester Union.

That is unquestionably so; it is having exactly the contrary effect from what the president and his advisers expected.

The First Symptoms
Of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

THE WEATHER.

For New England to-day:—

Snow, followed by colder, clearing weather, high winds, becoming westerly.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, indicated 22 degrees above zero.

Clear.

CHANGE OF WEATHER.

The weather, which for almost a week, up to midnight on Tuesday, the 27th inst., had been as fine as though made to order for Christmas-tide, then took a change for the worse; the wind hauled around to the southward and eastward and began to breeze up, the sky became overcast, and about three o'clock Wednesday morning a light snow commenced to fall, and continued at intervals until ten or eleven o'clock in the forenoon, when rain began, and from that time till dark there was a quite heavy fall of water, a howling southeaster at the same time making the umbrella a delusion, a snare and a nuisance to the unfortunate one who attempted to carry it open. The barometer, which at eight o'clock Wednesday morning stood at 30.28 inches, at seven o'clock in the evening was down to 29.23, a fall of over an inch. There was but little rain after six o'clock in the evening, and before nine o'clock the moon was showing occasionally through the rifts in the clouds as they drove swiftly across the heavens before the still strong winds, now hauling toward the west. The afternoon, during the height of the storm, was as unpleasant a one to be out in as we have had for many months.

MARINE DISASTERS.

The schooner Kate Mitchell, Capt. Oliver, of and for Bath from Boston, light, after riding out the gale of the 28th inst. in the lower harbor all right during the day, dragged her anchors in the evening, and went ashore on the rocks under Fort McClary, a short distance west of the old wharf. Capt. Duncan of the steamer James Sampson received a call at 9:30 o'clock, and reached the place with the steamer about 10:30, but before his arrival the schooner had chafed through and sunk, and only her masts were showing above water. She is a nearly new vessel, and will probably be easily raised.

The schooner Golden Gate, Amee master, parted one of her chains, dragged the other anchor, and went through the steamer James Sampson's wharf, knocking away three sections of it, and having her starboard quarter stove.

There were about thirty vessels in the lower harbor during the storm.

THE WICKED CAN GET ALONG WELL ENOUGH.

Mr. Editor: The snow of the 28th inst., followed by rain, rendered the sidewalks, which were covered with a glare of ice, nearly impassable for ladies, or for any one not especially sure-footed. An ex-mayor of the city, who during his incumbency was noted for the keen attention he caused to be paid to the condition of the sidewalks, on being interrogated as to where was the sand which should have been sprinkled on the walks, replied "Down in the gravel pit." The steps of the custom house building were dangerous of access, and the sidewalks in front of the post-office were difficult and perilous to travel over, the United States government, with hundreds of millions in the treasury, being too parsimonious to allow of reasonable precautions against accidents. When Col. Peirce was postmaster, and Mr. Howard custodian of the federal building, the steps and sidewalk, on such a day as yesterday, would be sanded a half-dozen times; and a dozen times, if half a dozen were not enough. The street commissioner seemed oblivious of the fact that there were slippery sidewalks in the city, and as in some Cape Cod towns, pedestrians were obliged to take the middle of the street. Look out for bills for damages resulting from falls, before the board of aldermen very soon.

WALKER.

MORE COMING.

The Manchester Union, which is as solid for Cleveland and all he does or may do as any mugwump reform organ can be, tenders to the Mirror the following information:

The Union is pleased with Secretary Fairchild's order cutting off a large number of useless employes in the custom houses. The present administration has been doing a great deal of such work, and we are glad that our neighbor has caught on to it, because in the next five years it will have occasion to notice much more of the same good work.

Respectfully referred to the spared monuments still in the Portsmouth custom house.

CANNOT STAND FREE TRADE.

The following is from the Boston Journal of Dec. 27th:

Howe Call, Esq., a lawyer of New York city, formerly of Portsmouth, N. H., one of the most successful campaign speakers whom the democratic national committee sent into the west in 1884, is disgusted with his party's attitude toward the tariff and other questions, and has renounced the democracy and become a republican. In a letter to Hon. Gilman Marston of Exeter, N. H., he writes that "next year I shall do my best in behalf of American labor and American industry, and endeavor to have Mr. Cleveland and his party mustered out." Mr. Call is an orator of considerable repute. It is said of him that he did more than any other New Hampshire man except Frank Jones to secure the election of President Cleveland, and his apostacy will be a telling blow to the democrats of the Granite State.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

The anniversary exercises at the Methodist church begin this evening and continue until next Tuesday evening. Thursday evening, general class; Friday evening, historical meeting, address by Mr. John Dame and the pastor; Saturday evening, watch night services, beginning at 8 o'clock and continuing until midnight; Sunday, 10:30, sermon by Rev. J. M. Buckley, L. L. D., of New York; 2:45, communion service; 7 o'clock, sermon by Rev. C. B. Pitblado; Monday, 7:30 p. m., lecture by Mr. Pitblado on "Men and Women for the Times." Admission 25 cents. Tickets for sale at Goodrich's Friday morning, and at the door on Monday evening. The exercises will close with the prayer meeting Tuesday evening.

PYTHIAN KNIGHTS' ELECTION.

At a regular meeting of Damon Lodge, No. 9, Knights of Pythias, held Tuesday evening, Dec. 27th, the following were elected officers for the ensuing term:

Frederick Watkins, C. C.;
Charles H. Kennison, V. C.;
Henry H. Cobbett, P.;
Caleb N. Lord, M. of E.;
Thornton Betton, M. of F.;
James O. Spinney, M. A.;
Frank J. Philbrick, Edward W. Riley, Gustave Peyser, Trustees.

A pension has been granted to Nancy Marden of this city, widow of David N. Marden.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 28th; Bufford J.

James Perkins, drunk, fined $3, costs $6.90. He hails from Dover, and had better do his getting drunk there, the tariff being lower in Dover than in this city.

The rain of Wednesday spoiled the nice sleighing, and washed it all away. There is little cause to grumble, however, for the travelling and weather were both excellent at Christmas and just before—the time of all the year when such a state of affairs is pleasing to the merchants of the city, and nearly every one else. We do not remember when there was so good sleighing, and for so long a time, with so small an amount of snow.

The Christmas supper and entertainment by the Court street Christian society which was to have been held last evening in Franklin hall, was postponed to this (Thursday) evening at the same place and hour.

Lovers of ham or bacon of the very finest quality and most delicate flavor are referred to the advertisement of Chas. E. Laighton & Son, sole agents in this city for Cassard's "Star brand" mild-cured goods.

There have been shipped from the Greenland station of the Boston & Maine railroad this fall over 8,000 barrels of apples, the price averaging about $2 per barrel. A considerable quantity has also been shipped from there in bulk.

In Boston on the 28th inst. Boston & Maine railroad stock sold at $210 per share; Portland, Saco & Portsmouth at $120; Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway at $108; Eastern railroad 6's, 1906, 121; Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway 4 1-2s, 1937, 100.

Heard in Moses Brothers' newspaper store Saturday evening:

"O, have a copy of the Times?" enquired a husband who had made several purchases.

"Now Jo.s," exclaimed the wife, "what do you want of the Times, I would like to know?"

"Why," explained the casual reader, "I want to see if the Times endorses the administration's action in reducing the force in the custom houses!"

She permitted the purchase.

The ocean telegraph conveys intelligence of the death of Mr. Charles D. March, a part owner of the March farm in Greenland. Mr. March died in Paris on the 26th inst. He was of the Harvard college class of 1880, and for some years past had been in Europe.

The News and Courier of Charleston, S. C., says: "The concerts of Reeves' band continue to grow in favor as the admirable playing of the musicians is talked about. It is no exaggeration to say that better music than the concerts of this band has never been heard in the south." At Music hall to-morrow evening; see advertisement.

There were a few arrivals of schooners on Tuesday, Dec. 27th, with fish, among them being the Sarah E. Babson with 15,000 lbs., the Albert Woodbury with 7,000, and the Abby A. Snow with 5,000; prices averaged about $2 per hundred lbs. On Wednesday there were no arrivals, the entire fishing fleet lining the wharves during that day and night; a few vessels which had trawls out attempted to go out and haul them in the forenoon, but gave it up as a bad job.

MASON & HAMLIN ORGANS.

The cabinet organ was introduced in its present form by Mason & Hamlin in 1861. Other makers followed in the manufacture of these instruments, but the Mason & Hamlin Organs have always maintained their supremacy as the best in the world.

Mason & Hamlin offer, as demonstration of the unequalled excellence of their organs, the fact that at all of the great World's Exhibitions since that of Paris, 1867, in competition with best makers of all countries, they have invariably taken the highest honors. Illustrated catalogues free.

PIANOS.

Mason & Hamlin's Piano Stringer was introduced by them in 1882, and has been pronounced by experts the "greatest improvement in pianos in half a century."

CHILDREN.

Bedford, Sept. 20, 1887.

MR. C. B. LITTLEFIELD,

Dear Sir:—I wish to say for the benefit of those who are troubled with coughs or colds that they will find a sure cure in the Constitutional Cough Syrup. I have a family of nine children, from three to twenty-one years old, and all have used the Syrup for coughs and colds, and it has never failed to cure them. It is the best cough syrup for children I ever knew, as I have never had to employ a doctor for these diseases, but have cured them with the Constitutional Cough Syrup.

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

The edition for 1888 of the sterling medical annual, known as Hostetter's almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of United States, Mexico, and indeed in every civilized portion of the western hemisphere. This almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for over one-fourth of a century. It combines, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items, etc., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1888 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Co., Pittsburg, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

The British steamship Newcastle City, 2129 tons register and valued at $100,000, with a cargo valued at $75,000, was totally wrecked on Nantucket South shoal Dec. 23d; the crew of twenty-five men escaped to the lightship.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the cases for which Carter's Iron Pills are specially prepared, and this class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes, at 50 cents. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

Benson Sewall, only son of Prof. Sewall of Bangor, Me., Theological seminary, was drowned Dec. 28th by breaking through the ice while skating. He was a graduate of Bowdoin.

Physicians prescribe Ayer's Sarsaparilla in cases of scrofula, and in every form of chronic disease, because this medicine is safer to take, and is more highly concentrated, than any other preparation. It can always be depended upon as an effective blood purifier.

Fred Warden disguised himself as a woman at Grand Rapids, Mich., and secured employment as a nurse girl in one of the most aristocratic families, about ten weeks ago. One day the other servants discovered Sallie Wilson, as the new nurse called herself, shaving.

Many suffer rather than take nauseous medicine; and this is not strange, as the remedy is oftentimes worse than the disease. Sufferers from cough, influenza, sore throat, or tendency to consumption, will find in Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry a remedy as agreeable to the palate as effectual in removing disease.

To get relief from indigestion, biliousness, constipation or torpid liver without disturbing the stomach or purging the bowels, take a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills, they will please you.

Judge Charles Allen refuses to order a new trial in the Codman will case at Boston. He sustains the verdict, except so far as it finds that there was evidence of undue influence on the part of Mr. Dexter and Mr. Hodgdon.

SAVED HIS LEG!

SCROFULA

OF THE

BONE CURED!

LITHONIA, GA., August 11, 1887.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.:

Gentlemen—I have been afflicted with ulceration of the leg ever since I was a child, the disease undoubtedly being hereditary, as my mother suffered from scrofulous symptoms. As I advanced to manhood my affliction increased until the malady became intensely painful beyond the power of words to describe. My right leg particularly became fearfully involved, the left leg being less painfully affected. Finally, about fourteen years ago, the ulcers on my right leg had eaten through the flesh into the bone. In order to save my life the doctors determined to amputate my leg below the knee. The operation was successfully performed by Drs. H. V. M. Miller, of Atlanta, and Dr. W. F. Bond, of Lithonia. But the loss of my leg gave me only temporary relief. The poison was still in my system and soon began to show itself again. In a short time after large ulcers appeared on my left leg, covering it from the knee to the instep. Frequently while at work I could be tracked by the blood which oozed from the huge ulcers, and the sores and rottening holes were so offensive that my fellow-workmen could not stand the stench, and would move away from me.

Last winter I was persuaded to try S. S. S. As a last effort I consented to do so, and about seven months ago I began taking the Specific. I soon began to feel the good effects of the medicine, the offensive running began to grow less and less and finally ceased, the ulcers healed, my flesh became firm and solid, and to-day, after using twenty-one bottles, I am as hale and stout a man of my age as there is in Georgia. I am seventy-one years old, but feel now younger and stronger than I did when I was twenty-five. I weigh about 170 pounds. Nothing is to be seen of the terrible disease, or to remind me of the torture I suffered for so many years, except the scars of the perfectly healed ulcers.

I want the world to know of the almost miraculous cure effected on me by S. S. S., and I call upon those who wish to know the particulars directly from me to write, and I will consider it a pleasure as well as a duty to answer their letters. I refer to Dr. W. F. Bond, of Lithonia, for the truth of my statement. Very gratefully yours,

R. DRAKE.

ART AMONG SAVAGES.

Tracings of the Cave Dwellers—Arctic Tribes—On the Loango Coast.

Dr. Richard Andree, in reviewing the art productions of savage tribes as shown by their drawings, emphasizes the great development which this talent can attain in conjunction with a low state of psychical development. Travelers often mention the power of savages to rapidly sketch characteristic figures, and among the oldest relics of the cave dwellers we find distinct tracings of animal forms. As in so many other respects an analogy is present between the drawings of primitive men and of children. Figure sketching (in outline) and ornamentation are the prominent characteristics of both, while the power of landscape painting, as well as a sense for natural beauty, is a much later acquisition. Among the forms drawn plants are seldom found; what is full of motion and life—the horse, etc.—first attracts attention, and is transferred to bone, clay or stone.

At times ornamental and figure work go together, but much oftener a development of the one or other alone is possible. The Maoris and Fiji islanders confine themselves to ornaments, and seldom draw a figure. Among the Australians the development of ornamentation has stopped at a certain stage—with recurrent stereotyped forms of wedges, crosses and "herring bone" patterns — while scenes from their doings are recorded with much fidelity, and color is often used to lend reality to the design. The Bushmen excel in painting (though without perspective), and trace with great accuracy the scenes of daily life, of hunting, warring, etc. As figure painting allows of very various development, we find different styles of conventionalism—the art of ancient Peru is a notable example—in different tribes. Other peoples —and here the Arctic tribes stand in the first rank—aim at a faithful representation here: ornamentation finds no place, and such subjects as fishing, sleighing, etc., are the usual ones. The attempts at human forms are often failures; but the drawings of their most common animals, as the reindeer, are sufficiently exact to serve as a means of zoological identification.

Even the humorous is found on the primitive "canvas," and especially among the fun loving negro tribes. Exaggeration of small peculiarities (as in children) is the marked trait. The natives of Loango coast carve in a spiral on elephant's tusks a whole carnival of ridiculous figures—sailors, officers, savants, etc.

The material of the artist is very various. Many cut and daub their utensils; the Peruvians decorate their woven fabrics; the Australians draw on blackened bark; the Africans carve in ivory. The universal imitative bent, of which the desks and walls of a schoolroom often show striking evidence, appears in many curious savage "art galleries." On the island of Depuch, off the northwest coast of Australia, are found scratched on the smooth rock a crowd of men, birds, fish, crabs, bugs, etc., and colored black, white, red, yellow and (seldom) blue. This seems to have been a pastime of these fishermen for generations.

While the drawing talent is thus quite a general one, the possibility of a large development of it is limited. It usually stagnates in conventionalism, and seldom reaches the stage, as it does in the Eskimo, of being utilized as a pictographic language.

In conclusion, Dr. Andree calls attention to the fact that almost everywhere the men alone are the artists. In one case this rather anomalous phenomenon leads to curious results. Among the Papuans of New Guinea, vessels and implements of wood are quite generally decorated, while the pots made by the women are devoid of all ornamentation.—Science.

A Parisian "Spell of Weather."

I suppose Paris has never had a "spell of weather" equal to that of the last few weeks. Dark, cold, dismal, forbidding, sickly, wet, throat destroying, grippe inspiring. We are paying, perhaps, for the most glorious, warm, bright summer in the annals of the almanac maker. To me it is especially cheerless, coming up as I did from the glorious weather and the cloudless skies of Aix, which is a "beaker full of the warm south," and I immediately took the Paris grippe, my only comfort being that I was in the height of the fashion, every one else having it as well, or as ill.

I think the French language is especially eloquent in phrases which express this complaint. "Phthisie pulmonaire," sounds like a sneeze; "inflammations aigues" reads very shivery; "catarrhe pulmonaire" expresses that affreuse maladie much better than our simple phrase, and I take great pleasure in reading the statement of my feelings in the etiquette of my "Sirop Lenitif Pectoral." "Des affections des poumons" are more interesting than could be the affections of Paul and Virginia. "Les divers phenomenes que presentent ces maladies" sounds much more dignified than "symptoms," and so the eloquent and dramatic French tongue has been of infinite solace —the more so that an utter "extinction de voix" has prevented me from using my own.—Mrs. John Sherwood in New York World.

Life at Santa Barbara is mostly an outdoor one. Up to the present time the decrees of fashion have not begun to restrict and restrain one, and as a result the resident is free to do as he pleases. In no other village in America is housekeeping reduced to such a minimum of care as Santa Barbara. The open hospitality of the people is proverbial. Friends "drop in" to luncheon without invitation and as a matter of course. Conventional rules are observed, to be sure, but do not restract one in his enjoyment. People live quietly. Nature compels placidity of temperament and invites good will and pleasure.—Harper's Magazine.

THE KING'S SECRET;

OR

Feridoon. The Lion-Hearted.

BY AUSTIN C. BURDICK.

Among all the cities of the old, the ruins of which are now left to tell of the mighty age that has long since passed away, none exceed in extent, in wealth or in grandeur, Persepolis, the chief capital of ancient Persia. At the foot of a steep, rugged mountain was extended a wide plain, watered by a goodly river. Upon all sides this plain was shut in by high cliffs of rock, looming darkly in the distance, leaving the level space some five-and-twenty miles in length, and upon this was the city built, occupying the whole vast area.

The wealth of the royal palace almost exceeded belief. It was a vast structure, serving not only for the royal residence but also for a citadel and bulwark. Its colonnade of massive pillars still stands, and is a fit object of wonder. The interior of the kingly abode was literally cased with gold and precious stones, and to count or estimate the wealth there displayed were a task beyond the ability of one man.

Truly the king of Persia had wealth, for his capital contained within itself the wealth of a nation. And he had power, for thousands on thousands bowed down to do him homage, and princes and potentates acknowledged his authority.

Next in importance among the palaces of Persepolis to that of the king was the palace of Rustem, one of the most powerful satrads, or governors, of the realm. Rustem was now past the meridian of life but still strong and vigorous, and fond of all those manly sports which were the delight of the warrior race of that period. He was a favorite of the king, a friend to those who bowed to him, and sometimes generous and benevolent to the poor. He could be warm and ardent in his attachments, and he could love with his whole heart; but there was no principle, no moral obligation felt by him. He was the slave of impulse, and the owner of a will that would not bend. Very slight causes would arouse his anger and hate.

Above all things else did he love to be honored and obeyed and flattered. Disobey him and he was your enemy; trample upon his authority and his hate was deadly. Under such circumstances the friendship of years would be cast off in an instant, and his dagger might seek the very heart that he had hung upon in love for a long, long while.

Such was Rustem, and such was the man upon whom the king relied for much of his power and advice. Of course such a man would have many friends and some enemies; he would have strong friends and enemies most bitter.

One thing alone troubled Rustem exceedingly.

He had yet no children.

He had married many wives, but no heir came yet to inherit his title and his wealth. He at times wished that some one would give him a child, for he felt that there was a very large space in his heart at present unoccupied. Perhaps it was so, for the satrap had now passed over 30 years of maturity—30 years had passed away since he became of paternal age, and daring all that time he had prayed for a child.

It was a morning in early summer.

Rustem had been engaged one whole month in business for the king, and now he was determined to have some recreation.

He took with him 20 men in all, armed with axes, spears, bows and knives, and with the best horses the kingdom could afford he set out. His course was to the northeast, towards the Hetzendarra mountains, where there were to be found all sorts of wild game, even camels and buffalos. The first night Rustem stopped at a little hamlet at the foot of the mountains, where lived some peasants and hunters, having ridden over 50 miles from the great city. The poor people here knew him well and he was treated with much respect.

In the evening, after wine had been drank and supper eaten, an old hunter named Bal, who had ranged over the mountains many years in search of game, made a movement as though he would speak with the satrap.

"What is it?" asked Rustem, who noticed the movement.

"I wished to tell your excellency of a most curious animal that dwells among the mountains."

"Ah," uttered Rustem, who was ever on hand for anything curious or wonderful, "go on and tell me, good Bal."

"It is a most curious animal, sir, and such an one as I never saw before. I first saw it about three weeks ago, and several times have I seen it since; but I can not get near it. Once I was near enough to throw my javelin. I threw it with all my might, and the animal caught it in his paws and broke it in pieces. Then he commenced to hurl great rocks at me, and I was forced to retreat."

"But how does the animal look?" asked Rustem, who had become much interested.

"Why, he looks something like a huge monkey. He runs sometimes on all fours, but he runs the fastest when erect. But the most curious thing is that he is always with a flock of wild goats, and he seems bent on protecting these goats in preference to himself."

"It must be some afrite or some ghoul," said Rustem.

"So I have thought," added the old hunter, with an involuntary shudder.

"And yet I must find him," resumed the satrap. "You shall go with me to-morrow, Bal, and we will surround and capture the thing."

This was agreed to, and at an early hour the party retired. All night did Rustem either dream or lie awake and think of the strange animal of which he had heard. From Bal's description he thought it might be some wicked afrite or genie who thus wandered among the mountains and debated much within himself whether it would be safe to attach such a power. But he had said that he would hunt for it, and he wished not his followers to think him cowardly; and, besides, his curiosity was wonderfully excited, and he wished to satisfy it.

In the morning the satrap was ready betimes, and at an early hour his party set out, accompanied by Bal. Shortly they began to ascend the mountain, and though the way was rugged and dubious, yet Bal led them up surely. When they reached the top of the first mountain they saw a vale ahead of them in which the grass grew luxuriantly, and which was wooded mostly with trees of the pistachio nut.

In this vale Bal said he first saw the strange animal, and so the party descended into it, but nothing was to be found save some birds and small animals. Rustem brought down two large birds with his arrows and then kept on. Bal now led them over the top of another mountain, and from thence through a long, rugged, winding ravine, and not until noon did they reach another vale where vegetation was plenty. But when they did reach this second vale they found it not only more extensive than the first, but far more beautiful. It was a sort of a basin of rich soil, amid the surrounding mountains of rock, and it was seldom visited by man, on account of the rugged way that led to it, and from the fact that very few knew the only path by which it could be reached.

After viewing the beautiful place for some minutes, the party began slowly to descend towards it. They saw many wild goats frisking about among the trees, and just as they reached the edge of the place they started up a wild boar.

Rustem saw the huge animal start, and with a shout to his followers he set forward upon the chase.

Away went the boar, and away went the satrap, and behind him came the score of men, eager for the sport. The boar ran a long distance among bushes and rank weeds, and, all heedless of scratches and rending garments, Rustem followed on.

At length they came to an open space, and when the boar was half way across the satrap let fly a javelin; the weapon struck the monster just behind the shoulder, and he turned. He rolled over upon the grass, and this served to drive the javelin further into his flesh. Rustem had watched his movements, and as soon as he rolled over upon the ground, the noble hunter sprang from his horse, and running quickly up, he gave the animal a blow upon the forehead with his axe that stunned him.

After this the brute was easily dispatched.

Rustem was now all elate and eager. He was fired with enthusiasm, and was ready to attack anything that should present itself. As soon as the boar was dead the satrap remounted his horse, and at that moment a shout from Bal arrested him.

"There, there!" cried the old hunter, rushing towards the noble, and at the same time pointing off towards a point where a herd of goats were huddled together.

Rustem looked, and he saw in the midst of the goats the animal of which Bal had spoken. He at first approached it carefully, and found it to be standing upright. Its head was covered with a thick mass of black hair, which hung like the mane of a buffalo or lion. The body was of a curious shape, and of a green color, seeming to be covered with scales. As soon as Rustem had satisfied himself with gazing upon the strange nondescript he gave the word for the chase; but he was careful to order his followers not to wound him in any way, unless it should become absolutely necessary, as he wished to capture the thing if possible.

"By the spirit of Ahrina," he cried, "I never dreamed of such a monster. It is neither a man, a beast, nor a bird; nor is it a dragon, for it has no tail of such. See those green scales, how they glisten in the sunlight. If it is a demon, I will give it chase, and surely the name of the one mighty God will be proof against his power."

As he thus spoke he set forward and his party followed on after him. The nondescript watched his coming a few minutes, and then sprang into the bushes and disappeared, most of the goats following after him.

Rustem urged his horse on, and when he had cleared the clump of bushes he saw the strange animal just bounding away toward the rocks at the edge of the wood.

Away he went, his horse now thoroughly excited with the idea of the chase, and soon he found himself flying along a rocky ravine with the nondescript only a short distance ahead.

Further on Rustem saw a cliff which rose directly across the ravine, and he thought he suould surely secure the animal there; but he was mistaken, for when it reached the cliff it sprang up the rugged side of rock with incredible agility, and in a moment more would have disappeared.

The satrap was now beside himself with excitement. He saw that he should not be able to make his way over the cliff which the nondescript had mounted with so much agility, except with much time and labor, and if another moment was lost he should lose his prey.

So in the frenzy of the moment he snatched a javelin and hurled it with all his might.

The strange being saw the movement, and he caught the weapon as it went whizzing by him, and broke it in pieces. Some of the others, seeing the movement of their master, hurled their javelins.

The nonderscript saw them coming, but he could not dodge them all; one of them struck him in the thigh, and he set up a howl of rage that made the very rocks shake, and then disappeared for the moment over the cliff. The next chapter of this thrilling and fascinating

"Turn About is Fair Play."

Up to the year 1877, nearly all the locomotives on the Reading railroad were run by members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. In that year Franklin B. Gowen, then president of the road, issued orders that they must either leave the brotherhood or the employ of the company. A long and bitter struggle followed, and Reading, Pa., was the battle ground of that great labor fight. Some deserted the brotherhood and stuck to the company, and have since been known to the brotherhood as "scabs," though they and the other new men who took the strikers' places, have since become Knights of Labor. A great riot resulted from the strike of 1877, and before the revolt was crushed the military had to be called out and in one night killed eleven citizens of Reading, and wounded about thirty. The brotherhood was crushed then, largely by aid of the engineers who a few days ago, as Knights of Labor, left their engines at the order of their society officers. This gave the old strikers, belonging to the brotherhood, an opportunity to retaliate in kind, and they hastened to respond to the railroad company's call for new men, and were as promptly accepted and assigned to the best engines on the road, with a positive assurance that they will not be displaced to make room for returning strikers. It is not easy to discern how the late strikers can get up much of an outcry against the action of the men whom they supplanted in a similar manner ten years ago.

Plain Statements.

Rev. F. T. McCarthy, S. J., recently lectured in the Church of Our Lady of Perpetual Help at Boston Highlands, in aid of the parochial school. His subject was "Education and Educators," and in the course of his remarks he denied that the State has any right whatever to be an educator. He denounced the public school system of the United States as "a national fraud" instead of a national institution, and said "it must cease to exist, and the day will come when it will cease to exist." We have room for but one brief extract from the published report of his lecture, as follows:

But perhaps this is simply my opinion! Dearly beloved, I did not come here to give my opinion. I came here to give the teaching of the Catholic church. What is the teaching of the Catholic church? That parents may not send their children to godless schools unless a certain necessity arises. * * Allow me to read a few passages from a work by Father Connolly of the Society of Jesus: "The Sacred Congregation of the Inquisition in a detailed instruction to the bishops of the United States concerning the public schools June 30, 1876, after quoting the last sentence of the above citation, adds the following words: These words, inasmuch as they are based on the natural and divine law, enunciate a general principle which holds universally and refers to all places where this most destructive system has been unfortunately introduced. It is, therefore, necessary that the illustrious prelates should by all possible means keep the flocks intrusted to their charge aloof from the corrupting influences of the public schools."

A "Society" Sensation.

"Society" in Washington, Baltimore and other places was astonished a week or two ago by the marriage of Bessie Hillyer, only daughter of Judge Hillyer of Baltimore, who is reported to be worth $8,000,000, and Grassie Bulkley of the same city. The bride, who is but eighteen years old, was to have been married the following week to Mr. Trenholme, comptroller of the currency. Now a suit to annul her marriage with Bulkley has been commenced, on the ground that neither of the parties is of legal age. Bulkley being only twenty years old; he is charged with perjury in swearing that he was twenty-one, so as to secure a license to marry.

A "FLYING DUTCHMAN" STORY.

A Strange Sight at Sea—Adventure with a Phantom Ship.

One of these accounts was given by the captain of a large brig, whose veracity and common sense could not be doubted. The story was that while becalmed some miles off the New England coast a deep resonant blast, or prolonged groan, suddenly startled the sailors from their quarters below deck. Those on duty were so dumfounded by the strange, unearthly noise that they were rooted to the deck and unable to move. In a few moments every one was ready for orders. A second prolonged groan, that seemed to die away in the distance, like the whistle of a hurricane, convinced all that the noise did not proceed from the ship itself. There was scarcely wind enough to keep the sails full, although now and then a little puff would sweep across the ocean and give the ship a strong forward impulse, but not enough to make any noise among the shrouds. Every few moments the deep resonant blast broke upon the ears of the astonished sailors, the captain included, and then died away in a prolonged howl or whistle.

Things were becoming quite exciting on board the vessel, when suddenly a strange sight loomed up out of the darkness. A great dark object was floating along on the waves, surmounted by a cloud of white canvas, that seemed three times the size of an ordinary vessel's rig. The whole object was very indistinct, but the outlines of the sails and hulk were plain enough to convince any one of the reality of the ship's presence. The captain hailed the strange apparition, but the only answer he received was another unearthly blast. The prow of the good ship was turned towards the white vision; but the sailors had now become thoroughly alarmed, and in spite of the captain's orders and threats the vessel was headed directly from the Flying Dutchman, and not until the startling whistles and blasts were no longer audible did the sailors dare to speak in tones above a whisper.

It is needless to say that the captain felt angry at this result of his venture with the phantom ship. He was convinced that, once having lost the opportunity to investigate this strange specter, he would never meet with another chance. Contrary to his expectations, however, he was rewarded with another opportunity. A year later he was sailing over the same course, when the sailors were once more startled by the unaccountable blasts and whistles of the phantom ship. A few moments later the black and white object loomed up in the distance again. This time, when the vessel's prow was turned toward the Flying Dutchman, no dissenting voice was heard on board. The phantom ship appeared to be standing still, for they drew nearer and nearer to the gigantic object. The sails, instead of becoming more distinct as the ship approached the sides of the Flying Dutchman, appeared gradually to resolve themselves into strange, fantastic forms. They no longer resembled the canvas of a sailing craft. The black hulk, too, seemed to take on a cone shaped appearance. The resonant blasts alone seemed the same as before, only louder and more distinct.

Gradually the vessel approached the side of the strange object. Every eye was strained to catch a good glimpse of the white shrouds, and every heart trembled as the loud death like groans broke out upon the air. It seemed as if the truth of the matter dawned upon the minds of all the sailors at once, for a universal whisper broke out on the stillness of the night air from the bow to the stern, "It's a fog." It was nothing more. The dark object was an immense whistling buoy, which was anchored above a reef some distance from the shore. A light cloud of fog usually hung over that part of the sea, and both times that the captain passed the place it happened to be night, and a thick mist was partly enveloping the automatic buoy. The captain felt more nettled than surprised, and his second account of meeting with the phantom ship was never given to the land authorities by himself, but it did leak out through some of the sailors, who thought the joke too good to keep.—New York Evening Post.

A Russian Prince's Practical Joke.

Rosa Bonheur, the artist, was one evening placed at dinner next to the Grand Duke Michael, cousin of the present czar. The two got on very well, and even ate a vielliebchen together after dinner. Owing to the pressure of business, the Russian visitor forgot the joke and lost the bet. On asking Mme. Bonheur what he might offer her as a forfeit, she said, jestingly: "Any pretty animal I might use as a model." For some time after the grand duke went away nothing was heard of him, and the artist had forgotten the affair, when only a few days ago the forfeit arrived in the shape of three gigantic white bears.—Pall Mall Gazette.

The Great Strike.

Contradictory reports from the region of the Reading railroad strike came on the 28th inst., the railroad managers asserting that they were getting along swimmingly and securing a great number of hands, including many of the old ones, the strikers on the contrary saying that but few men had been procured by the road. The knights have all been ordered out again, on the ground of bad faith by the railroad toward the leading strikers, hundreds of whom have been discharged.

A Famous Doctor

Once said that the secret of good health consisted in keeping the head cool, the feet warm, and the bowels open. Had this eminent physician lived in our day, and known the merits of Ayer's Pills as an aperient, he would certainly have recommended them, as so many of his distinguished successors are doing.

The celebrated Dr. Farnsworth, of Norwich, Conn., recommends Ayer's Pills as the best of all remedies for "Intermittent Fevers."

Dr. I. E. Fowler, of Bridgeport, Conn., says: "Ayer's Pills are highly and universally spoken of by the people about here. I make daily use of them in my practice."

Dr. Mayhew, of New Bedford, Mass., says: "Having prescribed many thousands of Ayer's Pills, in my practice, I can unhesitatingly pronounce them the best cathartic in use."

The Massachusetts State Assayer, Dr. A. A. Hayes, certifies: "I have made a careful analysis of Ayer's Pills. They contain the active principles of well-known drugs, isolated from inert matter, which plan is, chemically speaking, of great importance to their usefulness. It insures activity, certainty, and uniformity of effect. Ayer's Pills contain no metallic or mineral substance, but the virtues of vegetable remedies in skillful combination."

BILIOUSNESS.

This very common complaint, which is caused by a dormant or inactive liver, can be cured in a short time by using Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, as can also the various diseases arising from inactive liver or kidneys. These organs, if inactive, will allow impure blood to enter the heart, causing tightness about that organ and palpitation.

She suffered thirty years.

MRS. DUDLEY CHANDLER, of Melrose, Mass., says: "I had suffered with Palpitation of the Heart more than thirty years before I found anything to give me essential relief. Last fall I tried Ingalls' Mandrake Compound, and, remarkable as it was, this Compound relieved me in two days, so that for several months afterwards I felt not the slightest touch of it, and am perfectly free from it now. Sometimes, before I took this Compound, the palpitations of my heart were so violent as to shake my whole body with rapid agitations, and at times I fainted and became entirely insensible. Now I am perfectly free from all this suffering. Consequently I can most sincerely and earnestly recommend this Compound to all like sufferers, as pre-eminently the best medicine I ever knew for Palpitation of the Heart."

This Compound is purely Vegetable, and strengthens and builds up the system while it eradicates disease.

Ingalls' Mandrake Compound is sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles for $5. Prepared only by the INGALLS MEDICAL CO., Lowell, Mass.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Dec. 29th, Mayor Hodgdon in the chair:

Present the full board.

Request of Nathaniel K. Raynes and others for use of the room over the vestibule of the court house, was referred to the mayor, with power.

Request of Cornelius Reagan, police officer, for payment of salary for time he was absent through sickness contracted in the line of duty, was referred to the committee on police.

Bills amounting to about $4000 were ordered to be paid.

Samples of lanterns for naphtha lights were exhibited to the board by a Mr. Risley, and the matter of making a selection for the city's use was referred to the committee on street lights, to report.

Dr. Clark, chairman of the board of health, appeared in regard to the vault nuisance at the Jones school, (which was reported to be temporarily abated,) and others; and the committee on school houses were instructed to abate all such nuisances as far as possible.

Committee on street lights were instructed to carry out the decision of the board at its previous meeting, in regard to changing the location of the electric light at the foot of Daniel street.

Proposal of Mr. Risley in regard to putting the naphtha street lights in good order, was referred.

The mayor, notwithstanding his objection, was added to the committee on continuance of the contract with the Portsmouth Brewing Co. to furnish steam for the fire alarm.

Adjourned for two weeks.

BAND CONCERT AND BALL.

The annual band concert and ball of Kearsarge S. F. E. Co., No. 3, will be given this evening. The concert will be in Music hall, from eight o'clock to nine, by the orchestra (eleven pieces) of Reeves' American band, of Providence, R. I., concerning which the Journal of Lewiston, Me., says:

Those who admire Rossini's great overture should have heard this band play it. All there is in it was brought out, with thrilling effect in all its grand bursts and delicate traceries of melody. Mr. Bowen R. Church, cornet soloist, and Mr. Fred Padley, piccolo soloist, rank among the great players of the country. Their performances were exquisite.

The ball will open in Franklin hall immediately after the close of the concert, the call for the grand march sounding at 9:15. The Kearsarge boys have always given their patrons an excellent entertainment and the best of treatment at their balls, and have labored to make this one the best they have ever given. For price of tickets, etc., to concert or ball, or both, see advertisement.

FRANK JONES BOYCOTTED.

At a meeting of the Lasters' Protective Union of this city on the evening of Dec. 27th, the following preamble and resolution were adopted:

Whereas, the strike of the employes of the Portsmouth Shoe company has continued for about five months without much success, therefore, and as it is of great importance to the Lasters' Protective Union of this city that we ask and implore the aid of all people in favor of the laboring classes. Therefore be it

Resolved, that we withhold our patronage from the commercial products of Hon. Frank Jones and Charles A. Sinclair who are connected with the Portsmouth Shoe company, in every form till this strike is satisfactorily adjusted.

Copies of the above preamble and resolution will be sent to every labor organization in New England.

BUSINESS CHANGE.

A. A. Hanscom, Esq., in the Times of Dec. 29th announces the sale of that paper and the weekly States and Union to Mr. George H. Sanderson, who assumes control of the papers and business with the new year.

Mr. Samuel W. Cole, formerly of this city, now an instructor in the Boston Conservatory of Music, is this week with his family visiting relatives and friends here.

At a concert given in Boston on Tuesday evening of this week, one of the performers was Miss Grace Small, aged eleven years, whose work in some difficult selections for the piano was remarkable, and elicited strong commendation. She is a pupil of Miss Isa E. A. Frisbee of this city.

The city officials to whom the perambulation of the city boundaries was referred, with the selectmen of Rye, Greenland and Newington, commenced the perambulation on the 28th inst. The Newcastle boundary was perambulated only a year or two ago.

An adjourned meeting of the Eastern railroad stockholders was held in Boston on Thursday, the 29th inst., and cold, blustering and decidedly uncomfortable as was the weather, quite a number of our citizens were unable to forbear the delights of a "railroad day" ride to the Hub. It was their last ride of that kind for this year.

Mr. H. P. Brown of Worcester, Mass., has been appointed master of the Haven school in this city, and will commence his duties there at the beginning of the next school term.

A number of citizens of South Berwick who are interested in extending the business of that town, held a meeting Dec. 28th and took preliminary steps for the formation of a stock company to build a shoe factory there. Some $7000 was subscribed, and the balance, sufficient to warrant the building of the factory and the purchase of the machinery, will soon be forthcoming, it is said. The investors in the project are the storekeepers and those not engaged in active business, and each of them has taken from $100 to $500 worth of stock. This movement is the outcome of the strike of the lasters at the shoe factory of D. Cummings & Co. It was about fifteen years ago that the firm went to South Berwick, the townspeople furnishing the land upon which to erect the factory, and constructing roads leading to the same, and the firm building the factory itself. It was a large factory, having a capacity of 100 cases per day, and had that number of cases been manufactured, that community would have been much wealthier than it is to-day. This, however, was never done, but it was only four or five years ago that the firm was turning out fifty cases per day, and the town was quite prosperous. Owing to the repeated strikes caused by the low rate of wages, the business done at the factory is now very small.

James Haran, a wood chopper, was found dead in the road at Keene Dec. 29th. A gallon jug, half full of rum, was found beside him.

The advertising agency of Mr. S. R Niles, Boston, has been in existence under one style longer than any other house in this line in America, Mr. Niles having personally conducted it for over twenty-five years. His excellent judgment and business methods have proved of the highest value to his clients; and his engagements have always been promptly met in full. Such an honorable record deserves remark, and we take pleasure in testifying to the cordial relations existing between this agency and the newspaper publishers of America.

Hon. John W. Sanborn of Wakefield was able to sit up a short time on Tuesday of this week, for the first time since his recent severe illness began.

Rev. W. H. Mitchell of Wells, Me., who has been preaching in the Advent church at Dover, made the society a Christmas present of $50 as a help toward clearing off their debt. Some of the parishioners testified to their appreciation of the reverend gentleman's generosity by presenting him with a new hat and a pair of nice gloves.

John J. Littleton, editor of the National Review of Nashville, Tenn., died Dec. 28th from a pistol shot wound inflicted by Joseph R. Banks.

There is a row in the Omaha board of education, over the fact that a history of our country is in use in the public schools there from which all mention of the civil war is omitted.

Commander Wyatt of the New Hampshire Department, G. A. R., has decided that the next annual encampment shall be held in Concord on Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 1st and 2d, headquaters at the Eagle hotel. The annual meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps will be held in Concord at the same time.

The report that the United States has negotiated for a parcel-post treaty with Canada is without foundation.

Advices from Hawaii say that a revolution is imminent on account of the king having vetoed two bills passed by the legislature, and that only the presence of British and American men-of-war prevented an outbreak Dec. 19th.

It is reported from Paris that Sadie Martinot, at one time a favorite actress at the Boston museum, is dying in that city of consumption.

It is reported that the new cruiser Atlanta has been on the rocks, to her very decided injury; a number of plates on the bottom will have to be replaced, and some of her bulkheads are said to be sprung, and possibly her frame also.

The calender issued by the S. R. Niles Advertising agency, Boston, is always the same style, and of exceptional value to business men, being so arranged as to show at a glance the number of days between any two dates in the year, —a great assistance in computing interest, and a convenience in many other ways. For banks, insurance companies, newspaper offices, and business men generally it is the best calender issued. It is printed on heavy cardboard, and will be mailed to any address on application.

BEWARE!

I KNOW of soaps quite fair to see,
Take care!
They can both white and spurious be,
Beware! Beware!
Trust them not,
They are fooling thee!

They claim to be the purest made,
Take care!
They are of an inferior grade,
Beware! Beware!
Trust them not,
Buy the IVORY!

If they are recommended you,
Take care!
The grocer speaks not always true,
Beware! Beware!
Like as not
He is fooling thee!

Some counterfeits are white as snow,
Take care!
Almost like Ivory Soap they show,
Beware! Beware!
Trust them not,
They are fooling thee!

Hold on to that and shun the rest,
Take care!
It is the cheapest and the best;
Of frauds beware!
Trust them not,
Trust pure IVORY.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

The edition for 1888 of the sterling medical annual, known as Hostetter's almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of United States, Mexico, and indeed in every civilized portion of the western hemisphere. This almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for over one-fourth of a century. It combines, with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items, etc., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1888 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Co., Pittsburg, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

—When Miss Sadie Aikens of Reeves, Georgia, eloped the other night, she took with her the family watchdog. After the marriage ceremony had been performed she wrote a note to her parents, acquainting them with the fact and imploring their forgiveness, tied it to the dog's collar and sent him home.

We recommend Carter's Iron Pills to every woman who is weak, nervous and discouraged; particularly those who have thin, pale lips, cold hands and feet, and who are without strength or ambition. These are the cases for which Carter's Iron Pills are specially prepared, and this class cannot use them without benefit. Valuable for men also. In metal boxes, at 50 cents. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail. See advertisement elsewhere.

—Now that the hot soda fountain has stepped into line as a winter amusement, the young man with a best girl might just as well call at the savings bank and bid the cashier a long, tearful farewell.

Physicians prescribe Ayer's Sarsaparilla in cases of scrofula, and in every form of chronic disease, because this medicine is safer to take, and is more highly concentrated, than any other preparation. It can always be depended upon as an effective blood purifier.

—"That was an exhaustive article of mine on 'Our Political Future,'" said the contributor to the editor. "I found it so," was the somewhat unsatisfactory reply.

Many suffer rather than take nauseous medicine; and this is not strange, as the remedy is oftentimes worse than the disease. Sufferers from cough, influenza, sore throat, or tendency to consumption, will find in Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry a remedy as agreeable to the palate as effectual in removing disease.

—Wife (to husband): "There were two hats that I liked, one for $13 and one for $18." Husband: "Which did you finally decide upon?" Wife: "The $18 one. I'm a little superstitious about the number 13."

To get relief from indigestion, biliousness, constipation or torpid liver without disturbing the stomach or purging the bowels, take a few doses of Carter's Little Liver Pills, they will please you.

—"Talk about accidents from negligence, why it was a railroad man's negligence that saved my life once!" "How was that?" "Why, the fellow let the fire go out in the car stove just before our train was wrecked."

THE INCURABLE CURED!

HOPKINSVILLE, KY., Feb. 24, 1887.

Gentlemen—Seven years ago a sore developed on my nose from a fingernail scratch. I tried a few simple remedies, but the sore would not yield. I grew worse every year for seven years. Many thought I had a cancer. Over a year ago I commenced taking S. S. S., and two doses bottles entirely cured me. When I began with Swift's Specific I was in very poor health, and could hardly drag about. After I had finished the course of S. S. S. I was strong and buoyant, and had a good appetite. I regard it as a most valuable medicine for ladies in weak, delicate health. It is a household medicine with me. Yours respectfully,

REV. R. W. WILSON.

SPARTANBURG, S. C., April 2, 1887.

Gentlemen—For twenty years I have had a sore on my left cheek. It had gradually been growing worse. The many physicians whom I had consulted were unable to do me any good. Last fall a year ago I began using S. S. S. At first it inflamed the sore, and it became more virulent than ever; so much so, indeed, that my family thought that I should leave off the medicine. I persisted in using the S. S. S. At the end of two months the sore was entirely healed. Thinking that the evil was out of my constitution, I left off the medicine; but in November, ten months after, a very slight breaking out appeared. I at once began again on S. S. S., and now that is also disappearing. I have every faith in S. S. S. It has done me more good than all the doctors and other medicines I ever took. Yours truly,

A. R. SHANDS.

WINSTON, N. C., April 12, 1887.

Gentlemen—Two or three years ago a cancer came on my face. It soon grew to be quite large. It was cured by my general health was very poor. Last September I began a course of S. S. S., which I have continued to the present time with the happiest result. The cancer has entirely disappeared, there being no evidence or symptom of a cancerous character left. My general health is good now, and my appetite better than it has been in years. I am 52 years old, and to-day I am working in the tobacco planting corn. Yours truly, JONAS LIEBLACH.

Gentlemen—I had a sore on my upper lip for eight years, seven different doctors attempted in vain to heal it. One gave me a small vial for Revolium, which was a "cover-up cure." It is needless to say that it did me no good. About two years ago I became quite uneasy, as people thought I had a cancer, and I took a course of eighteen bottles of S. S. S. The result has been a complete cure. The ulcer or cancer healed beautifully, leaving scarcely a perceptible scar. From that day I have been in excellent health. the Specific having purified my blood thoroughly, increased my appetite and perfected my digestion. In a word, I feel like a new woman, and, best of all, the eight year ulcer is gone entirely. Yours sincerely,

MRS. W. F. CANNON.

A Wonderful Watch Dial.

A gentleman connected with an Illinois watch company has a wonderfully curious watch dial. Instead of the Roman numerals to denote the hours, there are eleven small but very distinct silhouette figures, representing a man out with his dog for a day's sport. At 7 o'clock he is seen starting out with his gun and dog; at 8 o'clock he makes a shot; at 9 o'clock he has a sandhill crane, which measures as long as himself; at 10 o'clock the man and his dog are scared at the sight of a jack rabbit, which is sitting upon his hind legs, with his big long ears raised above the bushes; at 11 o'clock the hunter takes a drink, and while in this attitude the dog sits in front of his master, with his nose pointing directly at the flask; at 12 o'clock the sportsman is seen sitting on a stump and is eating a lunch—the dog is eyeing the piece of bread which the hunter has in his hand.

At 1 o'clock he starts out to fish the rest of the day, and so he takes his dog and fishing tackle and goes to the water; at 2 o'clock the dog, which is behind his master, has been caught with the hook by an attempt to throw in his line; at 3 o'clock he and the dog are all straightened out again and the line is in the water; he has both hands on the pole, and his foot braced on a stump by the water's edge as though he had a tremendous bite; at 4 o'clock the man has got a big fish on his line, which has pulled him off his feet, and he falls on the dog and doubles him all up, but the man is holding fast to the pole, which is bent almost double; at 5 o'clock he is all straightened out again; his pole is thrown across his shoulder, and with his fish in the other hand he starts out for home, the dog following behind with his head hanging down, being tired out. The man's name is also painted in the center of the dial in rustic letters. The figure VI is superseded by the seconds.—Jewelry News.

How Some Men Write.

Bancroft uses a typewriter and stenographer, but he thinks 250 words a good day's work, and James G. Blaine thought he was doing well when he accomplished 1,500 words of a morning. One of the fastest writers among the public men of today is Admiral Porter, whose brain works like the wheel of a dynamo throwing off sparks at every turn, and whose pencil rushes across the paper at almost a telegraphic speed. Admiral Porter wrote his history of the United States navy in eleven months, and during this time his average was at least 75,000 words a month, or nearly 2,500 words a day, including Sundays. The book is as big as a dictionary and it contains from 700,000 to 800,000 words. During many of these days he did not write at all, and his average during his working period ran as high as 5,000 words a day. Admiral Porter is fond of writing. He never uses anything now but a lead pencil, and he says he cannot think well without he has his pencil in his hand. He had a slight attack of pen paralysis once, and his hand refuses to act whenever his finger touches the steel of the pen. He began his novel writing for amusement, and he wrote "Allan Dare" without any idea that it would be published, much less dramatized. He stands up while writing, and, when he becomes interested, he works right along for hours at a stretch. George Bancroft works only in the morning. Blaine did his best work before noon and Logan worked both morning and evening.—Philadelphia Press.

Shabbiness Not a Social Sin.

Up to a year or two ago a peculiarity of Broadway was the rarity of poorly dressed women to be seen in its shifting throng. Plenty of the female promenaders were badly dressed, but not one in a hundred was shabby. Even the working women one encountered displayed a certain smartness and style, and if their clothes were not of the best they were at least always far above a trace of squalor. Foreigners, accustomed to the extraordinary displays of frumpiness, slipshod neglect and positive penury one encounters among women in the streets of European cities, were particularly impressed by this, and no doubt viewed it as one evidence of the universal prosperity of the country.

Of late, however, I have noticed that Broadway is becoming more European in its aspect in this connection. It seems to have grown the fashion for some women to neglect their appearance until now splendor and shabbiness elbow each other in the crowd. It is not to be taken as a sign that we are any poorer, I fancy, but only as another evidence of the old European customs have taken on us. Shabbiness has, apparently, ceased to be a social sin. The younger women dress more stylishly than ever. The older ones affect a negligence that they would formerly have been the last to indulge in.—Alfred Trumble in New York News.

Is It a Fact?

The curious fact that the usual heat produced by friction is absent when the articles are magnetized is just now being discussed by scientists who are seeking an explanation. Very striking examples are described in a late number of a scientific periodical. A workman fastened a couple of powerful magnets to his lathe to hold more securely a piece of metal which he wished to drill and turn.

The presence of the magnets kept the metal so cold that no water was needed to keep the drill moist and cool. This unusual circumstance may lead to important mechanical advantages. It is such circumstances as the one noted above that lead to valuable discoveries. The scientists, who are looking for a reason why the heat should be absent, may not hit upon any valuable idea, but some practical mechanic probably will.—Boston Budget.

The richest of the judges of the United States supreme court is Justice Bradley, whose fortune has been estimated at $750,000.

INFANTILE SKIN DISEASES.

Our oldest child, now six years of age, when an infant six months old was attacked with a virulent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it; but it spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, blotched, and inflamed. We had no rest at night, no peace by day. Finally, we were advised to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. The effect was simply marvellous. In three or four weeks a complete cure was wrought, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion your value has been underrated. What saved his life, and he is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, no repetition of the disease having ever occurred.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN

Are born into the world every day with some excematous affection, such as milk crust, scall head, scurf, or dandruff, sure to develop into an agonizing eczema, the itching, burning and disfiguration of which make life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite skin Beautifier, and a single application of CUTICURA, the Great Skin Cure, with a little CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the New Blood Purifier, is often sufficient to arrest the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Even a mother who loves her children, who takes pride in their beauty, purity, and health, and is anxious upon them such a child's greatest inheritance,—skin without a blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood,—should fail to make trial of the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1. Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., BOSTON, MASS.

Constitutional Catarrh.

No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The sense of smell, of taste, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind,—one or more, and sometimes all, yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored, because but little understood, by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope to be relieved, if it this side of the grave. It is time, then, that the popular treatment of this terrible disease by remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The new and hitherto untried method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his RADICAL CURE has won the hearty approval of thousands. It is instantaneous in affording relief! all head colds, sneezing, snuffing and obstructed breathing, and rapidly removes the most oppressive symptoms, clearing the head, sweetening the breath, restoring the senses of smell, taste and hearing, and neutralizing the constitutional tendency of the disease towards the lungs, liver and kidneys.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER; price, $1.

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER.

EVENING COSTUMES—TRANSPARENT FABRICS — RICH EVENING MATERIALS — WAYS OF MAKING—NOTES.

Gauze of fine net traversed by bars and stripes is in great demand for evening wear, and both are draped in bouffant style over silk or satin. Tulle, either plain or spangled, is also in great requisition, as likewise "drapery net," a species of lace covered with small floral figures. These materials are not expensive, and as the silk or satin can be of cheap quality, a dress can be gotten up at small outlay. Such fabrics are worn chiefly by young people, but as black lace offset by colored bows or over a colored foundation is very fashionable for evening, all the other fabrics are repeated in black, and older persons can devise

STYLISH COSTUMES

Without great expense. Yellow is an excellent combination with black, lighting up most effectively, to say nothing of pink, blue, crimson, etc. Very rich evening toilettes are made of moire, plush, velvet, gros grain, faille or satin, united in ways too numerous to mention; splendid brocades complete the list, and while in many cases one material serves as trimming to another, yet in the way of garniture, passementerie of colored or crystal beads or metal goloons and fringes are chiefly in demand. Necks are cut square, heart-shaped, pointed back and front, square low or round low, and sleeves are either very short or coming to the elbow, while as an evidence of the remarkable liberty prevailing, some costumes are very high in the neck with long sleeves. Gloves correspond with sleeves, and at times reach well past the elbow, white kid being in considerable demand, but light tan, pearl, or even pink or pale blue are worn to match dresses. Bronze slippers with bonnes to match are extremely stylish, but tan with tan stockings, match tan gloves, or both may be of a color to match the dress.

NOTES.

Ladies are beginning to realize that the best cosmetic is a fine, pure soap, and to this fact must be attributed the immense demand for Pears', the great English complexion soap, endorsed as it is, by Sir Erasmus Wilson in the medical profession, and Mrs. Langtry, Mme. Patti and others in the world of beauty. It is sold at different prices. The highly perfumed is perfectly exquisite, but the unscented is quite as beneficial, and as it washes away very slowly, it is decidedly an economical article of the toilet.

This year's sales prove that Christmas cards are popular as ever, but the new styles show special characteristics, such as imitation metal frames, calendars that fold like screens and charmingly decorated with pretty devices, such as illustrated progression of the seasons, flowers, or fancy groups of children. Ornamental calendars mounted on frames are useful and decorative to the room, or desks as well, while not the least attractive idea is a Noah's ark for holding postage stamps.

New toys are gotten up in imitation of Buffalo Bill and his followers, the Indians, cowboys, buffaloes and horses being made to play all manner of tricks, and go through amusing, if not bloody encounters. They are sold at different prices, according to size and elaborateness, but in any style will afford pleasure to little ones. Dolls and their outfits display novel thoughts, in the latter special attention having been paid to housekeeping convenience.

LUCY CARTER.

"Coal and Coke."

Another Splendid Christmas and New Years' Annual for 1888. The Latest and Best of the Rock Island Series.

Thousands who have perused with delighted interest the pages of "Watt Stephens, the Genius of Steam" (1885.) "Voltagal, the Genius of Electricity" (1886.) and "Petroleum and Natural Gas" (1887.) will be pleased to know that the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway will issue another magnificent souvenir for the Christmas and New Year season of 1888, which surpasses in many respects, anything of the kind heretofore published. "Coal and Coke" is the title of the work, and the subject has been exhaustively treated. It is written in a captivating colloquial style, embodying a vast amount of information in regard to coal strata; their relative position in the earth's crust; where deposits occur,—their nature and extent; the different processes of underground mining; how coal is converted into coke, and some of its varied and multiple uses.

The book is profusely illustrated from original sketches. Although the expense has been very great, the Rock Island has concluded to supply "Coal and Coke" at the nominal rate of ten cents (for postage) per copy. Enclose your address plainly written (also ten cents in stamps) to E. A. Holbrook, General Ticket and Passenger Agent at Chicago, Ill., and a copy of "Coal and Coke" will be mailed to you, prepaid, to any part of the world.

Can Men Fly?

Boston, Dec. 30.—This unique question will be answered in a very entertaining article to appear in the Boston Sunday Globe of tomorrow, writen by Professor Richard A. Procter, the most famous writer on popular scientific subjects in the world. In the course of the article Professor Procter tells boys and young men how to become strong and healthy.

More Strike.

The convention of Reading railroad employes on Dec. 30th ordered a strike of all employes of the whole system from Elizabethport, N. J., to Williamsport, Pa., passenger train and signal tower men, crossing flagmen and track walkers being excepted. The miners were not ordered to strike.

A SAD STORY.

A Newburyport despatch to the Boston Herald says the receipt of a circular letter from Kentucky, offering $200 reward for Rev. Dr. Arthur A. Waite, alias Dr. Storey, for robbery and bail jumping, recalls to mind the "converted clown and chalk talker," who about ten years ago created such a furor in this vicinity as a revivalist. The despatch goes on to give a sketch of the career of that versatile and brilliant but ill-balanced man, as follows:

Waite was at one time a pastor among the colored people's churches in St. Louis, having five churches under his immediate charge, but, falling from grace, he became a card sharp and gambler on the Mississippi, and later a scene painter, travelling showman and circus clown.

In December, 1875, (he having professed repentance earlier in that year,) he became interested in revival work, was engaged as pastor of the Christian church at Sandy Hill, N. Y., converted 300 souls during a pastorate of three years, and then launched out in a successful career as a revivalist, under the name of Rev. A. A. Waite, "converted clown and chalk talker." He held great revivals at Portsmouth, N. H., Newburyport, Lynn and Boston, in a tent known as the "Glad Tidings" gospel tent, which had been presented to him by admirers in Portsmouth. Had he stuck to his revival work all would have been well, but the showman in his nature began cropping out, and he began giving magical exhibitions, silencing the pastors who protested against his doing so by declaring that he was "exposing that monster delusion, modern spiritualism," in his exhibitions. Such crowds of admirers cheered him on in his exhibitions that his head became turned by flattery, and he began neglecting his spiritual for his stage work. By this time he was in Lynn, and, while holding a big revival, and alternating the meetings with shows, he originated the scheme of building the "People's Tabernacle." While he was pocketing dollars on every hand, he was shown by Detective Crabtree to be an exceedingly corrupt man morally, a trickster, swindler and fraud. When the storm cloud burst he fled from Lynn, deserting his family, and taking with him a mistress—his niece, Lena Capron. Later his wife procured a divorce, but Waite cared little for this. He travelled all over the country with the Capron girl, under various names and titles, as a medium and exposer of spiritualism, a sleight-of-hand performer, revivalist, temperance worker, physician, quack medicine man, and street faker.

About two years ago he became acquainted with Col. T. A. Edwards of Corry, Pa., manager of the "Oregon Indian Medicine Company," who started Waite on the road with a troupe of Indians to sell medicines. He travelled under the name of Dr. Storey. A little over a year ago, while the troupe was in Paris, Ky., Waite borrowed $428 of one of the Indians, and broke open the trunk of another and stole $124.85. He was arrested for this, and heavily mortgaged the property of the company to furnish bail. Then he jumped his bail and disappeared. Altogether, he swindled Edwards out of about $2000. The state authorities of Kentucky offer $200 reward for him. Within a few weeks Waite has been located in Cincinnati, where he has been living in fine style, sporting diamonds and costly rings. With him is Miss Capron, said to be Waite's wife, and who is the mother of a young babe; also Waite's youngest son, Harry, and a young girl named Capron, said to be a sister to Lena. Efforts will be made by a Cincinnati detective agency to make Waite disgorge at least a part of his stealings from Col. Edwards, after which they intend to land him in Kentucky, if it is possible. Waite's career has been a singular and chequered one from the start. Had he continued as a true revivalist, he would doubtless have become one of the most famous ever known, as he held people by the thousands as by a mystic spell wherever he went.

It is Wendell O. Brown who has been engaged as master of the Haven school, and not H. P. Brown as first stated.

The First Symptoms

Of all Lung diseases are much the same: feverishness, loss of appetite, sore throat, pains in the chest and back, headache, etc. In a few days you may be well, or, on the other hand, you may be down with Pneumonia or "galloping Consumption." Run no risks, but begin immediately to take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Several years ago, James Birchard, of Darien, Conn., was severely ill. The doctors said he was in Consumption, and that they could do nothing for him, but advised him, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine, two or three months, he was pronounced a well man. His health remains good to the present day.

J. S. Bradley, Malden, Mass., writes: "Three winters ago I took a severe cold, which rapidly developed into Bronchitis and Consumption. I was so weak that I could not sit up, was much emaciated, and coughed incessantly. I consulted several doctors, but they were powerless, and all agreed that I was in Consumption. At last, a friend brought me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. From the first dose, I found relief. Two bottles cured me, and my health has since been perfect."

HAD A HARD NIGHT OF IT.

On Thursday evening, shortly after dark, a dory hanging astern of a fishing schooner anchored in the lower harbor broke adrift, and two of the crew jumped into another dory and went to recover it. The high wind carried the runaway dory a long distance from the schooner before it was overtaken, when one of the men jumped into it, and the other pulled back to the schooner. The man in the runaway shipped his oars to do likewise, but broke one oar at the first stroke, and his late companion being by that time out of sight and hearing in the darkness, knew nothing of the mishap. The dory was driven by the gale on Fishing island, where the seaman landed and was forced to remain until nine o'clock Friday morning, when he was seen and rescued, apparently little the worse for his rough experience. He was compelled to keep moving about and threshing his arms all the time to keep from freezing, the cold being intense, and he exposed to the full force of the gale.

THE FIREMEN'S CONCERT AND BALL.

The concert in Music hall, Friday evening, by Reeves' American Band orchestra of Providence, R. I., enabled a very large audience to pass a very pleasant hour, the house being nearly filled, and the concert a fine one. Mr. Bowen R. Church's cornet solo, "Ocean View," was encored, and he responded with "Way down upon the Swanee river;" Mr. Fred Padley's piccolo solo was also encored, and every number on the programme was favorably received by the audience.

The ball in Franklin hall, after the concert, was as complete a success as any previous one given by Kearsarge engine company, which is all that need be said. The attendance was large; the supper, furnished by Mr. Camp of the railroad restaurant, was excellent; and all appeared to enjoy themselves.

NEW YEAR'S PARTY.

The New Year's party in aid of the Children's Home will take place in Franklin hall on Monday evening, supper being served from six o'clock to 7:30; concert and tableaux from 8:00 to 9:30, followed by dancing until 11:30; see advertisement.

The ladies in charge of the entertainment will be glad to receive gifts of cake and home-made candy at the hall on Monday.

ODD FELLOWS' ELECTION.

At a recent meeting of Piscataqua Lodge, No. 6, I. O. O. F., the following officers were elected: Charles H. Foote, N. G.; Michael R. Perkins, V. G.; William W. Cotton, Rec. Sec.; Oliver H. Locke, Per. Sec.; William G. Billings, treasurer.

POLICE COURT.

MARITIME NOTES.

The schooner John J. Hanson, Stevens [illegible] recently arrived at Norfolk, Va., [illegible] of over seven hundred miles in fifty-six hours.

Several coasting schooners came into the lower harbor on Friday, so heavily iced up as to be almost unmanageable.

KITTERY POINT, ME., Dec. 29th.

The storm yesterday and last night was the most severe for years. The wind blew a perfect hurricane, and the sea was fearfully rough. There were some twelve or fifteen vessels in the lower harbor, and nearly all of them dragged their anchors to a greater of less extent.

The schooner Katie Mitchell, Capt. Oliver, of Bath, dragged ashore on the rocks off Fort McClary, and is a total wreck. Two young men walked to Portsmouth for a tug boat when the vessel dragged ashore, and the James Sampson came down; but before the steamer arrived the vessel had pounded her bottom in, and filled. She lays close beside the wreck of the old lime-vessel that went ashore there two winters ago. The Katie Mitchell registered 112 tons, and was built in Bath in 1871. Her mainsail is new, and her other sails are good. A year ago last fall two thousand dollars were laid out on the schooner. The men escaped in their boat, saving their clothing and some provisions.

The schoone Golden Gate, was lying on the flats with both anchors and nearly all her chain out. When the gale was at its height she dragged the anchors and came down across the cove into the steamboat's pier. It was as much as a man's life was worth to venture out in such a sea, yet the captain and his two sons made an attempt to reach the schooner in a boat, but were obliged to give it up and return. When she crashed against the pier the captain's oldest son watched his chance, and making his way over the breaking pier got on board the vessel and threw out a line. He was followed by his father and Capt. Zach. Williams. They got out all the lines, and when the wind lulled two men went off and ran a line to the stake near the pier, swung her around, and now she lies by the new fish pier. Her stern is badly broken, but no other damage has been discovered. One section of the planking of the steamboat's pier was carried away, and part of it fell in on the schooner's deck. The outer posts at the side-landing of the pier are of hard wood, well bedded in the mud, and they held the vessel; if she had not struck against those she would probably have gone through the pier, and on to the rocks in front of the Parkfield hotel. The Golden Gate has been through a good many hard blows and rough experiences, but there seems to be a charm about her, for she always comes out comparatively well.

Nearly all the vessels are moving up river this morning, and the steamboats are all busy in the lower harbor.

AUNT MOLLY.

The western blizzard and cold wave reached here Thursday night, and kept in force through Friday. It was to a considerable extent played out before it got here, but enough of it was left to answer all practical purposes. The trees along the streets were relieved of a good many dead limbs, and the ventilator of the old foundry on Mechanic street was blown off.

The post-office department has issued orders to discontinue the star postal service between Kittery Depot and Kittery Point from Jan. 15th, 1888.

We had a brief call on Friday from Mr. John A. Mace of Kittery Point—the first time we have seen him since his wonderful escape from death when the schooner Mystery was wrecked on Jerry's point, Newcastle, some weeks ago. He has almost wholly recovered from the effects of his terrible exposure in the water for so many hours, though the bad bruises he received from the rocks when landing still give him occasional reminders.

The superintendent of the fire alarm will announce the arrival of the New Year, 1888, by one blow upon the bell and steam gong at twelve o'clock tonight.

There was good skating on both the north and south ponds Friday, so far as the ice was concerned, it being thick enough to be safe, and quite smooth; but the atmosphere was at too low a temperature and moving at too high a rate of speed to be comfortable, and the boys on the ponds were not many.

Mr. Elias Ayers, who died on Thursday, Dec. 29th, was the oldest living member of Piscataqua Lodge of Odd Fellows, of this city, and one of the oldest Odd Fellows in the state.

Mr. Daniel Mason arrived home on Thursday from a visit of several weeks to the west; consequently steam was put on at his mill on Friday, and active operations recommenced in the lumber business.

Mr. Alfred O. Larkin has gone to San Francisco to pass the winter.

Among the patents recently granted is one to Daniel F. Messer of Kennebunk for a lifting-jack, and to Thomas Pettigrew of Kittery for locking device for doors and hatches.

Rev. O. A. Rounds of Bridgton, Me., died Dec. 27th. He was formerly pastor of the Universalist society in South Newmarket, this state, and also preached in Utica and Pottsdam, N. Y.

The formation of a republican league in this city is being discussed.

Emmanuel Charlesworth has returned to this city, and is moving into his old quarters on the corner of Congress and Bridge streets.

USE

Horsford's

BREAD PREPARATION.

The acid phosphate in this preparation supplies the vital phosphates essential to the system, and assists digestion. No other baking powder does this.

Dr. M. B. Sullivan, of Dover, says:

"I endorse the correctness of the scientific principles involved in the use of Horsford's Bread Preparation."

Dr. C. W. Hutchings, of Dover, says:

"The vitalized principles contained in Horsford's Bread Preparation I cheerfully endorse. Ill-nourished children fed upon brown bread made with it would be greatly benefited."

Dr. Paul A. Stackpole, of Dover, says:

"I have examined Horsford's Bread Preparation. It restores the phosphates removed from flour in milling. The phosphates are important nutritive principles, and this preparation amply supplies them."

Dr. E. W. Hodsden, of Dover, says:

"I endorse the correctness of the scientific principles involved in the use of Horsford's Bread Preparation, which restores to superfine wheat flour the phosphates removed in milling."

Dr. S. J. Bassford, of Biddeford, says:

"I have examined Horsford's Bread Preparation, and believe the theory presented by the manufacturers to be true. That we lose very much that is nutritious in the wheat, by the mode of manufacturing fine flour, there can be no doubt. The object gained by using the Bread Preparation is to restore those nutritive principles to the flour, and thus render it more wholesome, and cause it to contain the same elements for nutrition that are found in the wheat berry."

Dr. E. J. Emery, of Biddeford, says:

"We have used Horsford's Bread Preparation, and consider it superior to others."

Rev. Thomas Hill, of Portland, says:

"For many years I have used Horsford's Bread Preparation for raising bread. It is particularly agreeable to my palate, agrees well with me, and I have thought that when I have ommitted it for some time and then returned to it, I found it improved my health."

Dr. Wm. Rynne, of Portland, says:

"In my opinion, Horsford's Bread Preparation must be a valuable baking powder, and superior to all others for the purpose of bread-making.

Dr. A. V. Thompson, of Portland, says:

"I have used Horsford's Bread Preparation for fifteen years. It is a very valuable agent in bread-making. From its peculiar property, which I believe no other baking powder possesses—namely, of restoring the phosphates to white flour. I esteem it the best that can be used."

Dr. S. P. Getchell, of Portland, says:

"My practical test of Horsford's Bread Preparation in the kitchen, was very satisfactory. The bread made by its use was light, sweet and palatable. One member of my family, who has had indigestion for years, partook freely of it while it was hot, without inconvenience, while as a rule he cannot eat either new or hot bread without paying the penalty."

Dr. Geo. W. May, of Portland, says:

"The theory of the preparation of Prof. Horsford's powder is good, and should be productive of the best results, especially to dyspeptics, and those with similar troubles."

I have had catarrh for twenty years, and used all kinds of remedies without relief. Mr. Smith, druggist, of Little Falls, recommended Ely's Cream Balm. The effect of the first application was magical, it allayed the inflammation and the next morning my head was as clear as a bell. One bottle has done me so much good that I am convinced its use will effect a permanent cure. It is soothing, pleasant and easy to apply, and I strongly urge its use by all sufferers.—Geo. Terry, Little Falls, N. Y.

Apply Balm into each nostril.

—A dream of fair women is most pleasing, if the dream be not of women who made you buy things you did not want at the fair, and gave no change back.

A Generous Firm.

We are informed that the proprietors, Messrs. P. Ordway & Co., recently sent three dozen of the reliable medicine, Sulphur Bitters to the Catholic Home for the Aged, which is highly appreciated by the directors and inmates "As ye sow, so shall ye reap."—Editor Catholic Union.

This is Good Enough.

Mr. C. E. Bartholomew, Kalkaska, Mich., says: "I owe my life solely to Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Rondout, N. Y. I had liver and kidney disease, and for five years was unable to go about. I am now well, and can do a man's work on my farm. I shall always hold up both hand for Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.
